ish all that oppress them. <sup>21</sup> And their prince shall be of themselves, <sup>a</sup> and their ruler shall proceed from the midst of them; <sup>e</sup> and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: <sup>f</sup> for who is he that <sup>1</sup> hath had boldness to approach unto me? saith the LORD. <sup>22</sup> And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

and with supplications will I lead them: I will <sup>9</sup> cause them <sup>σ</sup> to walk by rivers of waters, <sup>h</sup> in a straight way wherein they shall not stumble: for <sup>i</sup> I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is <sup>j</sup> my firstborn.

shut up in <sup>e</sup>the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah's house. <sup>3</sup>For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up; saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD, <sup>d</sup>Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; <sup>4</sup>and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, <sup>e</sup>but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes; <sup>5</sup>and <sup>f</sup>he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the LORD: <sup>g</sup>though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?

is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may continue many days. <sup>15</sup>For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and <sup>r</sup>fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land.

them again unto this place, <sup>k</sup> and I will cause them to dwell safely : <sup>38</sup> <sup>a</sup> and they shall be my people, and I will be their God : <sup>39</sup> <sup>m</sup> and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever ; <sup>n</sup> for the good of them, and of their children after them : <sup>40</sup> <sup>o</sup> and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away <sup>2</sup> from them, to do them good ; <sup>p</sup> and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. <sup>41</sup> <sup>q</sup> Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, <sup>r</sup> and I will plant them in this land <sup>s</sup> assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. <sup>42</sup> For thus saith the LORD : <sup>t</sup> Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. <sup>43</sup> <sup>u</sup> And fields shall be bought in this land, <sup>v</sup> whereof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast ; <sup>w</sup> it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans. <sup>44</sup> Men shall buy fields for money, and <sup>x</sup> subscribe the deeds, and <sup>y</sup> seal them, and <sup>z</sup> call witnesses, <sup>1</sup> in the land of Benjamin, <sup>2</sup> and in the places about Jerusalem, <sup>3</sup> and in the cities of Judah, <sup>4</sup> and in the cities of the hill country, <sup>5</sup> and in the cities of the lowland, <sup>6</sup> and in the cities of the South : for <sup>7</sup> I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

bring it <sup>1</sup>health and cure, and I will cure them; and I will reveal unto them abundance of peace and truth. <sup>7</sup><sup>J</sup> And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, <sup>8</sup>and will build them, <sup>9</sup>as at the first. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>10</sup> I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; <sup>11</sup>and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have transgressed against me. <sup>9</sup> And <sup>12</sup> this city shall be to me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them, and shall <sup>13</sup> fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure unto it. <sup>10</sup> Thus saith the LORD: Yet again there shall be heard in this place, <sup>14</sup>whereof ye say, It is waste, without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast, <sup>15</sup>the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that say, <sup>16</sup>Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: <sup>17</sup>and of them that bring sacrifices of <sup>18</sup>thanksgiving into the house of the LORD. <sup>19</sup> For I will cause the captivity of the land to return as at the first, saith the LORD. <sup>12</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>20</sup>Yet again shall there be in this place, which is waste, without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, <sup>21</sup>an habitation of shepherds <sup>22</sup>causing their flocks to lie down. <sup>13</sup> In the cities of the hill country, <sup>23</sup>in the cities of the lowland, <sup>24</sup>and in the cities of the South, <sup>25</sup>and in the land of Benjamin, <sup>26</sup>and in the places about Jerusalem, <sup>27</sup>shall the flocks again pass under the hands <sup>28</sup>of him that telleth them, saith the LORD.

will I cause a <sup>16</sup>Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgement and righteousness in the land. <sup>16</sup> In those days shall Judah be saved, <sup>17</sup>and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name whereby she shall be called, <sup>18</sup>The LORD is our righteousness. <sup>17</sup> For thus saith the LORD: <sup>19</sup>David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; <sup>20</sup>neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to burn <sup>21</sup>oblations, and to do sacrifice continually. <sup>19</sup> And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying, <sup>20</sup> Thus saith the LORD: <sup>21</sup> If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, <sup>22</sup>so that there should not be day and night in their season; <sup>23</sup>then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. <sup>22</sup> As <sup>23</sup>the host of heaven cannot be numbered, <sup>24</sup>neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me. <sup>23</sup> And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, <sup>24</sup> Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD did choose, he hath cast them off? thus do they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. <sup>25</sup> Thus saith the LORD: <sup>26</sup> If my covenant of day and night <sup>27</sup>stand not, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; <sup>28</sup>then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, so that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: <sup>29</sup>for I will <sup>30</sup>cause their captivity to return, and will have mercy on them.

saalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying: <sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Go, and speak to <sup>a</sup> Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, <sup>3</sup> Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: <sup>3</sup> and thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; <sup>4</sup> and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. <sup>4</sup> Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: <sup>5</sup> thus saith the LORD concerning thee, <sup>6</sup> Thou shalt not die by the sword; <sup>5</sup> thou shalt die in peace; <sup>7</sup> and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, so shall they <sup>8</sup> make a burning for thee; <sup>8</sup> and they shall lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have spoken the word, saith the LORD. <sup>6</sup> Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, <sup>7</sup> when the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against <sup>a</sup> Lachish and against <sup>b</sup> Azekah; <sup>8</sup> for these alone remained of the cities of Judah as <sup>a</sup> fenced cities.

to return to this city; <sup>w</sup>and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: <sup>x</sup>and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, <sup>y</sup>without inhabitant.

<sup>13</sup>Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, <sup>1</sup>Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the LORD. <sup>14</sup>The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed, and unto this day they drink none, for they obey their father's commandment: but I have spoken unto you, <sup>m</sup>rising up early and speaking; and ye have not hearkened unto me. <sup>15</sup>I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, <sup>m</sup>rising up early and sending them, saying, <sup>n</sup>Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and <sup>o</sup>go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: <sup>p</sup>but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me. <sup>16</sup>Forasmuch as the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me; <sup>17</sup>therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them: <sup>q</sup>because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard; <sup>q</sup>and I have called unto them, but they have not answered. <sup>18</sup>And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he commanded you; <sup>19</sup>therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man <sup>r</sup>to stand before me for ever.

against all the nations, <sup>x</sup>from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day.

3<sup>y</sup> It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; <sup>z</sup>that they may return every man from his evil way; <sup>a</sup>that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin. 4 Then Jeremiah called <sup>b</sup>Baruch the son of Neriah; and <sup>b</sup>Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon <sup>a</sup>a roll of a book.

5 And Jeremiah commanded <sup>b</sup>Baruch, saying, <sup>c</sup>I am <sup>1</sup>shut up; I cannot go into the house of the LORD: <sup>6</sup>therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD's house <sup>d</sup>upon <sup>2</sup>the fast day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities. 7<sup>y</sup> It may be <sup>3</sup>they will present their supplication before the LORD, <sup>z</sup>and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people. 8 And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.

9 Now it came to pass <sup>e</sup>in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, <sup>f</sup>in the ninth month, that all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem, <sup>g</sup>proclaimed a fast before the LORD. 10 Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in <sup>h</sup>the chamber of Gemariah the son of <sup>i</sup>Shaphan <sup>j</sup>the scribe, in the upper court, <sup>k</sup>at the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people. 11 And when Micahiah the son of Gemariah, the son of <sup>i</sup>Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD, 12 he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, <sup>k</sup>all the princes sat there, even <sup>l</sup>Elishama <sup>j</sup>the scribe, and <sup>m</sup>Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and <sup>n</sup>Elnathan <sup>m</sup>the son of Achbor, and <sup>m</sup>Gemariah the son of <sup>i</sup>Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of <sup>o</sup>Hananiah, and all the princes. 13 Then Micahiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people. 14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Ne-thaniah, the son of <sup>p</sup>Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them. 15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears. 16 Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch, <sup>q</sup>We will surely tell the king of all these words. 17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth? 18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, <sup>r</sup>and I wrote them with ink in the book. 19 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye be. 20 And they went in to the king into the court; but they had laid up the roll in <sup>s</sup>the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears of the king. 21 So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll: and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which stood beside the king. 22 Now the king sat in <sup>t</sup>the winter house <sup>u</sup>in the ninth month: and there was a fire in the brasier burning before him. 23 And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four <sup>v</sup>leaves, that the king cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brasier, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the brasier. 24<sup>v</sup> And they were not afraid, <sup>w</sup>nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words. 25 Moreover <sup>x</sup>Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had <sup>y</sup>made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them. 26 And the king commanded Jerahmeel <sup>1</sup>the <sup>2</sup>king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and <sup>3</sup>Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take <sup>4</sup>Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet: but the LORD hid them.

<sup>27</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying, <sup>28</sup> Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned. <sup>29</sup> And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast burned this roll, saying, <sup>30</sup> Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast? <sup>31</sup> Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: <sup>32</sup> He shall have none <sup>33</sup>to sit upon the throne of David: and his dead body <sup>34</sup>shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost. <sup>35</sup> And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not. <sup>36</sup> Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to <sup>37</sup>Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah; who <sup>38</sup>wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

saying, <sup>8</sup> Pray now unto the LORD our God for us. <sup>9</sup> Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: <sup>10</sup> for they had not put him into prison. <sup>11</sup> And Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when <sup>12</sup>the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, <sup>13</sup>they brake up from Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup> Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying, <sup>15</sup> Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that <sup>16</sup>sent you unto me to inquire of me; Behold, <sup>17</sup>Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, <sup>18</sup>shall return to Egypt into their own land. <sup>19</sup> And <sup>20</sup>the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; <sup>21</sup> and they shall take it, and burn it with fire. <sup>22</sup> Thus saith the LORD: Deceive not <sup>23</sup>yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart. <sup>24</sup> For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but <sup>25</sup>wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and <sup>26</sup>burn this city with fire.

the king asked him <sup>a</sup>secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, There is. He said also, <sup>o</sup>Thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon. <sup>18</sup> Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, <sup>1</sup>that ye have put me in prison? <sup>19</sup> <sup>p</sup>Where now are your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land? <sup>20</sup> And now hear, I pray thee, O my lord the king: <sup>q</sup>let my supplication, I pray thee, <sup>1</sup>be accepted before thee; <sup>r</sup>that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there. <sup>21</sup> Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into <sup>a</sup>the court of the guard, and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, <sup>1</sup>until all the bread in the city was spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in <sup>a</sup>the court of the guard.

cords. <sup>f</sup>And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: and <sup>g</sup>Jeremiah sank in the mire. <sup>7</sup> Now when <sup>h</sup>Ebed-melech <sup>i</sup>the Ethiopian, <sup>j</sup>an eunuch, which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon; the king then sitting <sup>k</sup>in the gate of Benjamin; <sup>8</sup> <sup>h</sup>Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying, <sup>9</sup>My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and <sup>4</sup>he is like to die in the place where he is because of <sup>1</sup>the famine: <sup>m</sup>for there is no more bread in the city. <sup>10</sup> Then the king commanded <sup>h</sup>Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die. <sup>11</sup> So <sup>h</sup>Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down <sup>n</sup>by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah. <sup>12</sup> And <sup>h</sup>Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so. <sup>13</sup> So they drew up Jeremiah <sup>n</sup>with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in <sup>a</sup>the court of the guard.

<sup>14</sup> Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me. <sup>15</sup> Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me. <sup>16</sup> So Zedekiah the king sware <sup>o</sup>secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, <sup>2</sup>As the LORD liveth, <sup>q</sup>that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of <sup>r</sup>these men that seek thy life. <sup>17</sup> Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: <sup>s</sup>If thou wilt go forth unto <sup>t</sup>the king of Babylon's princes, <sup>u</sup>then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thine house: <sup>18</sup> but if thou wilt not go forth to <sup>19</sup> the king of Babylon's princes, <sup>20</sup> then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, <sup>21</sup> and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand. <sup>22</sup> And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews <sup>23</sup> that are fallen away to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and <sup>24</sup> they mock me. <sup>25</sup> But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the Lord, in that which I speak unto thee: <sup>26</sup> so it shall be well with thee, and thy soul shall live. <sup>27</sup> But if thou refuse to <sup>28</sup> go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me: <sup>29</sup> Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, <sup>30</sup> Thy familiar friends have <sup>31</sup> set thee on, and have prevailed over thee: now that thy feet are sunk in the mire, they are turned away back. <sup>32</sup> And they shall bring out all thy wives and <sup>33</sup> thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and <sup>34</sup> thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire. <sup>35</sup> Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die. <sup>36</sup> But if <sup>37</sup> the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death: also what the king said unto thee: <sup>38</sup> then thou shalt say unto them, <sup>39</sup> I <sup>40</sup> presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there. <sup>41</sup> Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not <sup>42</sup> perceived. <sup>43</sup> So Jeremiah abode <sup>44</sup> in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken,

And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken, <sup>1</sup> (in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and besieged it; <sup>2</sup> in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, a breach was made in the city: <sup>3</sup> that all <sup>4</sup> the princes of the king of Babylon came in, <sup>5</sup> and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sharezzer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim, <sup>6</sup> Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezzer, <sup>7</sup> Rabmag, with all the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon. <sup>8</sup> And it came to pass that when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of <sup>9</sup> the Arabah. <sup>10</sup> But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in <sup>11</sup> the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to <sup>12</sup> Riblah in the land of Hamath, <sup>13</sup> and he <sup>14</sup> gave judgement upon him. <sup>15</sup> Then the king of Babylon <sup>16</sup> slew the sons of Zedekiah in <sup>17</sup> Riblah before his eyes: <sup>18</sup> also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. <sup>19</sup> Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon. <sup>20</sup> And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, <sup>21</sup> and brake down the walls of Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup> Then <sup>23</sup> Nebuzaradan the <sup>24</sup> captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the residue of the people that remained in the city, the deserters also, <sup>25</sup> that fell away to him, and the residue of the people that remained. <sup>26</sup> But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard <sup>27</sup> left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time. <sup>28</sup> Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, <sup>29</sup> Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee. <sup>13</sup> So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and <sup>v</sup> Nebushazban, Rab-saris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, <sup>v</sup> and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon; <sup>14</sup> they sent, and took Jeremiah out of <sup>w</sup> the court of the guard, and committed him unto <sup>a</sup> Gedaliah the son of <sup>v</sup> Ahikam, the son of <sup>a</sup> Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so <sup>a</sup> he dwelt among the people.

he was not yet gone back, Go back then, said he, to <sup>p</sup> Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, <sup>q</sup> whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go wheresoever it seemeth <sup>2</sup> convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him <sup>3</sup> victuals and a present, and let him go. <sup>6</sup> Then went Jeremiah unto <sup>p</sup> Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to <sup>r</sup> Mizpah, and dwelt with him <sup>s</sup> among the people <sup>t</sup> that were left in the land.

Kareah, and <sup>4</sup>all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, <sup>14</sup>and said unto him, Dost thou know that Baalis the king of <sup>j</sup>the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not. <sup>15</sup>Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he take thy life, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, <sup>k</sup>and the remnant of Judah perish? <sup>16</sup>But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, <sup>y</sup>and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him. <sup>8</sup> But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have <sup>z</sup>stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among their brethren. <sup>9</sup> Now <sup>y</sup>the pit wherein Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, by the side of Gedaliah, (the same was that which <sup>a</sup>Asa the king had made for fear of <sup>a</sup>Baasha king of Israel,) Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain. <sup>10</sup> Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, <sup>b</sup>even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom <sup>c</sup>Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to <sup>d</sup>the children of Ammon.

of the LORD your God in any thing <sup>y</sup>for the which he hath sent me unto you. <sup>z</sup>Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go to sojourn there.

throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his <sup>2</sup>royal pavilion over them. <sup>11</sup>And he shall come, <sup>q</sup>and shall smite the land of Egypt; <sup>r</sup>such as are for death <sup>shall be given</sup> to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the sword. <sup>12</sup>And I will kindle a fire <sup>1</sup>in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, <sup>u</sup>and carry them away captives: <sup>v</sup>and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, <sup>v</sup>as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace. <sup>13</sup>He shall also break <sup>w</sup>the <sup>8</sup>pillars of <sup>4</sup>Bethshemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; <sup>u</sup>and the houses of the gods of Egypt shall be burn with fire.

that ye provoke me unto anger with the works of your hands, <sup>f</sup>burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to sojourn; that ye may be cut off, and that ye may be <sup>a</sup>a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth? <sup>g</sup>Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and <sup>o</sup>the wickedness of the kings of Judah, <sup>p</sup>and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, <sup>q</sup>and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? <sup>r</sup>They are not humbled even unto this day, <sup>r</sup>neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers. <sup>s</sup>Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: <sup>s</sup>Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah. <sup>t</sup>And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have <sup>t</sup>set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed; <sup>u</sup>in the land of Egypt shall they fall; <sup>u</sup>they shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine; they shall die, <sup>v</sup>from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: <sup>w</sup>and they shall be an execration, <sup>w</sup>and an astonishment, <sup>w</sup>and a curse, and a reproach. <sup>x</sup><sup>13</sup> For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: <sup>y</sup><sup>14</sup> so that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, <sup>z</sup>that they should return into the land of Judah, to the which they <sup>a</sup>have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return <sup>a</sup>save such as shall escape.

heaven, <sup>g</sup>and to pour out drink offerings unto her, <sup>h</sup>as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of <sup>i</sup>virtuals, and were well, and saw no evil. <sup>i</sup><sup>18</sup> But since we left off to burn incense to <sup>j</sup>the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, <sup>j</sup>and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine. <sup>k</sup><sup>19</sup> And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, <sup>k</sup>and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to <sup>k</sup>worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, <sup>k</sup>without our husbands? <sup>l</sup><sup>20</sup> Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, <sup>l</sup>to the men, and to the women, even to all the people which had given him that answer, saying, <sup>m</sup><sup>21</sup> The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, <sup>n</sup>did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind? <sup>o</sup><sup>22</sup> so that the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of <sup>p</sup>the abominations which ye have committed; <sup>q</sup>therefore is your land become <sup>q</sup>a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, <sup>q</sup>without inhabitant, as it is this day. <sup>r</sup><sup>23</sup> Because ye have burned incense, <sup>r</sup>and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; <sup>s</sup>therefore this evil is happened unto you, as it is this day.

name, saith the LORD, <sup>z</sup> that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, <sup>a</sup> saying, As the LORD God liveth. <sup>27</sup> <sup>b</sup> Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good; <sup>c</sup> and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them. <sup>28</sup> <sup>d</sup> And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, <sup>e</sup> few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, <sup>f</sup> shall know whose word shall stand, mine, or theirs. <sup>29</sup> And this shall be the sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that <sup>g</sup> my words shall surely stand against you for evil: <sup>30</sup> thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give <sup>h</sup> Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, <sup>i</sup> and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave <sup>j</sup> Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

1 Or, concerning

2 Or, Who is this like the Nile that riseth up, like the rivers whose waters toss themselves? Egypt is like the Nile that riseth up &c.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahpanhes: say ye, Stand forth, and prepare thee; for the sword hath devoured round about thee. 15 Why are thy strong ones swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them. 16 He made many to stumble, yea, they fell one upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword. 17 They cried there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath let the appointed time pass by. 18 As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come. 19 O thou daughter that dwellest in Egypt, furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall become a desolation, and shall be burnt up, without inhabitant. 20 Egypt is a very fair heifer; but destruction out of the north is come, it is come. 21 Also her hired men in the midst of her are like calves of the stall; for they also are turned back, they are fled away together, they did not stand: for the day of their calamity is come upon them, the time of their visitation. 22 The sound thereof shall go like the serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood. 23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the locusts, and are innumerable. 24 The daughter of Egypt shall be put to shame; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north. 25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith: Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and them that trust in him: 26 and I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD. 27 But fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. 28 Fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgement, and will in no wise leave thee unpunished.

1 The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing stream, and shall overflow the land and all that is therein, the city and them that dwell therein: and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers look not back to their children for feebleness of hands; 4 because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of the 10 isle of Caphtor. 5 Baldness is come upon Gaza; Ashkelon is brought to nought, the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself? 6 O thou sword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard; rest, and be still. 7 How canst thou be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given thee a charge? against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore, there hath he appointed it.

1 Of Moab. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Woe unto Nebo!

1 Or, according to some ancient authorities, Why is thy strong one swept away? he stood not &c. 2 Or, thrust them down. 3 Or, O thou that dwellest with the daughter of Egypt. 4 Heb. make these vessels of captivity. 5 Or, the pacify. 6 Or, according to many ancient authorities, upon her. 7 Or, Her sound is like that of the serpent as it goeth. 8 Or, for. 9 Or, hold thee guilty. 10 Or, sea coast. 11 Heb. it.

for it is laid waste; <sup>p</sup> Kiriathaim is put to shame, it is taken: <sup>1</sup> Misgab is put to shame <sup>q</sup> and <sup>2</sup> broken down. <sup>2</sup> The praise of Moab is no more; in <sup>r</sup> Heshbon they have devised evil against her, Come, and let us cut her off <sup>s</sup> from being a nation. Thou also, O <sup>t</sup> Madmen, shalt be brought to silence; the sword shall pursue thee. <sup>3</sup> The sound of a cry from <sup>u</sup> Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction! <sup>4</sup> Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard. <sup>5</sup> For by the ascent of Luhith with continual weeping shall they go up; for <sup>v</sup> in the going down of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction. <sup>6</sup> Flee, save your lives, and be like <sup>w</sup> the heath in the wilderness. <sup>7</sup> For <sup>x</sup> because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou also shalt be taken: and <sup>y</sup> Chemosh <sup>z</sup> shall go forth into captivity, <sup>a</sup> his priests and his princes together. <sup>8</sup> And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape; the valley also shall perish, and <sup>b</sup> the plain shall be destroyed; as the LORD hath spoken. <sup>9</sup> Give wings unto Moab, <sup>c</sup> that she may fly and get her away: and her cities shall become a desolation, without any to dwell therein. <sup>10</sup> Cursed be he that doeth <sup>d</sup> the work of the LORD <sup>e</sup> negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood. <sup>11</sup> Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath <sup>f</sup> settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remaineth in him, and his scent is not changed. <sup>12</sup> Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him them that <sup>g</sup> pour off, and they shall <sup>h</sup> pour him off; and they shall empty his vessels, and break their <sup>i</sup> bottles in pieces. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>j</sup> Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as <sup>k</sup> the house of Israel was ashamed of <sup>l</sup> Beth-el their confidence. <sup>14</sup> How say ye, We are mighty men, and valiant men for the war? <sup>15</sup> Moab is laid waste, and <sup>m</sup> they are gone up into her cities, and his chosen young men are <sup>n</sup> gone down to the slaughter, saith <sup>k</sup> the King, <sup>k</sup> whose name is the LORD of hosts. <sup>16</sup> The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast. <sup>17</sup> All ye that are round about him, <sup>l</sup> bemoan him, and all ye that know his name; say, <sup>m</sup> How is the strong <sup>n</sup> staff broken, the beautiful rod! <sup>18</sup> O thou daughter that <sup>o</sup> dwellest in <sup>p</sup> Dibon, <sup>o</sup> come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Moab is come up against thee, he hath destroyed thy strong holds. <sup>19</sup> O <sup>10</sup> inhabitant of <sup>p</sup> Aroer, <sup>q</sup> stand by the way, <sup>q</sup> and espy: ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth; say, What hath been done? <sup>20</sup> Moab is put to shame; for it is <sup>11</sup> broken down: <sup>r</sup> howl and cry; tell ye it in <sup>r</sup> Arnon, that <sup>s</sup> Moab is laid waste. <sup>21</sup> And judgement is come upon <sup>s</sup> the plain country; upon Holon, and upon <sup>t</sup> Jahzah, and upon <sup>u</sup> Mephaath; <sup>22</sup> and upon <sup>u</sup> Dibon, and upon <sup>v</sup> Nebo, and upon Beth-<sup>w</sup> diblathaim; <sup>23</sup> and upon <sup>x</sup> Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon <sup>y</sup> Beth-meon; <sup>24</sup> and upon <sup>z</sup> Kerioth, and upon <sup>a</sup> Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near. <sup>25</sup> <sup>b</sup> The horn of Moab is cut off, and <sup>c</sup> his arm is broken, saith the LORD. <sup>26</sup> Make ye him drunken; <sup>c</sup> for he magnified himself against the LORD: and Moab shall <sup>d</sup> wallow in his vomit, <sup>d</sup> and he also shall be in derision. <sup>27</sup> For was not Israel a derision unto thee? <sup>e</sup> was he found among thieves? for as often as thou speakest of him, <sup>f</sup> thou waggest the head. <sup>28</sup> O ye inhabitants of Moab, <sup>f</sup> leave the cities, and dwell in the rock; and be <sup>g</sup> like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth. <sup>29</sup> We have heard of the pride of Moab, <sup>g</sup> that he is very proud; his loftiness, and his pride, and his arrogancy, and the haughtiness of his heart. <sup>30</sup> I know his wrath, saith the LORD, that it is nought; <sup>h</sup> his boastings have wrought nothing. <sup>31</sup> Therefore will I howl for Moab; yea, I will cry out for all Moab: for the men of <sup>i</sup> Kir-heres shall they mourn. <sup>32</sup> With more than the weeping of <sup>j</sup> Jazer will I weep for thee, <sup>j</sup> O vine of <sup>k</sup> Sibmah: <sup>k</sup> thy branches passed over the sea, they reached even to the sea of

gleaning grapes? <sup>3</sup>if thieves by night, would they not destroy till they had enough? <sup>4</sup>But I have made Esau bare, <sup>5</sup>I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and <sup>6</sup>he is not.
<sup>7</sup>Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; <sup>8</sup>and let thy widows trust in me. <sup>9</sup>For thus saith the LORD: <sup>10</sup>Behold, they <sup>11</sup>to whom it pertained not to drink of the cup shall assuredly drink; <sup>12</sup>and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink. <sup>13</sup>For <sup>14</sup>I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that <sup>15</sup>Bozrah shall become<sup>a</sup> an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes. <sup>16</sup>I have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, <sup>17</sup>Gather yourselves together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.
<sup>18</sup>For, behold, I have made thee small among the nations, and despised among men. <sup>19</sup>As for thy terribleness, the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of <sup>20</sup>the rock, that holdest the height of the hill:
though thou shouldst <sup>21</sup>make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. <sup>22</sup>And <sup>23</sup>Edom shall become an astonishment: <sup>24</sup>every one that passeth by it shall be astonished, <sup>25</sup>and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof. <sup>26</sup>As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, <sup>27</sup>no man shall dwell there, <sup>28</sup>neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. <sup>29</sup>Behold, <sup>30</sup>he shall come up like a lion from <sup>31</sup>the <sup>32</sup>pride of Jordan <sup>33</sup>against the strong habitation: <sup>34</sup>but I will suddenly make him run away from her; and whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over her: <sup>35</sup>for who is like me?
<sup>36</sup>and who will appoint me a time?
<sup>37</sup>and who is the shepherd that will stand before me? <sup>38</sup>Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against <sup>39</sup>Edom; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of <sup>40</sup>Teman:

<sup>41</sup>Surely <sup>42</sup>they shall drag them away, even the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their <sup>43</sup>habitation <sup>44</sup>desolate with them.
<sup>45</sup>The earth trembleth at the noise of their fall; there is a cry, the noise whereof is heard in the Red Sea. <sup>46</sup>Behold, <sup>47</sup>he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread out his wings against <sup>48</sup>Bozrah: and the heart of the mighty men of Edom at that day shall be as the heart <sup>49</sup>of a woman in her pangs.

<sup>50</sup>Of <sup>51</sup>Damascus. <sup>52</sup>Hamath is ashamed, and <sup>53</sup>Arpad; for they have heard evil tidings, they are melted away: <sup>54</sup>there is <sup>55</sup>sorrow on the sea; it cannot be quiet. <sup>56</sup>Damascus is waxed feeble, <sup>57</sup>she turn-eth herself to flee, and trembling hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her, as
<sup>60</sup>the city of praise not forsaken, the city of my joy? <sup>61</sup>Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith the LORD of hosts. <sup>62</sup>And <sup>63</sup>I will kindle a fire in the wall of <sup>64</sup>Damascus, and it shall devour the palaces of <sup>65</sup>Ben-hadad.

doms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote.

Thus saith the LORD: <sup>68</sup>Arise ye, go up to <sup>69</sup>Kedar, and spoil <sup>70</sup>the children of the east. <sup>71</sup>Their tents and their flocks shall they take;
they shall carry away for themselves their <sup>72</sup>curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry unto them, <sup>73</sup>Terror on every side. <sup>74</sup>Flee ye, wander far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you. <sup>75</sup>Arise, get you up unto a nation <sup>76</sup>that is at ease, <sup>77</sup>that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD; <sup>78</sup>which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone. <sup>79</sup>And their camels shall be a booty, and the

6 <sup>i</sup>My people hath been lost sheep: <sup>j</sup>their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten <sup>k</sup>their resting place. 7 All that found them have devoured them: <sup>l</sup>and their adversaries said, We offend not, because <sup>m</sup>they have sinned against the LORD, <sup>n</sup>the habitation of justice, even the LORD, <sup>o</sup>the hope of their fathers. 8 <sup>p</sup>Flee out of the midst of Babylon, <sup>p</sup>and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks. 9 For, lo, I will stir up and cause to come up against Babylon <sup>q</sup>an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of <sup>5</sup>an expert mighty man; <sup>6</sup>none shall return in vain. 10 <sup>r</sup>And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD. 11 <sup>s</sup>Because ye are glad, because ye rejoice, O ye that plunder mine heritage, because ye are wanton as an heifer <sup>7</sup>that treadeth out the corn, and neigh as strong horses; 12 your mother shall be sore ashamed; she that bare you shall be confounded: behold, she shall be the hindermost of the nations, <sup>t</sup>a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert. 13 <sup>u</sup>Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: <sup>v</sup>every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, <sup>v</sup>and hiss at all her plagues. 14 <sup>w</sup>Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about, <sup>w</sup>all ye that bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows: <sup>x</sup>for she hath sinned against the LORD. 15 <sup>y</sup>Shout against her round about; <sup>x</sup>she hath <sup>8</sup>submitted herself; her bulwarks are fallen, <sup>b</sup>her walls are thrown down: for <sup>c</sup>it is the vengeance of the LORD; take vengeance upon her; <sup>d</sup>as she hath done, do unto her. 16 Cut off the

goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. <sup>18</sup>They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. <sup>19</sup>The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name.

waves roar like many waters, the noise of their voice is uttered: <sup>56</sup> for the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, their bows are broken in pieces; <sup>m</sup> for the LORD is a God of recompences, he shall surely requite. <sup>57</sup> And <sup>a</sup> I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, <sup>o</sup> her governors and her deputies, and her mighty men; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith <sup>v</sup> the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts. <sup>58</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>5</sup> The broad <sup>q</sup> walls of Babylon shall be utterly <sup>6</sup> overthrown, <sup>r</sup> and her high gates shall be burned with fire; <sup>s</sup> and the peoples shall labour for vanity, and the nations for the fire; <sup>t</sup> and they shall be weary.

Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

in the sight of the LORD, <sup>e</sup>according to all that Jehoiakim had done. <sup>3</sup>For through the anger of the LORD did it come to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence: and Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. <sup>4</sup><sup>f</sup>And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built forts against it round about. <sup>5</sup>So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. <sup>6</sup>In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. <sup>7</sup>Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chaldeans were against the city round about:) and they went by the way of the Arabah. <sup>8</sup>But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. <sup>9</sup>Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he <sup>1</sup>gave judgement upon him. <sup>10</sup>And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in <sup>g</sup>Riblah. <sup>11</sup><sup>h</sup>And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison <sup>h</sup>till the day of his death.

tain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about. <sup>15</sup>Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest sort of the people, and the residue of the people that were left in the city, and <sup>n</sup>those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the residue of the <sup>3</sup>multitude. <sup>16</sup>But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vinedressers and husbandmen. <sup>17</sup>And the <sup>o</sup>pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases and the <sup>p</sup>brass sea that were in the house of the LORD, did the Chaldeans break in pieces, and <sup>q</sup>carried all the brass of them to Babylon. <sup>18</sup><sup>r</sup>The pots also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the basons, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away. <sup>19</sup><sup>s</sup>And the cups, and the firepans, and the basons, and the pots, and <sup>t</sup>the candlesticks, and <sup>u</sup>the spoons, <sup>u</sup>and the bowls; that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver, the captain of the guard took away. <sup>20</sup>The two pillars, the one sea, and <sup>v</sup>the twelve brassen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of the LORD: the brass of all these vessels was without weight. <sup>21</sup>And as for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits; and <sup>w</sup>a line of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow. <sup>22</sup>And a chapter of brass was upon it; and the height of the one chapter was <sup>x</sup>five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapter round about, all of brass: and the second pillar also had like unto these, and pomegranates. <sup>23</sup>And there were ninety and six pomegranates <sup>4</sup>on the sides; all the pomegranates were an hundred upon the network round about. <sup>24</sup>And the captain of the guard took <sup>y</sup>Seraiah the chief priest, and <sup>z</sup>Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the <sup>6</sup>door: <sup>25</sup>and out of the city he took an <sup>6</sup>officer that was set over the men of war; and <sup>a</sup>seven men of them

So Judah was carried away captive out of his land. <sup>28</sup>This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: <sup>d</sup>in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty: <sup>29</sup><sup>e</sup>in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two persons: <sup>30</sup>in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

8 <sup>x</sup>Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore she <sup>2</sup>is become as an unclean thing:

All that honoured her despise her, <sup>v</sup>because they have seen her nakedness:

Yea, she <sup>z</sup>sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness was <sup>a</sup>in her skirts; <sup>b</sup>she remembered not her latter end;

Therefore is she come down wonderfully; <sup>c</sup>she hath no comforter:

Behold, O LORD, my affliction; for the enemy hath <sup>d</sup>magnified himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her <sup>e</sup>pleasant things:

For she hath seen that <sup>f</sup>the heathen are entered into her sanctuary, Concerning whom thou didst command that <sup>g</sup>they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people <sup>h</sup>sigh, <sup>i</sup>they seek bread;

They have given their <sup>e</sup>pleasant things for <sup>i</sup>meat to refresh the soul:

See, O LORD, and behold; for I am become vile.

12 Is it nothing to you, all <sup>j</sup>ye that pass by?

<sup>k</sup>Behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me,

13 From on high hath he <sup>n</sup>sent fire into my bones, and it prevail-eth against them:

14 <sup>q</sup>The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand;

They are knit together, they are come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to <sup>r</sup>fail:

The LORD hath delivered me into their hands, <sup>s</sup>against whom I am not able to stand.

15 The LORD hath set at nought all my mighty men in the midst of me;

He hath called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men:

16 For these things <sup>s</sup>I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water;

Because <sup>t</sup>the comforter that should <sup>u</sup>refresh my soul is far from me:

My children are desolate, because the enemy hath prevailed.

17 <sup>v</sup>Zion spreadeth forth her hands; <sup>v</sup>there is none to comfort her;

The LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, that they that are round about him should be his adversaries:

Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing.

18 <sup>w</sup>The LORD is righteous; <sup>x</sup>for I have rebelled against his commandment:

Hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and behold my sorrow:

19 I called for <sup>z</sup>my lovers, <sup>z</sup>but they deceived me:

My priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city,

While <sup>a</sup>they sought their meat to refresh their souls.

20 Behold, O LORD; for I am in distress; <sup>b</sup>my bowels are troubled;

Mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled:

21 They have heard that <sup>d</sup>I sigh; <sup>d</sup>there is none to comfort me;

All mine enemies have heard of my trouble; <sup>f</sup>they are glad that thou hast done it:

Thou wilt bring the day that thou hast proclaimed, <sup>f</sup>and they shall be like unto me.

22 <sup>g</sup>Let all their wickedness come before thee;

And do unto them, as <sup>h</sup>thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions:

For <sup>i</sup>my sighs are many, and <sup>i</sup>my heart is faint.

5 Or,

- 1 How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion <sup>1</sup>with a cloud in his anger!
- 2 He hath cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, And hath not remembered <sup>1</sup>his footstool in the day of his anger.
- 2 The Lord <sup>m</sup>hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, <sup>n</sup>and hath not pitied; <sup>o</sup>He hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah; He hath brought them <sup>p</sup>down to the ground: <sup>p</sup>He hath profaned the kingdom <sup>q</sup>and the princes thereof.
- 3 He hath cut off in <sup>r</sup>fiere anger <sup>1</sup>all <sup>s</sup>the horn of Israel; <sup>t</sup>He hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy: And <sup>u</sup>he hath burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.
- 4 <sup>v</sup>He hath bent his bow like an enemy, he hath stood with his right hand <sup>w</sup>as an adversary, And hath slain all that were pleasant to the eye: <sup>2</sup>In the tent of the daughter of Zion he hath poured out his fury like fire.
- 5 <sup>w</sup>The Lord is become as an enemy, <sup>m</sup>he hath swallowed up Israel; <sup>x</sup>He hath swallowed up all her palaces, he hath destroyed his strong holds: And he hath multiplied in the daughter of Judah <sup>y</sup>mourning and lamentation.
- 6 And he hath violently taken away <sup>z</sup>his <sup>2</sup>tabernacle, as if it were of a garden; He hath destroyed <sup>a</sup>his place of assembly: <sup>a</sup>The Lord hath caused <sup>4</sup>solemn assembly and <sup>b</sup>sabbath to be forgotten in Zion, And hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.
- 7 <sup>c</sup>The Lord hath cast off his altar, <sup>d</sup>he hath abhorred his sanctuary, <sup>e</sup>He hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces:
- <sup>f</sup>They have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly.
- 8 <sup>g</sup>The LORD hath purposed to destroy <sup>h</sup>the wall of the daughter of Zion; <sup>i</sup>He hath stretched out the line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from <sup>5</sup>destroying: <sup>j</sup>But he hath made the rampart and wall to lament; <sup>j</sup>they languish together.
- 9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; <sup>k</sup>he hath destroyed <sup>k</sup>and broken her bars: <sup>l</sup>Her king and her princes are among the nations where the law is not; <sup>m</sup>Yea, her prophets find no vision from the LORD.
- 10 The elders of the daughter of Zion <sup>n</sup>sit upon the ground, <sup>o</sup>they keep silence; <sup>p</sup>They have cast up dust upon their heads; <sup>q</sup>they have girded themselves with sackcloth: The virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.
- 11 <sup>r</sup>Mine eyes do fail with tears, <sup>s</sup>my bowels are troubled, <sup>t</sup>My liver is poured upon the earth, <sup>u</sup>for the <sup>6</sup>destruction of the daughter of my people; <sup>v</sup>Because the young children and the sucklings <sup>w</sup>swoon in the streets of the city.
- 12 They say to their mothers, <sup>x</sup>Where is corn and wine? <sup>y</sup>When they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city, When their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom.
- 13 What shall I <sup>7</sup>testify unto thee? <sup>y</sup>what shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? <sup>z</sup>What shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? <sup>2</sup>For thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?
- 14 <sup>a</sup>Thy prophets have seen visions for thee of vanity and foolishness; <sup>b</sup>And they have not discovered thine iniquity, to <sup>c</sup>bring again thy captivity: <sup>a</sup>But have seen for thee <sup>8</sup>d bur-

I Now it came to pass <sup>a</sup>in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the <sup>1</sup>captives by <sup>b</sup>the river Chebar, that <sup>c</sup>the heavens were opened, and I saw <sup>d</sup>visions of God. <sup>2</sup>In the fifth day of the month, which was <sup>e</sup>the fifth year of <sup>f</sup>king Jehoiachin's captivity, <sup>3</sup>the word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel <sup>g</sup>the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by <sup>b</sup>the river Chebar; and <sup>h</sup>the hand of the LORD was there upon him. <sup>4</sup><sup>i</sup>And I looked, and, behold, <sup>j</sup>a stormy wind came <sup>k</sup>out of the north, a great cloud, with a fire <sup>2</sup>infoling itself, and <sup>l</sup>a brightness round about it, and out of the midst thereof <sup>3m</sup>as the colour of <sup>4</sup>amber, out of the midst of the fire. <sup>5</sup>And out of the midst thereof came the likeness of <sup>n</sup>four living creatures. <sup>o</sup>And this was their appearance; they had the likeness of a man. <sup>6p</sup>And every one had four faces, and every one of them had four wings. <sup>7</sup>And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled <sup>2</sup>like the colour of burnished brass. <sup>8</sup><sup>r</sup>And they had the hands of a man under their wings <sup>s</sup>on their four sides: and they four had their faces and their wings <sup>thus</sup>; <sup>9</sup>their wings were joined one to another; <sup>t</sup>they turned not when they went; <sup>4</sup>they went every one straight forward. <sup>10</sup>As for the likeness of their faces, <sup>o</sup>they had the face of a man; and they four had the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four had also the face of an eagle. <sup>11</sup><sup>5</sup>And their faces and their wings were separate above; two <sup>wings</sup> of every one were joined one to another, and <sup>u</sup>two covered their bodies. <sup>12</sup><sup>t</sup>And they went every one straight forward: <sup>v</sup>whither the spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went. <sup>13</sup><sup>6</sup>As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was <sup>w</sup>like burning coals of fire, <sup>w</sup>like the appearance of torches; it went up and down among the living creatures: <sup>x</sup>and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning. <sup>14</sup>And the living creatures <sup>y</sup>ran and returned <sup>z</sup>as the appearance of a flash of lightning. <sup>15</sup><sup>a</sup>Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel upon the earth beside the living creatures, for each of the four faces thereof. <sup>16</sup><sup>a</sup>The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto <sup>b</sup>the colour of a beryl: <sup>c</sup>and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel <sup>7</sup>within a wheel. <sup>17</sup><sup>d</sup>When they went, they went <sup>e</sup>upon their four sides: <sup>f</sup>they turned not when they went. <sup>18</sup>As for their <sup>8</sup>rings, they were high and dreadful; <sup>g</sup>and they four had their rings full of eyes round about. <sup>19</sup><sup>h</sup>And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them: <sup>i</sup>and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up. <sup>20</sup><sup>j</sup>Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went; thither was the spirit to go: and the wheels were lifted up <sup>9</sup>beside them; <sup>j</sup>for the spirit <sup>10</sup>of the living creature was in the wheels. <sup>21</sup><sup>h</sup>When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; <sup>4</sup>and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up <sup>9</sup>beside them: <sup>j</sup>for the spirit <sup>10</sup>of the living creature was in the wheels. <sup>22</sup>And over the head of the living creature there was <sup>k</sup>the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of the terrible <sup>11</sup>crystal, stretched forth over their heads above. <sup>23</sup>And under the firmament were their wings <sup>m</sup>straight, the one toward the other: <sup>n</sup>every one had two which covered <sup>12</sup>on this side, and every one had two which covered <sup>12</sup>on that side, their bodies. <sup>24</sup>And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings <sup>o</sup>like the noise of great waters, like <sup>p</sup> the voice of the <sup>q</sup> Almighty, a noise of tumult <sup>r</sup> like the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings. <sup>25</sup> And there was a voice above <sup>s</sup> the firmament that was over their heads: when they stood, they let down their wings. <sup>26</sup> And above <sup>s</sup> the firmament that was over their heads was <sup>t</sup> the likeness of a throne, <sup>t</sup> as the appearance of <sup>u</sup> a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was <sup>v</sup> a likeness as the appearance of a man upon it above. <sup>27</sup> And I saw as the colour of <sup>w</sup> amber, <sup>x</sup> as the appearance of fire within it round about, <sup>y</sup> from the appearance of his loins and upward; and from the appearance of his loins and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and <sup>z</sup> there was brightness round about <sup>1</sup> him. <sup>28</sup> As the appearance of <sup>2</sup> the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of <sup>a</sup> the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, <sup>b</sup> I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

speak my words unto them, <sup>t</sup> whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are most rebellious. <sup>8</sup> But thou, <sup>u</sup> son of man, hear what I say unto thee; <sup>v</sup> be not thou rebellious like <sup>w</sup> that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and <sup>x</sup> eat that I give thee. <sup>9</sup> And when I looked, behold, <sup>y</sup> an hand was put forth unto me; and, lo, <sup>z</sup> a roll of a book was therein; <sup>10</sup> and he spread it before me; and it was written <sup>a</sup> within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe. <sup>11</sup> And <sup>3</sup> he said unto me, <sup>b</sup> Son of man, eat that thou findest; <sup>c</sup> eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel. <sup>2</sup> So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the roll. <sup>3</sup> And he said unto me, <sup>d</sup> Son of man, <sup>e</sup> cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. <sup>4</sup> Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth <sup>f</sup> as honey for sweetness.

<sup>4</sup> And he said unto me, <sup>g</sup> Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. <sup>5</sup> For thou art not sent to a people <sup>h</sup> of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel; <sup>6</sup> not to many peoples of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. <sup>7</sup> Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would hearken unto thee. <sup>8</sup> But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are <sup>i</sup> of an hard forehead and of a stiff heart. <sup>9</sup> Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads. <sup>10</sup> As <sup>j</sup> an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: <sup>k</sup> fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. <sup>11</sup> Moreover he said unto me, <sup>l</sup> Son of man, <sup>m</sup> all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive <sup>n</sup> in thine heart, and hear with thine ears. <sup>12</sup> And go, get thee to <sup>o</sup> them of the captivity, unto <sup>p</sup> the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, <sup>q</sup> Thus saith the Lord God; <sup>r</sup> whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

1 Or, it 2 Or, unto whom I send thee

3 Heb. deep of tip and heavy of tongue.

and I heard behind me the voice of <sup>k</sup>a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place. <sup>13</sup> And I heard the noise of the wings of <sup>l</sup>the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels <sup>1</sup>beside them, even the noise of <sup>k</sup>a great rushing. <sup>14</sup> <sup>j</sup>So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away: and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, <sup>m</sup>and the hand of the LORD was strong upon me. <sup>15</sup> <sup>n</sup>Then I came to <sup>j</sup>them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that <sup>2</sup>dwelt <sup>n</sup>by the river Chebar, <sup>3</sup>and to where they <sup>2</sup>dwelt; and <sup>1</sup>I sat there <sup>p</sup>astoned among them <sup>q</sup>seven days.

glory which I saw <sup>h</sup>by the river Chebar: <sup>g</sup>and I fell on my face. <sup>24</sup> <sup>i</sup>Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house. <sup>25</sup> But thou, son of man, behold, <sup>j</sup>they shall lay bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them: <sup>26</sup> and I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that <sup>k</sup>thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: <sup>i</sup>for they are a rebellious house. <sup>27</sup> <sup>m</sup>But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, <sup>n</sup>Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>o</sup>He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: <sup>i</sup>for they are a rebellious house.

other, till thou hast accomplished <sup>f</sup>the days of thy siege. <sup>g</sup>Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee <sup>h</sup>bread thereof; <sup>i</sup>according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, even <sup>j</sup>three hundred and ninety days, shalt thou eat thereof. <sup>k</sup>And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be <sup>l</sup>by weight, <sup>m</sup>twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it. <sup>n</sup>And thou shalt drink water <sup>o</sup>by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink. <sup>p</sup>And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it <sup>q</sup>in their sight with dung that cometh out of man. <sup>r</sup>And the LORD said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat <sup>s</sup>their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them. <sup>t</sup>Then said I, <sup>u</sup>"Ah Lord God! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for <sup>v</sup>from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of <sup>w</sup>that which dieth of itself, or is torn of beasts; neither came there <sup>x</sup>abominable flesh into my mouth. <sup>y</sup>Then he said unto me, See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereon. <sup>z</sup>Moreover he said unto me, <sup>a</sup>Son of man, behold, <sup>b</sup>I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread <sup>c</sup>by weight, and with carefulness; and they shall drink water <sup>d</sup>by measure, and with astonishment: <sup>e</sup>that they may want bread and water, and be <sup>f</sup>astounded one with another, and <sup>g</sup>"pine away in their iniquity.

evil, <sup>1</sup>an only evil; behold, it cometh. <sup>6</sup>2 An end is come, the end is come, it awaketh against thee; behold, it cometh. <sup>7</sup>3 Thy doom is come unto thee, O inhabitant of the land: <sup>4</sup>the time is come, the day is near; <sup>5</sup>a day of tumult, and not <sup>6</sup>of joyful shouting, <sup>7</sup>upon the mountains. <sup>8</sup>Now will I shortly <sup>9</sup>pour out my fury upon thee, and <sup>10</sup>accomplish mine anger against thee, <sup>11</sup>and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. <sup>9</sup>c And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will bring upon thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; <sup>1</sup>and ye shall know that I the LORD do smite. <sup>10</sup>m Behold, the day, behold, it cometh: <sup>11</sup>thy doom is gone forth; <sup>12</sup>the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded. <sup>11</sup>p Violence is risen up into <sup>12</sup>a rod of wickedness; <sup>13</sup>none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of their wealth: neither shall there be <sup>14</sup>eminency among them. <sup>12</sup>h The time is come, the day draweth near: let not <sup>13</sup>the buyer rejoice, nor <sup>14</sup>the seller mourn: <sup>15</sup>for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. <sup>13</sup>r For <sup>14</sup>the seller shall not return to that which is sold, <sup>15</sup>although they be yet alive: <sup>16</sup>for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, <sup>17</sup>none shall return; neither shall any strengthen himself <sup>18</sup>in the iniquity of his life. <sup>14</sup>They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but none goeth to the battle: <sup>19</sup>for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. <sup>15</sup>w The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: <sup>20</sup>he that is in the field shall die with the sword; <sup>21</sup>and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him. <sup>16</sup>v But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains <sup>22</sup>like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one in his iniquity. <sup>17</sup>a All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water. <sup>18</sup>b They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and <sup>19</sup>horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and <sup>20</sup>bal-

ness upon all their heads. <sup>19</sup>They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be as an unclean thing; <sup>21</sup>their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD; they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: <sup>22</sup>because it hath been <sup>23</sup>the stumblingblock of their iniquity. <sup>20</sup>As for <sup>21</sup>the beauty of his ornament, <sup>22</sup>he set it in majesty: but <sup>23</sup>they made the images of their abominations and their detestable things <sup>24</sup>therein: therefore <sup>25</sup>I have I made it unto them as an unclean thing. <sup>21</sup>And I will give it into the hands of <sup>22</sup>the strangers for a prey, <sup>23</sup>and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and <sup>24</sup>they shall profane it. <sup>22</sup>My face will I turn also from them, and <sup>23</sup>they shall profane my <sup>24</sup>secret place: and robbers shall enter into it, <sup>25</sup>and profane it. <sup>23</sup>m Make the chain: <sup>24</sup>for the land is full of <sup>25</sup>bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. <sup>24</sup>Wherefore I will bring <sup>25</sup>the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: <sup>26</sup>I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; <sup>27</sup>and <sup>28</sup>their holy places shall be profaned. <sup>25</sup>13 Destruction cometh; and <sup>26</sup>they shall seek peace, and there shall be none. <sup>26</sup>w Mischief shall come upon mischief, and <sup>27</sup>rumour shall be upon rumour; and <sup>28</sup>they shall seek a vision of the prophet; but <sup>29</sup>the law shall perish from the priest, and <sup>30</sup>counsel from the ancients. <sup>27</sup>The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: <sup>28</sup>I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; <sup>29</sup>and they shall know that I am the LORD.

of his loins and downward, fire: and from his loins and upward, as the appearance of brightness, <sup>1</sup>as the colour of <sup>o</sup>amber. <sup>3</sup>And <sup>h</sup>he put forth the form of an hand, and <sup>1</sup>took me by a lock of mine head; and the spirit lifted me up <sup>j</sup>between the earth and the heaven, and <sup>k</sup>brought me in <sup>l</sup>the visions of God to Jerusalem, <sup>m</sup>to the door of the gate of the inner court that looketh toward the north; <sup>n</sup>where was the seat of the <sup>o</sup>image of jealousy, <sup>p</sup>which provoketh to jealousy. <sup>4</sup>And, behold, <sup>q</sup>the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the <sup>2</sup>appearance that I saw <sup>r</sup>in the plain. <sup>5</sup>Then said he unto me, <sup>s</sup>Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward of the gate of <sup>t</sup>the altar this <sup>o</sup>image of jealousy in the entry. <sup>6</sup>And he said unto me, <sup>u</sup>Son of man, <sup>v</sup>seest thou what they do? even <sup>v</sup>the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, <sup>w</sup>that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but <sup>x</sup>thou shalt again see yet other great abominations. <sup>7</sup>And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall. <sup>8</sup>Then said he unto me, <sup>y</sup>Son of man, <sup>z</sup>dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door. <sup>9</sup>And he said unto me, Go in, and see <sup>a</sup>the wicked abominations that they do here. <sup>10</sup>So I went in and saw; and behold <sup>b</sup>every form <sup>a</sup>of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, <sup>a</sup>pourtrayed upon the wall round about. <sup>11</sup>And there stood before them <sup>b</sup>seventy men of <sup>c</sup>the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of <sup>d</sup>Shaphan, with every man his censor in his hand; and <sup>e</sup>the odour of the cloud of incense went up. <sup>12</sup>Then said he unto me, <sup>e</sup>Son of man, hast thou seen what <sup>c</sup>the elders of the house of Israel do <sup>f</sup>in the dark, every man <sup>g</sup>in his chambers of imagery? for they say, <sup>h</sup>The LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath forsaken the <sup>b</sup>earth. <sup>13</sup>He said also unto me, <sup>i</sup>Thou shalt

again see yet other great abominations which they do. <sup>14</sup>Then he brought me to <sup>j</sup>the door of the gate of the LORD's house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat the women weeping for Tammuz. <sup>15</sup>Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen <sup>this</sup>, O <sup>q</sup>son of man? <sup>i</sup>thou shalt again see yet greater abominations than these. <sup>16</sup>And he brought me into <sup>k</sup>the inner court of the LORD's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, <sup>l</sup>between <sup>m</sup>the porch and <sup>n</sup>the altar, were about five and twenty men, <sup>o</sup>with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped <sup>p</sup>the sun toward the east. <sup>17</sup>Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen <sup>this</sup>, O <sup>q</sup>son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit <sup>r</sup>the abominations which they commit here? for <sup>s</sup>they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again <sup>t</sup>to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their nose. <sup>18</sup>Therefore <sup>v</sup>will I also deal in fury: <sup>v</sup>mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: <sup>w</sup>and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

done in the midst thereof. 5 And to <sup>f</sup>the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye through the city after him, and smite: <sup>g</sup>let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity: <sup>h</sup>slay utterly the old man, the young man and the maiden, and little children and women: but <sup>i</sup>come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and <sup>j</sup>begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at <sup>k</sup>the <sup>2</sup>ancient men which were before the house. 7 And he said unto them, <sup>l</sup>Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and smote in the city. 8 And it came to pass, while they were smiting, and I was left, <sup>m</sup>that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, <sup>n</sup>Ah Lord God! <sup>o</sup>wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel <sup>p</sup>in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem? 9 Then said he unto me, <sup>q</sup>The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, <sup>r</sup>and the land is full of blood, and the city full of <sup>s</sup>wresting of judgment: for <sup>t</sup>they say, The LORD hath forsaken the <sup>4</sup>earth, and the LORD seeth not. 10 And as for me also, <sup>u</sup>mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, <sup>v</sup>but I will bring their way upon their head. 11 And behold, the man clothed in linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

10 Then I looked, and behold, <sup>u</sup>in the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim, there appeared above them <sup>v</sup>as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. 2 And he spake unto <sup>w</sup>the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in between <sup>x</sup>the whirling wheels, even under the cherub, and fill both thine hands with <sup>y</sup>coals of fire from between the cherubim, and <sup>z</sup>scatter them over the city. And he went in <sup>a</sup>in my sight. 3 Now the cherubim stood <sup>b</sup>on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and <sup>c</sup>the cloud filled <sup>d</sup>the inner court. 4 And <sup>e</sup>the glory of the LORD <sup>f</sup>mounted up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house <sup>g</sup>was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of <sup>g</sup>the brightness of the LORD's glory. 5 And <sup>h</sup>the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, <sup>i</sup>as the voice of <sup>6</sup>God Almighty when he speaketh. 6 And it came to pass, when he commanded <sup>j</sup>the man clothed in linen, saying, <sup>k</sup>Take fire from between <sup>k</sup>the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim, that he went in, and stood beside a wheel. 7 And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took <sup>l</sup>thereof, and put it into the hands of <sup>l</sup>him that was clothed in linen, who took it and went out. 8 And there appeared in the cherubim <sup>l</sup>the form of a man's hand under their wings. 9 <sup>m</sup>And I looked, and behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub: and <sup>n</sup>the appearance of the wheels was <sup>o</sup>as the colour <sup>p</sup>of a <sup>7</sup>beryl stone. 10 <sup>n</sup>And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been <sup>s</sup>within a wheel. 11 <sup>q</sup>When they went, they went <sup>u</sup>upon their four sides: <sup>r</sup>they turned not as they went, <sup>s</sup>but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went. 12 <sup>t</sup>And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, <sup>u</sup>even the wheels that they four had. 13 As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing, <sup>u</sup>the whirling wheels. 14 <sup>u</sup>And every one had four faces: <sup>v</sup>the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was <sup>w</sup>the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle. 15 <sup>w</sup>And the cherubim mounted up: this is <sup>v</sup>the living creature that I saw by <sup>x</sup>the river Chebar. 16 <sup>a</sup>And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them: and <sup>a</sup>when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also turned not from beside them. 17 <sup>b</sup>When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit <sup>10</sup>of the living creature was in them. 18 <sup>c</sup>And <sup>a</sup>the glory of the LORD went forth from over the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim. <sup>19</sup> And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth <sup>20</sup> in my sight when they went forth, and the wheels <sup>1</sup> beside them; and they stood at the door of <sup>2</sup> the east gate of the LORD's house; and <sup>3</sup> the glory of the God of Israel was over them above. <sup>20</sup> <sup>1</sup> This is the living creature that I saw <sup>2</sup> under the God of Israel by <sup>3</sup> the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim. <sup>21</sup> <sup>1</sup> Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; and <sup>2</sup> the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings. <sup>22</sup> <sup>1</sup> And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by <sup>2</sup> the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; <sup>3</sup> they went every one straight forward.

13 <sup>1</sup>And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, <sup>2</sup>Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them <sup>3</sup>that prophesy out of their own heart, Hear ye the word of the LORD; <sup>3</sup>Thus saith the LORD God: Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, <sup>2</sup>and have seen nothing! <sup>4</sup>O Israel, thy prophets have been like foxes in the waste places. <sup>5</sup><sup>1</sup>Ye have not gone up into the <sup>2</sup>gaps, neither made up the fence for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD. <sup>6</sup><sup>1</sup>They have seen vanity and lying divination, that say, The LORD saith; <sup>2</sup>and the LORD hath not sent them: and they <sup>4</sup>have made men to hope that the word should be confirmed. <sup>7</sup><sup>1</sup>Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, <sup>2</sup>whereas ye say, The LORD saith; albeit I have not spoken?

LORD will answer him by myself: <sup>8</sup> and <sup>j</sup>I will set my face against that man, and <sup>k</sup>will make him an astonishment, for a sign and a proverb, <sup>j</sup>and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; <sup>l</sup>and ye shall know that I am the LORD. <sup>9</sup> And if the prophet be <sup>m</sup>deceived and speaketh a word, <sup>m</sup>I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. <sup>10</sup> And they <sup>n</sup>shall bear <sup>8</sup>their iniquity: the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity of him that seeketh unto him; <sup>11</sup> that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither <sup>o</sup>defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; <sup>p</sup>but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

unto Jerusalem: <sup>1</sup> Thy birth and thy nativity is of the land of <sup>2</sup> the Canaanite; the <sup>3</sup> Amorite was thy father, and thy mother was an <sup>4</sup> Hittite. <sup>4</sup> And as for thy nativity, <sup>5</sup> in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to cleanse thee; thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all. <sup>5</sup> None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; <sup>6</sup> but thou wast cast out in the open field, for that thy person was abhorred, <sup>7</sup> in the day that thou wast born. <sup>6</sup> And when I passed by thee, and saw thee weltering <sup>8</sup> in thy blood, I said unto thee, Though thou art <sup>9</sup> in thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, Though thou art <sup>9</sup> in thy blood, live. <sup>7</sup> <sup>8</sup> I <sup>8</sup> caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou didst increase and wax great, <sup>9</sup> and thou attaindest to <sup>9</sup> excellent ornament; thy breasts were fashioned, and thine hair was grown; yet <sup>10</sup> thou wast naked and bare. <sup>8</sup> Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and <sup>11</sup> I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I swore unto thee, <sup>12</sup> and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, <sup>13</sup> and thou becamest mine. <sup>9</sup> Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and <sup>14</sup> I anointed thee with oil. <sup>10</sup> I clothed thee also with brodered work, and shod thee with <sup>15</sup> seal-skin, and I <sup>11</sup> girded thee about with fine linen, and covered thee with silk. <sup>11</sup> <sup>12</sup> I decked thee also with ornaments, and <sup>13</sup> I put bracelets upon thy hands, <sup>14</sup> and a chain on thy neck. <sup>12</sup> And <sup>15</sup> I put a ring upon thy nose, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head. <sup>13</sup> <sup>16</sup> Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, <sup>17</sup> and brodered work; <sup>18</sup> thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil: and <sup>19</sup> thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper unto royal estate. <sup>14</sup> And <sup>20</sup> thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect, through my majesty which

I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God.

and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take <sup>h</sup>thy fair jewels: and they shall leave thee <sup>i</sup>naked and bare. 40<sup>j</sup> They shall also bring up an assembly against thee, <sup>k</sup>and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. 41<sup>k</sup> And they shall <sup>l</sup>burn thine houses with fire, and <sup>m</sup>execute judgements upon thee in the sight of many women; and <sup>n</sup>I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and <sup>o</sup>thou shalt also give no hire any more. 42<sup>p</sup> So will I <sup>q</sup>satisfy my fury <sup>r</sup>upon thee, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. 43 Because thou hast not remembered <sup>q</sup>the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; therefore behold, <sup>r</sup>I also will bring thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord God: and <sup>s</sup>thou shalt not <sup>t</sup>commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.

Samaria committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and <sup>i</sup>hast justified thy sisters by all thine abominations which thou hast done. 52 Thou also, <sup>j</sup>bear thine own shame, in that thou hast given judgement for thy <sup>k</sup>sisters; through thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they, they are more righteous than thou; yea, be thou also confounded, and bear thy shame, <sup>l</sup>in that thou hast justified thy sisters. 53<sup>k</sup> And I will <sup>m</sup>turn again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them: 54<sup>j</sup> that thou mayest bear thine own shame, <sup>l</sup>and mayest be ashamed because of all that thou hast done, <sup>m</sup>in that thou art a comfort unto them. 55 And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, <sup>k</sup>and Samaria and her daughters shall return <sup>n</sup>to their former estate, <sup>k</sup>and thou and thy daughters shall return <sup>n</sup>to your former estate. 56 For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth <sup>o</sup>in the day of thy pride; 57 before thy wickedness was discovered, as <sup>p</sup>at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and of all that are round about her, <sup>q</sup>the daughters of the Philistines, <sup>r</sup>which do despite unto thee round about. 58<sup>s</sup> Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the LORD. 59 For thus saith the Lord God: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, <sup>t</sup>which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant. 60 Nevertheless <sup>u</sup>I will remember my covenant with thee <sup>v</sup>in the days of thy youth, <sup>w</sup>and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant. 61<sup>x</sup> Then shalt thou remember thy ways, <sup>y</sup>and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive <sup>z</sup>thy sisters, thine elder sisters and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee <sup>a</sup>for daughters, but not by thy covenant. 62<sup>w</sup> And I will establish my covenant with thee; <sup>b</sup>and thou shalt know that I am the LORD: 63<sup>x</sup> that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and <sup>c</sup>never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame; when I have forgiven thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

1 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 <sup>a</sup> Son of man, <sup>a</sup> put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel; 3 and say, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>a</sup> A great eagle <sup>a</sup> with great wings and long pinions, <sup>a</sup> full of feathers, which had divers colours, came <sup>a</sup> unto Lebanon, <sup>a</sup> and took the top of the cedar: 4 <sup>a</sup> he cropped off the topmost of the young twigs thereof, and carried it into <sup>a</sup> a land of traffic; he set it in a city of merchants. 5 He took also of the seed of the land, <sup>a</sup> and planted it in <sup>a</sup> a fruitful soil; he placed it beside <sup>a</sup> many waters; <sup>a</sup> he set it as a willow tree. 6 And it grew, and became <sup>a</sup> a spreading vine <sup>a</sup> of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs. 7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: <sup>a</sup> and, behold, this vine did bend its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, from <sup>a</sup> the beds of its plantation, that he might water it. 8 It was planted in a good <sup>a</sup> soil by <sup>a</sup> many waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine. 9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>a</sup> Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it may wither; that all its fresh springing leaves may wither; even without great power or much <sup>a</sup> people to pluck it up by the roots thereof? 10 Yea, behold, being planted, <sup>a</sup> shall it prosper? <sup>a</sup> shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in <sup>a</sup> the beds where it grew.

11 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 12 Say now to <sup>a</sup> the rebellious house, <sup>a</sup> Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, <sup>a</sup> the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and brought them to him to Babylon; 13 and he took of the seed royal, <sup>a</sup> and made a covenant with him; <sup>a</sup> he also brought him under an oath, <sup>a</sup> and took away the mighty of the land: 14 that the kingdom might be <sup>a</sup> base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand. 15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors <sup>a</sup> into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. <sup>a</sup> Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he <sup>a</sup> break the covenant, and yet escape? 16 <sup>a</sup> As I live, saith the Lord God, surely <sup>a</sup> in the place where the king dwelleth <sup>a</sup> that made him king, whose oath he despised, <sup>a</sup> and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. 17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, <sup>a</sup> when they cast up mounts and build forts, to cut off many persons. 18 For he hath despised the oath <sup>a</sup> by breaking the covenant; and behold, <sup>a</sup> he had given his hand, and yet hath done all these things; he shall not escape. 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: <sup>a</sup> As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, <sup>a</sup> and my covenant that he hath broken, I will even bring it upon his own head. 20 And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, <sup>a</sup> and will plead with him there <sup>a</sup> for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. 21 And all his fugitives in all his bands shall fall by the sword, <sup>a</sup> and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and ye shall know that <sup>a</sup> I the LORD have spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>a</sup> I will also take of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; <sup>a</sup> I will crop off from the topmost of his young twigs a tender one, and <sup>a</sup> I will plant it upon a high mountain and eminent: 23 <sup>a</sup> in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: <sup>a</sup> and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell. 24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD <sup>a</sup> have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up <sup>t</sup>the green tree, and have made <sup>t</sup>the dry tree to flourish: <sup>u</sup>I the LORD have spoken and have done it.

<sup>3</sup>As I live, saith the Lord God, <sup>y</sup>ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

hath eaten upon the mountains, <sup>v</sup>and defiled his neighbour's wife, <sup>12</sup>hath wronged the poor and needy, <sup>h</sup>hath spoiled by violence, <sup>s</sup>hath not restored the pledge, <sup>t</sup>and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, <sup>u</sup>hath committed abomination, <sup>13</sup><sup>u</sup>hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these

not such like, <sup>15</sup><sup>a</sup>that hath not eaten upon the mountains, <sup>1</sup>neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, <sup>7</sup>hath not defiled his neighbour's wife, <sup>16</sup>neither hath wronged any, <sup>y</sup>hath not taken aught to pledge, <sup>a</sup>neither hath spoiled by violence, <sup>2</sup>but hath given his bread to the hungry, <sup>2</sup>and hath covered the naked with a garment, <sup>17</sup>that hath withdrawn his hand from the poor, <sup>v</sup>that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgements, <sup>a</sup>hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, <sup>b</sup>he shall surely live. <sup>18</sup>As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, <sup>s</sup>spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, <sup>c</sup>behold, he shall die <sup>6</sup>in his iniquity. <sup>19</sup>Yet say ye, <sup>d</sup>Wherefore doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father?

vocation of their offering, there also they made their sweet savour, and they poured out there their drink offerings. <sup>29</sup> Then I said unto them, <sup>j</sup> What meaneth the high place <sup>1</sup> whereunto ye go? So the name thereof is called <sup>2</sup> Bamah unto this day. <sup>30</sup> Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>k</sup> Do ye pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers? and go ye <sup>l</sup> a whoring after their abominations? <sup>31</sup> and when ye offer your gifts, <sup>m</sup> when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, do ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, unto this day? and <sup>n</sup> shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? <sup>o</sup> As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not be inquired of by you: <sup>32</sup> <sup>p</sup> and that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all; in that ye say, <sup>q</sup> We will be as the nations, as the families of the countries, <sup>r</sup> to serve wood and stone. <sup>33</sup> <sup>o</sup> As I live, saith the Lord God, <sup>s</sup> surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and <sup>t</sup> with fury poured out, will I be king over you: <sup>34</sup> <sup>u</sup> and I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, <sup>v</sup> with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and <sup>w</sup> with fury poured out: <sup>35</sup> <sup>x</sup> and I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, <sup>y</sup> and there will I plead with you <sup>z</sup> face to face. <sup>36</sup> <sup>y</sup> Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God. <sup>37</sup> And I will cause you <sup>a</sup> to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant; <sup>38</sup> <sup>a</sup> and I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me; <sup>b</sup> I will bring them forth out of the land where they sojourn, <sup>c</sup> but they shall not enter into the land of Israel: <sup>d</sup> and ye shall know that I am the LORD. <sup>39</sup> As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God: <sup>e</sup> Go ye, serve every one his idols, <sup>f</sup> and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: <sup>g</sup> but my holy name shall ye no more profane with your gifts, and with your idols. <sup>40</sup> <sup>h</sup> For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall <sup>i</sup> all the house of Israel, all of them, serve me in the land: <sup>j</sup> there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the <sup>k</sup> first-fruits of your <sup>l</sup> oblations, with all your holy things. <sup>41</sup> <sup>h</sup> As a sweet savour will I accept you, when <sup>i</sup> I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and <sup>j</sup> I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. <sup>42</sup> <sup>i</sup> And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which <sup>m</sup> I lifted up mine hand to give unto your fathers. <sup>43</sup> <sup>n</sup> And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have polluted yourselves; <sup>o</sup> and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed. <sup>44</sup> <sup>p</sup> And ye shall know that I am the LORD, <sup>q</sup> when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, <sup>r</sup> not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

out of its sheath, and <sup>f</sup>will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked. <sup>4</sup> Seeing then that <sup>f</sup>I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall <sup>e</sup>my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh <sup>f</sup>from the south to the north: <sup>5</sup> and all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn forth <sup>e</sup>my sword out of its sheath; <sup>h</sup>it shall not return any more. <sup>6</sup> <sup>i</sup>Sigh therefore, thou son of man; with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness shalt thou sigh <sup>j</sup>before their eyes. <sup>7</sup> <sup>k</sup>And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt say, Because of the tidings, <sup>l</sup>for it cometh: and <sup>m</sup>every heart shall melt, and <sup>n</sup>all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall <sup>1</sup>faint, and <sup>n</sup>all knees shall be weak as water: <sup>o</sup>behold, <sup>i</sup>it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord God.

1 Moreover the word of the 22 Lord came unto me, saying, 2 And thou, <sup>j</sup>son of man, <sup>o</sup>wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge <sup>h</sup>the bloody city? <sup>4</sup>then cause her to know all her abominations. 3 And thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord God: A city <sup>h</sup>that sheddeth blood in the midst of her, that <sup>j</sup>her time may come, and that maketh idols against herself to defile her! 4 Thou art become guilty <sup>h</sup>in thy blood that thou hast shed, and art defiled in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused <sup>j</sup>thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: <sup>k</sup>therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the nations, and a mocking to all the countries. 5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, thou <sup>5</sup>infamous one and <sup>m</sup>full of tumult. 6 Behold, <sup>n</sup>the princes of Israel, every one according to his <sup>6</sup>power, have been in thee <sup>h</sup>to shed blood. 7 In thee <sup>o</sup>have they set light by father and mother; in the midst of thee <sup>p</sup>have they dealt by oppression with the stranger: in thee <sup>p</sup>have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. 8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and <sup>r</sup>hast profaned my sabbaths. 9 <sup>s</sup>Slandrous men have been in thee to shed blood: and in thee <sup>t</sup>they have eaten upon the mountains: in the midst of thee <sup>u</sup>they have committed lewdness. 10 In thee <sup>v</sup>have they discovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee <sup>w</sup>have they humbled her that was unclean in her separation. 11 And <sup>x</sup>one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and <sup>y</sup>another hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and <sup>z</sup>another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter. 12 In thee <sup>a</sup>have they taken bribes to shed blood; <sup>b</sup>thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by oppression, and <sup>c</sup>hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God. 13 Behold, therefore, <sup>d</sup>I have smitten mine hand at <sup>e</sup>thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at <sup>f</sup>thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee. 14 <sup>g</sup>Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? <sup>h</sup>I the Lord have spoken it, and will do it. 15 <sup>i</sup>And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries; and <sup>j</sup>I will consume thy filthiness out of thee. 16 And <sup>k</sup>thou shalt be profaned in thyself, <sup>l</sup>in the sight of the nations; <sup>m</sup>and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

17 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, 18 <sup>n</sup>Son of man, the house of Israel is become <sup>o</sup>dross unto me: all of them are <sup>p</sup>brass and <sup>q</sup>tin and iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. 19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Because ye are all become <sup>o</sup>dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. 20 As they gather silver and brass and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, <sup>r</sup>to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you <sup>s</sup>in mine anger and in my fury, and I will lay you there, and melt you. 21 Yea, I will gather you, and <sup>t</sup>blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof. 22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the Lord <sup>u</sup>have poured out my fury upon you.

nakedness: then my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her sister. <sup>19</sup> Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, <sup>2</sup>remembering the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>3</sup>she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. <sup>21</sup> <sup>4</sup>Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in the bruising of thy teats by the Egyptians for the breasts of thy youth.

lot is fallen upon it. 7 For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon <sup>c</sup>the bare rock; <sup>d</sup>she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust; 8 that it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance, I have set her blood upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered. 9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: <sup>b</sup>Woe to the bloody city! <sup>e</sup>I also will make the pile great. 10 Heap on the wood, make the fire hot, boil well the flesh, and make thick the broth, and let the bones be burned. 11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that it may be hot, and the brass thereof may burn, and <sup>f</sup>that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the rust of it may be consumed. 12 <sup>g</sup>She hath wearied <sup>h</sup>herself with toil: yet her great rust goeth not forth out of her; her rust <sup>i</sup>goeth not forth by fire. 13 <sup>h</sup>In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee and thou wast not purged, <sup>k</sup>thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till <sup>i</sup>I have <sup>o</sup>satisfied my fury <sup>10</sup>upon thee. 14 <sup>j</sup>I the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, <sup>k</sup>neither will I spare, <sup>l</sup>neither will I repent; <sup>m</sup>according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord God.

13 <sup>r</sup> And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and <sup>s</sup> the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.
14 <sup>t</sup> And I will make thee a bare rock: <sup>u</sup> thou shalt be a place for the spreading of nets; thou shalt be built no more: <sup>v</sup> for I the LORD have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyre: Shall not <sup>w</sup> the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, <sup>x</sup> when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 Then all <sup>y</sup> the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and <sup>z</sup> lay aside their robes, and strip off their brodered garments: they shall clothe themselves with <sup>a</sup> trembling; <sup>b</sup> they shall sit upon the ground, and <sup>c</sup> shall tremble every moment; and <sup>d</sup> be astonished at thee. 17 And they shall <sup>e</sup> take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited <sup>f</sup> of seafaring men, the renowned city, <sup>g</sup> which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, <sup>h</sup> which caused their terror to be on all that <sup>i</sup> haunt it!

18 Now shall <sup>j</sup> the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be dismayed at thy departure. 19 For thus saith the Lord God: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; <sup>k</sup> when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and the great waters shall cover thee; 20 then <sup>l</sup> will I bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make thee to dwell in the nether parts of the earth, <sup>m</sup> in the places that are desolate of old, <sup>n</sup> with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited;

<sup>o</sup> and I will set glory <sup>p</sup> in the land of the living: 21 I will make thee <sup>q</sup> a terror, and thou shalt be no more: <sup>r</sup> though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord God.

27 The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

20 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 21 Son of man, set thy face toward <sup>h</sup>Zidon, and <sup>i</sup>prophecy against it, 22 and say, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, <sup>j</sup>I am against thee, O Zidon; and <sup>k</sup>I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and <sup>l</sup>they shall know that I am the LORD, <sup>m</sup>when I shall have executed judgements in her, and <sup>n</sup>shall be sanctified in her. 23 For I will send into her <sup>o</sup>pestilence and blood in her streets; and the wounded shall <sup>p</sup>fall in the midst of her, with the sword upon her on every side; <sup>q</sup>and they shall know that I am the LORD. 24 And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor <sup>r</sup>a grieving thorn of any that are round about them, <sup>s</sup>that did despite unto them; <sup>t</sup>and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>u</sup>When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and <sup>v</sup>shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, <sup>w</sup>then shall they dwell in their own land which I gave to my servant Jacob. 26 <sup>x</sup>And they shall dwell securely therein; yea, they shall build houses, and plant vineyards, and shall dwell securely; <sup>y</sup>when I have executed judgements upon all those <sup>z</sup>that do them despite round about them; <sup>a</sup>and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

29 In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 <sup>b</sup>Son of man, set thy face against <sup>c</sup>Pharaoh king of Egypt, and <sup>d</sup>prophecy against him, and <sup>e</sup>against all Egypt: 3 speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>f</sup>Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, <sup>g</sup>the great dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, <sup>h</sup>which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself. 4 And I will <sup>i</sup>put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales; and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, with all the fish of thy rivers which stick unto thy scales. 5 <sup>j</sup>And I will leave thee <sup>k</sup>thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall <sup>l</sup>upon the <sup>m</sup>open field; <sup>n</sup>thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: <sup>o</sup>I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the earth and to the fowls of the heaven. 6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt <sup>p</sup>shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been <sup>q</sup>a staff of reed to the house of Israel. 7 <sup>r</sup>When they took hold of thee <sup>s</sup>by thy hand, thou didst break, and didst rend all their shoulders: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to <sup>t</sup>be at a stand. 8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, <sup>u</sup>I will bring a sword upon thee, and will cut off from thee man and beast. 9 And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; <sup>v</sup>and they shall know that I am the LORD: <sup>w</sup>because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it. 10 Therefore <sup>x</sup>behold, I am against thee, and <sup>y</sup>against thy rivers, and <sup>z</sup>I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, <sup>a</sup>from the tower of Sevehneh even unto the border of Ethiopia. 11 No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years. 12 <sup>b</sup>And I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be a desolation forty years: <sup>c</sup>and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 13 For thus saith the Lord God: At the end of forty years <sup>d</sup>will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples whither they were scattered: 14 and <sup>e</sup>I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into <sup>f</sup>the land of Pathros, into the land of their <sup>g</sup>birth; <sup>h</sup>and they shall be there a <sup>i</sup>base kingdom. 15 It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; <sup>j</sup>neither shall it any more lift itself up above the nations; and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. 16 And it shall be no more <sup>a</sup>the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn to look after them: <sup>a</sup>and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted. <sup>8</sup> <sup>a</sup>And they shall know that I am the LORD, when <sup>b</sup>I have set a fire in Egypt, and <sup>c</sup>all her helpers are <sup>d</sup>destroyed. <sup>9</sup> In that day <sup>e</sup>shall messengers go forth from before me in ships to make the careless <sup>f</sup>Ethiopians afraid; <sup>g</sup>and there shall be anguish upon them, as in the day of Egypt; for, lo, it cometh.

eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 21 <sup>a</sup>Son of man, <sup>a</sup>I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, <sup>b</sup>it hath not been bound up to apply healing medicines, to put a roller to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword. 22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God: Behold, <sup>c</sup>I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and <sup>a</sup>will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. 23 <sup>d</sup>And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. 24 And <sup>e</sup>I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put <sup>f</sup>my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with <sup>g</sup>the groanings of a deadly wounded man. 25 And <sup>e</sup>I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; <sup>a</sup>and they shall know that I am the LORD, <sup>h</sup>when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt. 26 <sup>d</sup>And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; <sup>a</sup>and they shall know that I am the LORD.

nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations. 7 Thus was he <sup>w</sup>fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: <sup>x</sup>for his root was by <sup>2</sup>many waters. 8 <sup>y</sup>The cedars <sup>y</sup>in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the plane trees were not as his branches; nor was any tree <sup>y</sup>in the garden of God like unto him in his beauty. 9 I made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that <sup>z</sup>all the trees of <sup>2</sup>Eden, that were <sup>y</sup>in the garden of God, envied him.

10 Therefore thus <sup>a</sup>said the Lord God: Because <sup>a</sup>thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the <sup>1</sup>thick boughs, and <sup>b</sup>his heart is lifted up in his height; 11 I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness. 12 And <sup>c</sup>strangers, <sup>c</sup>the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: <sup>d</sup>upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all <sup>e</sup>the watercourses of the land; and <sup>f</sup>all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him. 13 <sup>g</sup>Upon his ruin all the fowls of the heaven shall dwell, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches: 14 <sup>h</sup>to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, <sup>i</sup>to the <sup>j</sup>nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known. <sup>ar</sup>Yea, <sup>as</sup>I will make many peoples amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when <sup>at</sup>I shall brandish my sword before them ; and <sup>au</sup>they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall. <sup>av</sup>For thus saith the Lord God : <sup>aw</sup>The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee. <sup>ax</sup>By the swords of the mighty will I cause <sup>ay</sup>thy multitude to fall ; <sup>az</sup>the terrible of the nations are they all : and <sup>ba</sup>they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed. <sup>bb</sup>I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside <sup>bc</sup>many waters ; <sup>bd</sup>neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them. <sup>be</sup>Then <sup>bf</sup>will I <sup>bg</sup>make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord God. <sup>bh</sup>When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land <sup>bi</sup>destitute of <sup>bj</sup>that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then <sup>bk</sup>shall they know that I am the LORD. <sup>bl</sup><sup>bm</sup>This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament ; <sup>bn</sup>the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith : for Egypt, and for <sup>bo</sup>all her multitude, shall they lament therewith, saith the Lord God.

pit. 31 Pharaoh shall see them, and <sup>o</sup> shall be comforted over <sup>h</sup> all his multitude: <sup>5</sup> even Pharaoh and all his army, <sup>r</sup> slain by the sword, saith the Lord God. 32<sup>i</sup> For I have put <sup>6j</sup> his terror <sup>k</sup> in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of <sup>l</sup> the uncircumcised, with them <sup>r</sup> that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and <sup>h</sup> all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

33 <sup>1</sup> And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2<sup>m</sup> Son of man, speak to <sup>n</sup> the children of thy people, and say unto them, When <sup>o</sup> I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their <sup>p</sup> watchman: 3 if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, <sup>q</sup> he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; 4 then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, <sup>r</sup> his blood shall be upon his own head. 5<sup>h</sup> He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him: whereas if he had taken warning he should have delivered his soul. 6<sup>t</sup> But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; <sup>t</sup> he is taken away <sup>7</sup> in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand. 7<sup>u</sup> So thou, <sup>u</sup> son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; <sup>u</sup> therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. 8<sup>v</sup> When I say unto the wicked, <sup>o</sup> Wicked man, thou shalt surely die, <sup>v</sup> and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way; <sup>v</sup> that wicked man shall die <sup>7</sup> in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand. 9<sup>w</sup> Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he turn not from his way; <sup>w</sup> he shall die <sup>7</sup> in his iniquity, <sup>2</sup> but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 And thou, <sup>v</sup> son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye speak, saying, <sup>8</sup> Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and <sup>2</sup> we

pine away <sup>1</sup>in them; <sup>a</sup>how then should we live? <sup>11</sup>Say unto them, <sup>b</sup>As I live, saith the Lord God, <sup>c</sup>I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: <sup>d</sup>turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; <sup>e</sup>for why will ye die, O house of Israel? <sup>12</sup>And thou, <sup>f</sup>son of man, say unto <sup>g</sup>the children of thy people, <sup>h</sup>The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; <sup>i</sup>and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness: <sup>j</sup>neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. <sup>13</sup>When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; <sup>k</sup>if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but <sup>l</sup>in his iniquity that he hath committed, <sup>m</sup>therein shall he die. <sup>14</sup>Again, <sup>n</sup>when I say unto the wicked, <sup>o</sup>Thou shalt surely die; <sup>p</sup>if he turn from his sin, and do <sup>q</sup>that which is lawful and right; <sup>r</sup>if the wicked <sup>s</sup>restore the pledge, <sup>t</sup>give again that he had taken by robbery, walk <sup>u</sup>in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. <sup>16</sup><sup>v</sup>None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live. <sup>17</sup>Yet <sup>w</sup>the children of thy people say, <sup>x</sup>The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal. <sup>18</sup><sup>y</sup>When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die <sup>z</sup>therein. <sup>19</sup>And <sup>a</sup>when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. <sup>20</sup>Yet ye say, <sup>b</sup>The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, <sup>c</sup>I will judge you every one after his ways.

opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb. <sup>23</sup>And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, <sup>24</sup><sup>j</sup>Son of man, they that inhabit those <sup>k</sup>waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, <sup>l</sup>Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but <sup>m</sup>we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. <sup>25</sup>Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>n</sup>Ye eat with the blood, and <sup>o</sup>lift up your eyes unto your idols, and <sup>p</sup>shed blood: and shall ye possess the land? <sup>26</sup><sup>q</sup>Ye stand upon your sword, <sup>r</sup>ye work abomination, and <sup>s</sup>ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land? <sup>27</sup>Thus shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>t</sup>As I live, surely they that are in <sup>u</sup>the waste places shall fall by <sup>v</sup>the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to <sup>w</sup>the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in <sup>x</sup>the strong holds and in the caves shall die of <sup>y</sup>the pestilence. <sup>28</sup><sup>z</sup>And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and <sup>a</sup>the pride of her power shall cease; and <sup>b</sup>the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through. <sup>29</sup><sup>c</sup>Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed. <sup>30</sup>And as for thee, <sup>d</sup>son of man, <sup>e</sup>the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD. <sup>31</sup><sup>f</sup>And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not: for <sup>g</sup>with their mouth they shew much love, but <sup>h</sup>their heart goeth after their gain. <sup>32</sup>And, lo, thou art unto them as <sup>i</sup>a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and <sup>j</sup>can play well on an instrument: for <sup>k</sup>they hear thy words, but they do them not. <sup>33</sup>And <sup>l</sup>when this cometh to pass, (behold, it cometh,) <sup>m</sup>then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

u Zeph. 1. 15.

34 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, <sup>2</sup> Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>3</sup> Woe unto the shepherds of Israel <sup>4</sup> that do feed themselves! <sup>5</sup> should not the shepherds feed the sheep? <sup>6</sup> <sup>3</sup> Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, <sup>7</sup> ye kill the fatlings; but ye feed not the sheep. <sup>8</sup> The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, <sup>9</sup> neither have ye bound up that which was broken, <sup>10</sup> neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, <sup>11</sup> neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and <sup>12</sup> with rigour have ye ruled over them. <sup>13</sup> And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd: and <sup>14</sup> they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered. <sup>15</sup> My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth; <sup>16</sup> and there was none that did search or seek after them. <sup>17</sup> Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: <sup>18</sup> As I live, saith the Lord God, surely forasmuch as <sup>19</sup> my sheep became a prey, <sup>20</sup> and my sheep became meat to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, <sup>21</sup> neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but <sup>22</sup> the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep; <sup>23</sup> therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD; <sup>24</sup> Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>25</sup> Behold, I am against the shepherds; and <sup>26</sup> I will require my sheep at their hand, and <sup>27</sup> cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; <sup>28</sup> neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; <sup>29</sup> and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them. <sup>30</sup> For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, <sup>31</sup> I myself, even I, <sup>32</sup> will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. <sup>33</sup> As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in <sup>34</sup> the cloudy and <sup>35</sup> dark day. <sup>36</sup> And I will bring them out from the peoples, <sup>37</sup> and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon <sup>38</sup> the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. <sup>39</sup> I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: <sup>40</sup> there shall they lie down in a good fold, and on fat pasture shall they feed upon <sup>41</sup> the mountains of Israel. <sup>42</sup> I myself will feed my sheep, <sup>43</sup> and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. <sup>44</sup> I will seek that which was lost, <sup>45</sup> and will bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: and <sup>46</sup> the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in judgement. <sup>47</sup> And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God: Behold, <sup>48</sup> I judge <sup>49</sup> between cattle and cattle, as well the rams as <sup>50</sup> the he-goats. <sup>51</sup> Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of <sup>52</sup> the clear waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet? <sup>53</sup> And as for my sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

shall dwell securely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. <sup>26</sup> And I will make them and the places round about my hill <sup>27</sup> a blessing; and <sup>28</sup> I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be <sup>29</sup> showers of blessing. <sup>30</sup> And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, <sup>31</sup> and they shall be secure in their land; and <sup>32</sup> they shall know that I am the LORD, when <sup>33</sup> I have broken the bars of their yoke, and <sup>34</sup> have delivered them out of the hand of those that <sup>35</sup> served themselves of them. <sup>36</sup> And <sup>37</sup> they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, <sup>38</sup> neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but <sup>39</sup> they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. <sup>40</sup> And I will raise up unto them <sup>41</sup> a <sup>42</sup> plantation for renown, and <sup>43</sup> they shall be no more <sup>44</sup> consumed with famine in the land, neither <sup>45</sup> bear the shame of the heathen any more. <sup>46</sup> And they shall know that <sup>47</sup> I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the LORD GOD. <sup>48</sup> And ye my sheep, <sup>49</sup> the sheep of my pasture, are men, <sup>50</sup> and I am your God, saith the LORD GOD.

it <sup>21</sup> him that passeth through and him that returneth. <sup>22</sup> And I will fill <sup>23</sup> his mountains with his slain: in thy hills and in thy valleys and in all <sup>24</sup> thy watercourses shall they fall <sup>25</sup> that are slain with the sword. <sup>26</sup> I will make thee perpetual desolations, and <sup>27</sup> thy cities shall not <sup>28</sup> be inhabited: and <sup>29</sup> ye shall know that I am the LORD. <sup>30</sup> Because thou hast said, <sup>31</sup> These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and <sup>32</sup> we will possess it; <sup>33</sup> whereas <sup>34</sup> the LORD was there: <sup>35</sup> therefore, <sup>36</sup> as I live, saith the LORD GOD, I will do <sup>37</sup> according to thine anger, and <sup>38</sup> according to thine envy which thou hast shewed out of thy hatred against them; and <sup>39</sup> I will make myself known among them, <sup>40</sup> when I shall judge thee. <sup>41</sup> And thou shalt know <sup>42</sup> that <sup>43</sup> I the LORD have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, <sup>44</sup> They are laid desolate, <sup>45</sup> they are given us to devour. <sup>46</sup> And <sup>47</sup> ye have magnified yourselves against me <sup>48</sup> with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard it. <sup>49</sup> Thus saith the LORD GOD: <sup>50</sup> When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. <sup>51</sup> As <sup>52</sup> thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O <sup>53</sup> mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it: and <sup>54</sup> they shall know that I am the LORD.

word of the Lord God; Thus saith the Lord God to <sup>j</sup>the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, to <sup>k</sup>the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become <sup>l</sup>a prey and derision to the residue of the nations that are round about: <sup>5</sup>therefore thus saith the Lord God: Surely in <sup>m</sup>the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and <sup>n</sup>against all Edom, which <sup>o</sup>have appointed my land unto themselves for a possession <sup>p</sup>with the joy of all their heart, <sup>q</sup>with despite of soul, to cast it out for a prey: <sup>6</sup>therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say unto <sup>j</sup>the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, <sup>r</sup>I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne <sup>s</sup>the shame of the heathen: <sup>7</sup>therefore thus saith the Lord God: <sup>t</sup>I have lifted up mine hand, saying, Surely the heathen that are round about you, <sup>u</sup>they shall bear their shame. <sup>8</sup>But ye, O mountains of Israel, <sup>v</sup>ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel; for <sup>v</sup>they are at hand to come. <sup>9</sup>For, <sup>w</sup>behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and <sup>x</sup>ye shall be tilled and sown: <sup>10</sup>and <sup>y</sup>I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and <sup>z</sup>the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded: <sup>11</sup>and I will multiply upon you <sup>a</sup>a man and beast; and <sup>b</sup>they shall increase and be fruitful: and I will cause you to be inhabited after <sup>c</sup>your former estate, and <sup>d</sup>will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and <sup>e</sup>ye shall know that I am the LORD. <sup>12</sup>Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; <sup>f</sup>and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth <sup>g</sup>bereave them of children. <sup>13</sup>Thus saith the Lord God: Because they say unto you, <sup>h</sup>Thou land art a devourer of men, and hast been <sup>a</sup>a bereaver of thy <sup>1</sup>nation; <sup>14</sup>therefore <sup>h</sup>thou shalt devour men no more, neither <sup>2</sup>g bereave thy <sup>1</sup>nation any more, saith the Lord God;

my spirit within you, <sup>c</sup>and cause you to walk in my statutes, and <sup>e</sup>ye shall keep my judgements, and do them. 28 And <sup>j</sup>ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and <sup>g</sup>ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. 29 And <sup>h</sup>I will save you from all your uncleannesses: and <sup>i</sup>I will call for the corn, and will multiply it, and <sup>j</sup>I lay no famine upon you. 30 And <sup>k</sup>I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, <sup>t</sup>that ye shall receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. 31 Then <sup>l</sup>shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. 32 <sup>s</sup>Not for your sake <sup>1</sup>do I this, saith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel. 33 Thus saith the Lord God: In the day that <sup>m</sup>I cleanse you from all your iniquities, <sup>n</sup>I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded. 34 And <sup>n</sup>the land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. 35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become <sup>o</sup>like the garden of Eden; <sup>n</sup>and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fenced and inhabited. 36 Then <sup>p</sup>the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the Lord have builded the ruined places, and <sup>q</sup>planted that which was desolate: <sup>r</sup>I the Lord have spoken it, and I will do it.

1 <sup>x</sup>The hand of the LORD 37 was upon me, and <sup>y</sup>he carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of <sup>z</sup>the valley; and it was full of bones; <sup>z</sup>and he caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many <sup>8</sup>in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry. 3 And he said unto me, <sup>a</sup>Son of man, <sup>b</sup>can these bones live? And <sup>c</sup>I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest. 4 Again he said unto me, <sup>a</sup>Prophecy over these bones, and say unto them, <sup>e</sup>O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. 5 Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones: Behold, <sup>f</sup>I will cause <sup>2</sup>breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. 6 <sup>h</sup>And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and <sup>h</sup>cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; <sup>4</sup>and ye shall know that I am the LORD. 7 So I prophesied <sup>j</sup>as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a <sup>b</sup>noise, and behold <sup>k</sup>an earthquake, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. 8 And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above: but <sup>i</sup>there was no breath in them. 9 Then said he unto me, <sup>a</sup>Prophecy unto the <sup>6</sup>wind, prophesy, <sup>a</sup>son of man, and say to the <sup>6</sup>wind, Thus saith the Lord God: Come from <sup>m</sup>the four winds, O <sup>7</sup>breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. 10 So I prophesied <sup>j</sup>as he commanded me, and <sup>n</sup>the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. 11 Then he said unto me, <sup>a</sup>Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and <sup>o</sup>our hope is lost; <sup>p</sup>we are clean cut off. 12 Therefore <sup>a</sup>prophecy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God: Behold, <sup>q</sup>I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people; and <sup>r</sup>I will bring you into the land of Israel. 13 And <sup>s</sup>ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O my people. 14 And <sup>i</sup>I will put my <sup>6</sup>spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that <sup>u</sup>I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device: 11 and thou shalt say, I will go up to <sup>1g</sup> the land of unwall'd villages; I will go to them <sup>h</sup> that are at quiet, that dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates: 12 to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thine hand against <sup>i</sup> the waste places that are now inhabited, and <sup>h</sup> against the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, <sup>j</sup> that dwell in the <sup>2</sup> middle of the earth. 13 <sup>k</sup> Sheba, and <sup>l</sup> Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all <sup>m</sup> the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, <sup>n</sup> Art thou come to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil?

earth, <sup>b</sup> shall shake at my presence, and <sup>c</sup> the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. 21 And <sup>d</sup> I will call for a sword against him unto all my mountains, saith the Lord God: <sup>e</sup> every man's sword shall be against his brother. 22 And <sup>f</sup> I will plead against him <sup>g</sup> with pestilence and with blood; and <sup>h</sup> I will rain upon him, and upon <sup>i</sup> his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, <sup>j</sup> an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, <sup>k</sup> fire, and brimstone. 23 And <sup>l</sup> I will magnify myself, and <sup>m</sup> sanctify myself, and <sup>n</sup> I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and <sup>o</sup> they shall know that I am the LORD.

they shall make fires of them seven years: <sup>10</sup>so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for <sup>o</sup>they shall make fires of the weapons: and <sup>e</sup>they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord God.

<sup>11</sup>And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto <sup>r</sup>Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through <sup>1</sup>on the east of the sea: and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury <sup>r</sup>Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of <sup>2s</sup>Hamon-gog. <sup>12</sup>And <sup>t</sup>seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that <sup>u</sup>they may cleanse the land. <sup>13</sup>Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown, in the day that <sup>v</sup>I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God. <sup>14</sup>And they shall sever out men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land to bury <sup>3</sup>them <sup>4</sup>that pass through, that remain upon the face of the land, <sup>u</sup>to cleanse it: after the end of <sup>w</sup>seven months shall they search. <sup>15</sup>And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he <sup>5</sup>set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of <sup>x</sup>Hamon-gog. <sup>16</sup>And <sup>6</sup>Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. <sup>u</sup>Thus shall they cleanse the land.

1 Or, by 2 Or, at the stairs of the entry 3 According to some ancient versions, ledges. 4 Or, in the building 5 The Sept. has, And he led me into the inner court, and, behold, two chambers in the inner court, one at the side of the gate that looketh toward the north, having its prospect toward the south, and one at the side of the gate toward the south, but looking toward the north. 6 The Sept. has, and by ten steps they went &c.

1 And he brought me to 41 the temple, and measured the <sup>o</sup>posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the <sup>1</sup>tabernacle. 2 And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the <sup>2</sup>sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, <sup>p</sup>forty cubits, and the breadth, <sup>q</sup>twenty cubits. 3 Then went he <sup>r</sup>inward, and measured each <sup>o</sup>post of the entrance, two cubits: and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. 4 And he measured <sup>s</sup>the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the <sup>t</sup>temple: and he said unto me, This is <sup>u</sup>the most holy place. 5 Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every <sup>v</sup>side-chamber, four cubits, <sup>w</sup>round about the house on every side. 6 And <sup>x</sup>the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another, and <sup>y</sup>thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, <sup>z</sup>and not have hold in the wall of the house. 7 And <sup>aa</sup>the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and <sup>ab</sup>so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber. 8 I saw also <sup>ac</sup>that the house had <sup>ad</sup>a raised basement round about: the foundations of <sup>ae</sup>the side-chambers were a full reed <sup>af</sup>of <sup>ag</sup>a six great cubits. 9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: 7 and <sup>ah</sup>b that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house. 10 And between <sup>ai</sup>c the chambers was a breadth of <sup>aj</sup>d twenty cubits round about the house on every side. 11 And the doors of the <sup>ak</sup>e side-chambers were toward <sup>al</sup>f the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of <sup>am</sup>g the place that was left was five cubits round about. 12 And the building that was before <sup>an</sup>h the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits. 13 So he measured the house, <sup>ao</sup>i an hundred cubits long; and <sup>ap</sup>j the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, <sup>aq</sup>k an hundred cubits long; 14 also the breadth of the face of the house, and of <sup>ar</sup>l the separate place toward the east, <sup>as</sup>m an hundred cubits.

one goeth into them from the outer court. 10 In the thickness of <sup>24</sup>the <sup>25</sup>wall of the court toward the east, before <sup>26</sup>the separate place, and before <sup>27</sup>the building, there were <sup>28</sup>chambers. 11 And <sup>29</sup>the way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; <sup>30</sup>according to their length so was their breadth: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to <sup>31</sup>their doors. 12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before <sup>32</sup>the <sup>33</sup>wall toward the east, as one entereth into them. 13 Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before <sup>34</sup>the separate place, they be the holy chambers, <sup>35</sup>where the priests that are near unto the LORD <sup>36</sup>shall eat <sup>37</sup>the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and <sup>38</sup>the meal offering, and <sup>39</sup>the sin offering, and <sup>40</sup>the guilt offering; for the place is holy. 14 When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there <sup>41</sup>they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and <sup>42</sup>they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of <sup>43</sup>the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. 16 He measured on the east <sup>44</sup>side with <sup>45</sup>the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 17 He measured on the north <sup>46</sup>side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 18 He measured on the south <sup>47</sup>side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed. 19 He turned about to the west <sup>48</sup>side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 20 He measured it <sup>49</sup>on the four sides: it had <sup>50</sup>a wall round about, <sup>51</sup>the length five hundred, and <sup>52</sup>the breadth five hundred, <sup>53</sup>to make a separation between that which was

1 Afterward he brought me

43 to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east:

2 and behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like the sound of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory. 3 And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face. 4 And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east.

5 And the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house. 6 And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a man stood by me.

7 And he said unto me, Son of man, this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever: and the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the carcases of their kings in their high places; 8 in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door post beside my door post, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger. 9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 Thou, son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the pattern. 11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it in their sight: that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. 12 This is the law of the house: upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the altar by cubits: (the cubit is a cubit and an handbreadth;) the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about a span: and this shall be the base of the altar. 14 And from the bottom upon the ground to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. 15 And the upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the altar hearth and upward there shall be four horns. 16 And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in the four sides thereof. 17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and the steps thereof shall look toward the east.

18 And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon. 19 Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord God, a young bullock for a sin offering. 20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it. 21 Thou shalt also take the bullock of the sin offering, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary. 22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin offering; and <sup>2</sup>they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock. <sup>23</sup> When thou hast made an end <sup>3</sup> of cleansing it, thou shalt offer <sup>4</sup> a young bullock without blemish, and <sup>5</sup> a ram out of the flock without blemish. <sup>24</sup> And thou shalt bring them near before the LORD, and the priests <sup>6</sup> shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD. <sup>25</sup> <sup>7</sup> Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. <sup>26</sup> <sup>8</sup> Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they <sup>9</sup> consecrate it. <sup>27</sup> And when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that <sup>10</sup> upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your <sup>11</sup> peace offerings; and <sup>12</sup> I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

44 <sup>1</sup> Then he brought me <sup>2</sup> back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, <sup>3</sup> which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. <sup>2</sup> And the LORD said unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for <sup>4</sup> the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. <sup>3</sup> As for <sup>5</sup> the prince, he shall sit therein as prince <sup>6</sup> to eat bread before the LORD; <sup>7</sup> he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same. <sup>4</sup> Then he brought me the way of <sup>8</sup> the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, <sup>9</sup> the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and <sup>10</sup> I fell upon my face. <sup>5</sup> And the LORD said unto me, <sup>11</sup> Son of man, <sup>12</sup> mark well, and <sup>13</sup> behold with thine eyes, <sup>14</sup> and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning <sup>15</sup> all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and <sup>16</sup> mark well <sup>17</sup> the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary. <sup>6</sup> And thou shalt say to <sup>18</sup> the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God: O ye house of Israel, <sup>19</sup> let it suffice you

of all your abominations, <sup>7</sup> in that <sup>20</sup> ye have brought in aliens, <sup>21</sup> uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, <sup>22</sup> to profane it, even my house, when ye offer <sup>23</sup> my bread, the fat and the blood, and <sup>24</sup> they have broken my covenant, <sup>25</sup> to add unto all your abominations. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>26</sup> ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things; but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves. <sup>9</sup> Thus saith the Lord God, <sup>27</sup> No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any alien that is among the children of Israel. <sup>10</sup> But <sup>28</sup> the Levites that went far from me, <sup>29</sup> when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols; <sup>30</sup> they shall bear their iniquity. <sup>11</sup> Yet they shall be <sup>31</sup> ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight <sup>32</sup> at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and <sup>33</sup> they shall stand before them to minister unto them. <sup>12</sup> Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became <sup>34</sup> a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I <sup>35</sup> lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, and <sup>36</sup> they shall bear their iniquity. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>37</sup> they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy: but <sup>38</sup> they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. <sup>14</sup> Yet will I make them keepers of <sup>39</sup> the charge of the house, <sup>40</sup> for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

court, they shall be clothed <sup>k</sup> with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and <sup>l</sup> within. <sup>18</sup> They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with any thing that causeth sweat. <sup>19</sup> And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, <sup>1</sup> and lay them in the holy chambers, and <sup>m</sup> they shall put on other garments, <sup>n</sup> that they sanctify not the people with their garments. <sup>20</sup> Neither shall they shave their heads, nor <sup>o</sup> suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads. <sup>21</sup> Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court. <sup>22</sup> Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest. <sup>23</sup> And <sup>2</sup> they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and <sup>3</sup> cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. <sup>24</sup> And <sup>4</sup> in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to my judgements shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and <sup>5</sup> they shall hallow my sabbaths. <sup>25</sup> And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves: but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves. <sup>26</sup> And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days. <sup>27</sup> And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, <sup>6</sup> into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, <sup>7</sup> he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord God. <sup>28</sup> And they shall have an inheritance; I am their inheritance: and <sup>8</sup> ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. <sup>29</sup> They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; and <sup>9</sup> every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. <sup>30</sup> And the first of all the first-fruits of every thing, and every oblation of every thing, of all your oblations, shall be for the priests: <sup>10</sup> ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your <sup>11</sup> dough, <sup>12</sup> to cause a blessing to rest on thine house. <sup>31</sup> The priests shall not eat of <sup>13</sup> any thing that dieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

45 Moreover, when <sup>14</sup> ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, <sup>15</sup> ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, <sup>16</sup> an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand rees, and the breadth shall be <sup>17</sup> ten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. <sup>18</sup> Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for <sup>19</sup> the suburbs thereof round about. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>21</sup> of this measure shalt thou measure, a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and <sup>22</sup> in it shall be the sanctuary, <sup>23</sup> which is most holy. <sup>24</sup> It is an holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the LORD; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary. <sup>25</sup> And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for <sup>26</sup> twenty chambers. <sup>27</sup> And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: <sup>28</sup> it shall be for the whole house of Israel. <sup>29</sup> And whatsoever is for <sup>30</sup> the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward: and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border. <sup>31</sup> In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and <sup>32</sup> my princes shall no more oppress

bullock without blemish; and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish: <sup>7</sup> and he shall prepare <sup>g</sup> a meal offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs <sup>h</sup> according as <sup>i</sup> he is able, and an hin of oil to an ephah. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>j</sup> when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof. <sup>9</sup> But <sup>k</sup> when the people of the land <sup>l</sup> shall come before the LORD in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him. <sup>10</sup> And <sup>m</sup> the prince, when they go in, shall go in in the midst of them; and when they go forth, <sup>n</sup> they shall go forth together. <sup>11</sup> And in the feasts and in the <sup>o</sup> solemnities <sup>p</sup> the meal offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs <sup>q</sup> as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah. <sup>12</sup> And when the prince shall prepare <sup>r</sup> a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto the LORD, one shall open for him <sup>s</sup> the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, <sup>t</sup> as he doth on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>u</sup> thou shalt prepare a lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering unto the LORD daily: morning by morning shalt thou prepare it. <sup>14</sup> And <sup>v</sup> thou shalt prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to <sup>w</sup> moisten the fine flour; a meal offering unto the LORD continually by a perpetual ordinance. <sup>15</sup> Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for <sup>x</sup> a continual burnt offering.

his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. <sup>17</sup> But if he give <sup>y</sup> of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to <sup>z</sup> the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. <sup>18</sup> Moreover <sup>a</sup> the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, <sup>b</sup> to <sup>c</sup> thrust them out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession: that my people be not <sup>d</sup> scattered every man from his possession.

east; and behold, <sup>1</sup>there ran out waters on the right side. <sup>3</sup>When <sup>2</sup>the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. <sup>4</sup>Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. <sup>5</sup>Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. <sup>6</sup>And he said unto me, <sup>4</sup>Son of man, <sup>m</sup>hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. <sup>7</sup>Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were <sup>n</sup>very many trees on the one side and on the other. <sup>8</sup>Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into <sup>o</sup>the Arabah; and they shall go toward the sea; into <sup>p</sup>the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. <sup>9</sup>And it shall come to pass, that <sup>q</sup>every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the <sup>r</sup>ivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish: for these waters are come thither, <sup>s</sup>and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and every thing shall live whithersoever the river cometh. <sup>10</sup>And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it: from <sup>t</sup>En-gedi even unto <sup>u</sup>En-eglain shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of <sup>v</sup>the great sea, exceeding many. <sup>11</sup>But the miry places thereof, and the marshes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be <sup>w</sup>given up to salt. <sup>12</sup>And by the river upon the bank thereof, <sup>x</sup>on this side and on that side, shall grow <sup>y</sup>every tree for meat, <sup>z</sup>whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fall: <sup>a</sup>it shall bring forth <sup>b</sup>new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

of they might <sup>o</sup>stand before the king. 6 Now among these were, of the children of Judah, <sup>p</sup>Daniel, <sup>q</sup>Hananiah, <sup>r</sup>Mishael, and <sup>s</sup>Azariah. 7 And <sup>t</sup>the prince of the eunuchs <sup>u</sup>gave names unto them: <sup>v</sup>unto Daniel he gave the name of Beiteshazzar; and to Hananiah, <sup>w</sup>of Shadrach; and to Mishael, <sup>x</sup>of Meshach; and to Azariah, <sup>y</sup>of Abednego. 8 But Daniel <sup>z</sup>purposed in his heart that he would not <sup>aa</sup>defile himself with <sup>ab</sup>the king's meat, nor with <sup>ac</sup>the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not <sup>ad</sup>defile himself. 9 <sup>ae</sup>Now God made Daniel to find favour and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. 10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse liking than the youths which are of your own age? so should ye endanger my head with the king. 11 Then said Daniel to <sup>af</sup>the steward, whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hana-niah, Mishael, and Azariah: <sup>12</sup> Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, <sup>13</sup> ten days; and let them give us <sup>14</sup> pulse to eat, and water to drink. <sup>13</sup> Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of <sup>k</sup> the king's meat; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants. <sup>14</sup> So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days. <sup>15</sup> And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths which did eat of <sup>k</sup> the king's meat. <sup>16</sup> <sup>w</sup> So <sup>2</sup> the steward took away their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them <sup>x</sup> pulse. <sup>17</sup> Now as for these four youths, <sup>y</sup> God gave them knowledge and <sup>z</sup> skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had <sup>a</sup> understanding in all visions and dreams. <sup>18</sup> And at the end of <sup>b</sup> the days which the king had <sup>a</sup> appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>19</sup> And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mish-ael, and Azariah: therefore <sup>c</sup> stood they before the king. <sup>20</sup> And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all <sup>d</sup> the magicians and <sup>e</sup> enchanters that were in all his realm. <sup>21</sup> And Daniel <sup>f</sup> continued even unto the first year of <sup>g</sup> king Cyrus.

<sup>2</sup> And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and <sup>h</sup> his spirit was troubled, and <sup>i</sup> his sleep brake from him. <sup>2</sup> Then the king commanded to call <sup>j</sup> the magicians, and <sup>k</sup> the enchanters, and the <sup>j</sup> sorcerers, and <sup>k</sup> the Chaldeans, for to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and <sup>l</sup> stood before the king. <sup>3</sup> And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and <sup>m</sup> my spirit is troubled to know the dream. <sup>4</sup> Then spake <sup>k</sup> the Chaldeans to the king <sup>4</sup> in the Syrian language, <sup>5</sup> <sup>m</sup> O king, live forever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be <sup>n</sup> cut in pieces, <sup>n</sup> and your <sup>o</sup> houses shall be made a dunghill. <sup>6</sup> But if ye shew the dream and the interpretation thereof, <sup>p</sup> ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: <sup>q</sup> therefore shew me the dream and the interpretation thereof. <sup>7</sup> They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. <sup>8</sup> The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would <sup>r</sup> gain time, because ye see <sup>s</sup> the thing is gone from me. <sup>9</sup> But if ye make not known unto me the dream, <sup>s</sup> there is but one law for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till <sup>t</sup> the time be changed: <sup>u</sup> therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof.
<sup>10</sup> <sup>v</sup> The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: forasmuch as no king, <sup>v</sup> lord, nor ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or <sup>v</sup> Chaldean. <sup>11</sup> And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except <sup>w</sup> the gods, <sup>w</sup> whose dwelling is not with flesh. <sup>12</sup> For this cause the king was angry and <sup>v</sup> very furious, and <sup>z</sup> commanded to destroy all <sup>a</sup> the wise men of Babylon. <sup>13</sup> So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought <sup>b</sup> Daniel and his companions to be slain. <sup>14</sup> Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to <sup>c</sup> Arioch the <sup>d</sup> captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon: <sup>15</sup> he answered and said to <sup>c</sup> Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree <sup>e</sup> so urgent from the king? <sup>16</sup>
Then <sup>c</sup> Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. <sup>16</sup> And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would <sup>10</sup> appoint him a time, <sup>11</sup> and he would shew the king the interpretation.

25 Then <sup>z</sup>Arioch brought in Daniel before the king <sup>a</sup>in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man <sup>b</sup>of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. 26 The king answered and said to Daniel, <sup>c</sup>whose name was Belteshazzar, <sup>d</sup>Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? 27 Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, <sup>e</sup>enchanters, <sup>f</sup>magicians, nor <sup>g</sup>soothsayers, shew unto the king; 28 but <sup>h</sup>there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar <sup>i</sup>what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and <sup>j</sup>the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: 29 as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came <sup>k</sup>into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: <sup>l</sup>and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. 30 But <sup>m</sup>as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that <sup>n</sup>thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart. 31 Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the aspect thereof was terrible. 32 As for this image, <sup>o</sup>his head was of fine gold, <sup>p</sup>his breast and his arms of silver, <sup>q</sup>his belly and <sup>r</sup>his thighs of brass, 33 <sup>s</sup>his legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay. 34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out <sup>t</sup>without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and <sup>u</sup>brake them in pieces. 35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, <sup>v</sup>broken in pieces together, and became <sup>w</sup>like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that <sup>x</sup>no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became <sup>y</sup>a great <sup>z</sup>mountain, <sup>a</sup>and filled the whole earth. 36 This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. 37 Thou, O king, art <sup>b</sup>king of kings, unto whom <sup>c</sup>the God of heaven <sup>d</sup>hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; 38 and whosoever the children of men dwell, <sup>e</sup>the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all: thou art <sup>f</sup>the head of gold. 39 And after thee shall arise <sup>g</sup>another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom <sup>h</sup>of brass, <sup>i</sup>which shall bear rule over all the earth. 40 And <sup>j</sup>the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron <sup>k</sup>breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it <sup>l</sup>break in pieces and crush. 41 And whereas thou sawest <sup>m</sup>the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the

z strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with <sup>1</sup>miry clay. 42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly <sup>2</sup>broken. 43 And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with <sup>1</sup>miry clay, they shall mingle themselves <sup>3</sup>with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron doth not mingle with clay. 44 And in the days of those kings shall <sup>c</sup>the God of heaven set up <sup>d</sup>a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but <sup>e</sup>it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and <sup>d</sup>it shall stand for ever. 45 Forasmuch as <sup>f</sup>thou sawest that <sup>a</sup>a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that <sup>e</sup>it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the <sup>k</sup>great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure. 46 Then the king Nebuchadnezzar <sup>i</sup>fell upon his face, and <sup>j</sup>worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should <sup>k</sup>offer an oblation and <sup>l</sup>sweet odours unto him. 47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth your <sup>m</sup>God is the God of gods, and <sup>n</sup>the Lord of kings, and <sup>o</sup>a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal this secret. 48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great <sup>p</sup>gifts, and made him to rule over the whole <sup>q</sup>province of Babylon, and to be <sup>r</sup>chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. 49 And Daniel requested of the king, and he <sup>s</sup>appointed <sup>t</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of <sup>a</sup>the province of Babylon: but Daniel was <sup>u</sup>in <sup>v</sup>the gate of the king.

3 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in <sup>v</sup>the plain of Dura, in <sup>w</sup>the province of Babylon. 2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together <sup>x</sup>the satraps, the deputies, and <sup>y</sup>the governors, the <sup>z</sup>judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the <sup>6</sup>sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 3 Then <sup>x</sup>the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the <sup>6</sup>judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the <sup>6</sup>sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. 4 Then the herald <sup>z</sup>cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O <sup>a</sup>peoples, nations, and languages, 5 that at what time ye hear the <sup>b</sup>sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, <sup>7</sup>dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye <sup>c</sup>fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up: 6 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour <sup>d</sup>be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 7 Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all <sup>a</sup>the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 8 Wherefore at that time certain <sup>e</sup>Chaldeans <sup>f</sup>came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. 9 They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, <sup>o</sup>O king, live for ever. 10 Thou, O king, <sup>k</sup>hast made a decree, that every man that shall <sup>i</sup>hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, <sup>i</sup>shall fall down and worship the golden image: 11 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, <sup>d</sup>shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast <sup>j</sup>appointed over the affairs of <sup>w</sup>the province of Babylon, <sup>k</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, <sup>i</sup>have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. 13 Then Nebuchadnezzar <sup>m</sup>in <sup>n</sup>his rage and fury commanded to bring <sup>k</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king. 14 Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 Now if ye be ready that at what time <sup>n</sup>ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well:

but if ye worship not, <sup>d</sup>ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and <sup>o</sup>who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? 16 <sup>k</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, <sup>1</sup>we have no need to answer thee in this matter. 17 <sup>2</sup>If it be so, <sup>p</sup>our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. 18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar <sup>q</sup>full of fury, and the form of his visage <sup>r</sup>was changed against <sup>k</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. 20 And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army <sup>s</sup>to bind <sup>k</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

swered and said unto the king, True, O king. 25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, <sup>a</sup>walking in the midst of the fire, and they <sup>b</sup>have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like <sup>a</sup>a son of the gods. 26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the <sup>d</sup>mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, <sup>v</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the <sup>d</sup>Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then <sup>v</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, <sup>c</sup>came forth out of the midst of the fire. 27 And the <sup>s</sup>satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and <sup>v</sup>the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that <sup>g</sup>the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their <sup>h</sup>hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. 28 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of <sup>v</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who <sup>i</sup>hath sent his angel, and <sup>j</sup>delivered his servants that <sup>k</sup>trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not <sup>l</sup>serve nor worship any god, except their own God. 29 Therefore <sup>m</sup>I make a decree, that every <sup>n</sup>people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of <sup>v</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, <sup>o</sup>shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. 30 Then the king promoted <sup>v</sup>Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in <sup>p</sup>the province of Babylon.

4 I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace. 5 I saw a dream which holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the Most High <sup>r</sup>ruleth in the kingdom of men, <sup>s</sup>and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and <sup>t</sup>setteth up over it the lowest of men. 18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: and thou, O <sup>b</sup>Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as <sup>u</sup>all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for <sup>v</sup>the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was <sup>b</sup>Belteshazzar, was <sup>w</sup>astonied for a while, and <sup>x</sup>his thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, <sup>y</sup>the dream be to them that hate thee, <sup>y</sup>and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. 20<sup>z</sup> The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; 21<sup>a</sup> whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation: 22<sup>b</sup> it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: <sup>c</sup>for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, <sup>c</sup>and thy dominion to the end of the earth. 23 And whereas the king saw <sup>d</sup>a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, <sup>e</sup>Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till <sup>f</sup>seven times pass over him; 24 this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: 25<sup>g</sup> that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made <sup>h</sup>to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and <sup>j</sup>seven times shall pass over thee; till <sup>i</sup>thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. <sup>26</sup> And wheresoever they commanded <sup>1</sup> to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. <sup>27</sup> Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and <sup>1</sup> break off thy sins by <sup>2</sup> righteousness, <sup>3</sup> and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; <sup>4</sup> if there may be <sup>2</sup> a lengthening of thy tranquillity. <sup>28</sup> All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>29</sup> At the end of twelve months he was walking <sup>3</sup> in the royal palace of Babylon. <sup>30</sup> The king spake and said, <sup>4</sup> Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by <sup>5</sup> the might of my power and for <sup>6</sup> the glory of my majesty? <sup>31</sup> While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: the kingdom is departed from thee. <sup>32</sup> And thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; <sup>4</sup> until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. <sup>33</sup> The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and <sup>5</sup> he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws. <sup>34</sup> And <sup>6</sup> at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and <sup>7</sup> mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured <sup>8</sup> him that liveth for ever; <sup>9</sup> for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and <sup>10</sup> his kingdom from generation to generation: <sup>35</sup> and all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and <sup>11</sup> he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: <sup>12</sup> and none can <sup>13</sup> stay his hand, or <sup>14</sup> say unto him, What doest thou? <sup>36</sup> At the same time <sup>15</sup> mine understanding returned unto me; and for <sup>16</sup> the glory of my king-

c ver. 1. Lords were perplexed. 10 Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spake and said, <sup>d</sup>O king, live for ever; let not thy thoughts trouble thee, <sup>e</sup>nor let thy countenance be changed: 11 there is a man in thy kingdom, <sup>f</sup>in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father <sup>g</sup>light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him: and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, <sup>h</sup>the king, I say, thy father, <sup>i</sup>made him master of the magicians, <sup>j</sup>enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; 12 <sup>k</sup>forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and <sup>l</sup>understanding, <sup>m</sup>interpreting of dreams, and shewing of dark sentences, and <sup>n</sup>dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, <sup>o</sup>whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of <sup>m</sup>the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? 14 I have heard of thee, that <sup>n</sup>the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that <sup>o</sup>light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee. 15 And now <sup>p</sup>the wise men, the <sup>q</sup>enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but <sup>r</sup>they could not shew the interpretation of the thing. 16 <sup>s</sup>But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and <sup>t</sup>dissolve doubts: <sup>u</sup>now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, <sup>v</sup>thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, <sup>w</sup>and shalt <sup>x</sup>be the third ruler in the kingdom. 17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, <sup>y</sup>Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. 18 O thou king, the "Most High God <sup>z</sup>gave <sup>aa</sup>Nebuchadnezzar thy father <sup>ab</sup>the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty: 19 and because of the greatness that he gave him, <sup>ac</sup>all the peoples, nations, and languages <sup>ad</sup>trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. 20 But <sup>ae</sup>when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened that he dealt proudly, <sup>af</sup>he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: 21 <sup>ag</sup>and he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: <sup>ah</sup>until he knew that the "Most High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will. 22 And thou his son, O <sup>ai</sup>Belshazzar, <sup>aj</sup>hast not humbled thine heart, though thou <sup>ak</sup>knewest all this; 23 but hast lifted up thyself against <sup>al</sup>the Lord of heaven; and they have brought <sup>am</sup>the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; <sup>an</sup>and thou hast praised the <sup>ao</sup>gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: <sup>ap</sup>and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and <sup>aq</sup>whose are all thy ways, <sup>ar</sup>hast thou not glorified: 24 then was <sup>as</sup>the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed. 25 And this is the writing that was inscribed, <sup>at</sup>MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. 26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and brought it to an end. 27 TEKEL; <sup>au</sup>thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. 28 <sup>av</sup>PERES; thy kingdom is divided, and given to <sup>aw</sup>the Medes and <sup>ax</sup>Persians. 29 Then commanded <sup>ay</sup>Belshazzar, and <sup>az</sup>they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, <sup>ba</sup>that he should <sup>bb</sup>be the third ruler in the kingdom. 30 <sup>bc</sup>In that night <sup>bd</sup>Belshazzar the <sup>be</sup>Chaldean king was slain. 31 And <sup>bf</sup>Darius <sup>bg</sup>the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

6 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom <sup>u</sup>an hundred and twenty <sup>v</sup>satraps, which should be throughout the whole kingdom; and over them <sup>w</sup>three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these <sup>v</sup>satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have no damage. 3 Then this Daniel was <sup>x</sup>distinguished above <sup>w</sup>the presidents and <sup>v</sup>the satraps, because <sup>v</sup>an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought <sup>z</sup>to set him over the whole realm. 4 Then <sup>w</sup>the presidents and <sup>v</sup>the satraps <sup>a</sup>sought to find occasion against Daniel as touching the kingdom; <sup>b</sup>but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, <sup>b</sup>neither was there any error or fault found in him. 5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. 6 Then these <sup>w</sup>presidents and <sup>v</sup>satraps <sup>1</sup>assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, <sup>c</sup>King Darius, live for ever. 7 All the <sup>w</sup>presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the <sup>d</sup>counsellors and the governors, have consulted together <sup>2</sup>to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong <sup>e</sup>interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. 8 Now, O king, establish <sup>e</sup>the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to <sup>f</sup>the law of <sup>e</sup>the Medes and Persians, <sup>h</sup>which <sup>3</sup>altereth not. 9 Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and <sup>e</sup>the interdict. 10 And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; (<sup>4</sup>now his windows were open in his chamber <sup>j</sup>toward Jerusalem;) and he kneeled upon his knees <sup>k</sup>three times a day, and prayed, and <sup>l</sup>gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. 11 Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. 12 Then they <sup>m</sup>came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's interdict; Hast thou not signed <sup>n</sup>an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of <sup>o</sup>the Medes and Persians, <sup>h</sup>which <sup>3</sup>altereth not. 13 Then answered they and said before the king, That <sup>o</sup>Daniel, which is <sup>p</sup>of the children of the captivity <sup>o</sup>of Judah, <sup>q</sup>regardeth not thee, O king, nor <sup>r</sup>the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition <sup>k</sup>three times a day. 14 Then <sup>r</sup>the king, when he heard these words, <sup>r</sup>was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to rescue him. 15 Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no <sup>n</sup>interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed. 16 <sup>2</sup>Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, <sup>t</sup>Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. 17 <sup>u</sup>And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; <sup>v</sup>and the king sealed it <sup>w</sup>with his own signet, and with the signet of his <sup>w</sup>lords; <sup>4</sup>that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. 18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: <sup>v</sup>neither were <sup>5</sup>instruments of music brought before him: and <sup>z</sup>his sleep fled from him. 19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. 20 And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice: the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of <sup>a</sup>the living God, <sup>t</sup>is thy God, whom thou servest continually, <sup>b</sup>able to deliver thee from the lions? 21 Then said Daniel unto the king, <sup>c</sup>O king, live for ever. 22 My God <sup>d</sup>hath sent his angel, <sup>e</sup>and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as <sup>f</sup>before him innocency was found in me; <sup>f</sup>and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. 23 Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and <sup>g</sup>no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God. 24 And the king commanded, and <sup>h</sup>they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

also four heads; and <sup>ad</sup>dominion was given to it. 7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold <sup>ae</sup>a fourth beast, <sup>af</sup>terrible and <sup>ag</sup>powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: <sup>ah</sup>it devoured and brake in pieces, <sup>ai</sup>and stamped the residue with his feet: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and <sup>aj</sup>it had ten horns. 8 I considered the horns, and, behold, <sup>ak</sup>there came up among them another horn, a little one, <sup>al</sup>before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and <sup>am</sup>a mouth speaking great things. 9 I beheld till <sup>an</sup>thrones were <sup>ao</sup>placed, and one that was <sup>ap</sup>ancient of days did sit: <sup>aq</sup>his raiment was white as snow, and <sup>ar</sup>the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was fiery flames, and <sup>as</sup>the wheels thereof burning fire. 10 <sup>at</sup>A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: <sup>au</sup>thousand thousands <sup>av</sup>ministered unto him, <sup>aw</sup>and ten thousand times ten thousand <sup>ax</sup>stood before him: the <sup>ay</sup>judgement was set, and <sup>az</sup>the books were opened. 11 I beheld at that time because of the voice of <sup>ba</sup>the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till <sup>bb</sup>the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, <sup>bc</sup>and he was given <sup>bd</sup>to be burned with fire. 12 And as for the rest of the beasts, <sup>be</sup>their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. 13 I saw in the night visions, and, <sup>bf</sup>behold, there came with the clouds of heaven one like unto a son of man, and he came even to the <sup>bg</sup>ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. 14 <sup>bh</sup>And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all <sup>bi</sup>the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: <sup>bj</sup>his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of <sup>bk</sup>my body, and <sup>bl</sup>the visions of my head troubled me. 16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. <sup>17</sup> These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. <sup>18</sup> But <sup>a</sup> the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. <sup>19</sup> Then I desired to know the truth concerning <sup>b</sup> the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet; <sup>20</sup> and concerning the ten horns that were on his head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows. <sup>21</sup> I beheld, and the same horn <sup>c</sup> made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; <sup>22</sup> until the <sup>e</sup> ancient of days came, and <sup>a</sup> judgment was given <sup>1</sup> to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that <sup>a</sup> the saints possessed the kingdom. <sup>23</sup> Thus he said, <sup>b</sup> The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall <sup>2</sup> tread it down, and break it in pieces. <sup>24</sup> And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. <sup>25</sup> And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High: <sup>3</sup> and he shall think to <sup>h</sup> change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until <sup>4</sup> a time and times and half a time. <sup>26</sup> But the judgment shall sit, and <sup>k</sup> they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it <sup>i</sup> unto the end. <sup>27</sup> And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of <sup>m</sup> the saints of the Most High: <sup>n</sup> his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. <sup>28</sup> Here is the end of the matter. <sup>o</sup> As for me Daniel, my <sup>p</sup> thoughts much troubled me, and my <sup>4</sup> countenance was changed in me: but <sup>r</sup> I kept the matter in my heart.

8 In the third year of the reign of <sup>s</sup> king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, <sup>t</sup> after that which appeared unto me <sup>u</sup> at the first. <sup>2</sup> And I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in <sup>v</sup> Shushan the <sup>5</sup> palace, which is in the province of <sup>v</sup> Elam; and <sup>w</sup> I saw in the vision, <sup>w</sup> and I was by the river <sup>v</sup> Ulai. <sup>3</sup> Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river <sup>v</sup> a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. <sup>4</sup> I saw <sup>2</sup> the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no <sup>a</sup> beasts <sup>b</sup> could stand before him, <sup>c</sup> neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but <sup>d</sup> he did according to his will, and <sup>e</sup> magnified himself. <sup>5</sup> And as I was considering, behold, an <sup>f</sup> he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and <sup>6</sup> touched not the ground: and the goat had <sup>7</sup> a notable horn between his eyes. <sup>6</sup> And he came to <sup>8</sup> the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. <sup>7</sup> And I saw him come close unto the ram, <sup>h</sup> and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; <sup>i</sup> and there was no power in the ram to stand before him: but he <sup>j</sup> cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>k</sup> the he-goat <sup>k</sup> magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, <sup>l</sup> the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four <sup>m</sup> notable horns toward <sup>m</sup> the four winds of heaven. <sup>9</sup> And out of one of them came forth <sup>n</sup> a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward <sup>o</sup> the south, and toward <sup>p</sup> the east, and toward <sup>q</sup> the glorious land. <sup>10</sup> And it waxed great, <sup>r</sup> even to the host of heaven; and some of the host <sup>s</sup> and of <sup>t</sup> the stars it cast down to the ground, and <sup>u</sup> trampled upon them. <sup>11</sup> Yea, <sup>v</sup> it magnified itself, even to <sup>w</sup> the prince of the host; <sup>a</sup>and <sup>1</sup>it took away from him the continual burnt offering, <sup>u</sup>and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. <sup>12</sup>And <sup>2</sup>the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and <sup>z</sup>it did its pleasure and prospered. <sup>13</sup>Then I heard <sup>a</sup>a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one which spake, <sup>b</sup>How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and <sup>c</sup>the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? <sup>14</sup>And he said <sup>3</sup>unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred <sup>d</sup>evenings and mornings; <sup>e</sup>then shall the sanctuary be <sup>4</sup>cleansed.

as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, <sup>f</sup>that are near, <sup>f</sup>and that are far off, through <sup>g</sup>all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of <sup>h</sup>their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. <sup>8</sup>O Lord, to us be- longeth confusion of face, <sup>i</sup>to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because <sup>j</sup>we have sinned against thee. <sup>9</sup>To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses; <sup>1</sup>for we have rebelled against him; <sup>10</sup>neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by <sup>k</sup>his servants the prophets. <sup>11</sup>Yea, <sup>l</sup>all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, <sup>m</sup>that they should not obey thy voice: <sup>n</sup>therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath <sup>o</sup>that is written in the law of <sup>p</sup>Moses the servant of God; for <sup>q</sup>we have sinned against him. <sup>12</sup>And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against <sup>r</sup>our judges that judged us, by <sup>s</sup>bringing upon us a great evil: <sup>t</sup>for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: <sup>u</sup>yet have we not in- treated the favour of the LORD our God, <sup>v</sup>that we should turn from our iniquities, and <sup>w</sup>have discernment in thy truth. <sup>14</sup>Therefore hath the LORD watched over the evil, and brought it upon us: <sup>x</sup>for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and <sup>y</sup>we have not obeyed his voice. <sup>15</sup>And now, <sup>z</sup>O LORD our God, <sup>aa</sup>that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt <sup>ab</sup>with a mighty hand, and <sup>ac</sup>hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; <sup>ad</sup>we have sinned, we have done wickedly. <sup>16</sup>O Lord, <sup>ae</sup>ac- cording to all thy <sup>af</sup>righteousness, <sup>ag</sup>let thine anger and thy fury, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, <sup>ah</sup>thy holy mountain: <sup>ai</sup>because for our sins, and for <sup>aj</sup>the iniquities of our fathers, <sup>ak</sup>Jerusalem and thy people are become <sup>al</sup>a reproach to all that are round about us. <sup>17</sup>Now there- fore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and <sup>am</sup>cause thy face to shine upon <sup>an</sup>thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. <sup>18</sup>O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and be- hold <sup>ao</sup>our desolations, and <sup>ap</sup>the city which is called by thy name: <sup>aq</sup>for we do not <sup>ar</sup>present our suppli- cations before thee for our righte- ousnesses, but for thy great mer- cies. <sup>19</sup>O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; <sup>as</sup>defer not; <sup>at</sup>for thine own sake, O my God, because <sup>au</sup>thy city and <sup>av</sup>thy people are called by thy name.

their God <sup>r</sup>shall be strong, and do exploits. 33 <sup>s</sup>And <sup>s</sup>they that be wise among the people shall instruct many: <sup>t</sup>yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. 34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with <sup>u</sup>a little help; but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries. 35 And some of <sup>u</sup>them that be wise shall fall, <sup>v</sup>to refine them, <sup>w</sup>and to purify, and <sup>x</sup>to make them white, even to <sup>y</sup>the time of the end: <sup>y</sup>because it is yet for the time appointed. 36 And the king shall <sup>z</sup>do according to his will; and <sup>a</sup>he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, <sup>b</sup>and shall speak marvellous things against <sup>c</sup>the God of gods: and <sup>d</sup>he shall prosper <sup>e</sup>till the indignation be accomplished; for <sup>f</sup>that which is determined shall be done. 37 Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for <sup>g</sup>he shall magnify himself above all. 38 But in his <sup>h</sup>place shall he honour the god of fortresses: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour <sup>i</sup>with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. 39 And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a strange god; <sup>j</sup>whosoever acknowledgeth him he will increase with glory; and he shall cause them to rule over many, and <sup>k</sup>shall divide the land for a price. 40 <sup>l</sup>And at the time of the end shall the king of the south <sup>m</sup>contend with him: and the king of the north shall come against him <sup>n</sup>like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and <sup>o</sup>shall overflow and pass through. 41 He shall enter also into <sup>p</sup>the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall be delivered out of his hand, <sup>q</sup>Edom, and <sup>q</sup>Moab, and the chief of the children of <sup>r</sup>Ammon. 42 <sup>r</sup>He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape. 43 <sup>s</sup>But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the one said to <sup>1</sup> the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, <sup>1</sup> How long shall it be to the end of these wonders? <sup>7</sup> And I heard <sup>2</sup> the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, when <sup>1</sup> he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and <sup>2</sup> swore by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a <sup>1</sup> time, times, and an half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces <sup>3</sup> the power of <sup>3</sup> the holy people, all these things shall be finished. <sup>8</sup> And I heard, <sup>2</sup> but I understood not: then said I, O my lord, what shall be the <sup>1</sup> issue of these things? <sup>9</sup> And he said, <sup>6</sup> O thy way, Daniel: <sup>2</sup> for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end. <sup>10</sup> Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but <sup>2</sup> the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand: <sup>2</sup> but <sup>4</sup> they that be wise shall understand. <sup>11</sup> And from the time that <sup>1</sup> the continual burnt offering shall be taken away, and <sup>2</sup> the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. <sup>12</sup> Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. <sup>13</sup> But go thou thy way till the end be: <sup>3</sup> for thou shalt rest, and shalt stand in thy lot, at <sup>2</sup> the end of the days.

and she conceived, and bare him a son. <sup>4</sup> And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and <sup>5</sup> I will <sup>1</sup> avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and <sup>2</sup> will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. <sup>5</sup> And it shall come to pass at that day, that <sup>1</sup> I will break the bow of Israel <sup>1</sup> in the valley of Jezreel. <sup>6</sup> And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. 10 Yet <sup>p</sup>the number of the children of Israel shall be <sup>q</sup>as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and <sup>r</sup>it shall come to pass that, <sup>s</sup>in the place where it was said unto them, <sup>o</sup>Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, <sup>t</sup>Ye are the sons of <sup>u</sup>the living God. <sup>11</sup>And <sup>v</sup>the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and <sup>w</sup>they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel. 12 Say ye unto your brethren, <sup>x</sup>Ammi; and to your sisters, <sup>y</sup>Ruhamah.

corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto <sup>q</sup>her silver and gold, <sup>r</sup>which they <sup>1</sup>used for Baal. 9 Therefore <sup>s</sup>will I <sup>8</sup>take back my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and <sup>t</sup>will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness. 10 And now <sup>u</sup>will I discover her <sup>9</sup>lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand. 11 <sup>u</sup>I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her <sup>v</sup>new moons, and her <sup>v</sup>sabbaths, and all her <sup>10</sup>solemn assemblies. 12 And <sup>w</sup>I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, <sup>v</sup>whereof she hath said, These are <sup>z</sup>my hire that my lovers have given me: and <sup>u</sup>I will make them a forest, <sup>a</sup>and the beasts of the field shall eat them. 13 And <sup>b</sup>I will visit upon her <sup>c</sup>the days of the Baalim, <sup>11</sup>unto which she burned incense; when <sup>d</sup>she decked herself with her <sup>12</sup>earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot me; saith the LORD. 14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and <sup>e</sup>bring her into the wilderness, and <sup>f</sup>speak <sup>13</sup>comfortably unto her. 15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of <sup>14</sup>Achor for a door of hope: and she shall <sup>16</sup>make answer there, <sup>q</sup>as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. 16 And it shall be <sup>h</sup>at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me <sup>16</sup>Isi; and shalt call me no more <sup>17</sup>Baali. 17 For <sup>i</sup>I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be <sup>18</sup>mentioned by their name. 18 And in that day <sup>j</sup>will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and <sup>k</sup>I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, and will make them to lie down <sup>l</sup>safely. 19 And I will betroth thee unto me <sup>m</sup>for ever; yea, <sup>n</sup>I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies. 20 <sup>n</sup>I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and <sup>o</sup>thou shalt know the LORD. <sup>21</sup> And it shall come to pass <sup>22</sup> in that day, <sup>23</sup> I will answer, saith the LORD, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; <sup>24</sup> and the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall answer <sup>25</sup> I Jezreel. <sup>26</sup> And <sup>27</sup> I will sow her unto me in the <sup>28</sup> earth; and <sup>29</sup> I will have mercy upon <sup>30</sup> her that had not obtained mercy; and <sup>31</sup> I will say to <sup>32</sup> them which were not my people, <sup>33</sup> Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

are as <sup>70</sup> they that strive with the priest. <sup>71</sup> And thou shalt stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; and I will destroy <sup>72</sup> thy mother. <sup>73</sup> My people are destroyed <sup>74</sup> for lack of knowledge; <sup>75</sup> because thou hast rejected knowledge, <sup>76</sup> I will also reject thee, that <sup>77</sup> thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, <sup>78</sup> I also will forget thy children. <sup>79</sup> As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: <sup>80</sup> I will change their glory into shame. <sup>81</sup> They feed on the sin of my people, and set their heart on their iniquity. <sup>82</sup> And it shall be, like people, like priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and will reward them their doings. <sup>83</sup> And <sup>84</sup> they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the LORD. <sup>85</sup> Whoredom and wine and new wine <sup>86</sup> take away the <sup>87</sup> understanding. <sup>88</sup> My people <sup>89</sup> ask counsel at their stock, and their spirit declareth unto them: for <sup>90</sup> the staff of whoredom hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God. <sup>91</sup> They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, <sup>92</sup> under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters commit whoredom, and your <sup>93</sup> brides commit adultery. <sup>94</sup> I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your <sup>95</sup> brides when they commit adultery; for <sup>96</sup> they themselves go apart with whores, and they sacrifice with the <sup>97</sup> harlots: and the people <sup>98</sup> that doth not understand shall be overthrown. <sup>99</sup> Though thou, <sup>100</sup> Israel, play the harlot, yet let not <sup>101</sup> Judah offend; and <sup>102</sup> come not ye unto <sup>103</sup> Gilgal, neither go ye up to <sup>104</sup> Bethaven, nor swear, As the LORD liveth. <sup>105</sup> For Israel hath behaved himself stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer: now will the LORD feed them as a lamb in a large place. <sup>106</sup> Ephraim is joined to idols; <sup>107</sup> let him come. <sup>108</sup> Their drink is become sour: they commit whoredom

will be unto <sup>w</sup>Ephraim <sup>w</sup>as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of <sup>w</sup>Judah: <sup>y</sup>I, even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver. <sup>15</sup><sup>2</sup>I will go and return to my place, till they <sup>18</sup>acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: <sup>a</sup>in their affliction they will seek me <sup>19</sup>earnestly.

yea, <sup>1</sup> woe also to them when <sup>m</sup> I depart from them! <sup>13</sup> Ephraim, <sup>s</sup> like <sup>n</sup> as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but <sup>k</sup> Ephraim shall bring out his children to the slayer. <sup>14</sup> Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them <sup>o</sup> a miscarrying womb and dry breasts. <sup>15</sup> All their wickedness is in <sup>p</sup> Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house: I will love them no more; all <sup>q</sup> their princes are <sup>r</sup> revolvers. <sup>16</sup> Ephraim is smitten, <sup>s</sup> their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, <sup>t</sup> though they bring forth, <sup>k</sup> yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb. <sup>17</sup> My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and <sup>v</sup> they shall be wanderers among the nations.

the hills, Fall on us. 9 O Israel, thou hast sinned<sup>1</sup> from<sup>2</sup> the days of Gibeah: <sup>3</sup>there they stood; <sup>4</sup>that the battle against the children of iniquity should not overtake them in Gibeah. 10 When it is my desire, <sup>1</sup>I will chastise them; and the peoples shall be gathered against them, when they are <sup>4</sup>bound <sup>5</sup>to their two transgressions. 11 And Ephraim is<sup>6</sup> an heifer that is taught, that <sup>1</sup>loveth to tread out the corn; but I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will set a rider on Ephraim; <sup>1</sup>Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods. 12 Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; <sup>1</sup>break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and <sup>6</sup>rain righteousness upon you. 13 Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of <sup>7</sup>lies: for thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men. 14 Therefore shall a tumult arise <sup>8</sup>among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: <sup>6</sup>the mother was dashed in pieces with her children. 15 So shall <sup>6</sup>Beth-el do unto you because of your great wickedness: at daybreak <sup>8</sup>shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.

sliding from me: though <sup>1</sup>they call them to him that is on high, none at all will <sup>13</sup>exalt him. 8 How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? <sup>10</sup>how shall I make thee <sup>2</sup>as Admah? how shall I set thee <sup>3</sup>as Zeboim? <sup>9</sup>mine heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled together. 9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: <sup>2</sup>for I am God, and not man; <sup>1</sup>the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not <sup>14</sup>enter into the city. 10 They shall walk after the LORD, <sup>1</sup>who shall roar like a lion: for he shall roar, and the children shall come trembling <sup>4</sup>from the west. 11 They shall come trembling as a bird-<sup>6</sup>out of Egypt, and <sup>1</sup>as a dove <sup>6</sup>out of the land of Assyria: and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the LORD.

am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; I will yet again make thee <sup>2</sup>to dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast. <sup>10</sup> <sup>a</sup>I have also spoken unto the prophets, and I have multiplied <sup>b</sup>visions; and <sup>1</sup>by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes. <sup>11</sup> <sup>c</sup>Is Gilead iniquity? they are altogether vanity; <sup>d</sup>in Gilgal they sacrifice bullocks: yea, <sup>e</sup>their altars <sup>2</sup>are as heaps <sup>f</sup>in the furrows of the field. <sup>12</sup> And <sup>g</sup>Jacob fled into the field of <sup>h</sup>Aram, and Israel <sup>i</sup>served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. <sup>13</sup> And by <sup>j</sup>a prophet <sup>k</sup>the LORD brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he <sup>l</sup>preserved. <sup>14</sup> <sup>m</sup>Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall <sup>n</sup>his blood be left upon him, <sup>o</sup>and his reproach shall his LORD return unto him.

destruction, O Israel, <sup>1</sup>that thou art against me, against <sup>2</sup>thy help. <sup>10</sup> <sup>a</sup>Where now is thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom <sup>3</sup>thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? <sup>11</sup> <sup>b</sup>I have given thee a king in mine anger, and <sup>c</sup>have taken him away in my wrath. <sup>12</sup> The iniquity of Ephraim is <sup>d</sup>bound up; his sin is <sup>e</sup>laid up in store. <sup>13</sup> <sup>m</sup>The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son; <sup>10</sup> for it is time he should not tarry <sup>n</sup>in the place of the breaking forth of children. <sup>14</sup> <sup>o</sup>I will ransom them from the <sup>11</sup>power of <sup>12</sup>the grave: <sup>o</sup>I will redeem them from death: <sup>p</sup>O <sup>q</sup>death, <sup>13</sup>where are thy plagues? <sup>p</sup>O <sup>12</sup>grave, <sup>13</sup>where is thy destruction? <sup>r</sup>repentance shall be hid from mine eyes. <sup>15</sup> Though <sup>s</sup>he be fruitful among his brethren, <sup>t</sup>an east wind shall come, the <sup>14</sup>breath of the LORD coming up from the wilderness, <sup>u</sup>and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: <sup>15</sup> he shall spoil <sup>v</sup>the treasure of all pleasant vessels. <sup>16</sup> Samaria <sup>w</sup>shall <sup>16</sup>bear her guilt; for <sup>x</sup>she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword <sup>y</sup>their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and <sup>z</sup>their women with child shall be ripped up.

JOEL.

28<sup>x</sup> And it shall come to pass afterward, that <sup>y</sup>I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and <sup>z</sup>your sons and <sup>a</sup>your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: 29 and <sup>b</sup>also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

30 And I will shew <sup>c</sup>wonders in the heavens <sup>c</sup>and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. 31<sup>d</sup> The sun shall be turned into darkness, <sup>e</sup>and the moon into blood, <sup>f</sup>before the great and terrible day of the LORD come. 32 And it shall come to pass, that <sup>g</sup>whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: <sup>h</sup>for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as the LORD hath said, and <sup>i</sup>among <sup>i</sup>the remnant those whom the LORD doth call. 1 For, behold, <sup>j</sup>in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem, 2<sup>k</sup> I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into <sup>l</sup>the valley of Jehoshaphat; and <sup>m</sup>I will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land. 3 And <sup>n</sup>they have cast lots for my people: and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink. 4 Yea, and what are ye to me, <sup>o</sup>O Tyre, and Zidon, and all <sup>p</sup>the regions of Philistia? 2 will ye render me recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily <sup>q</sup>will I return your <sup>r</sup>recompence upon your own head. 5 Forasmuch <sup>s</sup>as ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things; 6<sup>t</sup> the children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border: 7 behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and <sup>u</sup>will return your <sup>v</sup>recompence upon your own head; 8 and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of <sup>w</sup>Sheba, to a nation far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

The Sept. reads, On. 6 Or, Beth-edem 7 Heb. an entire captivity. 8 Heb. the covenant of brethren. See 1 Kings 5. 1, 9. 11-14. 9 Heb. corrupted his compassions.

the needy for a pair of shoes: <sup>7</sup> that pant after <sup>v</sup> the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and <sup>w</sup> turn aside the way of the meek: and <sup>a</sup> a man and his father will go unto the same <sup>1</sup> maid, to profane my holy name: <sup>8</sup> and they lay themselves down beside every altar upon clothes <sup>v</sup> taken in pledge, and in the house of their God they drink the wine of such as have been fined. <sup>9</sup> Yet <sup>2</sup> destroyed I the Amorite before them, <sup>a</sup> whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet <sup>b</sup> I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. <sup>10</sup> <sup>c</sup> Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, <sup>d</sup> and led you forty years in the wilderness, <sup>2</sup> to possess the land of the Amorite. <sup>11</sup> And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for <sup>e</sup> Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the LORD. <sup>12</sup> But ye gave the Nazirites <sup>f</sup> wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, <sup>g</sup> Prophecy not. <sup>13</sup> Behold, <sup>2</sup> I will press you in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. <sup>14</sup> <sup>h</sup> And <sup>3</sup> flight shall perish from the swift, <sup>h</sup> and the strong shall not strengthen his force, <sup>i</sup> neither shall the mighty deliver <sup>4</sup> himself: <sup>15</sup> neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is <sup>j</sup> swift of foot shall not deliver <sup>5</sup> himself: <sup>k</sup> neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver <sup>4</sup> himself: <sup>16</sup> and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. <sup>16</sup>Therefore thus saith the LORD, <sup>j</sup>the God of hosts, the Lord: <sup>m</sup>Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, <sup>1</sup>and <sup>m</sup>such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing. <sup>17</sup>And in all vineyards shall be wailing; for <sup>n</sup>I will pass through the midst of thee, saith the LORD. <sup>18</sup>Woe unto you that desire <sup>o</sup>the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? <sup>p</sup>It is darkness, and not light. <sup>19</sup><sup>q</sup>As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; <sup>2</sup>or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. <sup>20</sup><sup>r</sup>Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? <sup>21</sup><sup>r</sup>I hate, I despise your feasts, and I <sup>s</sup>will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. <sup>22</sup><sup>s</sup>Yea, though ye offer me <sup>t</sup>your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the <sup>u</sup>peace offerings of your fat beasts. <sup>23</sup>Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear <sup>v</sup>the melody of thy viols. <sup>24</sup>But let judgement roll down as waters, and righteousness as a <sup>w</sup>mighty stream. <sup>25</sup><sup>u</sup>Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and <sup>7</sup>offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? <sup>26</sup><sup>v</sup>Yea, <sup>w</sup>ye <sup>8</sup>have borne <sup>9</sup>Siccuth your king and <sup>10</sup>Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. <sup>27</sup><sup>w</sup>Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond <sup>y</sup>Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is <sup>j</sup>the God of hosts.

shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. <sup>2</sup> And it came to pass that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord God, forgive, I beseech thee: <sup>3</sup> how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. <sup>3</sup> The Lord repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith the Lord.

<sup>1</sup> Thus the Lord God shewed me: and behold, a basket of summer fruit. <sup>2</sup> And he said, <sup>f</sup> Amos, what seest thou? And I said, <sup>g</sup> A basket of summer fruit. Then said the Lord unto me, <sup>h</sup> The end is come upon my people Israel; <sup>i</sup> I will not again pass by them any more. <sup>3</sup> <sup>j</sup> And the songs of the <sup>k</sup> temple <sup>j</sup> shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: <sup>k</sup> the dead bodies shall be many; in every place <sup>l</sup> shall they cast them forth with silence. <sup>4</sup> Hear this, <sup>m</sup> O ye that would swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, <sup>5</sup> saying, When will <sup>n</sup> the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and <sup>o</sup> the sabbath, that we may <sup>7</sup> set forth wheat? making <sup>p</sup> the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with <sup>q</sup> balances of deceit; <sup>6</sup> that we may buy the poor for <sup>r</sup> silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat. <sup>7</sup> The Lord hath sworn by <sup>s</sup> the excellency of Jacob, Surely <sup>t</sup> I will never forget any of their works. <sup>8</sup> <sup>u</sup> Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? <sup>v</sup> yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled <sup>w</sup> and sink again, like the River of Egypt. <sup>9</sup> And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord God, that <sup>x</sup> I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. <sup>10</sup> <sup>y</sup> And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; <sup>z</sup> and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, <sup>a</sup> and baldness upon every head; <sup>a</sup> and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

 Lord God, that <sup>b</sup>I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, <sup>c</sup>but of hearing the words of the LORD. <sup>d</sup>12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, <sup>e</sup>and shall not find it. <sup>f</sup>13 In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men <sup>f</sup>faint for thirst. <sup>g</sup>14 They that swear by <sup>g</sup>the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy God, O Dan, liveth; and, As <sup>h</sup>the <sup>h</sup>way of <sup>h</sup>Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; <sup>x</sup>the LORD is his name. <sup>y</sup>7 Are ye not as the children of <sup>y</sup>the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the LORD. <sup>z</sup>8 Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and <sup>z</sup>the Philistines from <sup>z</sup>Caphtor, and the Syrians from <sup>z</sup>Kir? <sup>a</sup>8 Behold, <sup>a</sup>the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; <sup>b</sup>saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD. <sup>c</sup>9 For, lo, I will command, <sup>c</sup>and I will <sup>c</sup>sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as <sup>c</sup>corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. <sup>d</sup>10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, <sup>d</sup>The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.

Thus saith the Lord God <sup>a</sup> concerning Edom: <sup>b</sup> We have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. <sup>2</sup> Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised. <sup>3</sup> <sup>c</sup> The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of <sup>1</sup> the rock, whose habitation is high; <sup>d</sup> that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? <sup>4</sup> Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. <sup>5</sup> If <sup>e</sup> thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? if <sup>f</sup> grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleanings? <sup>6</sup> How are <sup>2</sup> the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up! <sup>7</sup> All the men of thy confederacy have <sup>3</sup> brought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; <sup>4</sup> <sup>g</sup> they that eat thy bread lay a <sup>5</sup> snare under thee: <sup>h</sup> there is none understanding <sup>6</sup> in him. <sup>8</sup> Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of <sup>j</sup> the mount of Esau? <sup>9</sup> And thy mighty men, <sup>k</sup> O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off from <sup>j</sup> the mount of Esau by slaughter. <sup>10</sup> For the violence done to thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, <sup>m</sup> and thou shalt be cut off for ever. <sup>11</sup> In the day that thou stoodst <sup>7</sup> on the other side, <sup>o</sup> in the day that strangers carried away his <sup>8</sup> substance, and foreigners entered into his gates, <sup>p</sup> and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them. <sup>12</sup> But look not thou on the day of thy brother in <sup>9</sup> the day of his disaster, <sup>r</sup> and rejoice not over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction; <sup>s</sup> neither speak proudly in the day of distress. <sup>13</sup> Enter not into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; <sup>t</sup> yea, look not thou on their affliction in the day of their calamity, <sup>u</sup> neither lay ye hands on their substance in the day of their calamity. <sup>14</sup> And stand thou not in the crossway, to cut off those of his that escape; and deliver not up those of his that remain in the day of distress. <sup>15</sup> For <sup>v</sup> the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations: <sup>w</sup> as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; thy <sup>x</sup> dealing shall return upon thine own head. <sup>16</sup> For as ye have drunk upon <sup>y</sup> my holy mountain, so shall all the nations drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and <sup>z</sup> swallow down, <sup>a</sup> and shall be as though they had not been. <sup>17</sup> But in mount Zion there shall be those that escape, and it shall be holy; <sup>b</sup> and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions. <sup>18</sup> And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for <sup>c</sup> stubble, and they shall burn among them, and devour them: <sup>d</sup> and there shall not be any remaining to the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it. <sup>19</sup> And they of <sup>e</sup> the South shall possess <sup>f</sup> the mount of Esau; and they of <sup>g</sup> the lowland the Philistines: and they shall possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of <sup>h</sup> Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Gilead. <sup>20</sup> And the captivity of this <sup>i</sup> host of the children of Israel, <sup>j</sup> which are among the Canaanites, shall possess even unto <sup>k</sup> Zarephath; and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South. <sup>21</sup> And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge <sup>l</sup> the mount of Esau; and <sup>m</sup> the kingdom shall be the LORD's.

JONAH.

that for my sake this great tempest is upon you. 13 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. 14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and <sup>r</sup>lay not upon us innocent blood: <sup>s</sup>for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee. 15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: <sup>t</sup>and the sea ceased from her raging. 16 Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; <sup>u</sup>and they offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, <sup>v</sup>and made vows. 17 And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; <sup>w</sup>and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights. 1 Then 2 Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly.

2 And he said,

3 <sup>a</sup>For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas,

And the flood was round about me;

4 <sup>c</sup>And I said, I am cast out from before thine eyes;

5 <sup>e</sup>The waters compassed me about, <sup>f</sup>even to the soul;

The deep was round about me;

The weeds were wrapped about my head.

6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains;

The earth with her bars closed upon me for ever:

Yet hast thou brought up my life <sup>g</sup>from <sup>h</sup>the pit, O LORD my God.

7 <sup>h</sup>When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD:

10 And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

1 And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying, 2 Arise, go unto

<sup>n</sup> Nineveh, that great city, and <sup>1</sup> preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. 3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now <sup>n</sup> Nineveh was <sup>2o</sup> an exceeding great city, of three days' journey. 4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and <sup>p</sup> Nineveh shall be overthrown. 5 <sup>a</sup> And the people of Nineveh believed God; <sup>r</sup> and they proclaimed a fast, and <sup>s</sup> put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. 6 <sup>b</sup> And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and <sup>t</sup> he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, <sup>u</sup> and sat in ashes. 7 And he made proclamation and <sup>4</sup> published through Nineveh <sup>v</sup> by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor <sup>w</sup> beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water: 8 but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and <sup>w</sup> beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, <sup>x</sup> let them turn every one from his evil way, and from <sup>y</sup> the violence that is in their hands. 9 <sup>z</sup> Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, <sup>a</sup> and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? 10 And God saw their works, <sup>b</sup> that they turned from their evil way; <sup>b</sup> and God re-

pentend of the evil, which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not. 1 But it displeased Jonah

4 exceedingly, and <sup>c</sup> he was angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? <sup>d</sup> Therefore I

4 And the LORD said, <sup>6a</sup> Doest thou well to be angry? 5 Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there <sup>i</sup> made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city. 6 And the LORD God prepared a <sup>7</sup> gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd. 7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered. 8 And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry <sup>j</sup> east wind; <sup>k</sup> and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he <sup>l</sup> fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, <sup>o</sup> It is better for me to die than to live. 9 And God said to Jonah, <sup>m</sup> Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. 10 And the LORD said, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: 11 and should not I have pity on <sup>n</sup> Nineveh, that great city; wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much <sup>o</sup> cattle?

MICAH.

people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war. 9 The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children ye take away my glory for ever. 10 <sup>a</sup>Arise ye, and depart; for this is not <sup>b</sup>your rest: because of <sup>c</sup>uncleanness <sup>d</sup>that destroyeth, even with a grievous destruction. 11 If a man walking <sup>e</sup>in <sup>f</sup>wind and falsehoodhood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee <sup>g</sup>of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; <sup>h</sup>I will surely gather <sup>i</sup>the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of <sup>j</sup>Bozrah: <sup>k</sup>as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men. 13 <sup>l</sup>The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, <sup>m</sup>and are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and <sup>n</sup>the LORD at the head of them.

1 And I said, <sup>o</sup>Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: <sup>p</sup>is it not for you to know judgement? 2 <sup>q</sup>who hate the good, and love the evil; <sup>r</sup>who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones; 3 <sup>s</sup>who also eat the flesh of my people; and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron. 4 <sup>t</sup>Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, <sup>u</sup>he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings. 5 Thus saith the LORD concerning <sup>v</sup>the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth <sup>w</sup>and cry, Peace; and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even <sup>x</sup>prepare war against him: 6 Therefore <sup>y</sup>it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and <sup>z</sup>the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them. 7 <sup>aa</sup>And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; <sup>ab</sup>yea, they shall all cover their lips: for <sup>ac</sup>there is no answer of God. 8 But <sup>ad</sup>I truly am full of power <sup>ae</sup>by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob <sup>af</sup>his transgression, and to Israel his sin. 9 <sup>ag</sup>Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, <sup>ah</sup>that abhor judgement, and pervert all equity. 10 <sup>ai</sup>They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. 11 <sup>aj</sup>The heads thereof judge for reward, and <sup>ak</sup>the priests thereof teach for hire, and <sup>al</sup>the prophets thereof divine for money: <sup>am</sup>yet will they lean upon the LORD, and <sup>an</sup>say, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? <sup>ao</sup>no evil shall come upon us. 12 Therefore <sup>ap</sup>shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem <sup>aq</sup>shall become heaps, and <sup>ar</sup>the mountain of the house <sup>as</sup>as the high places of a forest.

12 But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established <sup>at</sup>in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. 2 And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth <sup>au</sup>the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. 3 And he shall judge <sup>av</sup>between <sup>aw</sup>many peoples, and shall <sup>ax</sup>reprove strong nations afar off; and they shall <sup>ay</sup>beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. 4 <sup>az</sup>But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; <sup>ba</sup>and none shall make them afraid: <sup>bb</sup>for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it. 5 For <sup>bc</sup>all the peoples <sup>bd</sup>will walk every one in the name of his god, and <sup>be</sup>we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 <sup>bf</sup>In that day, saith the LORD, <sup>bg</sup>I will I assemble her <sup>bh</sup>that halteth, and I will gather her <sup>bi</sup>that is driven away, and her that I have afflicted;

 a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and <sup>b</sup>the LORD shall reign over them <sup>c</sup>in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever. 8 And thou, O tower of 1 the flock, 2 the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come; yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem. 9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? <sup>d</sup>Is there no king in thee, <sup>e</sup>is thy counsellor perished, that <sup>f</sup>pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail?
 10 <sup>g</sup>Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for <sup>h</sup>now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and <sup>i</sup>shalt come even unto Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued; <sup>j</sup>there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies. 11 And now <sup>k</sup>many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and <sup>l</sup>let our eye <sup>m</sup>see its de- not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for <sup>o</sup>he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshing-floor.

 13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and <sup>p</sup>thou shalt devote <sup>q</sup>their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto <sup>r</sup>the Lord of the whole earth. 1 Now shalt 5 thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: <sup>s</sup>they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek. 2 <sup>t</sup>But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the <sup>u</sup>thousands of <sup>v</sup>Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be <sup>w</sup>ruler in Israel; <sup>x</sup>whose goings forth are <sup>y</sup>from of old, <sup>z</sup>from everlasting. 3 Therefore will he give them up, <sup>a</sup>until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then <sup>b</sup>the residue of his brethren shall return <sup>c</sup>unto the children of Israel. 4 And he shall stand, <sup>d</sup>and shall feed his flock <sup>e</sup>in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now <sup>f</sup>shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. 5 And this man shall be <sup>g</sup>our peace: <sup>h</sup>when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven <sup>i</sup>shepherds, and eight <sup>j</sup>principal men. 6 And they shall <sup>k</sup>waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of <sup>l</sup>Nimrod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, <sup>m</sup>when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our border. 7 And <sup>n</sup>the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men. 8 And <sup>o</sup>the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, <sup>p</sup>as a lion among the beasts of the forest, <sup>q</sup>as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: <sup>r</sup>who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. 9 Let thine hand <sup>s</sup>be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass <sup>t</sup>in that day, saith the LORD, that <sup>u</sup>he will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: 11 <sup>v</sup>and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strong holds: 12 and I will cut off <sup>w</sup>witchcrafts out of thine hand; and <sup>x</sup>thou shalt have no <sup>y</sup>more soothsayers: 13 and <sup>z</sup>I will cut off thy graven images and <sup>a</sup>thy 10 pillars out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. 14 And I will pluck up thine <sup>b</sup>Asherim out of the midst of thee: <sup>c</sup>and I will destroy thy <sup>d</sup>cities. 15 And <sup>e</sup>I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations <sup>f</sup>which hearkened not.

6 1 <sup>g</sup>Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice. 2 <sup>h</sup>Hear, O

of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. 3 O my people, <sup>w</sup>what have I done unto thee? and <sup>x</sup>wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. 4 For <sup>y</sup>I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and <sup>z</sup>redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and <sup>a</sup>Miriam. 5 O my people, remember now <sup>b</sup>what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; remember from <sup>c</sup>Shittim unto <sup>d</sup>Gilgal, that ye may know <sup>e</sup>the righteous acts of the LORD. 6 <sup>f</sup>Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before <sup>g</sup>the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? 7 <sup>h</sup>Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? <sup>i</sup>shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? 8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and <sup>j</sup>what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to <sup>k</sup>walk humbly with thy God?

9 The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will <sup>l</sup>see <sup>m</sup>thy name: hear ye <sup>n</sup>the rod, and who hath appointed it. 10 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant <sup>o</sup>measure that is abominable? 11 Shall I be pure <sup>p</sup>with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? 12 For the rich men thereof are <sup>q</sup>full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof <sup>r</sup>have spoken lies, and <sup>s</sup>their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. 13 Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; <sup>t</sup>I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. 14 <sup>u</sup>Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy <sup>v</sup>humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. 15 <sup>w</sup>Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vint-

7 But as for me, <sup>a</sup>I will look unto the LORD; <sup>b</sup>I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. 8 <sup>c</sup>Rejoice not against me, O <sup>d</sup>mine enemy: <sup>e</sup>when I fall, I shall arise; <sup>f</sup>when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. 9 <sup>g</sup>I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him; until <sup>h</sup>he plead my cause, and execute judgement for me: <sup>i</sup>he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. 10 Then <sup>j</sup>mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her; which <sup>k</sup>said unto me, Where is the LORD thy God? <sup>l</sup>Mine eyes shall behold her; now shall she be trodden down <sup>m</sup>as the mire of the streets. 11 <sup>n</sup><sup>10</sup><sup>b</sup>A day for building thy walls! in that day shall <sup>o</sup>the

<sup>1</sup>Woe to <sup>2</sup>the bloody city! <sup>3</sup>is all full of lies and rapine; <sup>4</sup>the prey departeth not. <sup>2</sup>The noise of the whip, and the noise of <sup>3</sup>the rattling of wheels; and <sup>4</sup>prancing horses, and <sup>5</sup>jumping chariots; <sup>3</sup>the horseman <sup>11</sup>mounting, and the flashing sword, and <sup>6</sup>the glittering spear; <sup>7</sup>and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcases: and there is none end of the corpses; they stumble upon their corpses: <sup>4</sup>because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured <sup>8</sup>harlot, <sup>9</sup>the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts. <sup>5</sup><sup>m</sup>Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and <sup>n</sup>I will discover thy skirts <sup>12</sup>upon thy face; and I will shew the nations <sup>2</sup>thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame. <sup>6</sup>And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and <sup>a</sup>make thee vile, and will set thee as <sup>b</sup>a gazing-stock. <sup>7</sup>And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee <sup>c</sup>shall flee from thee, and say, <sup>d</sup>Nineveh is laid waste: <sup>e</sup>who will bemoan her? <sup>f</sup>whence shall I seek comforters for thee? <sup>8</sup><sup>g</sup>Art thou better than <sup>h</sup>No-amon, that was situate <sup>i</sup>among the <sup>13</sup>rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was <sup>14</sup>the sea, and her wall <sup>15</sup>was of the sea? <sup>9</sup><sup>j</sup>Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; <sup>k</sup>Put and <sup>1</sup>Lubim were thy helpers. <sup>10</sup><sup>m</sup>Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: <sup>n</sup>her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and <sup>o</sup>they cast lots for her honourable men, <sup>p</sup>and all her great men were bound in chains. <sup>11</sup><sup>g</sup>Thou also shalt be drunken, thou shalt be hid; <sup>r</sup>thou also shalt seek <sup>16</sup>a strong hold because of the enemy. <sup>12</sup>All thy fortresses shall be <sup>s</sup>like fig trees

HABAKKUK.

2 O LORD, <sup>b</sup>how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee <sup>c</sup>of violence, and thou wilt not save. 3 <sup>d</sup>Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and <sup>e</sup>look upon perverseness? for spoiling <sup>c</sup>and violence are before me: and there is strife, and contention riseth up. 4 <sup>e</sup>Therefore the law is slackened, and judgement <sup>f</sup>doth never go forth: <sup>f</sup>for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore judgement goeth forth perverted. 5 <sup>g</sup>Behold ye among the nations, and regard, and wonder marvellously: <sup>h</sup>for <sup>3</sup>I work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. 6 For, lo, <sup>i</sup>I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation; <sup>j</sup>which march through the breadth of the earth, <sup>k</sup>to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. 7 <sup>g</sup>They are terrible and dreadful: <sup>1</sup>their judgement and their dignity proceed from themselves. 8 <sup>m</sup>Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than <sup>n</sup>the evening wolves; and their horsemen <sup>10</sup>spread themselves; yea, their horsemen come from far; <sup>o</sup>they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour.

<sup>5</sup> Or, Heb. He, the eagerness (or assembling) of their faces is &c. <sup>13</sup> Or, And they scold &c.
<sup>14</sup> Or, Then shall the wind sweep by, and he shall pass away
<sup>15</sup> Or, transgress <sup>16</sup> According to an ancient Jewish tradition, them his portion is fat, and his meat <sup>1</sup>plenteous. <sup>17</sup> Shall he therefore empty his net, <sup>2</sup>and not spare to slay the nations continually?

<sup>2</sup> and set me upon the <sup>2</sup> tower, and will <sup>1</sup>look forth to see <sup>1</sup> what he will speak <sup>3</sup> with me, and what I shall answer concerning my complaint. <sup>2</sup> And the LORD answered me, and said, <sup>1</sup> Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it. <sup>3</sup> For <sup>1</sup> the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it <sup>1</sup> hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, <sup>2</sup> wait for it; because <sup>2</sup> it will surely come, it will not delay.
<sup>4</sup> Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not <sup>5</sup> upright in him: but <sup>5</sup> the just shall live <sup>6</sup> by his faith. <sup>5</sup> <sup>7</sup> Yea, moreover, wine is <sup>2</sup> a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and <sup>3</sup> that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire <sup>2</sup> as <sup>3</sup> hell, and he is as death, <sup>2</sup> and cannot be satisfied, but <sup>5</sup> gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all peoples.
<sup>6</sup> Shall not all these <sup>1</sup> take up a parable against him, and a taunting <sup>10</sup> proverb against him, and say, <sup>2</sup> Woe to him <sup>2</sup> that increaseth that which is not his! <sup>2</sup> how long? and <sup>2</sup> that ladeth himself with pledges!
<sup>7</sup> <sup>7</sup> Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall <sup>12</sup> bite thee, and awake that shall <sup>12</sup> vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them? <sup>8</sup> <sup>2</sup> Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; <sup>2</sup> because of men's blood, and <sup>2</sup> for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

<sup>9</sup> <sup>2</sup> Woe to <sup>1</sup> him that getteth an evil gain for his house, <sup>2</sup> that he may <sup>2</sup> set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! <sup>10</sup> Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, <sup>2</sup> by cutting off many peoples, and <sup>1</sup> hast sinned against thy soul. <sup>11</sup> For <sup>2</sup> the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

<sup>12</sup> <sup>2</sup> Woe to him <sup>2</sup> that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity! <sup>13</sup> Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that <sup>2</sup> the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? <sup>14</sup> <sup>2</sup> For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of <sup>2</sup> the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the

<sup>15</sup> <sup>2</sup> Woe unto him <sup>1</sup> that giveth his neighbour drink, that <sup>13</sup> addeth thy <sup>14</sup> venom <sup>2</sup> thereto, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look <sup>2</sup> on their nakedness! <sup>16</sup> Thou art filled <sup>2</sup> with shame for glory: <sup>2</sup> drink thou also, and <sup>15</sup> be as one uncircumcised; <sup>2</sup> the cup of the LORD's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and <sup>2</sup> foul shame shall be upon thy glory. <sup>17</sup> For <sup>2</sup> the violence <sup>2</sup> done to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of the beasts, <sup>16</sup> which made them afraid; <sup>2</sup> because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

<sup>18</sup> <sup>2</sup> What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and <sup>2</sup> the teacher of lies, that the maker of <sup>17</sup> his work trusteth therein, to make <sup>2</sup> dumb idols? <sup>19</sup> <sup>2</sup> Woe unto him <sup>2</sup> that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise!
Shall this teach? Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and <sup>2</sup> there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

prophet, set to Shigionoth.

<sup>2</sup> O LORD, <sup>2</sup> I have heard <sup>19</sup> the report of thee, and <sup>20</sup> am afraid:

O LORD, <sup>2</sup> revive <sup>2</sup> thy work in the midst of the years,
In the midst of the years make it known;

<sup>2</sup> And the Holy One from mount Paran. [Selah]
His glory covered the heavens,
And the earth was full of his praise.

He had <sup>1</sup>rays coming forth <sup>2</sup>from his hand:

And there was the hiding of his power.

He beheld, and drove asunder the nations:

And the <sup>1</sup>eternal mountains <sup>2</sup>were scattered,

The everlasting hills did bow;

8 <sup>1</sup>Was the LORD displeased against the rivers?

Was thine anger against the rivers,

The tempest of waters passed by:

At the shining of thy glittering spear.

Laying bare the foundation even unto the neck. [Selah]

14 Thou <sup>1</sup>didst pierce with his own staves the head of his <sup>2</sup>warriors:

They came as a whirlwind to scatter me:

Their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.

My lips quivered at the voice;

That <sup>4</sup>I should rest <sup>5</sup>in the day of trouble,

17 For though the fig tree shall not blossom,

Neither shall fruit be in the vines;

The labour of the olive shall fail, And the fields shall yield no meat;

The flock shall be cut off from the fold,

And there shall be no herd in the stalls:

18 <sup>1</sup>Yet I will rejoice in the LORD, <sup>2</sup>I will joy in the God of my salvation.

19 Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength,

And <sup>3</sup>he maketh my feet like <sup>4</sup>hinds' feet,

ZEPHANIAH.

I THE word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, <sup>a</sup>in the days of <sup>b</sup>Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

2 <sup>c</sup>I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. 3 I will consume <sup>d</sup>man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and <sup>e</sup>the fishes of the sea, and <sup>f</sup>the stumblingblocks with the wicked; and I will <sup>g</sup>cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. 4 And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; <sup>h</sup>and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the <sup>i</sup>Chemarim with the priests; 5 and <sup>j</sup>them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and <sup>k</sup>them that worship, which swear to the LORD and swear by <sup>l</sup>Malcam; 6 and <sup>m</sup>them that are turned back from following the LORD; and <sup>n</sup>those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after him.

it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house <sup>12</sup> that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. <sup>10</sup> Therefore <sup>11</sup> for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. <sup>11</sup> And <sup>12</sup> I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon <sup>13</sup> the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and <sup>14</sup> upon all the labour of the hands.

the angel of the LORD stood by. <sup>6</sup>And the angel of the LORD protested unto <sup>7</sup>Joshua, saying, <sup>7</sup>Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt <sup>8</sup>keep my charge, then thou also shalt <sup>9</sup>judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee <sup>10</sup>a place of access among <sup>11</sup>these that stand by. <sup>8</sup>Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for <sup>12</sup>they are men which are a <sup>13</sup>sign: for, behold, I will bring forth <sup>14</sup>my servant <sup>15</sup>the <sup>16</sup>Branch. <sup>9</sup>For behold, <sup>17</sup>the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are <sup>18</sup>seven eyes: behold, I will <sup>19</sup>engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and <sup>20</sup>I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. <sup>10</sup>In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour <sup>21</sup>under the vine and under the fig tree.

also "finish it; "and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. <sup>10</sup> For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of <sup>o</sup> Zerubbabel, even <sup>v</sup> these seven, <sup>v</sup> which are the eyes of the LORD; <sup>z</sup> they run to and fro through the whole earth. <sup>11</sup> Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these <sup>m</sup> two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof? <sup>12</sup> And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What be these <sup>m</sup> two olive branches, <sup>1</sup> which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty <sup>2</sup> the golden oil out of themselves? <sup>13</sup> And he answered me and said, <sup>a</sup> Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. <sup>14</sup> Then said he, <sup>b</sup> These are the two sons of oil, that stand by <sup>c</sup> the LORD of the whole earth.

<sup>1</sup> Then again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying <sup>d</sup> roll. <sup>2</sup> And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying <sup>d</sup> roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. <sup>3</sup> Then said he unto me, This is <sup>e</sup> the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that <sup>f</sup> stealeth shall be purged out <sup>g</sup> on the one side according to it; and every one that <sup>g</sup> sweareth shall be purged out <sup>h</sup> on the other side according to it. <sup>4</sup> I will cause it to go forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of <sup>h</sup> him that sweareth falsely by my name: and <sup>i</sup> it shall abide in the midst of his house, and <sup>j</sup> shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

<sup>5</sup> <sup>k</sup> Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, <sup>l</sup> Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. <sup>6</sup> And I said, What is it? And he said, This is <sup>m</sup> the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their <sup>n</sup> resemblance in all the land: <sup>7</sup> (and behold, there was lifted up a <sup>o</sup> talent of lead;) and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah. <sup>8</sup> And he said, This is Wickedness; and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah: and he cast <sup>m</sup> the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. <sup>9</sup> Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came forth two women, and <sup>n</sup> the wind was in their wings; now they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven. <sup>10</sup> Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah? <sup>11</sup> And he said unto me, To build her an house in the <sup>o</sup> land of Shinar: and when it is <sup>p</sup> prepared, she shall be set there <sup>q</sup> in her own place.

the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, <sup>1</sup> Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassion every man to his brother: <sup>10</sup> and <sup>2</sup> oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, <sup>3</sup> nor the poor; and <sup>4</sup> let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. <sup>11</sup> But <sup>5</sup> they refused to hearken, <sup>6</sup> and <sup>7</sup> pulled away the shoulder, and <sup>8</sup> stopped their ears, that they should not hear. <sup>12</sup> Yea, <sup>9</sup> they made their hearts as an adamant stone, <sup>10</sup> lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent <sup>11</sup> by his spirit by the hand of <sup>12</sup> the former prophets: <sup>13</sup> therefore came there great wrath from the LORD of hosts. <sup>13</sup> And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; <sup>14</sup> so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said the LORD of hosts; <sup>14</sup> but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all <sup>15</sup> the nations whom they have not known. <sup>15</sup> Thus the land was desolate after them, <sup>16</sup> that no man passed through nor returned: <sup>17</sup> for they laid the <sup>18</sup> pleasant land desolate.

<sup>8</sup> And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, <sup>2</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>3</sup> I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great fury. <sup>3</sup> Thus saith the LORD: <sup>4</sup> I am returned unto Zion, and <sup>5</sup> will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: <sup>6</sup> and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; <sup>7</sup> and the mountain of the LORD of hosts The holy mountain. <sup>4</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet <sup>8</sup> old men and old women <sup>9</sup> dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand <sup>10</sup> for very age. <sup>5</sup> And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. <sup>6</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>7</sup> If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, <sup>8</sup> should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. <sup>7</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, <sup>9</sup> I will save my people <sup>10</sup> from the east country, and from the west country: <sup>8</sup> and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; <sup>f</sup> and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, <sup>g</sup> in truth and in righteousness.

<sup>h</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>i</sup> Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of <sup>j</sup> the prophets, which were in <sup>k</sup> the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. <sup>l</sup> For before those days <sup>m</sup> there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast;
neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the adversary: for I set all men every one against his neighbour.
<sup>n</sup> But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. <sup>o</sup> For there shall be the seed of peace; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, <sup>p</sup> and the heavens shall give their dew; <sup>q</sup> and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. <sup>r</sup> And it shall come to pass that, as <sup>s</sup> ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, <sup>t</sup> so will I save you, and <sup>u</sup> ye shall be a blessing: <sup>v</sup> fear not, but <sup>w</sup> let your hands be strong. <sup>x</sup> For thus saith the LORD of hosts: <sup>y</sup> As I thought to do evil unto you, when your fathers <sup>z</sup> provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I <sup>a</sup> repented not; <sup>b</sup> so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah:
<sup>c</sup> fear ye not. <sup>d</sup> These are the things that ye shall do; <sup>e</sup> Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour; <sup>f</sup> execute the judgement of <sup>g</sup> truth and peace in your gates:
<sup>h</sup> and <sup>i</sup> let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and <sup>j</sup> love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

<sup>k</sup> And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying, <sup>l</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The fast of the <sup>m</sup> fourth month, and the fast of the <sup>n</sup> fifth, and the fast of the <sup>o</sup> seventh, and the fast of the <sup>p</sup> tenth, shall be to the house of Judah <sup>q</sup> joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts;
therefore love <sup>r</sup> truth and peace.

<sup>s</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of <sup>t</sup> many cities: <sup>u</sup> and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, <sup>v</sup> Let us go speedily <sup>w</sup> to intreat the favour of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also. <sup>x</sup> Yea, <sup>y</sup> many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and <sup>z</sup> to intreat the favour of the LORD. <sup>a</sup> Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that <sup>b</sup> ten men shall take hold, <sup>c</sup> out of all the languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for <sup>d</sup> we have heard that God is with you.

<sup>e</sup> The <sup>f</sup> burden of the word of the LORD upon the land of Hadrach, and <sup>g</sup> Damascus shall be its resting place: for <sup>h</sup> the eye of man and of all the tribes of Israel is toward the LORD: <sup>i</sup> and <sup>j</sup> Hamath also which bordereth thereon:
<sup>k</sup> Tyre and <sup>l</sup> Zidon, <sup>m</sup> because <sup>n</sup> she is very wise. <sup>o</sup> And Tyre did build herself <sup>p</sup> a strong hold, and <sup>q</sup> heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets. <sup>r</sup> Behold, the LORD will dispossess her, and he will smite <sup>s</sup> her power in the sea; and <sup>t</sup> she shall be devoured with fire. <sup>u</sup> Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also, and shall be sore pained; and Ekron, for her expectation shall be ashamed: and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ash-kelon shall not be inhabited. <sup>v</sup> And <sup>w</sup> a bastard shall <sup>x</sup> dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines. <sup>y</sup> And I will take away <sup>z</sup> his blood out of his mouth, and <sup>a</sup> his abominations from between his teeth; and <sup>b</sup> he also shall be a remnant for our God: and he shall be as <sup>c</sup> a chieftain in Judah, and <sup>d</sup> Ekron as a Jebusite. <sup>e</sup> And <sup>f</sup> I will encamp about mine house <sup>g</sup> against the army, <sup>h</sup> that none pass through or return: and <sup>i</sup> no <sup>j</sup> oppressor shall pass through them any more: <sup>k</sup> for now have I seen with mine eyes.

pride of Jordan is spoiled. <sup>4</sup> Thus said the LORD my God : <sup>5</sup> Feed the flock of slaughter ; <sup>6</sup> whose <sup>1</sup> possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty ; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD, for <sup>2</sup> I am rich : and <sup>2</sup> their own shepherds pity them not. <sup>6</sup> For <sup>10</sup> I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD : but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king : and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. <sup>7</sup> So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily <sup>8</sup> the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves ; the one I called <sup>4</sup> Beauty, and the other I called <sup>5</sup> Bands ; <sup>8</sup> and I fed the flock. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>6</sup> I cut off the three shepherds in one month ; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. <sup>9</sup> Then said I, I will not feed you : <sup>a</sup> that that dieth, let it die ; and <sup>6</sup> that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off ; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another. <sup>10</sup> And I took <sup>d</sup> my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. <sup>11</sup> And it was broken in that day : and <sup>7</sup> thus <sup>8</sup> the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of the LORD. <sup>12</sup> And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire ; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire <sup>e</sup> thirty pieces of silver. <sup>13</sup> And the LORD said unto me, Cast it <sup>8</sup> unto the potter, <sup>f</sup> the goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the <sup>e</sup> thirty pieces of silver, and cast them <sup>8</sup> unto the potter, in the house of the LORD. <sup>14</sup> Then I cut asunder <sup>g</sup> mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel. <sup>15</sup> And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of <sup>h</sup> a foolish shepherd. <sup>16</sup> For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, <sup>i</sup> which shall not <sup>9</sup> visit those that be <sup>10</sup> cut off, neither shall seek <sup>11</sup> those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken ; neither shall he feed that which <sup>12</sup> is sound, but <sup>j</sup> he shall eat the flesh of

hosts. 8 But ye are turned aside out of the way; †ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted <sup>u</sup>the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. 9 Therefore <sup>v</sup>have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but <sup>w</sup>have had respect of persons in the law.

17 <sup>p</sup>Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. <sup>q</sup>Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that <sup>r</sup>ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or <sup>s</sup>where is the God of judgement?

7 <sup>l</sup>From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. <sup>m</sup>Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. <sup>n</sup>But ye say, Wherein shall we return? 8 Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. <sup>o</sup>But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? <sup>p</sup>In tithes and <sup>q</sup>offerings. 9 <sup>r</sup>Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. 10 <sup>s</sup>Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and <sup>t</sup>prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you <sup>u</sup>the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough <sup>v</sup>to receive it. 11 And I will rebuke <sup>w</sup>the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts. 12 And <sup>x</sup>all nations shall call you

some land, saith the LORD of hosts.
<sup>13</sup> Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. <sup>14</sup> Yet ye say, Wherein have we spoken against thee? <sup>14</sup> Ye have said, <sup>15</sup> It is vain to serve God: and <sup>16</sup> what profit is it that we have kept his charge, and that we have walked <sup>17</sup> mournfully before the LORD of hosts? <sup>15</sup> And now we call <sup>16</sup> the proud happy; yea, <sup>17</sup> they that work wickedness are built up; yea, <sup>18</sup> they tempt God, and are delivered.
<sup>16</sup> Then they that feared the LORD <sup>19</sup> spake one with another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard, and <sup>20</sup> a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name. <sup>17</sup> And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, <sup>18</sup> in the liar treasure; and <sup>24</sup> I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. <sup>18</sup> Then shall ye return and <sup>25</sup> discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not. <sup>1</sup> For, behold, <sup>4</sup> the day cometh, <sup>2</sup> it burneth as a furnace; and <sup>3</sup> all the proud, and <sup>4</sup> all that work wickedness, <sup>5</sup> shall be stubble: and the day that cometh <sup>6</sup> shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that <sup>7</sup> it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

<sup>2</sup> But unto you <sup>3</sup> that fear my name shall <sup>4</sup> the sun <sup>5</sup> of righteousness arise <sup>6</sup> with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and <sup>7</sup> gambol
as calves of the stall. <sup>3</sup> And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet <sup>4</sup> in the day that I <sup>5</sup> do make, saith the LORD of hosts.
<sup>4</sup> Remember ye <sup>5</sup> the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him <sup>6</sup> in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and judgements. <sup>5</sup> Behold, I will send you <sup>6</sup> Elijah the prophet <sup>7</sup> before the great and terrible day of the LORD come. <sup>6</sup> And he shall <sup>7</sup> turn the heart of the fathers <sup>8</sup> to the children, and the heart of the children <sup>9</sup> to their fathers; lest I come and

APPENDIX.

The American Old Testament Revision Company, while recognizing the cordial acceptance given to many of their suggestions, present the following instances in which they differ from the English Company, as of sufficient importance to be appended to the Revision in accordance with the original agreement.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

- I. Substitute the Divine name "Jehovah" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for "the LORD" and "God" and omit the marg. to "the LORD" at Gen. ii. 4, and "Heb. Jehovah" from the marg. at Ex. iii. 15; also substitute "Jehovah" for "the LORD" or "Jah" wherever the latter occurs in the Hebrew text, and retain or insert "Heb. Jah" in the marg.; where "Jehovah" immediately follows, viz. in Is. xii. 2, xxvi. 4, read "Jehovah, even Jehovah" and omit "Jehovah" from the marg.
- II. Substitute "Sheol" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for the renderings "the grave" "the pit" and "hell" and omit these renderings from the marg.
- III. Substitute "a" for "an", "my" for "mine" and "thy" for "thine" wherever followed by "h" aspirated.
- IV. Substitute "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons.
- V. Substitute "are" for "be" in the present indicative, and omit "for" before infinitives.
- VI. Omit from the margin all renderings from the LXX, Vulgate, and other ancient Versions or "authorities"
- VII. The following substitutions are preferred, with the necessary inflectional variations:
  - "adder" for "basilisk"
  - "annul" for "disannul"
  - "ascent" for "going up" when used as a noun.
  - "astonished" for "astonled"
  - "a year old" for "of the first year"
  - "base man" for "man of Belial" or "son of B."; "base woman" for "daughter of Belial"; "base men" for "men of Belial" "sons of B." or "children of B."
  - "before" for "afore"; also for "or ever" except in Ps. xc. 2; Eccl. xli. 1, 2, 6.
  - "blow the trumpet" for "blow with (or, "blow up") the trumpet"
  - "boil" "boiled" for "seethe" "sod" "sodden"
  - "bonds" for "bands" in Job xxxix. 5, and elsewhere uniformly for the same Hebrew word.
  - "capital" for "chapiter"
  - "chiefs" for "dukes"
  - "contend" for "plead" in Judg. vi. 31 (three times) and so wherever the latter rendering represents the same Hebrew verb unless followed by "cause", except in Is. i. 17. But substitute "enter into judgment" for "plead" in Jer. xxv. 31; Ezek. xvii. 20; xx. 35, 36 (twice).
  - "courses" for "rows" of timber or stone.
  - "devise" for "imagine" in Ps. x. 2; xxi. 11; cxi. 2; Hos. vii. 15; Nah. i. 9, 11; Zech. vii. 10; viii. 17.
  - "diminish" for "minish"
  - "encamp" for "camp"; also, for "pitch" when used intransitively.
  - "far be it from me" ("thee" etc.) for "God forbid", except in 1 Sam. xiv. 45; xx. 2, where substitute "Far from it"
  - "find favour" for "find grace"
  - "food" for "meat"
  - "fortified" for "fenced" and "defenced"
  - "frighten" for "fray"
  - "grain" for "corn"
  - "harlot" for "whore" and "whorish woman": "play the harlot" for "go a whoring" and "commit whoredom"

PREFACE.

THE Version of the Apocrypha which is here presented to the Reader forms the last portion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of 1611.

The present work, owing to various circumstances, has been somewhat long delayed. It will be found, however, to have been executed carefully and faithfully, though it was of necessity intrusted to small Committees formed out of the two Companies of Revisers.

The Revision of the Authorised Version of the Apocrypha was included in the arrangement between the Companies and the Representatives of the Presses of Oxford and Cambridge, and was to be proceeded with as soon as the other and greater portions of the work were concluded. No division of labour in regard to the Apocrypha was formally made between the two Companies, but as it appeared clearly desirable that there should be no unnecessary delay in the revision, there was an understanding between the Companies that the New Testament Company should commence the work as soon as the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament was completed and published. For this, preparation was made by the New Testament Company as their work was drawing to its close, and in the following manner.

It was resolved (March 21, 1879) that, after the conclusion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament, the Company should be divided into three Committees, to be called the London, Westminster, and Cambridge Committees, for the purpose of beginning the Revision of the Apocrypha.

The London Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol (Dr. Ellicott), the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Moberly), the Bishop of St. Andrews (Dr. Wordsworth), the Dean of Rochester (Dr. Scott), the Dean of Lichfield (Dr. Bickersteth), the Master of the Temple (Dr. Vaughan), Rev. Principal Angus, and Rev. Prebendary Humphry. This Committee was to take the Book of Ecclesiasticus.

The Westminster Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Trench), the Dean of Westminster (Dr. Stanley), the Archdeacon of Dublin (Dr. Lee), the Archdeacon of Oxford (Dr. Palmer), Rev. Dr. Scrivener, Rev. Principal Brown, Rev. Principal Newth, and Rev. Dr. Vance Smith. This Committee was to take the First Book of Maccabees. The Books of Tobit and Judith were afterwards, by special arrangement with the Old Testament Company, undertaken by this Committee.

The Cambridge Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), Rev. Professor Hort, Rev. Professor Kennedy, Rev. Professor Westcott, Rev. Dr. Milligan,

PREFACE.

Rev. Dr. Moulton, and Rev. Dr. Roberts. This Committee was to take the Book of Wisdom and the Second Book of Maccabees.

In connexion with the foregoing resolution it was resolved at the final meeting of the Company, on Thursday, November 11, 1880:—(1) that the decisions be arrived at by simple majorities; (2) that the successive portions of the work when printed be forwarded to the members of the other two Committees. A third resolution was passed constituting the Rev. Dr. Troutbeck the General Secretary of the three Committees, and, as such, responsible for the printing of the portions of the work as they were finished; but the latter part of this resolution was modified, and the whole of the printing was carried on at the University Press, Oxford.

The London Committee, to which the Revision of the Authorised Version of the Book of Ecclesiasticus was intrusted, commenced their labours on May 11, 1881, and completed their first revision of the Version on July 20, 1882, and their second and final revision on May 25, 1883. The breaking up of the text of the Version into parallelisms was undertaken at a later period. Of the members of the Committee, two, the Bishops of Salisbury and St. Andrews, found themselves unable through age and distance from London to attend the meetings. The attendance of the remainder was such that there were rarely less than four present. Whenever the number fell below this, all debateable points were reserved for fuller meetings. Considerable attention was paid to the text; but the materials available for correcting it were but scanty. In regard to the revision of the Version, especial care was taken to preserve the general tone of the Authorised Version, and to maintain the somewhat greater freedom of rendering which characterizes the translation of the Apocrypha when compared with the translation of the Old or of the New Testament.

The Westminster Committee completed their first revision of the First Book of Maccabees on July 5, their second revision on November 3, 1881. Their first revision of the Books of Judith and Tobit was completed on July 6, their second revision on October 11, 1882. With regard to the Greek text they derived great assistance from Dr. Scrivener, but the number of places in which it was thought right to abandon readings that seemed to be represented in the Authorised Version was not large. The English Version was found to require much care. In the First Book of Maccabees, for example, a well-known peculiarity of the writer had been obliterated by the repeated introduction, with or without the use of italics, of the words 'God' and 'the Lord,' which never occur in the best Greek text. Archbishop Trench worked with the Committee until they were close to the end of the First Book of Maccabees. Dean Stanley also attended up to about the same time: Principal Brown did not take any part in the work.

Of the members of the Cambridge Committee the Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), and Professor Kennedy were compelled for various reasons to withdraw from the work of revision. Dr. Roberts supplied notes on various parts of the two books. Dr. Hort, Dr. Moulton and Dr. Westcott conducted the revision with this assistance at weekly meetings during term time from March 3, 1881 to the spring of 1890, when Dr. Westcott was removed to Durham. In the remainder of the work Dr. Westcott took part by correspondence. The first revision of 2 Maccabees was completed on May 20, 1885, and the final revision December 7, 1889. The first revision of Wisdom was completed between May 20, 1885 and June 20, 1888; and the second revision between November 23, 1889 and November 21, 1891. The singular difficulty and importance of the Book of Wisdom led the revisers to review the version a third time. The whole revision of the two books was substantially completed before the summer of 1892. A few questions were reserved for later decision. These were considered by Dr. Hort in the summer of that year, and, with the help of his notes, finally determined by Dr. Westcott and Dr. Moulton.

After the revision of the Old Testament had been completed the Old Testament Company (July 9, 1884) passed the following resolution:—

PREFACE.

'That the Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), Professor Lumby, Professor Robertson Smith, Mr. Bensly, Mr. Cheyne, and the Secretary (Mr. Aldis Wright) be a Committee to translate the remaining books of the Apocrypha, and

That Dr. Field be invited to assist in the formation of the text.'

The Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), now Bishop of Worcester, and Mr. (now Professor) Cheyne, found themselves unable to take part in the work, and the Committee were deprived of the assistance of Dr. Field by his death in April, 1885.

The Books of the Apocrypha which were left for them to revise were 1 and 2 Esdras, the additions to Esther, Baruch, the Song of the Three Holy Children, the History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, and the Prayer of Manasses.

For the text of these portions, with the exception of 2 Esdras, they were entirely dependent upon the inadequate materials already existing, and did not therefore attempt any complete revision. But as the late Professor Bensly had reconstructed the text of the Latin version of 2 Esdras from a full collation of all the independent MSS. at present known, the Committee fully availed themselves of the results which he generously placed at their disposal. They were thus able to incorporate the missing fragment, vii. 36-105, which was edited by Professor Bensly with elaborate care, and published by the Cambridge University Press (1875), and to make use of many improved readings which he proposed to adopt in his critical edition. It is satisfactory to know that this work has been left in a sufficiently forward state to admit of its being easily completed.

In regard to the language of the Revised Version the Committee followed the general principles which were observed by the Old Testament Revision Company.

In the case of Proper Names it has not been found possible to secure uniformity of plan in the work of the four Committees. In some Books these names appear in their familiar Old Testament forms, after the Hebrew; whilst in others, the forms of the Authorised Version are usually retained, or are but slightly altered, in accordance with the Greek. Lists of the Greek readings—or, in 2 Esdras, the Latin readings—adopted by the Committees will shortly be published*.

Such is a brief account of the circumstances under which the present work was executed. The Revisers conclude with the hope and the belief that it will be found helpful to the student, and acceptable to the general reader of the Apocrypha.

January, 1895.

* The preparation of these lists was undertaken by Dr. Moulton. As however the work was still far from complete at the time of his death in February 1898, the publication of the readings has now been abandoned.

I <sup>1a</sup> AND Josias <sup>b</sup> held the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month; <sup>2</sup> having set the priests according to their <sup>c</sup> daily courses, being arrayed in their vestments, in the temple of the Lord. <sup>3</sup> And he spake unto the Levites, <sup>1d</sup> the temple-servants of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord <sup>e</sup> in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built: <sup>4</sup> and said, <sup>5</sup> Ye shall no more have need to bear it upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your fathers' houses and kindreds, <sup>5g</sup> according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the holy place <sup>h</sup> according to the several divisions of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel, <sup>6</sup> offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover <sup>i</sup> according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses. <sup>7</sup> And unto the people which were present Josias gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, <sup>and</sup> three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's substance, according as he promised, to the people, and to the priests and Levites. <sup>8</sup> And Helkias, and Zacharias, and <sup>2</sup> Eshelus, the rulers of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand <sup>and</sup> six hundred sheep, <sup>and</sup> three hundred calves. <sup>9</sup> And Jeconias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochielus, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep, <sup>and</sup> <sup>7</sup> seven hundred calves. <sup>10</sup> And when these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in comely order according to the kindreds, <sup>11</sup> and <sup>h</sup> according to the several divisions by fathers' houses, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the morning. <sup>12</sup> <sup>k</sup> And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertaineth: and the sacrifices they sod in the brassen vessels and caldrons with a good savour, <sup>13</sup> and set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. <sup>14</sup> For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. <sup>15</sup> The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, <sup>1</sup> and Eddinus, who <sup>8</sup> was of the king's retinue. <sup>16</sup> Moreover <sup>m</sup> the porters were at every gate; none had need to depart from his <sup>c</sup> daily course: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. <sup>17</sup> Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, in holding the passover, <sup>18</sup> and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, <sup>n</sup> according to the commandment of king Josias. <sup>19</sup> So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>o</sup> such a passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. <sup>21</sup> Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup> <sup>p</sup> In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover held. <sup>23</sup> <sup>q</sup> And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. <sup>24</sup> <sup>r</sup> Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieved him <sup>4</sup> exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him away out of the host. <sup>32</sup>Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers. <sup>33</sup>And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias; and Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. <sup>33</sup>These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judæa, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

<sup>34</sup><sup>10</sup> And the people took <sup>1</sup>Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old. <sup>35</sup>And he reigned in <sup>2</sup>Judah and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem. <sup>36</sup>And he set a tax upon the people of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. <sup>37</sup>The king of Egypt also made king Joakim his brother king of Judæa and Jerusalem. <sup>38</sup>And Joakim bound the nobles: but Zarakes his brother he apprehended, and brought him up out of Egypt.

<sup>39</sup><sup>2</sup> Five and twenty years old was Joakim when he began to reign in Judæa and Jerusalem; and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. <sup>40</sup>And against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him unto Babylon. <sup>41</sup>Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them up in his own temple at Babylon. <sup>42</sup>But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings.

<sup>43</sup>And Joakim his son reigned in his stead: <sup>43</sup>for when he was made king he was <sup>43</sup>eighteen years old; <sup>44</sup>and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did that which was evil before the Lord.

<sup>45</sup>So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought unto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord; <sup>46</sup>and made Sedekias king of Judæa and Jerusalem, <sup>46</sup>when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: <sup>47</sup>and he also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and <sup>47</sup>cared not for the words that were spoken by Jeremy the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. <sup>48</sup>And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>49</sup>Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, <sup>49</sup>and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem. <sup>50</sup>And the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place. <sup>51</sup>But they mocked his messengers; and in the day when the Lord spake unto them, they scoffed at his prophets: <sup>52</sup>so far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against them; <sup>53</sup>who slew their young men with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but he delivered all into their hands. <sup>54</sup><sup>2</sup> And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with <sup>54</sup>the vessels of the ark of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them away unto Babylon. <sup>55</sup><sup>2</sup> And they burnt the house of the Lord, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the towers thereof with fire: <sup>56</sup>and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried unto Babylon: <sup>57</sup>and they were servants unto him and to his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil <sup>57</sup>the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy: <sup>58</sup>Until <sup>58</sup>the land hath enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, <sup>7</sup>with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup>Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem. <sup>9</sup>And they that dwelt round about them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto. <sup>10</sup>King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which <sup>1</sup>Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols.

<sup>16</sup>But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Belemus, and Mithradates, and Tabelius, and <sup>2p</sup>Rathumus, and Beelthumus, and <sup>2p</sup>Samellius the scribe, with the others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judæa and Jerusalem the letter following: <sup>17</sup>To king Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants, Rathumus the <sup>4</sup>storywriter, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in <sup>q</sup>Coelesyria and Phœnicia. <sup>18</sup>Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come unto Jerusalem, do build that rebellious and wicked city, and do repair the marketplaces and the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of a temple. <sup>19</sup>Now if this city be builded and the walls thereof be finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. <sup>20</sup>And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter, <sup>21</sup>but to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, search may be made in the books of thy fathers: <sup>22</sup>and thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities: <sup>23</sup>and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; for the which cause even this city was laid waste. <sup>24</sup>Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, O lord the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into <sup>q</sup>Coelesyria and Phœnicia. <sup>25</sup>Then the king wrote back again to <sup>2</sup>Rathumus the storywriter, and Beelthumus, and <sup>2</sup>Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria and Syria and Phœnicia, after this manner: <sup>26</sup>I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it hath been found that that city of old time hath made insurrection against kings; <sup>27</sup>and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in <sup>q</sup>Coelesyria and Phœnicia. <sup>28</sup>Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to this order: <sup>29</sup>and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings. <sup>30</sup>Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste unto Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the <sup>r</sup>second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

<sup>4</sup>Then the three young men of the body-guard, that kept the king's person, spake one to another: <sup>5</sup>Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honours in token of victory: <sup>6</sup>as, <sup>v</sup>to be clothed in purple, <sup>w</sup>to drink in gold, and <sup>2</sup>to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a head-tire of fine linen, and <sup>3</sup>a chain about his neck: <sup>7</sup>and he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius <sup>8</sup>his cousin. <sup>8</sup>And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darius his pillow, <sup>9</sup>and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. <sup>10</sup>The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. <sup>11</sup>The second wrote, The king is strongest. <sup>12</sup>The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth beareth away the victory.

<sup>13</sup>Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it unto him, and so he read it: <sup>14</sup>and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, <sup>15</sup>and the satraps, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; <sup>15</sup>and sat him down in the royal seat of judgement; and the writing was read before them. <sup>16</sup>And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. <sup>17</sup>And they said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the things ye have written.

Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, <sup>18</sup>and said thus, O sirs, how exceeding strong is wine! <sup>19</sup>it causeth all men to err that drink it: <sup>19</sup>it maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: <sup>20</sup>it turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt: <sup>21</sup>and it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor satrap; and it maketh to speak all things by talents: <sup>22</sup>and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw their swords: <sup>23</sup>but when they awake from their wine, <sup>24</sup>they remember not what they have done. <sup>24</sup>O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. <sup>5</sup>They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else. <sup>6</sup> Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king. <sup>7</sup>And he is <sup>1</sup>but one man: <sup>2</sup>if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; <sup>3</sup>if he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; <sup>9</sup>if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant. <sup>10</sup>So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest: <sup>11</sup>and these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in anything. <sup>12</sup>O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

<sup>13</sup>Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was <sup>2</sup>Zorobabel) began to speak. <sup>14</sup>O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women? <sup>15</sup>Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. <sup>16</sup>Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine cometh. <sup>17</sup>These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be. <sup>18</sup>Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and every other goodly thing, <sup>2</sup>and see a woman which is comely in favour and beauty, <sup>19</sup>they let all those things go, and <sup>2</sup>gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and <sup>2</sup>have all more desire unto her than unto gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatsoever. <sup>20</sup>A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife. <sup>21</sup>And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. <sup>22</sup>By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to women? <sup>23</sup>Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth forth to make outroads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea and upon rivers; <sup>24</sup>and looketh upon a lion, and <sup>2</sup>walketh in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love. <sup>25</sup> Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother. <sup>26</sup> Yea, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and <sup>27</sup> become bondmen for their sakes. <sup>27</sup> Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. <sup>28</sup> And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him? <sup>29</sup> Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Bartacus, sitting <sup>30</sup> at the right hand of the king, <sup>31</sup> and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yea, she struck the king with her left hand: <sup>32</sup> and therewithal the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again. <sup>33</sup> O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

<sup>33</sup> Then the king and the nobles looked one upon another: so he began to speak concerning truth. <sup>34</sup> O sirs, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, <sup>35</sup> swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day. <sup>35</sup> Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is <sup>36</sup> truth, and stronger than all things. <sup>36</sup> All the earth calleth upon truth, and the heaven blesseth her: all works shake and tremble, but with <sup>37</sup> her is no unrighteous thing. <sup>37</sup> Wine is unrighteous, the king is unrighteous, women are unrighteous, <sup>38</sup> all the children of men are unrighteous, and unrighteous are all such their works; and <sup>39</sup> there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish. <sup>38</sup> But truth abideth, and is strong for ever; she liveth and conquereth for evermore. <sup>39</sup> With her there is <sup>40</sup> no accepting of persons or rewards; but she doeth the things that are just, and <sup>41</sup> refraineth from all unrighteous and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works. <sup>40</sup> Neither in her judgement is any unrighteousness; and she is <sup>42</sup> the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the <sup>43</sup> God of truth. <sup>42</sup> And with that he held his tongue. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and strong above all things.

thou didst vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom, <sup>44</sup> and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, <sup>45</sup> which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them again thither. <sup>45</sup> Thou didst also vow to build up the temple, which <sup>46</sup> the Edomites burned when Judæa was made desolate by the Chaldeans. <sup>46</sup> And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality <sup>47</sup> that shall proceed from thee: I pray therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof thou hast vowed to <sup>48</sup> the King of heaven with thine own mouth.

<sup>47</sup> Then Darius the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and governors and captains and satraps, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all those that should go up with him to build Jerusalem. <sup>48</sup> He wrote letters also unto all the governors that were in <sup>49</sup> Colesyria and Phœnicia, and unto them in <sup>50</sup> Libanus, that they should bring <sup>51</sup> cedar wood from <sup>52</sup> Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him. <sup>49</sup> Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that should go out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no governor, no satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors; <sup>50</sup> and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that <sup>51</sup> the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held: <sup>52</sup> and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; <sup>53</sup> and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar <sup>54</sup> every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen: <sup>53</sup> and that all they that should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that came. <sup>54</sup> He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; <sup>55</sup> and for the Levites he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up. <sup>56</sup> And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages. <sup>57</sup> He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, <sup>58</sup> that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

heaven toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, and said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant. <sup>60</sup>Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom: and to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers. <sup>61</sup>And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren. <sup>62</sup>And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty to go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts of burden. 44 And certain of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability, 45 and to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred priestly vestments. 46 And the priests and the Levites and they that were of the people dwelt in Jerusalem and the country; the holy singers also and the porters and all Israel in their villages.

47 But when <sup>1</sup>the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into <sup>2</sup>the broad place before the first porch which is toward the east. 48 Then stood up <sup>3</sup>Jesus the son of Josedek, and his brethren the priests, and <sup>4</sup>Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 to offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God. 50 And <sup>5</sup>certain were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them; <sup>6</sup> and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. 51 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, <sup>7</sup> as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: 52 and after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts. 53 And all they that had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of <sup>8</sup>the <sup>9</sup>seventh month, although the temple of God was not yet built. 54 And they gave money unto the masons and carpenters; and meat and drink, 55 and cars unto them of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring <sup>10</sup>cedar trees from <sup>11</sup>Libanus, <sup>12</sup> and convey them in floats to the haven of <sup>13</sup>Joppa, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the Persians. 56 And in the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and their brethren, and the priests the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity: 57 and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem.

58<sup>a</sup> And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up <sup>a</sup>Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and brethren, all the Levites, with one accord setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders builded the temple of the Lord.

59 And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments <sup>a</sup>with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with their cymbals, <sup>60</sup>singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the order of David king of Israel. <sup>61</sup>And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are for ever in all Israel. <sup>62</sup>And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord.

63<sup>b</sup> Also of the priests the Levites, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with lamentation and great weeping. <sup>64</sup>But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, <sup>65</sup>insomuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the weeping of the people: for the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.

66<sup>c</sup> Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean. <sup>67</sup>And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>68</sup>So they went to Zorobabel and <sup>a</sup>Jesus, and to the chief men of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you. <sup>69</sup>For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of <sup>1d</sup>Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.

70 Then Zorobabel and Jesus and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not <sup>2</sup>for you to build the house unto the Lord our God. <sup>71</sup>We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us. <sup>72</sup>But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judæa, and <sup>8</sup>holding them strait, hindered their building; <sup>73</sup>and <sup>4</sup>by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius.

7 The copy of the letter which Sisinnes, governor of <sup>h</sup>Syria and Phœnicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in <sup>h</sup>Syria and Phœnicia, wrote and sent unto Darius; <sup>8</sup>To king Darius, <sup>9</sup>greeting: Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judæa, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the elders of the Jews that were of the captivity <sup>9</sup>building a house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, with timber laid in the walls. <sup>10</sup>And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it accomplished. <sup>11</sup>Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works? <sup>12</sup>Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men. <sup>13</sup>So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth. <sup>14</sup>And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished. <sup>15</sup>But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, and <sup>8</sup>provoked him unto wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, king of the Chaldeans; <sup>16</sup> and they pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon. <sup>17</sup> But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house. <sup>18</sup> And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set up in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple in Babylonia, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to <sup>19</sup> Sanabassar the governor, with commandment that he should carry away <sup>20</sup> all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in its place. <sup>21</sup> Then <sup>22</sup> Sanabassar, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended. <sup>23</sup> Now therefore, if it seem good, O king, let search be made among the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon: <sup>24</sup> and if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and it seem good unto our lord the king, let him signify unto us thereof.

look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of Judaea, till the house of the Lord be finished: <sup>35</sup> and that out of the tribute of <sup>36</sup> Coelesyria and Phoenicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, <sup>37</sup> that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs; <sup>38</sup> and also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent: <sup>39</sup> that drink offerings may be made to the <sup>40</sup> Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives. <sup>41</sup> And that commandment be given that whosoever shall transgress, yea, or neglect anything <sup>42</sup> herein written, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king. <sup>43</sup> The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall stretch out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. <sup>44</sup> I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

<sup>60</sup> And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were sanctified together, <sup>11</sup>and all they that were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, <sup>12</sup>and they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. <sup>13</sup>And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. <sup>14</sup>And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord, <sup>15</sup>for that he had turned the counsel of <sup>a</sup>the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, <sup>b</sup>the God of Israel.

8 <sup>a</sup>And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came <sup>b</sup>Esdras the son of Azarias, the son of Zechrias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salem, <sup>c</sup>the son of Sadduk, the son of Ahitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ozias, <sup>d</sup>the son of Memeroth, the son of Zariaias, the son of Savias, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisue, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest. <sup>e</sup>This Esdras went up from Babylon, as being a ready scribe in the law of Moses, that was given by <sup>f</sup>the God of Israel. <sup>4</sup>And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests. <sup>5</sup>There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and Levites, and holy singers, and porters, and <sup>6</sup>temple-servants, unto Jerusalem, <sup>6</sup>in the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year; for they went from Babylon on the new moon of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the <sup>g</sup>prosperous journey which the Lord gave them <sup>4</sup>for his sake. <sup>7</sup>For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgements.

depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and <sup>g</sup>my seven friends the counsellors; <sup>12</sup>that they may look unto the affairs of Judæa and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord, <sup>13</sup>and carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed; and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia for the Lord in Jerusalem, <sup>14</sup>with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining; <sup>15</sup>to the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>And whatsoever thou and thy brethren are minded to do with gold and silver, that perform, according to the will of thy God. <sup>17</sup>And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem: <sup>18</sup>and whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury. <sup>19</sup>And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in <sup>h</sup>Syria and Phœnicia, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and <sup>e</sup>reader of the law of the <sup>i</sup>Most High God shall send for, they should give it him with all diligence, <sup>20</sup>to the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred <sup>6</sup>measures, and a hundred <sup>j</sup>firkins of wine, and <sup>7</sup>salt in abundance. <sup>21</sup>Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the <sup>i</sup>Most High God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons. <sup>22</sup>I command you also, that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid on any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or <sup>k</sup>temple-servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose anything upon them. <sup>23</sup>And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all <sup>h</sup>Syria and Phœnicia all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach. <sup>24</sup>And whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by <sup>6</sup>imprisonment.

in Jerusalem: <sup>26</sup>and hath honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles. <sup>27</sup>Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of Israel men to go up with me. <sup>28</sup><sup>1</sup>And these are the chief according to their families and the several divisions thereof, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes: <sup>29</sup>of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of David, <sup>1</sup>Attus <sup>2</sup>the son of Sechenias: <sup>30</sup>of the sons of Phoros, Zacharias; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men: <sup>31</sup>of the sons of Phaath Mosab, Eliaonias the son of <sup>8</sup>Zaraias, and with him two hundred men: <sup>32</sup><sup>4</sup>of the sons of Zathoes, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him <sup>5</sup>three hundred men: of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men: <sup>33</sup>of the sons of Elam, Jesias son of <sup>6</sup>Gotholias, and with him seventy men: <sup>34</sup>of the sons of Saphatias, <sup>7</sup>Zaraias son of Michael, and with him threescore and ten men: <sup>35</sup>of the sons of Joab, <sup>8</sup>Abadias son of <sup>9</sup>Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelve men: <sup>36</sup><sup>10</sup>of the sons of Banias, Salimoth son of Josaphias, and with him a hundred and threescore men: <sup>37</sup>of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men: <sup>38</sup>of the sons of <sup>11</sup>Astath, Joannes son of <sup>12</sup>Akatan, and with him a hundred and ten men: <sup>39</sup>of the sons of Adonikam, the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalat, Jeuel, and <sup>13</sup>Samaias, and with them seventy men: <sup>40</sup>of the sons of <sup>14</sup>Bago, Uthi the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.

<sup>41</sup>And I gathered them together to the river called <sup>15</sup>Theras; and there we pitched our tents three days, and I surveyed them. <sup>42</sup>But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites, <sup>43</sup>then sent I unto Eleazar, and <sup>16</sup>Iduel, and <sup>16</sup>Maasmas, <sup>44</sup>and Elnathan, and Samaias, and <sup>17</sup>Joribus, Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharias, and Mosollamus, principal men and men of understanding. <sup>45</sup>And I bade them that they should go unto <sup>18</sup>Loddeus the captain, who was in the place of <sup>19</sup>the treasury: <sup>46</sup>and commanded them that they should speak unto Loddeus, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in the house of our Lord. <sup>47</sup>And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us <sup>20</sup>men of understanding of the sons of <sup>21</sup>Mooli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, <sup>22</sup>Asebebias, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen, <sup>48</sup>and <sup>23</sup>Asebias, and Annus, and Osaia his brother, of the sons of Chananeus, and their sons were twenty men; <sup>49</sup>and of <sup>24</sup>the temple-servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple-servants, the catalogue of all their names was shewed. <sup>50</sup>And there I vowed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a <sup>25</sup>prosperous journey both for us and for our children and cattle that were with us: <sup>51</sup>for I was ashamed to ask of the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries. <sup>52</sup>For we had said unto the king, that the power of our Lord would be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways. <sup>53</sup>And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us. <sup>54</sup>Then I separated twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, <sup>24</sup>Eserebias, and Assamias, and ten men of their brethren with them: <sup>55</sup>and I <sup>26</sup>weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsellors, and the nobles, and all Israel, had given. <sup>56</sup>And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, <sup>57</sup>and twenty golden vessels, and <sup>27</sup>twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. <sup>58</sup>And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, <sup>28</sup>and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. <sup>59</sup>Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord. <sup>60</sup>So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them unto the temple of the Lord.

<sup>61</sup>And from the river <sup>29</sup>Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem. <sup>62</sup>And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was <sup>28</sup>weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto <sup>30</sup>Marmoth the priest the son of <sup>27</sup>Urias. <sup>63</sup>And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabodus the son of Jesus and <sup>1</sup>Moeth the son of Sabannus, the Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight. <sup>64</sup>And all the weight of them was written up the same hour. <sup>65</sup>Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices unto the Lord, <sup>66</sup>the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, four-score and sixteen rams, <sup>66</sup>threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. <sup>67</sup>And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of <sup>68</sup>Coele-syria and Phœnicia; and they honoured the people and the temple of the Lord.

<sup>68</sup>Now when these things were done, the principal men came unto me, and said, <sup>69</sup>The nation of Israel, and the princes, and the priests and the Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, <sup>70</sup>nor the uncleannesses of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and <sup>71</sup>Edomites. <sup>70</sup>For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity. <sup>72</sup>And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and full of heaviness.

<sup>73</sup>So all they that were moved at the word of the Lord, <sup>74</sup>the God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice. <sup>73</sup>Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord, <sup>74</sup>I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before thy face; <sup>75</sup>for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have reached up unto heaven, <sup>76</sup>ever since the time of our fathers; and we are in great sin, even unto this day. <sup>77</sup>And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and <sup>78</sup>for a prey with shame, unto this day. <sup>78</sup>And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us <sup>79</sup>a sanctuary; <sup>79</sup>and to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us <sup>80</sup>food in the time of our servitude. <sup>80</sup>Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us <sup>81</sup>food, <sup>82</sup>and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, to give us a sure abiding in Jewry and Jerusalem. <sup>82</sup>And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, <sup>83</sup>That the land, which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. <sup>84</sup>Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons. <sup>85</sup>Neither shall ye seek to have peace with them for ever, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave it for an inheritance unto your children for evermore. <sup>86</sup>And all that is befallen is done unto us for our wicked works and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, <sup>87</sup>and didst give unto us such <sup>88</sup>a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. <sup>88</sup>Thou wast not angry with us to destroy us, till thou <sup>89</sup>hadst left us neither <sup>90</sup>root, seed, nor name. <sup>89</sup>O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left <sup>91</sup>a root this day. <sup>90</sup>Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer before thee by reason of these things.

<sup>92</sup>And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great throng of men and women and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude. <sup>92</sup>Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the heathen of the land, and now is all Israel <sup>93</sup>aloft. <sup>93</sup>Let us make an oath unto the Lord herein, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the strangers, with their children, <sup>94</sup>like as seemeth good unto thee, and to as many as do obey the law of the Lord. <sup>95</sup>Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee to do valiantly. <sup>96</sup>So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do after these things; and so they sware.

<sup>97</sup>Then Esdras rising from the court of the temple went to the chamber of Jonas the son of Eliasib, <sup>98</sup>and lodged there, and did eat no bread

nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude. <sup>3</sup> And there was made proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem: <sup>4</sup> and that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from the multitude of them that were of the captivity.

<sup>5</sup> And in three days were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. <sup>6</sup> And all the multitude sat together trembling <sup>6</sup> in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. <sup>7</sup> So Esdras arose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the law and married strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel. <sup>8</sup> And now make confession and give glory unto the Lord, the God of our fathers, <sup>9</sup> and do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women. <sup>10</sup> Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do. <sup>11</sup> But forasmuch as the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of one day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far: <sup>12</sup> therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed, <sup>13</sup> and with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter. <sup>14</sup> Then Jonathan the son of Azael and <sup>1</sup> Ezekias the son of Thocanus accordingly took the matter upon them: and Mosollamus and Levis and Sabbateus were assessors to them. <sup>15</sup> And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

<sup>16</sup> And Esdras the priest chose unto him principal men of their families, all by name: and on the new moon of the tenth month they were shut in together to examine the matter. <sup>17</sup> So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end <sup>18</sup> by the new moon of the first month. <sup>19</sup> And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found; <sup>20</sup> of the sons of <sup>1</sup> Jesus the son of Josedek, and his brethren; <sup>2</sup> Mathelas, and Eleazar, and <sup>3</sup> Joribus, and <sup>4</sup> Jodanus. <sup>20</sup> And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer rams to make recon-

the temple from morning unto midday, before both men and women; and <sup>1</sup>all the multitude gave heed unto the law. <sup>42</sup>And Esdras the priest and <sup>m</sup>reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose. <sup>43</sup>And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, <sup>2</sup>Ezekias, <sup>3</sup>Baalsamus, upon the right hand: <sup>44</sup>and upon his left hand, <sup>4</sup>Phaldeus, Misael, Melchias, <sup>5</sup>Lothasubus, Nabarias, Zacharias. <sup>45</sup>Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honourably in the first place before all. <sup>46</sup>And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God <sup>p</sup>Most High, <sup>q</sup>the God of hosts, Almighty. <sup>47</sup>And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord. <sup>48</sup>Also Jesus, Annus, Sarabias, Iadinus, Jacobus, Sabateus, <sup>6</sup>Auteas, Maiannas, and Calitas, Azarias, and Jozabodus, and

II. ESDRAS.

I <sup>1</sup>THE second book of the prophet <sup>a</sup>Esdras, the son of Saraia, the son of Azaria, the son of Helkias, the son of Salemas, the son of Sadoc, the son of Ahitob, <sup>2</sup>the son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Aziei, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abissei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, <sup>3</sup>the son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

with his servants and all his host have I smitten down. <sup>11</sup><sup>j</sup>All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of <sup>k</sup>Tyre and <sup>l</sup>Sidon, and have slain all their adversaries. <sup>12</sup>Speak thou therefore unto them, saying,

Thus saith the Lord, <sup>13</sup>Of a truth I brought you through the sea, and <sup>m</sup>where there was no path I made for you highways; I gave you <sup>n</sup>Moses for a leader, and <sup>o</sup>Aaron for a priest. <sup>14</sup>I <sup>p</sup>gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; <sup>q</sup>yet have ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

were thirsty, did I not <sup>v</sup>cleave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you <sup>z</sup>with the leaves of the trees. <sup>21</sup>I divided among you fruitful lands; I cast out the <sup>a</sup>Canaanites, the Perezites, <sup>b</sup>and the Philistines, before you: <sup>c</sup>what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

<sup>28</sup>Thus saith the Lord Almighty, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and <sup>a</sup>a nurse her young babes, <sup>29</sup>that <sup>b</sup>ye would be my people, and I should be your God; that ye would be my children, and I should be your father? <sup>30</sup><sup>m</sup>I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will cast you out from my presence. <sup>31</sup><sup>n</sup>When ye offer oblations unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast days, your new moons, and your circumcisions of the flesh, have I rejected. <sup>32</sup><sup>o</sup>I sent unto you my servants the prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, <sup>p</sup>whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord. <sup>18</sup>For thy help will I send my servants Esaias and <sup>19</sup>Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee <sup>20</sup>twelve trees laden with divers fruits, <sup>21</sup>and as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy. <sup>22</sup>Do right to the widow, judge the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, <sup>23</sup>clothe the naked, <sup>24</sup>heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come unto the sight of my glory. <sup>25</sup>Keep the old and young within thy walls. <sup>26</sup>Wheresoever thou findest the dead, set a sign upon them and commit them to the grave, and <sup>27</sup>I will give thee the first place in my resurrection. <sup>28</sup>Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come. <sup>29</sup>Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse, and <sup>30</sup>establish their feet. <sup>31</sup>As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number. <sup>32</sup>Be not careful overmuch: for when the day of tribulation and anguish cometh, <sup>33</sup>others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry and have abundance. <sup>34</sup>The nations shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord. <sup>35</sup>My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children see not <sup>36</sup>hell. <sup>37</sup>Be joyful, O thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord. <sup>38</sup>Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the secret places of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty. <sup>39</sup>Embrace thy children until I come, and proclaim mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

behold <sup>49</sup>the number of <sup>50</sup>those that be sealed <sup>51</sup>in the feast of the Lord; <sup>52</sup>they that withdrew them from <sup>53</sup>the shadow of the world have received <sup>54</sup>glorious garments of the Lord. <sup>55</sup>Look upon thy number, O Sion, and make up the reckoning of those of thine that are <sup>56</sup>clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Lord. <sup>57</sup>The number of thy children, whom thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

and there were born of him nations and tribes, peoples and kindreds, out of number. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>r</sup> every nation walked after their own will, and did ungodly things before thee, and despised thy commandments, and <sup>r</sup> thou didst not forbid them. <sup>9</sup> Nevertheless again in process of time thou broughtest the flood upon those that dwell in the world, and destroyedst them. <sup>10</sup> And it came to pass that the same hap befell them; like as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these. <sup>11</sup> Nevertheless one of them thou leftest, <sup>r</sup> Noah with his household, even all the righteous men that came of him. <sup>12</sup> And it came to pass, that when they that dwell upon the earth began to multiply, they multiplied also children, and peoples, and many nations, and began again to be more ungodly than the first. <sup>13</sup> And it came to pass, when they did wickedly before thee, <sup>r</sup> thou didst choose thee one from among them, <sup>r</sup> whose name was Abraham; <sup>14</sup> and him thou lovedst, and <sup>r</sup> unto him only thou shewedst the end of the times secretly by night: <sup>15</sup> and madest an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest never forsake his seed. <sup>16</sup> And <sup>r</sup> unto him thou gavest Isaac, and <sup>r</sup> unto Isaac thou gavest Jacob and Esau. <sup>17</sup> And thou didst set apart Jacob for thyself, but didst put by Esau: and Jacob became a great multitude. <sup>18</sup> And it came to pass, that when thou leddest his seed out of Egypt, <sup>r</sup> thou broughtest them up to the mount Sinai. <sup>19</sup> <sup>r</sup> Thou bowedst the heavens also, and <sup>r</sup> didst <sup>1</sup> shake the earth, and movdest the whole world, and madest the depths to tremble, and troubledst the course of that age. <sup>20</sup> And thy glory went through four gates, of fire, and of earthquake, and of wind, and of cold; that thou mightest give the law unto the seed of Jacob, and the commandment unto the generation of Israel. <sup>21</sup> And yet tookest thou not away from them their <sup>2</sup> wicked heart, that thy law might bring forth fruit in them. <sup>22</sup> <sup>r</sup> For the first Adam bearing a <sup>2</sup> wicked heart transgressed, and was overcome; and not he only, but all they also that are born of him. <sup>23</sup> Thus disease was made permanent; <sup>r</sup> and the law was in the heart of the people along with the <sup>3</sup> wickedness of the root; so the good departed away, and that which was <sup>2</sup> wicked abode still. <sup>24</sup> So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: <sup>r</sup> then didst thou raise thee up a servant, called David, <sup>25</sup> <sup>r</sup> whom thou commandedst to build a city <sup>1</sup> unto thy name, and to offer oblations unto thee therein <sup>m</sup> of thine own. <sup>26</sup> When this was done many years, then they that inhabited the city did evil, <sup>27</sup> in all things doing even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also bare a <sup>2</sup> wicked heart; <sup>28</sup> and so thou gavest thy city over into the hands of thine enemies. <sup>29</sup> And I said then in mine heart, <sup>r</sup> Are their deeds any better that inhabit Babylon? and hath she therefore dominion over Sion? <sup>30</sup> For it came to pass when I came hither, that I saw also impieties without number, and my soul saw many evil-doers in this <sup>4</sup> thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me. <sup>31</sup> <sup>r</sup> For I have seen how thou sufferest them sinning, and hast spared the ungodly doers, and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thine enemies; and <sup>r</sup> thou hast not signified <sup>32</sup> unto any <sup>4</sup> how thy way may be comprehended. <sup>33</sup> Are the deeds of Babylon better than those of Sion? <sup>34</sup> Or is there any other nation that knoweth thee beside Israel? or what tribes have so believed thy covenants as these tribes of Jacob? <sup>35</sup> And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone hither and thither through the nations, and I see that they abound in wealth, and think not upon thy commandments. <sup>36</sup> Weigh thou therefore our iniquities now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world; and so shall it be found which way the scale inclineth. <sup>37</sup> Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in thy sight? or what nation hath so kept thy commandments? <sup>38</sup> <sup>r</sup> Thou shalt find that men who may be reckoned by name have kept thy precepts; but nations thou shalt not find.

4 And the angel that was sent unto me, whose name was <sup>r</sup> Uriel, gave me an answer, <sup>2</sup> and said to me, <sup>r</sup> Thy heart hath utterly failed thee in regarding this world, <sup>r</sup> and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the Most High? <sup>3</sup> Then said I, Yea, my Lord.

And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three ways, and to set forth <sup>m</sup> three similitudes before thee: <sup>4</sup> whereof if thou canst declare me one, I also will shew thee the way that thou desirest to see, and I will teach thee wherefore the heart is <sup>2</sup> wicked.

<sup>5</sup> And I said, Say on, my Lord.

Then said he unto me, Go to, weigh me a weight of fire, or <sup>r</sup> measure me a <sup>5</sup> measure of wind, or call me again the day that is past.

are above the firmament? or which are the outgoings <sup>1</sup>of hell? or which are the paths of <sup>2</sup>a paradise? <sup>3</sup>peradventure thou wouldest say unto me, <sup>4</sup>I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven. <sup>5</sup>Nevertheless now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and of the day, things where-through thou hast passed, and <sup>6</sup>without which thou canst not be, and yet hast thou given me no answer of them.

<sup>7</sup>He said moreover unto me, Thine own things, that are grown up with thee, canst thou not know; <sup>8</sup>how then can <sup>9</sup>thy vessel comprehend the way of the Most High? and how can he that is already worn out with the corrupted world understand <sup>10</sup>incorruption?

<sup>11</sup>And when I heard these things <sup>12</sup>I fell upon my face, and said unto him, <sup>13</sup>It were better that we were not here at all, than that we should come hither and live in the midst of ungodliness, and suffer, and not know wherefore.

<sup>14</sup>He answered me, and said, <sup>15</sup>The woods of the trees of the field went forth, and took counsel together, <sup>16</sup>and said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods. <sup>17</sup>The waves of the sea also in like manner took counsel together, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the wood of the plain, that there also we may make us another country. <sup>18</sup>The counsel of the wood was in vain, for <sup>19</sup>the fire came and consumed it: <sup>20</sup>likewise also the counsel of the waves of the sea, for <sup>21</sup>the sand stood up and stopped them. <sup>22</sup>If thou wert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou justify, or whom condemn?

<sup>23</sup>I answered and said, It is a foolish counsel that they both have taken, for the ground is given unto the wood, and <sup>24</sup>the place of the sea is given to bear his waves.

<sup>25</sup>Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgement, and why judgest thou not in thine own case? <sup>26</sup>For like as the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his waves, <sup>27</sup>even so they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he <sup>28</sup>only that dwelleth above the heavens may understand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

<sup>29</sup>Then answered I and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, <sup>30</sup>wherefore is the power of understanding given unto me? <sup>31</sup>For it was not my mind to be curious of the ways above, but of such things as pass by us daily; <sup>32</sup>because Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and the people whom thou hast loved <sup>33</sup>is given over unto ungodly nations, and the law of our forefathers is made of none effect, and the written covenants are nowhere regarded, <sup>34</sup>and we pass away out of the world <sup>35</sup>as grasshoppers, and <sup>36</sup>our life is as a <sup>37</sup>vapour, neither are we worthy to obtain mercy. <sup>38</sup>What will he then do for his name <sup>39</sup>whereby we are called? Of these things have I asked.

peradventure it is that the <sup>1</sup>threshing time of the righteous is kept back, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

<sup>40</sup> So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

<sup>41</sup> Then said I, No, Lord, that can it not.

And he said unto me, In the grave <sup>2</sup>the chambers of souls are like the womb: <sup>42</sup> for like as a woman that travaileth maketh haste to escape the anguish of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them from the beginning. <sup>43</sup> Then shall it be shewed thee concerning those things which thou desirest to see.

<sup>47</sup> And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

<sup>48</sup> So I stood, and saw, and, behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. <sup>49</sup> After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

<sup>50</sup> Then said he unto me, Consider with thyself; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke, <sup>3</sup> so the quantity which is past did more exceed; but the drops and the smoke remained still.

<sup>51</sup> Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou, until that time? or who shall be in those days?

grant thee to live, thou shalt see <sup>2</sup> that which is after the third kingdom to be troubled; and the sun shall suddenly shine forth in the night, and the moon in the day: <sup>5</sup> and blood shall drop out of wood, and <sup>4</sup> the stone shall give his voice, and the peoples shall be troubled; and <sup>3</sup> their goings shall be changed: <sup>6</sup> and he shall rule, whom they that dwell upon the earth look not for, and the fowls shall take their flight away together: <sup>7</sup> and the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but all shall hear the voice thereof. <sup>8</sup> There shall be chaos also in many places, and the fire shall be oft sent out, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and women shall bring forth monsters: <sup>9</sup> and <sup>7</sup> salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and <sup>8</sup> all friends shall destroy one another; <sup>10</sup> then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into its chamber; <sup>11</sup> and it shall be sought of many, and shall not be found: and <sup>12</sup> unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth. <sup>11</sup> One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness, is a man that doeth righteousness, gone through thee? And it shall say, No. <sup>12</sup> And it shall come to pass at that time that men shall hope, but shall not obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not prosper. <sup>13</sup> To shew thee such tokens I have leave; and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and <sup>14</sup> fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things than these.

<sup>14</sup> Then I awaked, and an extreme trembling went through my body, and my mind was troubled, <sup>20</sup> so that it fainted. <sup>15</sup> So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, <sup>3</sup> comforted me, and set me up upon my feet. <sup>16</sup> And in the second night it came to pass, that <sup>4</sup> Phaltiel the captain of the people came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been? and <sup>2</sup> why is thy countenance sad? <sup>17</sup> or knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity? <sup>18</sup> Up then, and eat some bread, and forsake us not, <sup>21</sup> as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves. <sup>19</sup> Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me for <sup>10</sup> seven days, and then shalt thou come unto me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

<sup>z</sup>Now when I had spoken these words, <sup>a</sup>the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me, <sup>b</sup>and said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee; hearken unto me, and I shall tell thee more.

<sup>c</sup>And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: <sup>d</sup>lovest thou that people better than he that made them?

<sup>e</sup>And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins torment me every hour, while I labour <sup>f</sup>to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgement.

<sup>g</sup>And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, or whereunto was I born? or <sup>h</sup>why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel?

<sup>i</sup>And he said unto me, <sup>j</sup>Number me them that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, <sup>k</sup>open me <sup>l</sup>the chambers that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, or shew me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the travail that thou askest to see.

<sup>m</sup>And I said, <sup>n</sup>O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men? <sup>o</sup>As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me?

<sup>p</sup>Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgement, or <sup>q</sup>the end of the love that I have promised unto my people.

<sup>r</sup>And I said, But, lo, O Lord, thou hast made the promise unto them that be in the end: and what shall they do that have been before us, or we <sup>s</sup>that be now, or they that shall come after us?

<sup>t</sup>And he said unto me, I will liken my judgement unto a ring: <sup>u</sup>like as there is no slackness of them that be last, even so there is no swiftness of them that be first.

<sup>v</sup>So I answered and said, Couldst thou not make them to be at once that have been made, and that be now, and that are for to come; <sup>w</sup>that thou mightest shew thy judgement the sooner?

<sup>x</sup>Then answered he me, and said, <sup>y</sup>The creature may not haste above the creator; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

<sup>z</sup>And I said, How hast thou said unto thy servant, that <sup>a</sup>thou wilt surely make alive at once the creature that thou hast created? <sup>b</sup>If therefore they shall be alive at once, and the creature shall sustain them: even so it might now also support them to be present at once.

<sup>c</sup>And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth ten children, why <sup>d</sup>doest thou it at several times? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

<sup>e</sup>And I said, She cannot: but must do it by distance of time.

<sup>f</sup>Then said he unto me, Even so have I given <sup>g</sup>the womb of the earth to those that be sown therein in their several times. <sup>h</sup>For like as a young child may not bring forth, neither <sup>i</sup>she that is grown old <sup>j</sup>bring forth any more, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

<sup>k</sup>And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast now shewed me the way, I will speak before thee: Is our mother, <sup>l</sup>of whom thou hast told me, still young? or doth she now draw nigh unto age?

<sup>m</sup>He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee. <sup>n</sup>Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth like those that were before, but less of stature? <sup>o</sup>And she also shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb faileth, are otherwise. <sup>p</sup>Consider therefore thou also, how that <sup>q</sup>ye are less of stature than

<sup>6</sup> And he said unto me, <sup>i</sup> In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the outgoings of the world were fixed, or ever the gatherings of the winds blew, <sup>2</sup> before the voices of the thunder sounded and before the flashes of the lightning shone, or ever the foundations of <sup>j</sup> paradise were laid, <sup>3</sup> before <sup>k</sup> the fair flowers were seen, or ever the powers of the earthquake were established, before <sup>l</sup> the innumerable hosts of angels were gathered together, <sup>4</sup> or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of <sup>m</sup> the firmament were named, or ever <sup>n</sup> the footstool of Sion <sup>1</sup> was established, <sup>5</sup> and ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the imaginations of them that now sin were estranged, before <sup>o</sup> they were sealed that have gathered faith for <sup>p</sup> a treasure: <sup>6</sup> then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: as by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

<sup>7</sup> Then answered I and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

<sup>8</sup> And he said unto me, From <sup>2q</sup> Abraham unto <sup>8</sup> Abraham, inasmuch as Jacob and Esau were born of him, <sup>r</sup> for Jacob's hand held the heel of Esau from the beginning. <sup>9</sup> For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth. <sup>10</sup> <sup>4</sup> The beginning of a man is his hand, and the end of a man is his heel; between the heel and the hand seek thou nought else, Esdras.

heard it <sup>v</sup> I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and, behold, <sup>v</sup> there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was <sup>2</sup> like the sound of many waters. <sup>18</sup> And it said, Behold, the days come, and it shall be that when I draw nigh <sup>a</sup> to visit them that dwell upon the earth, <sup>19</sup> and when I shall make inquisition of them that have done hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and <sup>b</sup> when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled, <sup>20</sup> and when the seal shall be set upon <sup>c</sup> the world that is to pass away, then will I shew these tokens: <sup>d</sup> the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see together: <sup>21</sup> and the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children at three or four months, and they shall live, and dance. <sup>22</sup> And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: <sup>23</sup> and <sup>e</sup> the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid. <sup>24</sup> At that time <sup>f</sup> shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and <sup>g</sup> the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, so that for three hours they shall not run. <sup>25</sup> And it shall be that <sup>h</sup> who-soever remaineth after all these things that I have told thee of, he shall be saved, <sup>i</sup> and shall see my salvation, and the end of my world. <sup>26</sup> And they shall see the men <sup>j</sup> that have been taken up, who <sup>k</sup> have not tasted death from their birth: <sup>l</sup> and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning. <sup>27</sup> For evil shall be blotted out, and deceit shall be quenched; <sup>28</sup> <sup>m</sup> and faith shall flourish, and corruption shall be overcome, <sup>n</sup> and the truth, which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

<sup>u</sup> ch. 5. 20. <sup>u</sup> I wept again, <sup>o</sup> and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me. <sup>36</sup> And in the eighth night <sup>v</sup> was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High. <sup>37</sup> <sup>v</sup> For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress. <sup>38</sup> And I said, O Lord, of a truth thou spakest at the beginning of the creation, upon the first day, and saidst thus; <sup>w</sup> Let heaven and earth be made; <sup>x</sup> and thy word perfected the work. <sup>39</sup> And then was <sup>y</sup> the spirit hovering, and darkness and <sup>z</sup> silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet<sup>1</sup>. <sup>40</sup> <sup>a</sup> Then commandedst thou a ray of light to be brought forth of <sup>b</sup> thy treasures, that then thy works might appear. <sup>41</sup> <sup>c</sup> Upon the second day again thou madest the spirit of the firmament and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath. <sup>42</sup> <sup>d</sup> Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered together <sup>e</sup> in the seventh part of the earth: six parts didst thou dry up, and keep them, to the intent that of these some being both planted and tilled might serve before thee. <sup>43</sup> <sup>f</sup> For as soon as thy word went forth the work was done. <sup>44</sup> <sup>g</sup> For immediately <sup>h</sup> there came forth great and innumerable fruit, and manifold pleasures for the taste, and <sup>i</sup> flowers of inimitable colour, and odours of most exquisite smell: and this was done the third day. <sup>45</sup> <sup>j</sup> Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in their order: <sup>46</sup> and gavest them a charge to do service unto man, that was to be made. <sup>47</sup> <sup>k</sup> Upon the fifth day thou saidst unto <sup>l</sup> the seventh part, where the water was gathered together, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass, <sup>48</sup> that the dumb water and without life brought forth living things as it was bidden, that the peoples might therefore praise thy wondrous works. <sup>49</sup> Then didst thou preserve two living creatures, the one thou calledst <sup>m</sup> Behemoth, and the other thou calledst <sup>n</sup> Leviathan: <sup>50</sup> and thou didst separate the one from the other: for <sup>o</sup> the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both. <sup>51</sup> <sup>p</sup> Unto <sup>q</sup> Behemoth thou gavest one part, which was dried up on <sup>r</sup> the third day, that he should dwell in the same, <sup>52</sup> wherein are a thousand hills: <sup>53</sup> but unto <sup>s</sup> Leviathan thou gavest <sup>t</sup> the seventh part, namely, the moist; and thou hast kept them to be devoured of whom thou wilt, and when. <sup>53</sup> <sup>u</sup> But upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that it should bring forth before thee cattle, beasts, and creeping things: <sup>54</sup> and <sup>v</sup> over these Adam, whom thou ordainedst lord over all the works that thou hast made: of him come we all, the people whom thou hast chosen. <sup>55</sup> All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast said that <sup>w</sup> for our sakes thou madest <sup>x</sup> this world. <sup>56</sup> As for the other nations, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that <sup>y</sup> they are nothing, and are like unto spittle: and thou hast likened the abundance of them unto <sup>z</sup> a drop that falleth from a vessel. <sup>57</sup> And now, O Lord, behold, these nations, <sup>a</sup> which are reputed as nothing, <sup>b</sup> the lords over us, and devour us. <sup>58</sup> But we thy people, <sup>c</sup> whom thou hast called thy firstborn, thy only begotten, and thy fervent lover, are given into their hands. <sup>59</sup> If the world now be made <sup>d</sup> for our sakes, why do we not possess for an inheritance our world? <sup>e</sup> how long shall this endure?

7 <sup>f</sup> And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me <sup>g</sup> the angel which had been sent unto me the nights afore: <sup>h</sup> and he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee. <sup>3</sup> And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, There is a sea set in a wide place, that it might be <sup>i</sup> broad and vast. <sup>4</sup> But the entrance thereof shall be set in a narrow place so as to be like a river; <sup>5</sup> whose then should desire to go into the sea to look upon it, or to rule it, <sup>6</sup> if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad? <sup>6</sup> Another thing also: There is a city builded and set in a plain country, and full of all good things; <sup>7</sup> <sup>a</sup> but the entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, <sup>8</sup> having a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water: <sup>8</sup> and there is one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, <sup>9</sup> so small that there could but one man go there at once. <sup>9</sup> If this city now be given unto a man for an inheritance, if the heir pass not the danger set before him, how shall he receive his inheritance? <sup>10</sup> And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israel's portion. <sup>11</sup> <sup>b</sup> Because for their sakes I made the world: and <sup>c</sup> when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done. <sup>12</sup> Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, <sup>d</sup> and sorrowful and toilsome: they are but <sup>e</sup> few and evil, full of perils, and charged with great toils. <sup>13</sup> For the entrances of the greater world are wide and sure, and bring forth fruit of immortality. <sup>14</sup> If then they that live enter not these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them. <sup>15</sup> <sup>d</sup> Now therefore why disquietest thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal? <sup>16</sup> and why hast thou not considered in thy mind that which is to come, rather than that which is present? <sup>17</sup> Then answered I and said, <sup>e</sup> O Lord that bearest rule, lo, thou hast ordained <sup>f</sup> in thy law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish. <sup>18</sup> <sup>g</sup> The righteous therefore shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide; but they that have done wickedly <sup>h</sup> have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide. <sup>19</sup> And he said unto me, <sup>h</sup> Thou art not a judge above God, neither hast thou understanding above the Most High. <sup>20</sup> Yea, rather let many that now be perish, than that the law of God which is set before them be despised. <sup>21</sup> For God straitly commanded such as came, even as they came, <sup>i</sup> what they should do to live, and what they should observe to avoid punishment. <sup>22</sup> Nevertheless they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and <sup>j</sup> imagined for themselves vain things; <sup>23</sup> and framed cunning devices of wickedness; and <sup>k</sup> said moreover of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways: <sup>24</sup> but they despised his law, and denied his covenants; they have not been faithful to his statutes, and have not performed his works. <sup>25</sup> Therefore, Esdras, <sup>l</sup> for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things. <sup>26</sup> For behold, the time shall come, and it shall be, <sup>m</sup> when these tokens, of which I told thee before, shall come to pass, that <sup>n</sup> the bride shall appear, even the city coming forth, and she shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth. <sup>27</sup> <sup>o</sup> And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils, the same shall see my wonders. <sup>28</sup> For <sup>p</sup> my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and shall rejoice them that remain four hundred years. <sup>29</sup> <sup>q</sup> After these years shall my son Christ die, and all that have the breath of <sup>r</sup> life. <sup>30</sup> And the world shall be turned into <sup>r</sup> the old silence seven days, like as in the first beginning: so that no man shall remain. <sup>31</sup> And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corruptible. <sup>32</sup> <sup>s</sup> And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the <sup>t</sup> secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them. <sup>33</sup> <sup>t</sup> And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement<sup>5</sup>, and <sup>u</sup> compassion shall pass away, and long suffering shall be withdrawn: <sup>34</sup> but judgement only shall remain, <sup>v</sup> truth shall stand, and <sup>v</sup> faith shall wax strong: <sup>35</sup> and <sup>w</sup> the work shall follow, and <sup>w</sup> the reward shall be shewed, <sup>x</sup> and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not sleep. <sup>36</sup> [35] And <sup>y</sup> the <sup>y</sup> pit of torment shall appear, and over against it shall be the place of rest: <sup>z</sup> and the furnace of <sup>z</sup> hell shall be shewed, <sup>a</sup> and over against it <sup>b</sup> the paradise of delight. [37] And then shall the Most High say to the nations that are raised from the dead, See ye and understand whom ye have denied, or whom ye have not served, or whose commandments ye have despised. [38] <sup>c</sup> Look on this side and on that: here is delight and rest, and there fire and torments. Thus <sup>d</sup> shall he speak unto them in the day of judgement: [39] <sup>d</sup> This is a day that hath neither sun, nor moon, nor stars, [40] neither cloud, nor thunder, nor lightning, neither wind, nor water, nor air, neither darkness, nor evening, nor morning, [41] neither summer, nor spring, nor heat, nor <sup>e</sup> winter, neither frost, nor cold, nor hail, nor rain, nor dew, [42] neither noon, nor night, nor dawn, neither shining, nor brightness, nor light, <sup>f</sup> save only the splendour of the glory of the Most High, whereby all shall see the things that are set before them: [43] for it shall endure as it were a week of years. [44] This is my judgement and the ordinance thereof: <sup>g</sup> but to thee only have I shewed these things.

[45] And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: Blessed are they that be now alive <sup>h</sup> and keep the statutes ordained of thee. [46] But as touching them <sup>i</sup> for whom my prayer was made, <sup>h</sup> what shall I say? <sup>h</sup> for who is there of them that be alive that hath not sinned, and who of the sons of men that hath not transgressed thy covenant? [47] And now I see, <sup>i</sup> that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments unto many. [48] <sup>j</sup> For an evil heart hath grown up in us, which hath led us astray from these statutes, and hath brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, hath shewed us the paths of perdition and removed us far from life; and that, not a few only, but well nigh all that have been created.

[49] And he answered me, and said, Harken unto me, and I will instruct thee; and I will admonish thee yet again: [50] for this cause the Most High <sup>k</sup> hath not made one world, but two. [51] For whereas thou hast said that the just are not many, but few, and the ungodly abound, hear the answer thereunto. [52] If thou have choice stones exceeding few, <sup>1</sup>wilt thou set for thee over against them according to their number things of lead and clay?

[53] And I said, Lord, how shall this be?

[54] And he said unto me, Not only this, <sup>2</sup>but ask the earth, and she shall tell thee; treat her, and she shall declare unto thee. [55] For thou shalt say unto her, <sup>3</sup>Thou bringest forth gold and silver and brass, and iron also and lead and clay: [56] but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, lead than iron, and clay than lead. [57] Judge thou therefore which things are precious and to be desired, whatso is abundant or what is rare.

[58] And I said, <sup>4</sup>O Lord that bearest rule, that which is plentiful is of less worth, for that which is more rare is more precious.

[59] And he answered me, and said, <sup>5</sup>Weigh within thyself the things that thou hast thought, for he that hath what is hard to get rejoiceth over him that hath what is plentiful. [60] So also is the <sup>6</sup>judgement which I have promised: <sup>7</sup>for I will rejoice over the few that shall be saved, inasmuch as <sup>8</sup>these are they that have made my glory now to prevail, and of whom my name is now named. [61] <sup>9</sup>And I will not grieve over the multitude of them that perish; for these are they that are now like unto vapour, and are become as flame and smoke; they are set on fire and burn hotly, and are quenched.

[62] And I answered and said, O thou earth, wherefore hast thou brought forth, if the mind is made out of dust, like as all other created things? [63] <sup>10</sup>For it were better that the dust itself had been unborn, so that the mind might not have been made therefrom. [64] But now the mind groweth with us, and by reason of this we are tormented, because we perish and know it. [65] Let the race of men lament and the beasts of the field be glad; let all that are born lament, but let the fourfooted beasts and the cattle rejoice. [66] For it is far better with them than with us; for they look not for judgement, neither do they know of torments or of salvation promised unto them after death. [67] For what doth it profit us, that we shall be preserved alive, but yet be afflicted with torment? [68] For all that are born are <sup>11</sup>defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: [69] and <sup>12</sup>if after death we were not to come into judgement, peradventure it had been better for us.

[70] And he answered me, and said, When the Most High made the world, and Adam and all them that came of him, he first <sup>13</sup>prepared the judgement and the things that pertain unto the judgement. [71] And now understand from thine own words, <sup>14</sup>for thou hast said that the mind groweth with us. [72] They therefore that dwell upon the earth shall be tormented for this reason, <sup>15</sup>that having understanding they have wrought iniquity; and receiving commandments have not kept them, and having obtained a law they dealt unfaithfully with that which they received. [73] What then will they have to say in the judgement, or how will they answer in the last times? [74] <sup>16</sup>For how great a time hath the Most High been long-suffering with them that inhabit the world, and not for their sakes, but because of the times which he hath fore-ordained!

[75] And I answered and said, If I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, shew this also unto thy servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us giveth up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, <sup>17</sup>in which thou shalt renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

[76] And he answered me, and said, I will shew thee this also; but join not thyself with them that are scornors, nor number thyself with them that are tormented. [77] For thou hast <sup>18</sup>a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be shewed thee until the last times. [78] For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence hath gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the spirit leaveth the body <sup>19</sup>to return again to him who gave it, <sup>20</sup>it adareth the glory of the Most High first of all.

[79] And if it be one of those that have been scornors and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate them that fear <sup>21</sup>God, [80] these spirits shall not enter <sup>22</sup>into habitations, but shall wander and be in torments forthwith, ever grieving and sad, in seven ways. [81] The first way, because they have despised the law of the Most High. [82] The second way, <sup>23</sup>because they cannot now make a good returning that they may live. [83] The third way, <sup>24</sup>they shall see the reward laid up for them that have believed the covenants of the Most High. [84] The fourth way, they shall consider the torment laid up for themselves in the last days. [85] The fifth way, they shall see <sup>25</sup>the dwelling places of the others guarded by angels, with great quietness. the aforesaid ways, because they shall pine away in confusion and be consumed with <sup>1</sup>shame, and shall be withered up by fears, seeing the glory of the Most High before whom they have sinned whilst living, and before whom they shall be judged in the last times. [88] Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from the corruptible vessel. [89] In the time <sup>1</sup>that they dwelt therein they painfully served the Most High, and <sup>2</sup>were in jeopardy every hour, that they might keep the law of <sup>3</sup>the lawgiver perfectly. [90] Wherefore this is the teaching concerning them: [91] <sup>4</sup>First of all they shall see with great joy the glory of him who taketh them up, for they shall have rest in seven orders. [92] The first order, because they have striven with great labour to overcome <sup>5</sup>the evil thought which was fashioned together with them, that it might not lead them astray from life into death. [93] The second order, because they see the perplexity in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and <sup>6</sup>the punishment that awaiteth them. [94] The third order, they see <sup>7</sup>the witness which he that fashioned them beareth concerning them, that while they lived they kept the law <sup>8</sup>which was given them in trust. [95] The fourth order, they understand the rest which, being gathered <sup>9</sup>in their chambers, they now enjoy with great quietness, guarded by angels, and the glory that awaiteth them in the last days. [96] The fifth order, they rejoice, seeing how they have now escaped from <sup>10</sup>that which is corruptible, and how they shall inherit that which is to come, while they see moreover <sup>11</sup>the straitness and the <sup>12</sup>painfulness from which they have been delivered, and the large room which they shall receive with joy and immortality. [97] The sixth order, when it is shewed unto them <sup>13</sup>how their face shall shine as the sun, and how <sup>14</sup>they shall be made like unto the light of the stars, being henceforth incorruptible. [98] The seventh order, which is greater than all the aforesaid orders, because they shall rejoice with confidence, and because they shall be bold without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten <sup>15</sup>to behold the face of him whom in their lifetime they served, and from whom <sup>16</sup>they shall receive their reward in glory. [99] This is the order of the souls of the just, as from henceforth <sup>17</sup>is announced unto them, and aforesaid are the ways of torture which they that would not give heed shall suffer from henceforth. [100] And I answered and said, Shall time therefore be given unto the souls after they are separated from the bodies, that they may see that whereof thou hast spoken unto me? [101] And he said, Their freedom shall be for seven days, that for seven days they may see the things whereof thou hast been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered together <sup>18</sup>in their habitations. [102] And I answered and said, <sup>19</sup>If I have found favour in thy sight, shew further unto me thy servant whether in the day of judgement the just will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to intreat the Most High for them, [103] whether fathers for children, or children for parents, or brethren for brethren, or kinsfolk for their next of kin, or <sup>20</sup>friends for them that are most dear. [104] And he answered me, and said, Since thou hast found favour in my sight, <sup>21</sup>I will shew thee this also: The day of judgement is <sup>22</sup>a day of decision, and displayeth unto all the seal of truth; even as now a father sendeth not his son, or a son his father, or a master his slave, or a <sup>23</sup>friend him that is most dear, that in his stead he may <sup>24</sup>be sick, or sleep, or eat, or be healed: [105] <sup>25</sup>so never shall any one pray for another <sup>26</sup>in that day, neither shall one lay a burden on another, <sup>27</sup>for then shall all bear every one his own righteousness or unrighteousness.

[106] And I answered and said, How do we now find that first <sup>28</sup>Abraham prayed for the people of Sodom, and <sup>29</sup>Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness: 37 [107] and <sup>30</sup>Joshua after him for Israel in the days of <sup>31</sup>Achar: 38 [108] and <sup>32</sup>Samuel <sup>33</sup>in the days of Saul; and <sup>34</sup>David for the plague: and <sup>35</sup>Solomon for them that should worship in the sanctuary: 39 [109] and <sup>36</sup>Elijah for those that received rain; and <sup>37</sup>for the dead, that he might live: 40 [110] and <sup>38</sup>Hezekiah for the people in the days of Sennacherib: and many for many? 41 [111] If therefore now, when corruption is grown up, and unrighteousness increased, the righteous have prayed for the ungodly, wherefore shall it not be so then also?

[112] He answered me, and said, This present world is not the end; the full glory abideth <sup>39</sup>not therein: therefore have they who were able prayed for the weak. 43 [113] But the day of judgement shall be the end of this time, <sup>40</sup>and the beginning <sup>41</sup>of the immortality for to come, <sup>42</sup>wherein corruption is passed away, 44 [114] intemperance is at an end, <sup>43</sup>inidelity is cut off, but righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up. 45 [115] Then shall no man be able to have mercy on him that is cast in judgement, nor to thrust down <sup>44</sup>him that hath gotten the victory.

46 [116] I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, <sup>a</sup>that it had been better that the earth had not <sup>o</sup>given thee Adam: or else, when it had given him, to have restrained him from sinning. 47<sup>[117]</sup> <sup>p</sup>For what profit is it for all that are in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment? 48<sup>[118]</sup> O thou Adam, what hast thou done? for though it was thou that sinned, <sup>q</sup>the evil is not fallen on thee alone, but upon all of us that come of thee. 49<sup>[119]</sup> For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas <sup>r</sup>we have done the works that bring death? 50<sup>[120]</sup> And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves most miserably are become vain? 51<sup>[121]</sup> And that there are reserved habitations of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly? 52<sup>[122]</sup> And that the glory of the Most High shall defend them which have led a pure life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all? 53<sup>[123]</sup> And that there shall be shewed <sup>s</sup>a paradise, whose fruit endureth without decay, <sup>t</sup>wherein is abundance and healing, but we shall not enter into it, 54<sup>[124]</sup> for we have walked in unpleasant places? 55<sup>[125]</sup> And that the faces of them which have used abstinence <sup>u</sup>shall shine above the stars, whereas <sup>v</sup>our faces shall be blacker than darkness? 56<sup>[126]</sup> For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not what we should have to suffer after death.

57<sup>[127]</sup> Then he answered and said, This is the <sup>1</sup>condition of <sup>w</sup>the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight; 58<sup>[128]</sup> that, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say. 59<sup>[129]</sup> For this is the way whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, <sup>x</sup>Choose thee life, that thou mayest live. 60<sup>[130]</sup> Nevertheless they believed not him, <sup>y</sup>nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which have spoken unto them; 61<sup>[131]</sup> <sup>z</sup>so that there shall not be such heaviness in their destruction, as <sup>a</sup>there shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

62<sup>[132]</sup> I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the Most High is now called merciful, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world; 63<sup>[133]</sup> and compassionate, in that he hath compassion upon those that turn to his law; 64<sup>[134]</sup> and <sup>b</sup>longsuffering, for that he long suffereth those that have sinned, <sup>c</sup>as his creatures; 65<sup>[135]</sup> and bountiful, for that he is ready to give rather than to exact; 66<sup>[136]</sup> and of great mercy, for that he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come; 67<sup>[137]</sup> (for if he multiplied not <sup>d</sup>his mercies, <sup>e</sup>the world would not continue with them that dwell therein;) 68<sup>[138]</sup> and one that forgiveth, <sup>f</sup>for if he did not forgive of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men would not remain living; 69<sup>[139]</sup> and a judge, <sup>g</sup>for if he did not pardon them that were created by his word, and <sup>h</sup>blot out the multitude of <sup>2</sup>offences, 70<sup>[140]</sup> there would peradventure be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

8 <sup>i</sup>And he answered me, and said, The Most High hath made this world for many, <sup>j</sup>but the world to come for few. <sup>k</sup>I will tell thee now a similitude, Esdras; <sup>l</sup>As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth very much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, and little dust that gold cometh of: even so is the course of the present world. 3<sup>o</sup> There be many created, but few shall be saved.

4 And I answered and said, Swallow down understanding then, O my soul, and let my heart devour wisdom. 5 For thou <sup>3</sup>art come hither without thy will, and departest when thou wouldest not: for there is given thee no longer space than only to live a short time. 6 O Lord, that art over us, suffer thy servant, that we may pray before thee, and <sup>4</sup>give us seed unto our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby every one shall live that is corrupt, who beareth the <sup>4</sup>likeness of a man. 7 For thou art alone, and <sup>5</sup>we all one workmanship of thine hands, like as thou hast said. 8 <sup>k</sup>Forasmuch as thou quickenest the body that is fashioned now in the womb, and givest it members, thy creature is preserved <sup>l</sup>in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her. 9 But that which keepeth and that which is kept shall both be kept <sup>5</sup>by thy keeping: and when the womb giveth up again that which hath grown in it, <sup>10</sup>thou hast commanded that out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, be given milk, which is the fruit of the breasts, <sup>11</sup>that the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, and afterwards thou shalt order it in thy mercy. <sup>12</sup>Yea, thou hast brought it up in thy righteousness, and nurtured it in thy law, and corrected it with thy judgement. <sup>13</sup><sup>m</sup>And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and <sup>n</sup>quicken it as thy work. <sup>14</sup><sup>o</sup>If therefore thou shalt <sup>8</sup>lightly and suddenly destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned by thy commandment, <sup>p</sup>to what purpose was he made? <sup>15</sup>Now therefore I will speak; touching man in general, thou knowest best; but touching thy people will I speak, for whose sake I am sorry; <sup>16</sup>and for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for the seed of Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled; <sup>17</sup>therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; <sup>18</sup>but I have heard <sup>19</sup>the swiftness of the judgement which is to come. <sup>19</sup>Therefore hear my voice, and understand my saying, and I will speak before thee.

The beginning of the words of Esdras, <sup>20</sup>before he was taken up. And he said, <sup>20</sup>O Lord, thou <sup>21</sup>that <sup>22</sup>abidest for ever, whose eyes are exalted, and <sup>23</sup>whose chambers are in the air; <sup>24</sup>whose throne is inestimable; whose glory may not be comprehended; before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling, <sup>25</sup>at those bidding <sup>26</sup>they are changed to wind and fire; whose word is sure, and sayings constant; whose ordinance is strong, and commandment fearful; <sup>27</sup>whose look <sup>28</sup>drieth up the depths, and whose indignation maketh the mountains to melt away, and whose truth beareth witness: <sup>29</sup>hear, O Lord, the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy handywork; <sup>30</sup>attend unto my words, for so long as I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer. <sup>31</sup>O look not upon the sins of thy people; but on them that have served thee in truth. <sup>32</sup>Regard not the doings of them that deal wickedly, but of them that have kept thy covenants in affliction. <sup>33</sup>Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee; but remember them which have willingly known thy fear.

Let it not be thy will to destroy them <sup>34</sup>which have lived like cattle; but look upon them that have <sup>35</sup>clearly taught thy law. <sup>36</sup>Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that have always put their trust in thy glory. <sup>37</sup>For we and our fathers <sup>38</sup>have <sup>39</sup>passed our lives in <sup>40</sup>ways that bring death: but thou because of us sinners <sup>41</sup>art called merciful. <sup>42</sup>For if thou hast a desire to have mercy upon us, <sup>43</sup>then shalt thou be called merciful, to us, namely, that have no works of righteousness. <sup>44</sup>For the just, <sup>45</sup>which have many good works laid up with thee, shall for their own deeds receive reward. <sup>46</sup>For what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible race, that thou shouldst be so bitter toward it? <sup>47</sup>For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly; and among them <sup>48</sup>that have lived there is none which hath not done amiss. <sup>49</sup>For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have no store of good works.

Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words so shall it come to pass. <sup>50</sup>For indeed I will not think on the fashioning of them which have sinned, or their death, their judgement, or their destruction: <sup>51</sup>but I will rejoice over the framing of the righteous, <sup>52</sup>their pilgrimage also, and the salvation, <sup>53</sup>and the reward, that they shall have. <sup>54</sup>Like therefore as I have spoken, so shall it be. <sup>55</sup>For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet not all that is sown shall <sup>56</sup>come up in due season, neither shall all that is planted take root: even so they that are sown in the world <sup>57</sup>shall not all be saved.

I answered then and said, <sup>58</sup>If I have found favour, let me speak before thee. <sup>59</sup>Forasmuch as the husbandman's seed, if it come not up, seeing that it hath not received thy rain in due season, or if it be corrupted through too much rain, <sup>60</sup>so perisheth; <sup>61</sup>likewise man, which is formed with thy hands, and <sup>62</sup>is called thine own image, because he is made like unto thee, <sup>63</sup>for whose sake thou hast formed all things, even him hast thou made like unto the husbandman's seed. <sup>64</sup>Be not wroth with us, but <sup>65</sup>spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine inheritance; for thou hast mercy upon thine own creation.

Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for them that now be, and things to come for such as shall be hereafter. <sup>66</sup>For thou comest far short that thou shouldst be able to love my creature more than I. But thou hast brought thyself full nigh unto the unrighteous. Let this never be. <sup>67</sup>Yet in this shalt thou be admirable before the Most High; <sup>68</sup>in that thou hast humbled thyself, as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thyself worthy to be among the righteous, so as to be much glorified. <sup>69</sup>For many grievous miseries shall befall them that in the last times dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride. <sup>70</sup>But understand thou for thyself, and of such as be <sup>71</sup>like thee seek out the glory. <sup>72</sup>For unto you is <sup>73</sup>paradise opened, <sup>74</sup>the tree of life is planted, <sup>75</sup>the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, <sup>76</sup>a city is builded, <sup>77</sup>and rest is <sup>78</sup>allowed, goodness is perfected, wisdom

Then answered I and said, <sup>68</sup> Behold, O Lord, <sup>69</sup> now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders, which thou wilt do in the last times: but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

<sup>9</sup> And he answered me, and said, Measure thou diligently within thyself: and when thou seest that a certain part of the signs are past, which have been told thee beforehand, <sup>2</sup> then shalt thou understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High <sup>3</sup> will visit the world which was made by him. <sup>3</sup> And when there shall be seen in the world <sup>4</sup> earthquakes, disquietude of peoples, devices of nations, wavering of leaders, disquietude of princes, <sup>4</sup> then shalt thou understand, that the Most High spake of these things from the days that were aforetime from the beginning. <sup>5</sup> For like as of all that is made in the world, the beginning <sup>2</sup> is evident, and the end manifest; <sup>6</sup> so also are the times of the Most High: the beginnings are manifest in wonders and mighty works, and the end in effects and signs. <sup>7</sup> And every one that shall be saved, and <sup>8</sup> shall be able to escape by his works, <sup>9</sup> or by faith, whereby he hath believed, <sup>8</sup> shall be preserved from the said perils, <sup>10</sup> and shall see my salvation in my land, and <sup>11</sup> within my borders, which I have sanctified for me from the beginning. <sup>9</sup> Then shall they be amazed, which now have abused my ways; and they that have cast them away despitefully shall dwell in torments. <sup>10</sup> For as many as in their life have received benefits, and yet have not known me; <sup>11</sup> and as many as have scorned my law, while they had yet liberty, and when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, understood not, but despised <sup>12</sup> it; <sup>13</sup> the same must know <sup>14</sup> it after death by torment. <sup>13</sup> And therefore be thou no longer curious how the ungodly shall be punished; but inquire how the righteous shall be saved, <sup>14</sup> they whose the world is, and <sup>15</sup> for whom the world was created.

<sup>14</sup> And I answered and said, <sup>15</sup> I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, that <sup>16</sup> there be more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved: <sup>16</sup> like as a wave is greater than a drop.

<sup>17</sup> And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; and as the flowers be, such are the colours also; and <sup>18</sup> such as the work is, such also is the <sup>19</sup> judgement thereon; and as is the husbandman, so is his threshing-floor also. For there was a time in the world, <sup>18</sup> even then when I was preparing for them that now live, before the world was made for them to dwell in; and then no man spake against me, <sup>19</sup> for there was not any: but now they which are created in this world that is prepared, both <sup>20</sup> with <sup>21</sup> a table that faileth not, and a law which is <sup>22</sup> unsearchable, are corrupted in their manners. <sup>20</sup> So I considered my world, and, lo, it was destroyed, and my earth, and, lo, it was in peril, because of the devices that were come into it. <sup>21</sup> And I saw, and spared them, but not greatly, and saved me a grape out of a cluster, and <sup>22</sup> a plant out of <sup>23</sup> a great forest. <sup>22</sup> Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be saved, and my plant; for with great labour have I made them perfect. <sup>23</sup> Nevertheless if thou wilt cease yet <sup>24</sup> seven days more, (howbeit thou shalt not fast in them, <sup>24</sup> but shalt go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and <sup>25</sup> eat only of the flowers of the field; and thou shalt taste no flesh, and shalt drink no wine, but shalt eat flowers only;) <sup>25</sup> and pray unto the Most High continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

<sup>26</sup> So I went my way, like as he commanded me, into the field which is called <sup>27</sup> Ardath; and there I sat among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me. <sup>27</sup> And it came to pass after seven days that I lay upon the grass, <sup>28</sup> and my heart was vexed again, <sup>28</sup> like as before: <sup>29</sup> and my mouth was opened, and I began to speak before the Most High, and said, <sup>29</sup> O Lord, <sup>30</sup> thou didst shew thyself among us, unto our fathers in the wilderness, when they went forth out of Egypt, and when they came into the wilderness, <sup>e</sup>where no man treadeth and that beareth no fruit; <sup>30</sup>and thou didst say, Hear me, thou Israel; and mark my words, O seed of Jacob. <sup>31</sup>For, behold, <sup>f</sup>I sow my law in you, and it shall bring forth fruit in you, and ye shall be glorified in it for ever. <sup>32</sup>But our fathers, <sup>h</sup>which received the law, kept it not, and observed not the statutes: and <sup>i</sup>the fruit of the law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine; <sup>33</sup>yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them. <sup>34</sup>And, lo, it is a custom, that when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, and when it cometh to pass that that which is sown, or that which is launched, <sup>35</sup>or the things which have been received, should come to an end, these come to an end, but the receptacles remain: yet with us it hath not happened so. <sup>36</sup>For we that have received the law shall perish by sin, and our heart also which received it. <sup>37</sup>Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remaineth in its honour.

<sup>38</sup>And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked about me with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw <sup>k</sup>a woman, and, behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in mind, and <sup>l</sup>her clothes were rent, <sup>m</sup>and she had ashes upon her head. <sup>39</sup>Then let I my thoughts go wherein I was occupied, and turned me unto her, <sup>40</sup>and said unto her, Wherefore weepest thou? and why art thou grieved in thy mind?

<sup>41</sup>And she said unto me, Let me alone, my lord, that I may bewail myself, and add unto my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

<sup>42</sup>And I said unto her, What aileth thee? tell me. <sup>43</sup>She said unto me, I thy servant was barren, and had no child, though I had a husband <sup>n</sup>thirty years. <sup>44</sup>And every hour and every day these thirty years did I <sup>o</sup>make my prayer to the Most High day and night. <sup>45</sup>And it came to pass after thirty years that God heard me thine handmaid, and <sup>q</sup>looked upon my low estate, and considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I rejoiced in him greatly, I and my husband, and <sup>r</sup>all my <sup>s</sup>neighbours: and we gave great honour unto the Mighty. <sup>46</sup>And I nourished him with great travail. <sup>47</sup>So when he grew up, and I came to take him a wife, <sup>s</sup>I made a feast day. <sup>48</sup>And it so came

bours rose up to comfort me: and I remained quiet unto the second day at night. <sup>3</sup>And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet, then rose I up by night, and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest. <sup>4</sup>And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

<sup>18</sup>And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.

side: but four remained in their place. <sup>25</sup>And I beheld, and, lo, these <sup>8</sup>under wings thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule. <sup>26</sup>And I beheld, and, lo, there was one set up, but within a while it appeared no more. <sup>27</sup>A second also, and it was sooner away than the first. <sup>28</sup>And I beheld, and, lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign: <sup>29</sup>and while they so thought, behold, there awaked <sup>6</sup>one of the heads that were at rest, <sup>t</sup>namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two <sup>other</sup> heads. <sup>30</sup>And I beheld how that it joined <sup>u</sup>the two <sup>other</sup> heads with it. <sup>31</sup>And, behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two <sup>8</sup>under wings that thought to have reigned. <sup>32</sup>But this head held the whole earth in possession, and bare rule over those that dwell therein <sup>v</sup>with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been. <sup>33</sup><sup>w</sup>And after this I beheld, and, lo, the head also that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings. <sup>34</sup>But there remained the two heads, <sup>x</sup>which also in like sort reigned over the earth, and over those that dwell therein. <sup>35</sup><sup>y</sup>And I beheld, and, lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.

evil little wings, nor <sup>r</sup>thy cruel heads, nor thy hurtful talons, nor all thy vain body: <sup>46</sup><sup>c</sup> that all the earth may be refreshed, and be eased, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgement and mercy of him that made her.

sawest <sup>s</sup>the eight under wings sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: <sup>20</sup>That in it there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. <sup>21</sup>And <sup>t</sup>two of them shall perish, when the middle time approacheth: four shall be kept for a while until the time of the ending thereof shall approach: <sup>u</sup>but two shall be kept unto the end. <sup>22</sup>And whereas thou sawest <sup>v</sup>three heads resting, this is the interpretation: <sup>23</sup><sup>w</sup>In the last days thereof shall the Most High raise up three <sup>x</sup>kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall bear rule over the earth, <sup>24</sup>and over those that dwell therein, <sup>y</sup>with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. <sup>25</sup>For these are they that shall accomplish her wickedness, and that shall finish her last end. <sup>26</sup>And whereas thou sawest that <sup>z</sup>the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain. <sup>27</sup>But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. <sup>28</sup><sup>2</sup>For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. <sup>29</sup>And whereas thou sawest <sup>a</sup>two under wings passing <sup>4</sup>over unto the head that is on the right side, <sup>30</sup>this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High hath kept unto his end: <sup>b</sup>this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as thou sawest. <sup>31</sup><sup>c</sup>And the lion, whom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness, and all her words which thou hast heard; <sup>32</sup>this is <sup>d</sup>the anointed one, whom the Most High hath kept unto the end <sup>e</sup>[of days, who shall spring up out of the seed of David, and he shall come and speak] unto them and <sup>f</sup>reprove them for their wickedness and their unrighteousness, and shall <sup>6</sup>heap up before them their contemptuous dealings. <sup>33</sup>For at the first he shall set them alive in his judgement, and when he hath reprov'd them, he shall destroy them. <sup>34</sup>For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved <sup>g</sup>throughout my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the end, even the day of judgement, <sup>h</sup>whereof I have spoken unto thee from the beginning. <sup>35</sup>This is the dream that thou sawest, and this is the interpretation thereof: <sup>36</sup><sup>2</sup>and thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Most High. <sup>37</sup>Therefore <sup>i</sup>write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and put them in a secret place: <sup>38</sup>and thou shalt teach them to the wise of thy people, whose hearts thou knowest are able to comprehend and keep these secrets. <sup>39</sup> But wait thou here thyself yet <sup>7</sup> seven days more, that there may be shewed unto thee whatsoever it pleaseth the Most High to shew thee. And he departed from me.

<sup>40</sup> And it came to pass, when all the people <sup>1</sup> saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and spake to me, saying, <sup>41</sup> What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou hast utterly forsaken us, and sittest in this place? <sup>42</sup> For of all <sup>m</sup> the prophets thou only art left us, as <sup>n</sup> a cluster of the vintage, and <sup>o</sup> as a lamp in a dark place, and as a <sup>p</sup> haven for a ship saved from the tempest. <sup>43</sup> Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient? <sup>44</sup> If thou shalt forsake us, <sup>q</sup> how much better had it been for us, if we also had been consumed <sup>r</sup> in the burning of Sion! <sup>45</sup> For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. And I answered them, and said, <sup>46</sup> Be of good comfort, O Israel; and be not sorrowful, thou house of Jacob: <sup>47</sup> for the Most High hath you in remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you <sup>2</sup> for ever. <sup>48</sup> As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for <sup>t</sup> the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for <sup>u</sup> the low estate of your sanctuary. <sup>49</sup> And now go your way every man to his own house, and after these days will I come unto you. <sup>50</sup> So the people went their way into the city, like as I said unto them: <sup>51</sup> but I sat in the field seven days, <sup>v</sup> as the angel commanded me; and in those days <sup>w</sup> I did eat only of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

beheld, and, lo, he graved himself <sup>a</sup> a great mountain, and flew up upon it. <sup>7</sup> But I sought to see the region or place whereout the mountain was graven, and I could not. <sup>8</sup> And after this I beheld, and, lo, all they which were gathered together to fight against him were sore afraid, and yet durst fight. <sup>9</sup> And, lo, as he saw the assault of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held spear, nor any instrument of war: <sup>10</sup> but only I saw how that he sent out of his mouth as it had been a flood of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast forth sparks <sup>5</sup> of the storm. <sup>11</sup> And these were all mingled together; the flood of fire, the flaming breath, and the great storm; and fell upon the assault of the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only <sup>j</sup> dust of ashes and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was amazed. <sup>12</sup> Afterward I beheld the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him <sup>g</sup> another multitude which was peaceable. <sup>13</sup> And there came <sup>7</sup> much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some <sup>h</sup> brought of them that were offered: then through great fear I awaked, and prayed unto the Most High, and said, <sup>14</sup> Thou hast shewed thy servant these wonders from the beginning, <sup>i</sup> and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldst receive my prayer: <sup>15</sup> and now shew me moreover the interpretation of this dream. <sup>16</sup> For as I conceive in mine understanding, woe unto <sup>j</sup> them that shall be left in those days! and much more woe unto them that are not left! <sup>17</sup> for they that were not left shall be in heaviness, <sup>18</sup> understanding the things that are laid up in the latter days, but not attaining unto them. <sup>19</sup> But woe unto <sup>j</sup> them also that are left, for this cause; for they shall see great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare. <sup>20</sup> Yet is it <sup>8</sup> better for one to be in peril and to come into <sup>2</sup> these things, than <sup>k</sup> to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that <sup>2</sup> shall happen in the last days.

And he answered unto me, and said, <sup>21</sup> The interpretation of the vision shall I tell thee, and I will also open unto thee the things whereof thou hast made mention. <sup>22</sup> Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation: <sup>23</sup> He that shall <sup>2</sup> endure the peril in that time <sup>m</sup> shall keep them that be fallen into danger, even <sup>n</sup> such as have works, <sup>o</sup> and faith toward the Almighty. <sup>24</sup> Know therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead. <sup>25</sup> These are the interpretations of the vision: Whereas <sup>26</sup> thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea, <sup>26</sup> the same is he whom the Most High hath kept a great season, which by this own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind. <sup>27</sup> And <sup>27</sup> whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came wind, and fire, and storm; <sup>28</sup> and whereas he held neither spear, nor any instrument of war, but destroyed the assault of that multitude which came to fight against him; this is the interpretation: <sup>29</sup> Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin <sup>30</sup> to deliver them that are upon the earth. <sup>30</sup> And there shall come astonishment of mind upon them that dwell on the earth. <sup>31</sup> And one shall think to war against another, city against city, place against place, people against people, and kingdom against kingdom. <sup>32</sup> And it shall be, when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen <sup>33</sup> which I shewed thee before, then shall <sup>34</sup> my Son be revealed, <sup>34</sup> whom thou sawest as a man ascending. <sup>33</sup> And it shall be, when all the nations hear his voice, every man shall leave his own land and the battle they have one against another. <sup>34</sup> And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest, desiring to come, and to fight against him. <sup>35</sup> But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion. <sup>36</sup> And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest <sup>37</sup> the mountain <sup>37</sup> graven without hands. <sup>37</sup> And this <sup>38</sup> my Son <sup>38</sup> shall rebuke the nations which are come for their wickedness, with <sup>39</sup> plagues that are like unto <sup>40</sup> a tempest; <sup>38</sup> and shall taunt them to their face with their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall be tormented, <sup>41</sup> which are likened unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law, which is likened unto fire. <sup>39</sup> And whereas thou sawest that he gathered unto him <sup>42</sup> another multitude that was peaceable; <sup>40</sup> these are the ten tribes, which were led away out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, <sup>43</sup> whom Salmanasar the king of the Assyrians led away captive, and he carried them beyond the River, and they were carried into another land. <sup>41</sup> But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt, <sup>42</sup> that they might there keep their statutes, which they had not kept in their own land. <sup>43</sup> And they entered by the narrow passages of <sup>44</sup> the river Euphrates. <sup>44</sup> For the Most High then wrought signs for them, <sup>45</sup> and stayed the springs of the River, till they were passed over. <sup>45</sup> For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called <sup>46</sup> Arzareth. <sup>46</sup> Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they begin to come again, <sup>47</sup> the Most High <sup>47</sup> stayeth the springs of the River again, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude gathered together with peace. <sup>48</sup> But those that be left behind of thy people are they that are found <sup>49</sup> within my holy border. <sup>49</sup> It shall be therefore when he shall destroy the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the people that remain. <sup>50</sup> And then shall he shew them very many wonders.

<sup>51</sup> Then said I, <sup>51</sup> O Lord that bearest rule, shew me this: wherefore I have seen <sup>52</sup> the man coming up from the midst of the sea. <sup>52</sup> And he said unto me, Like as one can neither seek out nor know what is in the deep of the sea, even so can no man upon earth see <sup>53</sup> my Son, or those that be with him, but <sup>54</sup> in the time of <sup>55</sup> his day. <sup>53</sup> This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and <sup>56</sup> for this thou only art enlightened herein. <sup>54</sup> For thou hast forsaken thine own ways, and applied thy diligence unto mine, and hast sought out my law. <sup>55</sup> Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and <sup>56</sup> hast called understanding thy mother. <sup>56</sup> And therefore have I shewed thee this; <sup>57</sup> for there is a reward laid up with the Most High: and it shall be, <sup>58</sup> after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee mighty and wondrous things. <sup>57</sup> Then went I forth and passed into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the Most High because of his wonders, which he did from time to time; <sup>58</sup> and <sup>59</sup> because he governeth the time, and such things as fall in their seasons. And there I sat <sup>60</sup> three days.

seasons; and commanded him, saying, <sup>6</sup>These words shalt thou publish openly, and these shalt thou hide. <sup>7</sup>And now I say unto thee, <sup>8</sup>Lay up in thy heart the signs that I have shewed, and the dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpretations which thou hast heard: <sup>9</sup>for <sup>10</sup>thou shalt be taken away from men, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with <sup>11</sup>my Son, and with <sup>12</sup>such as be like thee, until the times be ended. <sup>10</sup><sup>b</sup>For the world hath lost its youth, and the times begin to wax old. <sup>11</sup><sup>a</sup>For the world is divided into twelve parts, <sup>12</sup>and ten parts of it are gone already, <sup>2</sup>even the half of the tenth part: <sup>12</sup>and there remain of it two parts after the middle of the tenth part. <sup>13</sup>Now therefore <sup>14</sup>set thine house in order, and <sup>15</sup>reprove thy people, comfort the lowly among them, <sup>16</sup>and instruct such of them as be wise, and now renounce the life that is corruptible, <sup>17</sup>and let go from thee mortal thoughts, <sup>18</sup>cast away from thee the burdens of man, put off now thy weak nature, <sup>19</sup>and lay aside the thoughts that are most grievous unto thee, and haste thee to remove from these times. <sup>16</sup><sup>a</sup>For yet worse evils than those which thou hast seen happen shall be done hereafter. <sup>17</sup>For look, how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein. <sup>18</sup><sup>b</sup>For the truth shall withdraw itself further off, and leasing be hard at hand: for now hasteth <sup>19</sup>the eagle to come, <sup>20</sup>which thou sawest in vision.

<sup>19</sup>Then answered I and said, <sup>20</sup>I will speak before thee, O Lord. <sup>20</sup>Behold, I will go, <sup>21</sup>as thou hast commanded me, and reprove the people that now be: but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light. <sup>21</sup><sup>b</sup>For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall be done. <sup>22</sup><sup>a</sup>But if I have found favour before thee, <sup>23</sup>send the Holy Spirit into me, and I shall write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in thy law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. <sup>23</sup>And he answered me and said, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, <sup>24</sup>that they seek thee not for forty days. <sup>24</sup>But look thou prepare thee many tablets, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethanus, and Asiel, these five, which are <sup>25</sup>ready to write swiftly; <sup>25</sup>and come hither, and I shall light <sup>26</sup>a lamp of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which thou shalt write. <sup>26</sup>And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish openly, and <sup>27</sup>some things shalt thou deliver in secret to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.

28. 54, 55.

goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

<sup>20</sup> Behold, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to stir up them that are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; <sup>21</sup> to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them. <sup>22</sup> Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and <sup>s</sup> recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>23</sup> My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and <sup>t</sup> my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth. <sup>24</sup> And a fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled. <sup>25</sup> Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! saith the Lord. <sup>26</sup> I will not spare them: go your way, ye rebellious children, defile not my sanctuary. <sup>27</sup> For the Lord knoweth all them that trespass against him, therefore hath he delivered them unto death and destruction. <sup>28</sup> For now are the evils come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because ye have sinned against him.

<sup>29</sup> Behold, a vision horrible, and the appearance thereof from the east! <sup>30</sup> And the nations of the <sup>u</sup> dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and from the day that they set forth the hissing of them is carried over the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and tremble. <sup>31</sup> Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall go forth <sup>v</sup> as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians with their teeth. <sup>32</sup> And then shall the <sup>w</sup> dragons have the upper hand, remembering their <sup>x</sup> nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, <sup>33</sup> then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall turn and flee. <sup>34</sup> And from the land of the Assyrians shall the <sup>y</sup> lie in wait besiege them, and consume one of them, and upon their host shall be fear and trembling, and <sup>z</sup> sedition against their kings. <sup>35</sup> Behold, <sup>a</sup> clouds from the east and from the north unto the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm. <sup>36</sup> They shall dash one against another, and they shall pour out a plentiful <sup>b</sup> storm upon the earth, <sup>c</sup> even their own star; and <sup>d</sup> there shall be blood from the sword unto the horse's belly, <sup>e</sup> and to the thigh of man, and to the camel's hough. <sup>37</sup> And there shall be fearfulness and great trembling upon earth: and they that see that wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall take hold upon them. 38 And after this shall there be stirred up <sup>g</sup> great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west. 39 And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall shut it up, even the cloud which he raised in wrath; and <sup>h</sup> the star that was to cause destruction by the east wind shall be violently driven toward the south and west. 40 And great clouds and mighty and full of wrath shall be lifted up, <sup>i</sup> and the star, that they may destroy all the earth, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent one <sup>a</sup> a terrible star, <sup>k</sup> fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all plains may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of those waters. 42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn. 43 <sup>k</sup> And they shall go on steadfastly unto Babylon, <sup>l</sup> and destroy her. 44 They shall come unto her, and compass her about; the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: <sup>m</sup> then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, <sup>n</sup> and all they that be about her shall bewail her. 45 And they that remain shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.

46 And thou, <sup>o</sup> Asia, that art partaker in <sup>p</sup> the beauty of Babylon, and in the glory of her person: 47 woe unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; <sup>q</sup> thou hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have always desired thee to commit whoredom withal! 48 Thou hast followed her that is hateful in all her works and inventions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send evils upon thee; <sup>r</sup> widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses unto destruction and death. 50 And the glory of thy power shall be dried up <sup>s</sup> as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over thee. 51 Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that thy mighty ones and <sup>t</sup> thy lovers thou shalt not be able to receive. 52 Would I <sup>u</sup> with jealousy have so proceeded against thee, saith the Lord, 53 if thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and saying over their <sup>v</sup> dead, <sup>w</sup> when thou wast drunken, 54 Set forth the beauty of thy countenance? 55 <sup>w</sup> The reward of a harlot shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive recompense. 56 Like as thou shalt do unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into mischief. 57 And thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword: and thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish by the sword in the field. 58 And they that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and <sup>x</sup> eat their own flesh, and drink <sup>y</sup> their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water. 59 Thou unhappy above all shalt come and shalt again receive evils. 60 And in the passage they shall rush on <sup>y</sup> the <sup>z</sup> idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and mar part of thy glory, and shall return again to Babylon <sup>z</sup> that was destroyed. 61 And thou shalt be cast down by them <sup>a</sup> as stubble, and they shall be unto thee as fire; 62 and shall devour thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire. 63 They shall carry thy children away captive, and shall spoil thy wealth, and mar the glory of thy face.

TOBIT.

I <sup>1</sup>THE book of the words of Tobit, the son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asiel, of the tribe of Naphtali; <sup>2</sup>who in the days of <sup>3</sup>Enemessar king of the Assyrians was carried away captive out of <sup>4</sup>Thisbe, which is on the right hand of <sup>5</sup>Kedesh Naphtali in Galilee above Asher.

<sup>3</sup>I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did <sup>6</sup>many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. <sup>4</sup>And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, <sup>7</sup>all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice <sup>8</sup>there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built <sup>9</sup>therein for all ages. <sup>5</sup>And all the tribes which fell away together <sup>10</sup>sacrificed to <sup>11</sup>the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. <sup>6</sup>And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, <sup>12</sup>as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, <sup>13</sup>having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and <sup>14</sup>that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. <sup>7</sup>The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem; and <sup>8</sup>the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem: <sup>9</sup>and <sup>10</sup>the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. <sup>11</sup>And when I became a man, I took to wife <sup>12</sup>Anna of the seed <sup>13</sup>of our own family, and of her I begat Tobias. <sup>14</sup>And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of <sup>15</sup>the bread of the Gentiles: <sup>16</sup>but I kept myself from eating, <sup>17</sup>because I remembered God with all my soul. <sup>18</sup>And the Most High gave me grace and <sup>19</sup>favour in the sight of <sup>20</sup>Enemessar, and I was his purveyor. <sup>21</sup>And I went into Media, and left in trust with <sup>22</sup>Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at <sup>23</sup>Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

<sup>1</sup> Now when I was come home 2 again, and my wife <sup>f</sup> Anna was restored unto me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of <sup>g</sup> Pentecost, which is <sup>h</sup> the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, and I sat down to eat. <sup>2</sup> And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and, lo, I tarry for thee. <sup>3</sup> And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. <sup>4</sup> And before I had tasted aught, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. <sup>5</sup> And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, <sup>6</sup> and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said,

And all your mirth into lamentation.

<sup>7</sup> And I wept: and when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, <sup>j</sup> and buried him. <sup>8</sup> And my neighbours mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet <sup>k</sup> he fled away; and, lo, <sup>j</sup> the burial of the dead again. <sup>9</sup> And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, <sup>l</sup> being polluted; and my face was uncovered: <sup>10</sup> and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and white films came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but <sup>m</sup> Achiacharus did nourish me, <sup>n</sup> until I went into <sup>n</sup> Elymais.

<sup>2</sup> O Lord, <sup>r</sup> thou art righteous, and all thy works and <sup>s</sup> all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest true and righteous judgement for ever. 3 Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for <sup>t</sup> my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which sinned before thee: <sup>4</sup> for they disobeyed thy commandments; and thou gavest us for a spoil, and for captivity, and for death, and for <sup>u</sup> a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. <sup>5</sup> And now many are thy judgements, true are they; that thou shouldst deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers: because we did not keep thy commandments, for we walked not in truth before thee. <sup>6</sup> And now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in thy sight, <sup>v</sup> command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I <sup>w</sup> have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me: command that I be now released from my distress, and go to the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

dost thou scourge us? if they be dead, go thy ways with them; let us never see of thee either son or daughter. <sup>10</sup>When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought to have hanged herself: and she said, I am the only daughter of my father; if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and <sup>11</sup>I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to <sup>12</sup>the grave. <sup>12</sup>And she prayed <sup>13</sup>by the window, and said, <sup>14</sup>Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and blessed is thy holy and honourable name for ever: <sup>15</sup>let all thy works praise thee for ever. <sup>16</sup>And now, Lord, <sup>17</sup>I have set mine eyes and my face toward thee: <sup>18</sup>command that I be released from the earth, and that I no more hear reproach. <sup>19</sup>Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, <sup>20</sup>and that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, and he hath no child that shall be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife unto him: seven husbands of mine are dead already; why should I live? And if it pleaseth thee not to slay me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach.

My child, <sup>6</sup>when I die, bury me: and <sup>7</sup>despise not thy mother; <sup>8</sup>honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which is pleasing unto her, and grieve her not. <sup>9</sup>Remember, my child, that she hath seen many dangers for thee, <sup>10</sup>when thou wast in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave. <sup>11</sup>My child, <sup>12</sup>be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of thy life, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness. <sup>13</sup>For if thou dost the truth, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that do righteousness. <sup>14</sup>Give alms of thy substance; and <sup>15</sup>when thou givest alms, <sup>16</sup>let not thine eye be envious: <sup>17</sup>turn not away thy face from any poor man, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee. <sup>18</sup>As thy substance is, give alms of it according to thine abundance; if thou have little, be not afraid to give alms according to that little: <sup>19</sup>for thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity: <sup>20</sup>because alms delivereth from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness. <sup>21</sup>Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. <sup>22</sup>Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and <sup>23</sup>take not a strange wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, our fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land. <sup>24</sup>And now, my child, love thy brethren, and scorn not in thy heart thy brethren, and the sons and the daughters of thy people, to take a wife of them: for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great want: for naughtiness is the mother of famine. <sup>25</sup>Let not the wages of any man, which shall work for thee, tarry with thee, but render it unto him out of hand: and if thou serve God, recompense shall be made unto thee. Take heed to thyself, my child, in all thy works, and be discreet in all thy behaviour. <sup>26</sup>And what thou thyself hatest, do to no man. <sup>27</sup>Drink not wine unto drunkenness, and let not drunkenness go with thee on thy way. <sup>28</sup>Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked: <sup>29</sup>of all thine abundance give alms; <sup>30</sup>and let not thine eye be envious when thou givest alms. <sup>31</sup>Pour out thy bread on the <sup>32</sup>burial of the just, <sup>33</sup>and give nothing to sinners. <sup>34</sup>Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable. <sup>35</sup>And bless the Lord thy God at all times, and ask of him that thy ways may be made straight, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but <sup>36</sup>the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbly whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of thy mind. <sup>37</sup>And now I shew thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with <sup>38</sup>Gabael the son of Gabrias at <sup>39</sup>Rages of Media. <sup>40</sup>And fear not, my child, because <sup>41</sup>we are made poor: <sup>42</sup>thou hast much wealth, if thou fear

God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

5 And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, whatsoever thou hast commanded me: <sup>m</sup>but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not? 3 And he gave him <sup>m</sup>the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, whiles I yet live: and go and receive the money. 4 And he went to seek a man, and found <sup>n</sup>Raphael which was an angel; 5 and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to <sup>r</sup>Rages of Media? and knowest thou the places well? 6 And the angel said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. 7 And Tobias said unto him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. 8 And he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. But he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

9 And he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. 10 And Tobit said unto him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family art thou? Shew me. 11 And he said unto him, Seekest thou a tribe and a family, or a hired man which shall go with thy son? And Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name. 12 And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy brethren. 13 And he said unto him, <sup>o</sup>Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, <sup>p</sup>of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, <sup>q</sup>when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray <sup>r</sup>in the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stock. 14 But tell me, <sup>s</sup>what wages shall I give thee? a drachma a day, and those things that be necessary for thee, as unto my son? 15 And moreover, if ye return safe and sound, I will add something to thy wages. 16 And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was useful for the journey, and his father said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, which dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and <sup>t</sup>may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's <sup>u</sup>dog with them.

17 But <sup>v</sup>Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our child? is he not the staff of our hand, <sup>w</sup>in going in and out before us? 18 Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child. 19 For as the Lord hath given us to live, so doth it suffice us. 20 And Tobit said to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return safe and sound, and thine eyes shall see him. 21 For <sup>x</sup>a good angel shall go with him, and his journey shall be prospered, and he shall return safe and sound. 22 And she made an end of weeping.

6 <sup>x</sup>Now as they went on their journey, they came at eventide to the river <sup>y</sup>Tigris, and they lodged there. 2 But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. 3 But the angel said unto him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, and cast it up on the land. 4 And the angel said unto him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely. 5 And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to <sup>a</sup>Ecbatana. 6 And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish? 7 And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a <sup>b</sup>devil or an evil spirit trouble any, <sup>b</sup>we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed. 8 But as for the gall, <sup>c</sup>it is good to anoint a man that hath white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

9 But when they drew nigh unto <sup>d</sup>Rages, <sup>d</sup>the angel said to the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with <sup>e</sup>Raguel, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, <sup>e</sup>named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given thee for a wife. 11 For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou only art of her kindred: 12 and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from <sup>d</sup>Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that <sup>e</sup>Raguel may in no wise marry her to another <sup>f</sup>according to the law of Moses, or else <sup>h</sup>he shall be liable to death, <sup>f</sup>because it appertaineth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other. 13 Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, <sup>g</sup>and that they all perished in the bride-chamber. <sup>14</sup> And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a <sup>15</sup> devil loveth her, which hurteth no man, but those which come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and <sup>16</sup> bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have no other son to bury them. <sup>15</sup> But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, <sup>17</sup> that thou shouldst take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be given thee to wife. <sup>16</sup> And <sup>18</sup> when thou shalt come into the bride-chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, <sup>19</sup> and shalt make a smoke therewith: <sup>17</sup> and the devil <sup>20</sup> shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry to God which is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee. And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

But Tobias said to <sup>9</sup> Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the matter be finished. <sup>9</sup> And he communicated the thing to <sup>10</sup> Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry: <sup>10</sup> for it appertaineth unto thee to take my child. Howbeit I will shew thee the truth. <sup>11</sup> I have given my child to seven men, and whosoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry. And Tobias said, <sup>12</sup> I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter into covenant with me. <sup>12</sup> And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good success to you. <sup>13</sup> And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself <sup>14</sup> after the law of Moses, and <sup>15</sup> lead her away to thy father. And he blessed them; <sup>14</sup> and he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instrument, and sealed it. <sup>15</sup> And they began to eat.

<sup>16</sup> And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in thither. <sup>17</sup> And she did as he bade her, and brought her in thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her, <sup>18</sup> Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee <sup>19</sup> favour for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

8 <sup>1</sup> And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in unto her. <sup>2</sup> But as he went, he remembered <sup>3</sup> the words of <sup>4</sup> Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith. <sup>3</sup> But when <sup>4</sup> the <sup>5</sup> devil smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, and the angel <sup>6</sup> bound him. <sup>4</sup> But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy on us. <sup>5</sup> And Tobias began to say, <sup>6</sup> Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures. <sup>6</sup> <sup>7</sup> Thou madest Adam, <sup>8</sup> and gavest him Eve his wife <sup>9</sup> for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men: thou didst say, It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like unto him. <sup>7</sup> And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with her. <sup>8</sup> And she said with him, Amen. <sup>9</sup> And they slept both that night.

And <sup>10</sup> Raguel arose, and went and digged a grave, <sup>11</sup> saying, Lest he also should die. <sup>12</sup> And Raguel came into his house, <sup>13</sup> and said to Edna his wife,

Send one of the maidservants, and let them see whether he be alive: but if not, <sup>7</sup>that we may bury him, and no man know it. <sup>13</sup>So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping, <sup>14</sup>and came forth, and told them that he was alive. <sup>15</sup>And Raguel blessed God, saying,

out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the day-time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until <sup>2</sup>the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. <sup>8</sup>But his father in law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. <sup>9</sup>And Tobias saith, No; but send me away to my father. <sup>10</sup>But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and <sup>11</sup>half his goods, servants and cattle and money; <sup>11</sup>and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, <sup>12</sup>The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. <sup>12</sup>And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law; they are now thy parents; let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

II <sup>1</sup>After these things Tobias also went his way, blessing God because he had prospered his journey; and he blessed Raguel and Edna his wife. And he went on his way till they drew near unto Nineveh. <sup>2</sup>And <sup>3</sup>Raphael said to Tobias, Knowest thou not, brother, how thou didst leave thy father? <sup>3</sup>Let us run forward before thy wife, and prepare the house. <sup>4</sup>But take in thy hand <sup>5</sup>the gall of the fish. And they went their way, and <sup>6</sup>the dog went after them. <sup>5</sup>And Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son. <sup>6</sup>And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him. <sup>7</sup>And <sup>8</sup>Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes. <sup>8</sup>Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with <sup>9</sup>the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

<sup>9</sup>And Anna ran unto him, and <sup>10</sup>fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, I have seen thee, my child; <sup>10</sup>from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. <sup>10</sup>And Tobit went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him, <sup>11</sup>and took hold of his father: and he strake the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. <sup>12</sup>But when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them; <sup>13</sup>and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell upon his neck. <sup>14</sup> And he wept, and said, <sup>a</sup> Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are all thy holy angels; <sup>15</sup> <sup>c</sup> for thou didst scourge, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

<sup>16</sup> And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they which saw him go marvelled, because he had received his sight. <sup>17</sup> And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shewed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, <sup>f</sup> Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed are thy father and thy mother. And there was joy to all his brethren which were at Nineveh. <sup>18</sup> And <sup>g</sup> Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came: <sup>19</sup> and Tobias' wedding feast was kept <sup>h</sup> seven days with great gladness.

I2 <sup>a</sup> And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man which went with thee have <sup>i</sup> his wages, and thou must give him more. <sup>2</sup> And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of <sup>j</sup> those things which I have brought: <sup>3</sup> for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee. <sup>4</sup> And the old man said, It is due unto him. <sup>5</sup> And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all that ye have brought. <sup>6</sup> Then he called them both privily, and said unto them,

Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. <sup>k</sup> It is good to bless God and exalt his name, shewing forth with honour the works of God; and be not slack to give him thanks. <sup>7</sup> It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. <sup>m</sup> Do good, and evil shall not find you. <sup>8</sup> <sup>n</sup> Good is prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. <sup>o</sup> A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. <sup>p</sup> It is better to give alms than to lay up gold: <sup>9</sup> alms doth deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life; <sup>10</sup> but <sup>r</sup> they that sin are enemies to their own life. <sup>11</sup> Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, <sup>s</sup> It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. <sup>12</sup> And now, <sup>t</sup> when thou didst pray, and <sup>u</sup> Sarah thy daughter in law, I did bring <sup>v</sup> the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and <sup>w</sup> when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise. <sup>13</sup> <sup>x</sup> And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go <sup>y</sup> and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee. <sup>14</sup> And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy daughter in law. <sup>15</sup> I am <sup>z</sup> Raphael, one of the <sup>a</sup> seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

<sup>16</sup> And they were both troubled, and <sup>b</sup> fell upon their faces; for they were afraid. <sup>17</sup> And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God for ever. <sup>18</sup> For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of your God I came; wherefore bless him for ever. <sup>19</sup> All these days did I appear unto you; and I did neither eat nor drink, but ye saw a vision. <sup>20</sup> And now give God thanks: because <sup>c</sup> I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the things which have been done. <sup>21</sup> And they rose up, and saw him no more. <sup>22</sup> And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

I3 <sup>a</sup> And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said, Blessed is God that liveth for ever,

And blessed is his kingdom.

He leadeth down to <sup>1</sup> the grave, and bringeth up again:

And there is none that shall escape his hand.

<sup>4</sup> There declare his greatness, And extol him before all the living: Because he is our Lord, And God is our Father for ever.

<sup>5</sup> <sup>d</sup> And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again shew mercy,

<sup>6</sup> If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul, To do truth before him, Then will he turn unto you, And will not hide his face from you. And see what he will do with you, And give him thanks with your whole mouth, And bless the Lord of righteousness, And exalt <sup>g</sup> the everlasting King. I <sup>h</sup> in the land of my captivity give him thanks, And shew his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him:

<sup>h</sup> Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?

7 I exalt my God,
And my soul doth exalt <sup>i</sup> the King of heaven,

And it shall rejoice in his greatness.

8 Let all men speak, and let them give him thanks <sup>j</sup> in Jerusalem.

9 O Jerusalem, <sup>k</sup> the holy city,
He will scourge thee for the works of thy sons,

And will again have mercy <sup>l</sup> on the sons of the righteous.

10 Give thanks to the Lord with goodness,

And bless <sup>m</sup> the everlasting King,
That his tabernacle may be builded in thee again with joy,

And that he may make glad in thee those that are captives,
And love in thee for ever those that are miserable.

11 <sup>n</sup> Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God

Generations of generations shall praise thee,

And sing songs of rejoicing.

12 <sup>p</sup> Cursed are all they that hate thee;

13 Rejoice and be exceeding glad for <sup>r</sup> the sons of the righteous:

For they shall be gathered together and shall bless the Lord of the righteous.

14 O <sup>s</sup> blessed are they that love thee;
They shall rejoice for thy peace:

<sup>t</sup> Blessed are all they that sorrowed for all thy scourges:

Because they shall rejoice for thee,
When they have seen all thy glory;
And they shall be made glad for ever.

15 Let my soul bless God <sup>u</sup> the great King.

16 <sup>v</sup> For Jerusalem shall be builded with sapphires and emeralds and precious stones;

Thy walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.

17 And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of <sup>w</sup> Ophir.

18 <sup>x</sup> And all her streets shall say, Hallelujah, and give praise,

Saying, Blessed is God, which hath exalted thee for ever.

I4 <sup>y</sup> And Tobit made an end of giving thanks. <sup>z</sup> And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again: and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks unto him.

3 Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said unto him,

My child, take thy sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart out of this life. <sup>a</sup> Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which <sup>b</sup> Jonah the prophet spake of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown, but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season; and <sup>c</sup> that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall be desolate for a time; <sup>d</sup> and God shall again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, <sup>e</sup> and they shall build the house, but <sup>f</sup> not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and <sup>g</sup> afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honour, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spake concerning it. <sup>h</sup> And <sup>i</sup> all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God truly, <sup>j</sup> and shall bury their idols. <sup>k</sup> And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren. <sup>l</sup> And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which <sup>m</sup> the prophet Jonah spake shall surely come to pass. <sup>n</sup> But keep thou the law and the ordinances, and shew thyself merciful and righteous, <sup>o</sup> that it may be well with thee. <sup>p</sup> And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to <sup>q</sup> Achiacharus that nourished him, how <sup>r</sup> out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him: and <sup>s</sup> Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. <sup>t</sup> Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. <sup>u</sup> And now, my children, <sup>v</sup> consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver.

And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and <sup>w</sup> he buried him magnificently. <sup>x</sup> And when Anna died, <sup>y</sup> he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to <sup>z</sup> Ecbatana unto Raguel his father in law, <sup>a</sup> and he grew old in honour, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's. <sup>b</sup> And he died at <sup>c</sup> Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty years old. <sup>d</sup> And before he died he heard of <sup>e</sup> the destruction of Nineveh, <sup>f</sup> which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of <sup>z</sup>Moab, and the children of <sup>a</sup>Ammon, and all Judæa, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of <sup>b</sup>the two seas. <sup>13</sup>And he set the battle in array with his host against king <sup>c</sup>Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the host of <sup>c</sup>Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all his chariots; <sup>14</sup>and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto <sup>d</sup>Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and <sup>e</sup>turned the beauty thereof into shame. <sup>15</sup>And he took <sup>c</sup>Arphaxad in the mountains of <sup>f</sup>Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day. <sup>16</sup>And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and <sup>g</sup>all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host, a hundred and twenty days.

them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. <sup>10</sup>But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts; and <sup>11</sup>if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve them for me till the day of their reproof. <sup>12</sup>But as for them that are disobedient, <sup>13</sup>thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be spoiled in all thy land. <sup>14</sup>For <sup>15</sup>as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I will do this with my hand. <sup>16</sup>And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress aught of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them.

the plain of Damascus <sup>43</sup>in the days of wheat harvest, and set on fire all their fields, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, and spoiled their cities, and laid their plains waste, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

<sup>44</sup>And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that dwelt on <sup>45</sup>the sea coast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan; and they that dwelt in <sup>46</sup>Azotus and <sup>47</sup>Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

and Belmair, and Jericho, and to <sup>10</sup> Choba, and <sup>11</sup> Esora, and to the valley of Salem; <sup>5</sup> and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: <sup>7</sup> for their fields were newly reaped. <sup>6</sup> And <sup>2</sup> Joakim the high priest, which was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in <sup>a</sup> Bethulia, and <sup>b</sup> Betomes-thaim, which is over against <sup>c</sup> Esdraelon toward the plain that is nigh unto <sup>d</sup> Dothaim, <sup>7</sup> charging them to seize upon <sup>e</sup> the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judæa, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most. <sup>8</sup> And the children of Israel did as <sup>2</sup> Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and <sup>1</sup> the senate of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of <sup>a</sup> Ammon, and all the governors of <sup>b</sup> the sea coast, <sup>3</sup> and he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Canaan, who is this people, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their host, and wherein is their power and their strength, and what king is set over them, to be the leader of their army; <sup>4</sup> and why have they turned their backs, that they should not come and meet me, more than all that dwell in the west.

Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will tell thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth in this hill country, nigh unto the place where thou dwellest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant. <sup>6</sup> This people are descended <sup>7</sup> of the Chaldeans: <sup>7</sup> and they sojourned heretofore in <sup>a</sup> Mesopotamia, <sup>8</sup> because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land <sup>9</sup> of the Chaldeans. <sup>8</sup> And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped <sup>10</sup> the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into <sup>a</sup> Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days. <sup>9</sup> And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they dwelt there, and <sup>11</sup> were increased with gold and silver, and with exceeding much cattle. <sup>10</sup> <sup>b</sup> And they went down into Egypt, <sup>c</sup> for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; <sup>d</sup> and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation. <sup>11</sup> <sup>e</sup> And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and <sup>f</sup> dealt subtilly with them, <sup>1</sup> and brought them low, <sup>2</sup> making them to labour in brick, and made them slaves. <sup>12</sup> And <sup>3</sup> they cried unto their God, and <sup>4</sup> he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: <sup>5</sup> and the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. <sup>13</sup> <sup>6</sup> And God dried up the Red sea before them, <sup>7</sup> and <sup>8</sup> brought them into the way of Sinai, and <sup>9</sup> <sup>a</sup> Kadesh-Barnea, and they cast out all that dwelt in the wilderness. <sup>15</sup> And they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and <sup>16</sup> passing over Jordan <sup>17</sup> they possessed all the hill country. <sup>16</sup> <sup>18</sup> And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Girgashites, and they dwelt in that country many days. <sup>17</sup> And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was with them. <sup>x8</sup> But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and <sup>s</sup> were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries. <sup>19</sup> And now they are returned to their God, and are <sup>t</sup> come up from <sup>u</sup> the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country: for it was desolate. <sup>20</sup> And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome them. <sup>21</sup> But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, <sup>v</sup> lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.

<sup>22</sup> And it came to pass, when <sup>w</sup> Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt <sup>y</sup> by the sea side, and in <sup>z</sup> Moab, spake that he should kill him. <sup>23</sup> For, said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: <sup>a</sup> for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might to make the battle strong. <sup>24</sup> Wherefore now we will go up, and <sup>b</sup> they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.

day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those that came out of Egypt. <sup>6</sup> And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, <sup>n</sup> when I shall return. <sup>7</sup> And my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities <sup>o</sup> of the ascents: <sup>8</sup> and thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them. <sup>9</sup> And if thou hopest in thy heart that they shall not be taken, let not <sup>p</sup> thy countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words <sup>q</sup> shall fall to the ground.

and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

<sup>a</sup>But the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were troubled exceedingly, and said every one to his neighbour, Now shall these men <sup>a</sup>lick up the face of all the earth; and neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, shall be able to bear their weight. <sup>a</sup>And every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

<sup>a</sup>For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but <sup>a</sup>in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.

their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell. <sup>a</sup>And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.

<sup>a</sup>And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainted; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

<sup>a</sup>And all the army of Asshur remained about them, their footmen and their chariots and their horsemen, four and thirty days; and all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of <sup>a</sup>Bethulia. <sup>a</sup>And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: <sup>a</sup>for they gave them drink by measure. <sup>a</sup>And <sup>a</sup>their young children were out of heart, <sup>a</sup>and the women and the young men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. <sup>a</sup>And all the people were gathered together against <sup>a</sup>Ozias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,

<sup>a</sup>God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us great wrong, in that ye have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur. <sup>a</sup>And now we have no helper: but God <sup>a</sup>hath sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. <sup>a</sup>And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city <sup>a</sup>for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his host. <sup>a</sup>For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and <sup>a</sup>our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death.

28 ¶ We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

29 And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice. 30 And Ozias said to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure 31 five days, in the which space the Lord our God shall turn his mercy toward us; for he will not forsake us utterly. 32 But if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your words. 33 And he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp; and they went away unto the walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

8 ¶ And in those days Judith heard thereof, b the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Salasadaï, c the son of Israel. 2 And her husband was Manasses, d of her tribe and of her family, and he died e in the days of barley harvest. 3 For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and f the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city g Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between h Dothaim and Balamon. 4 And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months. 5 And she made her a tent i upon the roof of her house, and j put on sackcloth upon her loins; and k the garments of her widowhood were upon her. 6 l And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and m the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel. 7 And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: n and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them. 8 And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

9 And she heard o the evil words of the people against the governor, p because they fainted for lack of water; and Judith heard q all the words that r Ozias spake unto them, how he swore to them that he would deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days. 10 And she sent her s maid, that was over all things that she had, to call t Ozias and Chabris and Charmis, u the elders of her city.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them,

Hear me now, O ye rulers of the inhabitants of v Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you. 12 And now who are ye that have w tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? 13 And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never know anything. 14 x For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh: and y how shall ye search out God, which hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, z provoke not the Lord our God to anger. 15 For if he be not minded to help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. 16 But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: a for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man, that he should be turned by intreaty. 17 a Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, b if it please him. 18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship c gods made with hands, d as it was in the former days; 19 for the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with a great fall before our enemies. 20 But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not despise us, nor any of our race. 21 For if we be taken so, all Judæa shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and of our blood shall he require the profanation thereof. 22 And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, e shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, where-soever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach before them that take us for a possession. 23 For our bondage shall not be ordered to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour. 24 And now, brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their soul hangeth upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. 25 Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, f which trieth us, even as he did our fathers also. 26 Remember all the things g which he did to Abraham, and all the things h in which he tried Isaac, and all the things i which

<sup>28</sup> And <sup>m</sup> Ozias said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. <sup>29</sup> For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. <sup>30</sup> <sup>n</sup> But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. <sup>31</sup> And now pray thou for us, <sup>o</sup> because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. <sup>32</sup> And Judith said unto them, Hear me, <sup>p</sup> and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. <sup>33</sup> <sup>q</sup> Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth <sup>r</sup> with my maid: and, within the days after which ye said that ye would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand.

their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that am a widow. <sup>5</sup> <sup>b</sup> For thou wroughtest the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and thou didst devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which thou didst devise came to pass; <sup>6</sup> yea, the things which thou didst determine stood before thee, and said, Lo, we are here: <sup>c</sup> for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgement is with foreknowledge. <sup>7</sup> For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; <sup>d</sup> they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the <sup>2</sup> strength of their footmen; <sup>e</sup> they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that thou art <sup>f</sup> the Lord that breaketh the battles: the Lord is thy name. <sup>8</sup> Dash thou down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to profane thy sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword <sup>g</sup> the horn of thine altar. <sup>9</sup> Look upon their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. <sup>10</sup> Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness <sup>h</sup> by the hand of a woman. <sup>11</sup> <sup>i</sup> For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou art a God of the afflicted, thou art a helper of the <sup>j</sup> oppressed, an upholder of the weak, <sup>j</sup> a protector of the forlorn, <sup>k</sup> a saviour of them that are without hope. <sup>12</sup> Yea, yea, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth, Creator of the waters, King <sup>4</sup> of every creature, hear thou my prayer: <sup>13</sup> and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, <sup>1</sup> who have purposed hard things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and the top of Sion, and the house of the possession of thy children. <sup>14</sup> And make every nation and tribe of thine to know that thou art God, <sup>m</sup> the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou.

IO <sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, <sup>2</sup> that she rose up <sup>n</sup> where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, <sup>3</sup> in the which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days and on her feast days, <sup>3</sup> and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off <sup>p</sup> the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could see her no more. <sup>11</sup>And they went straight onward in the valley: and <sup>2</sup>the watch of the Assyrians met her; <sup>12</sup>and they took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; <sup>a</sup>because they are about to be given you to be consumed: <sup>13</sup>and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will shew before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his men one person, nor one life. <sup>14</sup>Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, <sup>b</sup>the beauty thereof was exceeding marvellous in their eyes, and they said unto her, <sup>15</sup>Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they shall deliver thee into his hands. <sup>16</sup>But <sup>2</sup>when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but declare unto him according to thy words; and he shall entreat thee well. <sup>17</sup>And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

<sup>18</sup>And there was a concourse throughout all the camp, for her coming was noised among the tents; and they came and compassed her about, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, until they told him of her. <sup>19</sup><sup>b</sup>And they marvelled at her beauty, and marvelled at the children of Israel because of her, and each one said to his neighbour, Who shall despise this people, that have among them such women? for it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they shall be able to deceive the whole earth. <sup>20</sup>And they that lay near Holofernes, and all his servants, went forth <sup>c</sup>and brought her into the tent. <sup>21</sup>And Holofernes was resting upon his bed <sup>d</sup>under the canopy, <sup>e</sup>which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious stones. <sup>22</sup>And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. <sup>23</sup>But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and <sup>f</sup>she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants raised her up.

II <sup>1</sup>And Holofernes said unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that hath chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, <sup>2</sup>the king of all the earth. <sup>3</sup>And now, if thy people that dwellth in the hill country <sup>h</sup>had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves. <sup>4</sup>And now tell me wherefore thou didst flee from them, and camest unto us: for thou art come to save thyself; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter: <sup>4</sup>for there is none that shall wrong thee, but all shall entreat thee well, as is done unto the servants of king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. <sup>5</sup>And Judith said unto him,

Receive the words of thy servant, and let thy handmaid speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie unto my lord this night. <sup>6</sup>And if thou shalt follow the words of thy handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. <sup>7</sup><sup>a</sup>As Nebuchadnezzar <sup>g</sup>king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by thee, <sup>j</sup>but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. <sup>8</sup>For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtil devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. <sup>9</sup>And now as concerning the matter, which <sup>a</sup>Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of <sup>b</sup>Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken before thee. <sup>10</sup>Wherefore, O lord and master, reprove not <sup>m</sup>his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. <sup>11</sup>And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they shall <sup>n</sup>provoke their God to anger, whosoever they shall do wickedness. <sup>12</sup>Since their victuals failed them, <sup>o</sup>and all their water was scant, <sup>p</sup>they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat: <sup>13</sup>and they are resolved to spend <sup>q</sup>the firstfruits of the corn, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; the which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. <sup>14</sup>And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a licence from <sup>r</sup>the senate. <sup>15</sup>And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day. <sup>16</sup>Wherefore I thy servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with thee, whereto all the earth shall be astonished, even as many as shall hear it. <sup>17</sup>For thy servant is religious, and serveth <sup>s</sup>the God of heaven <sup>t</sup>day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with thee, and thy servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: <sup>18</sup>and I will come and shew it also unto thee; and thou shalt go forth with all thy host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee. <sup>19</sup>And I will lead thee through the midst of Judæa, until thou comest over against Jerusalem; and I will set thy seat in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them <sup>u</sup>as sheep that have no shepherd, and <sup>v</sup>a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared unto me, and I was sent to tell thee.

I2 <sup>y</sup>And he commanded to bring her in where <sup>y</sup>his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. <sup>2</sup>And Judith said, <sup>z</sup>I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me <sup>a</sup>of the things that are come with me. <sup>3</sup>And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. <sup>4</sup>And Judith said unto him, <sup>b</sup>As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend those things that be with me, <sup>c</sup>until the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined. <sup>5</sup>And the servants of Holofernes <sup>d</sup>brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she rose up toward the morning watch, <sup>e</sup>and sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that they suffer thy servant to go forth <sup>f</sup>unto prayer. <sup>7</sup>And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the camp three days, and went out every night into the valley of <sup>g</sup>Bethulia, and washed herself <sup>h</sup>at the fountain of water in the camp. <sup>8</sup>And when she came up, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way <sup>i</sup>to the raising up of the children of his people. <sup>9</sup>And she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she took her meat toward evening.

<sup>10</sup>And it came to pass <sup>j</sup>on the fourth day, Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet. <sup>11</sup>And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us. <sup>12</sup>For, lo, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she shall laugh us to scorn. <sup>13</sup>And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>14</sup>And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death. <sup>15</sup>And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. <sup>16</sup>And Judith came in and sat down, and <sup>17</sup>Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company: and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her. <sup>17</sup>And Holofernes said unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us. <sup>18</sup>And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. <sup>19</sup>And she took and ate and drank before him <sup>20</sup>what her servant had prepared. <sup>20</sup>And Holofernes took great delight in her, <sup>21</sup>and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

I3 But when the evening was come, <sup>1</sup>his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; <sup>2</sup>and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. <sup>3</sup>But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: <sup>4</sup>for he was overflowed with wine. <sup>5</sup>And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth <sup>6</sup>to her prayer; and she spake to Bagoas according to the same words. <sup>4</sup>And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God <sup>7</sup>of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands <sup>8</sup>for the exaltation of Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup>For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to do <sup>9</sup>the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which are risen up against us. <sup>6</sup>And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down <sup>7</sup>his scimitar from thence; <sup>7</sup>and she drew near unto the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day. <sup>8</sup>And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and <sup>9</sup>took away his head from him, <sup>9</sup>and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down <sup>10</sup>the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; <sup>10</sup>and she put it in <sup>11</sup>her bag of victuals: and they twain went forth together unto prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of <sup>12</sup>Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

<sup>11</sup>And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to shew his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath done even this day. <sup>12</sup>And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together <sup>13</sup>the elders of the city. <sup>13</sup>And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. <sup>14</sup>And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, <sup>15</sup>who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this night. <sup>15</sup>And she took forth the head out of <sup>16</sup>the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, <sup>17</sup>the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord smote him <sup>18</sup>by the hand of a woman. <sup>16</sup>And <sup>19</sup>as the Lord liveth, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me, to defile and shame me. <sup>17</sup>And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and <sup>20</sup>bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed art thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people. <sup>18</sup>And Ozias said unto her, <sup>21</sup>Blessed art thou, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed thee to the smiting of the head of the prince of our enemies. <sup>19</sup>For thy hope shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God for ever. <sup>20</sup>And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee with good things, because thou didst not spare thy life by reason of the affliction of our race, but didst avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. <sup>21</sup>And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

I4 And Judith said unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and <sup>1</sup>hang it upon the battlement of your wall. <sup>2</sup>And it shall be, so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, ye shall take up every one his weapons of war, and go forth every valiant man of you out of the city, and ye shall set a captain over them, as though ye would go down to the plain toward <sup>h</sup>the watch of the children of Asshur; and ye shall not go down. <sup>3</sup> And these shall take up their panoplies, and shall go into their camp, and rouse up the captains of the host of Asshur, and they shall run together to the tent of Holofernes, and they shall not find him: <sup>4</sup> and fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face. <sup>4</sup> And ye, and all that inhabit every coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go. <sup>5</sup> But before ye do these things, call me <sup>J</sup>Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and <sup>k</sup>that sent him to us, as it were to death.

it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been taken from him. <sup>16</sup> And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning and a mighty cry, and <sup>q</sup>rent his garments. <sup>17</sup> And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the people, and cried aloud, <sup>18</sup> The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for, behold, Holofernes <sup>lieth</sup> upon the ground, and his head is not on him. <sup>19</sup> But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, <sup>q</sup>they rent their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.

15 <sup>r</sup>And when they that were in the tents heard, they were amazed at the thing that was come to pass. <sup>2</sup> And trembling and fear fell upon them, and no man durst abide any more in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out with one accord, they fled into every way of the plain and of the hill country. <sup>3</sup> And they that had encamped in the hill country round about <sup>w</sup>Bethulia fled away. And then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them. <sup>4</sup> And Ozias sent to <sup>v</sup>Betomasthaim, and Bebai, and <sup>w</sup>Chobai, and Chola, and to every coast of Israel, such as should tell concerning the things that had been accomplished, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them. <sup>5</sup> But when the children of Israel heard, they all fell upon them with one accord, and smote them unto <sup>w</sup>Chobai: <sup>2</sup> yea, and in like manner also they of Jerusalem and of all the hill country came (for men had told them what things were come to pass in the camp of their enemies), and they that were in <sup>v</sup>Galilee and in <sup>v</sup>Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past <sup>2</sup>Damascus and the borders thereof. <sup>6</sup> But the residue, that dwelt at <sup>w</sup>Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Asshur, and spoiled them, and were enriched exceedingly. <sup>7</sup> But the children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and gat possession of that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the hill country and in the plain country, took many spoils: for there was an exceeding great store.

exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our race: <sup>10</sup> thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou with the Almighty Lord for evermore. <sup>e</sup> And all the people said, So be it. <sup>11</sup> <sup>a</sup> And the people spoiled the camp for the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and <sup>f</sup> all his silver cups, and his beds, and his vessels, and all his furniture: and she took them, and placed them on her mule, and made ready her wagons, and heaped them thereon.

16 <sup>a</sup> And Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud voices this song of praise. <sup>2</sup> And Judith said,

<sup>m</sup> For in his armies in the midst of the people He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me.

And their horsemen covered the hills.

<sup>5</sup> <sup>p</sup> He said that he would burn up my borders,

And kill my young men with the sword,

<sup>q</sup> And throw my sucking children to the ground,

And give mine infants for a prey, And make my virgins a spoil.

Neither did sons of <sup>s</sup> the Titans smite him,

Nor did <sup>t</sup> high giants set upon him: But Judith <sup>u</sup> the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

<sup>8</sup> <sup>v</sup> For she put off the apparel of her widowhood

For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,

She anointed her face with ointment, And bound her hair in a tire, And took a linen garment to deceive him.

<sup>11</sup> Then my lowly ones shouted aloud, And my weak ones were terrified and crouched for fear: They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

And the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence:

<sup>18</sup> Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshipped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their freewill offerings, and their gifts. <sup>19</sup> And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave <sup>n</sup> the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord. <sup>20</sup> And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem <sup>o</sup> before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them. <sup>21</sup> But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith

AFTER THE GREEK.

IO <sup>4</sup>Then Mardocheus said, These things are of God. <sup>5</sup>For I remember the dream <sup>a</sup>which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. <sup>6</sup>As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: <sup>7</sup>and the two dragons are I and Aman: <sup>8</sup>and the nations <sup>b</sup>are those that were assembled <sup>b</sup>to destroy the name of the Jews: <sup>9</sup>and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and <sup>c</sup>God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the nations. <sup>10</sup><sup>d</sup>Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the nations. <sup>11</sup>And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgement, before God among all the nations. <sup>12</sup>So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance. <sup>13</sup><sup>e</sup>Therefore these days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, throughout the generations for ever among his people Israel.

II <sup>f</sup>In the fourth year of the reign of <sup>f</sup>Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dosithæus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemy his son, brought <sup>g</sup>the epistle of Phrurai <sup>g</sup>here set forth, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

unto the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord, <sup>9</sup>and said, O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty: <sup>e</sup>for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: <sup>10</sup>for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are beneath the heaven; <sup>11</sup>and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord. <sup>12</sup><sup>g</sup>Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that <sup>h</sup>I did not bow down to proud Aman. <sup>13</sup><sup>i</sup>For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet. <sup>14</sup>But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I bow down unto any but to thee, which art my Lord, neither will I do it in pride. <sup>15</sup>And now, O Lord, thou God and King, <sup>j</sup>the God of Abraham, <sup>k</sup>spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought, and they desire to destroy <sup>l</sup>the heritage, that hath been thine from the beginning. <sup>16</sup><sup>m</sup>Despise not thy portion, which thou didst redeem out of the land of Egypt for thine own self. <sup>17</sup>Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: <sup>n</sup>and turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live, O Lord, and sing praises to thy name: and destroy not <sup>o</sup>the mouth of them that praise thee, O Lord.

with their idols, <sup>9</sup> that they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop <sup>w</sup> the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and thine altar, <sup>10</sup> and open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the virtues of idols, and <sup>11</sup> that a fleshly king shall be magnified for ever. <sup>12</sup> O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them <sup>v</sup> that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; <sup>2</sup> but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us. <sup>13</sup> Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in the time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O <sup>a</sup> King of the gods, and holder of all dominion. <sup>13</sup> Give me eloquent speech in my mouth <sup>b</sup> before the lion: and turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of them that are likeminded with him: <sup>14</sup> but deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee, O Lord. <sup>15</sup> <sup>c</sup> Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every alien. <sup>16</sup> Thou knowest my necessity: that I abhor the sign of my high estate, <sup>d</sup> which is upon mine head in the days wherein I shew myself. I abhor it <sup>e</sup> as a menstruous rag, and I wear it not when I am private by myself. <sup>17</sup> And thine handmaid <sup>f</sup> hath not eaten at Aman's table, neither have I honoured the king's feast, nor <sup>g</sup> drunk the wine of the drink offerings. <sup>18</sup> Neither had thine handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O Lord, thou God of Abraham. <sup>19</sup> O God, that art mighty above all, <sup>h</sup> hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: <sup>m</sup> and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before. <sup>8</sup> <sup>n</sup> Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words, and said unto her, <sup>9</sup> Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer; <sup>10</sup> thou shalt not die, for <sup>2</sup> our commandment is for our subjects: come near. <sup>11</sup> <sup>o</sup> So he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, <sup>12</sup> and embraced her, and said, Speak unto me. <sup>13</sup> Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, <sup>p</sup> as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy glory. <sup>14</sup> For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of grace. <sup>15</sup> And as she was speaking, she fell down for faintness. <sup>16</sup> Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her. <sup>3</sup>

received of us, <sup>11</sup> had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called <sup>12</sup> our father, and was continually honoured of all men, <sup>13</sup> as the next person unto the royal throne. <sup>14</sup> But he, not hearing his high estate, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and our life; <sup>15</sup> having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction, as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of Esther the blameless partaker of our kingdom, together with their whole nation. <sup>16</sup> For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians. <sup>17</sup> But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live by most just laws; <sup>18</sup> and that they be children of <sup>19</sup> the most high and most mighty living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner. <sup>20</sup> Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters <sup>21</sup> sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadathus. <sup>22</sup> For he, that was the worker of these things, <sup>23</sup> is hanged at the gates of <sup>24</sup> Susa <sup>25</sup> with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts. <sup>26</sup> Therefore ye shall publish openly the copy of this letter in all places, and let the Jews live after their own laws, <sup>27</sup> and ye shall aid them, that even the same day, <sup>28</sup> being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may defend themselves against those who set upon them in the time of their affliction. <sup>29</sup> For Almighty God hath made this day to be a joy unto them, instead of the destruction of the chosen people. <sup>30</sup> And ye shall therefore among your commemorative feasts keep it a high day with all feasting: <sup>31</sup> that both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us a memorial of destruction. <sup>32</sup> Therefore every city or country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be utterly destroyed without mercy with <sup>33</sup> fire and sword; it shall be made not only unpassable for men, <sup>34</sup> but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

Think ye of the Lord <sup>2</sup> with a good mind,
And in singleness of heart seek ye him;
<sup>3</sup> Because he is found of them that tempt him not,
And <sup>4</sup> his manifested to them that do not distrust him.
And the <sup>6</sup> supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, <sup>7</sup> putteth to confusion the foolish:
<sup>8</sup> Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil,
Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.
<sup>9</sup> For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit,
And will start away <sup>10</sup> from thoughts that are without understanding,
And will be <sup>11</sup> put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.

And she will not hold a <sup>9</sup> blasphemer guiltless for his lips;
Because <sup>10</sup> God beareth witness of his reins,
And is a true overseer of his heart,
And <sup>11</sup> a hearer of his tongue:
And that <sup>15</sup> which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.
<sup>16</sup> Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen;
<sup>18</sup> For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;
And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord
To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:
<sup>19</sup> Because there is an ear of <sup>20</sup> jealousy that listeneth to all things,

12 Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark,
The air disparted closeth up again immediately,
So that men know not where it passed through :

13 So we also, as soon as we were born,
1 ceased to be ;
And of virtue we had no sign to shew,
But in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.

14 Because <sup>e</sup>the hope of the ungodly man is <sup>f</sup>as chaff carried by the wind,
And <sup>2</sup>as <sup>3</sup>foam vanishing before a tempest ;
And is scattered <sup>4</sup>as smoke is scattered by the wind,
And passeth by <sup>h</sup>as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

15 But the righteous live for ever,
And <sup>i</sup>in the Lord is their reward,
And the care for them with the Most High.

16 Therefore shall they receive <sup>j</sup>the crown of royal dignity
And <sup>k</sup>the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand ;
Because <sup>l</sup>with his right hand shall he cover them,
And with his arm shall he shield them.

17 He shall take his <sup>m</sup>jealousy as complete armour,

18 <sup>o</sup>He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate, <sup>p</sup>And shall array himself with judgement unfeigned as with a helmet ;

19 <sup>q</sup>He shall take holiness as an invincible shield,

21 <sup>s</sup>Shafts of lightning shall fly with true aim,
And from the clouds, as from a well drawn bow, shall they leap to the mark.

22 <sup>t</sup>And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of wrath ;
<sup>u</sup>The water of the sea shall be angered against them,

23 <sup>w</sup>A mighty blast shall encounter them,
And as a tempest shall it winnow them away :

And so shall lawlessness make all the land desolate,
And their evil-doing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

6 <sup>1</sup> Hear therefore, ye kings, and understand ;
Learn, ye judges of the ends of the earth :

2 Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people,
And make your boast <sup>5</sup>in multitudes of nations.

3 <sup>7</sup>Because your dominion was given you from the Lord,
And your sovereignty from the Most High ;
Who shall search out your works,
And shall make inquisition of your counsels :

4 Because being officers of his kingdom <sup>2</sup>ye did not judge aright, Neither kept ye <sup>6</sup>law, nor walked after the counsel of God.

5 Awfully and swiftly shall he come upon you ;
Because a stern judgement befalleth them that be in high place :

6 <sup>a</sup>For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy,
But mighty men shall be <sup>7</sup>searched out mightily.

7 For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself <sup>b</sup>for any man's person, Neither will he reverence greatness ;
Because it is he that made both small and great,
<sup>d</sup>And alike he taketh thought for all ;

8 But <sup>8</sup>strict is the scrutiny that cometh upon the powerful.

9 <sup>e</sup>Unto you therefore, O princes, are my words,
That ye may learn wisdom and <sup>9</sup>fall not from the right way.

10 <sup>g</sup>For they that have kept holily the things that are holy shall themselves be <sup>10</sup>hallowed ;
And <sup>h</sup>they that have been taught them shall find what to answer ;

11 Set your desire therefore on my words ;
Long for them, and ye shall be <sup>11</sup>trained by their discipline.

12 Wisdom <sup>i</sup>is radiant and fadeth not away ;
And <sup>j</sup>easily is she beheld of them that love her,
And found of them that seek her.

13 <sup>k</sup>She forestalleth them that desire to know her, making herself first known.

14 <sup>l</sup>He that riseth up early to seek her shall have no toil,

For he shall find her sitting at his gates.

15 For to think upon her is perfectness of understanding,

And he that watcheth for her sake shall quickly be <sup>m</sup>free from care.

16 Because she goeth about, herself seeking them that are worthy of her,

And in their paths she appeareth unto them graciously,

And in every purpose she meeteth them.

17 For <sup>1</sup>her <sup>2</sup>true beginning is desire of <sup>n</sup>discipline;

And the care for discipline is love of her;

18 And <sup>o</sup>love of her is observance of her laws;

And to give heed to her laws confirmeth <sup>p</sup>in corruption;

19 And incorruption <sup>q</sup>bringeth near unto God;

20 So then desire of wisdom <sup>r</sup>promoteth to a kingdom.

21 If therefore ye delight in thrones and sceptres, ye princes of peoples,

Honour wisdom, that ye <sup>q</sup>may reign for ever.

22 But what wisdom is, and how she came into being, I will declare,

And I will not hide mysteries from you;

But I will trace her out <sup>4</sup>from <sup>r</sup>the beginning of creation,

And bring the knowledge of her into clear light,

And I will not pass by the truth;

23 Neither indeed <sup>s</sup>will I take <sup>u</sup>pining envy for my companion in the way,

24 But <sup>u</sup>a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,

And an understanding king is tranquillity to his people.

25 Wherefore be disciplined by my words, and thereby shall ye profit.

7 <sup>x</sup> I myself also am <sup>7</sup>mortal, like to all,

And am sprung from one <sup>v</sup>born of the earth, <sup>w</sup>the man first formed,

2 And in the womb of a mother was I moulded into flesh in the time of ten months,

Being <sup>w</sup>compacted in blood of the seed of man and pleasure that came with sleep.

3 And I also, when I was born, drew in the common air,

And fell upon <sup>y</sup>the <sup>z</sup>kindred earth, Uttering, like all, for my first voice,

the selfsame wail:

4 In swaddling clothes was I nursed, and <sup>9</sup>with watchful cares.

5 For no king had any other first beginning;

6 But <sup>z</sup>all men have one entrance into life, and a like departure.

7 <sup>a</sup>For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given me:

I called upon God, and there came to me a spirit of wisdom.

8 I preferred her before sceptres and thrones,

9 Neither did I liken to her any priceless gem,

<sup>c</sup>Because all the gold of the earth in her presence is a little sand,

And silver shall be accounted as clay before her.

10 <sup>d</sup>Above health and comeliness I loved her,

And I chose to have her rather than light,

11 But <sup>f</sup>with her there came to me all good things together,

And in her hands innumerable riches:

12 And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leadeth them;

Though I knew not that she was the <sup>10</sup>mother of them.

13 As I learned without guile, I impart <sup>g</sup>without grudging;

14 For she is unto men a treasure that faileth not,

And <sup>i</sup>they that use it <sup>11</sup>obtain friendship with God,

Commended to him <sup>12</sup>by the gifts which they through <sup>j</sup>discipline present to him.

15 <sup>k</sup>But to me may God give to speak <sup>13</sup>with judgement,

And to conceive thoughts worthy of what <sup>14</sup>hath been given me;

Because himself is one that guideth even wisdom and that correcteth the wise.

16 For in his hand are both we and <sup>l</sup>our words;

17 <sup>n</sup>For himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that are,

To know the constitution of the world, and the operation of the elements;

18 The beginning and end and middle of times,

The alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons,

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,
<sup>3</sup> Alone in kind, <sup>7</sup> manifold, Subtil, <sup>8</sup> freely moving,
<sup>4</sup> Clear in utterance, <sup>9</sup> unpolluted, Distinct, unharmed, Loving what is good, <sup>10</sup> keen, unhindered,
And penetrating through all spirits That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtil:

Yea, <sup>12</sup> she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.

And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;
Therefore can <sup>14</sup> nothing defiled find entrance into her.

<sup>26</sup> For she is an effluence from everlasting light,
And an unspotted mirror of the working of God,
And an <sup>15</sup> image of his goodness.

And remaining in herself, <sup>17</sup> reneweth all things:

And from generation to generation passing into holy souls
She maketh men <sup>18</sup> friends of God and prophets.

<sup>29</sup> For she is fairer than the sun,
And above <sup>19</sup> all <sup>19</sup> the constellations of the stars:
Being compared with light, she is found to be before it;

<sup>30</sup> For <sup>20</sup> to the light of day succeedeth night,
But against wisdom evil doth not prevail;

8 <sup>21</sup> But <sup>21</sup> she <sup>21</sup> reacheth from one end of the world to the other with full strength,

And ordereth all things <sup>8</sup> graciously.

And <sup>2</sup> I sought to take her for my bride,
And I became enamoured of her beauty.

<sup>3</sup> She glorifieth her noble birth in that it is given her to live with God,
And <sup>1</sup> the Sovereign Lord of all loved her.

<sup>4</sup> For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,
And she <sup>9</sup> chooseth out for him his works.

<sup>7</sup> And if a man loveth righteousness, <sup>13</sup> The fruits of wisdom's labour are virtues,
For she teacheth soberness and understanding, righteousness and courage;
And there is nothing in life for men more profitable than these.

<sup>8</sup> And if a man longeth even for <sup>14</sup> much experience,
She knoweth <sup>15</sup> the things of old, and <sup>16</sup> divineth the things to come:

She foreseeeth <sup>17</sup> signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.

<sup>9</sup> <sup>17</sup> I determined therefore to take her unto me to live with me, Knowing that she is one who would <sup>18</sup> give me good thoughts for counsel,
And <sup>19</sup> encourage me in cares and grief.

<sup>10</sup> Because of her I shall have glory <sup>20</sup> among multitudes,
And honour in the sight of elders, <sup>21</sup> though I be young.

And in the presence of <sup>23</sup> princes I shall be admired.

<sup>12</sup> <sup>24</sup> When I am silent, they shall wait for me;
And when I open my lips, they shall give heed unto me;
And if I continue speaking, <sup>25</sup> they shall lay their hand upon their mouth.

And leave behind an eternal memory to them that come after me.

is given, this too came of understanding),

<sup>f</sup>I pleaded with the Lord and besought him,

And <sup>g</sup>with my whole heart I said,

9 <sup>1</sup> O God of the fathers, and <sup>6</sup>Lord who keepest thy mercy, <sup>h</sup>Who madest all things <sup>7</sup>by thy word;

<sup>2</sup> And by thy wisdom thou formedst man,

<sup>i</sup>That he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by thee,

<sup>3</sup> And rule the world in holiness and righteousness,
And execute judgement in uprightness of soul;

<sup>4</sup> Give me wisdom, <sup>j</sup>her that sitteth by thee <sup>k</sup>on thy <sup>8</sup>throne;
And reject me not from among thy <sup>9</sup>servants:

<sup>5</sup> Because <sup>l</sup>I am thy bondman and the son of thy handmaid,
A man weak and short-lived,
And <sup>m</sup>of small power to understand judgement and laws.

<sup>6</sup> For even if a man be perfect among the sons of men,
Yet if the wisdom that cometh from thee be not with him, he shall be held in no account.

<sup>7</sup> <sup>n</sup>Thou didst choose me before my brethren to be king of thy people,
And to do judgement for thy sons and daughters.

<sup>8</sup> <sup>o</sup>Thou gavest command to build a sanctuary in thy holy mountain,
And <sup>10</sup>an altar in the city of thy <sup>11</sup>habitation,

<sup>2</sup>A copy of the holy tabernacle which thou preparedst aforehand from the beginning.

<sup>9</sup> And <sup>q</sup>with thee is wisdom, which knoweth thy works,

<sup>r</sup>And was present when thou wast making the world,
And which understandeth what is pleasing in thine eyes,
And what is right <sup>12</sup>according to thy commandments.

<sup>10</sup> Send her forth <sup>s</sup>out of the holy heavens,

And <sup>t</sup>from the throne of thy glory bid her come,
That being present with me she may toil with me,
And that I may learn what is well-pleasing before thee.

<sup>11</sup> For <sup>u</sup>she knoweth all things and hath understanding thereof,
And in my doings she shall guide me in ways of soberness,

And she shall guard me in her glory.

<sup>12</sup> And <sup>so</sup> shall my works be acceptable,
And I shall judge thy people righteously,
And I shall be worthy of my father's

<sup>13</sup> <sup>v</sup>For what man shall know the counsel of God?
Or who shall conceive what the Lord willeth?

<sup>14</sup> For the thoughts of mortals are <sup>13</sup>timorous,

And our devices are prone to fail.

<sup>15</sup> <sup>w</sup>For a corruptible body weigheth down the soul,
And the earthy frame lieth heavy on a mind that <sup>14</sup>is full of cares.

<sup>16</sup> <sup>x</sup>And hardly do we <sup>15</sup>divine the things that are on earth,
And the things that are close at hand
we find with labour;
But the things that are in the heavens who <sup>ever</sup> yet traced out?

<sup>17</sup> And who <sup>ever</sup> gained knowledge of thy counsel, <sup>y</sup>except thou <sup>16</sup>gavest wisdom,
And sentest thy holy spirit <sup>17</sup>from on high?

<sup>9</sup> For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastened, They learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged with wrath:

<sup>11</sup> Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed;

In the last issue of what came to pass <sup>7</sup> they marvelled, Having thirsted in another manner than the righteous.

And <sup>o</sup> the might of thine arm who shall withstand?

And <sup>s</sup> thou overlookest the sins of men <sup>t</sup> to the end they may repent.

For never wouldest thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.

Or that which was not <sup>v</sup> called by thee, how would it have been preserved?

13 <sup>x</sup> For verily all men by nature <sup>3</sup> were but <sup>y</sup> vain who had no perception of God,

And <sup>z</sup> from the good things that are seen they gained not power to know <sup>b</sup> him that is,

Neither by giving heed to the works did they recognise the artificer ;

Or <sup>4</sup> circling <sup>i</sup> stars, or raging water, or <sup>5</sup> luminaries of heaven,

They thought to be gods that rule the world.

3 And if it was through delight in their <sup>j</sup> beauty that they took them to be gods,

Let them know how much better than these is their Sovereign Lord ; For the first author of beauty created them :

4 But if it was through astonishment at their power and <sup>6</sup> influence,

<sup>k</sup> Let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them ;

5 For from the <sup>7</sup> greatness of the beauty <sup>8</sup> even of created things

6 But yet for these <sup>11</sup> men there is but small blame,

For they too peradventure do but go astray

7 For <sup>12</sup> living among his works they make diligent search,

And they <sup>13</sup> yield themselves up to sight, because the things that they look upon are beautiful.

8 But again even <sup>m</sup> they are not to be excused.

9 For if they had power to know so much,

That they should be able to explore <sup>14</sup> the course of things,

How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these his works ?

10 But miserable <sup>3</sup> were they, and <sup>15</sup> in <sup>n</sup> dead things <sup>3</sup> were their hopes, Who called them gods which are <sup>o</sup> works of men's hands,

Gold and silver, <sup>p</sup> wrought with careful art, and <sup>q</sup> likenesses of animals, Or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

11 Yea and if <sup>r</sup> some <sup>16</sup> woodcutter, having sawn down a <sup>17</sup> tree that is easily moved,

Skilfully strippeth away all its bark, And fashioning it in comely form maketh <sup>s</sup> a vessel useful for the service of life ;

12 <sup>t</sup> And burning the refuse of his handwork to dress his food, eateth his fill ;

13 And taking the very refuse thereof which served to no use,

A crooked piece of wood and full of knots,

Carveth it with the diligence of his idleness,

And shapeth it by the skill of his <sup>18</sup> indolence ;

14 Or maketh it like some <sup>u</sup> paltry animal,

And smearing over every stain that is therein ;

15 And having made for it a chamber worthy of it,

16 While then he taketh thought for it <sup>x</sup> that it may not fall down,

<sup>y</sup> Knowing that it is unable to help itself ;

(For verily it is an image, and hath need of help ;)

17 <sup>z</sup> When he maketh his prayer concerning goods and his marriage and children,

He is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life ;

18 Yea for health he calleth upon that which is weak,

And for life he beseecheth <sup>n</sup> that which is dead,

And for aid he supplicateth that which hath least experience,

And for a good journey <sup>a</sup> that which cannot so much as move a step,

19 And for gaining and <sup>21</sup> getting and good success of his hands

14 <sup>1</sup> Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging waves,

<sup>b</sup> Calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him;

<sup>2</sup> For that vessel the hunger for gains devised,
And an <sup>c</sup> artificer, even wisdom, built it;

<sup>3</sup> And thy providence, O Father, guideth it along,

<sup>d</sup> Because even in the sea thou gavest a way,
And in the waves a sure path,

<sup>4</sup> Shewing that thou canst save out of every danger,
That so even without art a man may put to sea;

<sup>5</sup> And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should not be idle;
Therefore also do men intrust their lives to <sup>e</sup> a little piece of wood,
And passing through the surge <sup>1</sup> on a raft are brought safe to land.

The hope of the world, <sup>g</sup> taking refuge on a raft,

<sup>8</sup> But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and <sup>i</sup> he that made it;
Because his was the working, and <sup>j</sup> the corruptible thing was named a god:

Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made <sup>m</sup> an abomination,

And stumblingblocks to the souls of men,

And <sup>p</sup> the invention of them the corruption of life:

And therefore was a speedy end devised for them.

<sup>15</sup> For a father worn with untimely grief,
Making an image of the child quickly taken away,
Now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man,
And delivered to those that were under him <sup>r</sup> mysteries and solemn rites.

<sup>16</sup> Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,
And <sup>s</sup> by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.

<sup>17</sup> And when men could not honour them in presence because they dwelt far off, Imagining the likeness from afar,
They made a visible image of the king whom they honoured,
That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.

<sup>18</sup> But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,
Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer;

<sup>19</sup> For he, wishing peradventure to please one in authority,

Because men, in bondage either <sup>y</sup> to calamity or <sup>z</sup> to tyranny, Invested stones and stocks <sup>a</sup> with the incommunicable Name.

<sup>22</sup> Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;
But also, while they live <sup>7</sup> in <sup>8</sup> sore conflict through ignorance of him,

Or <sup>e</sup> holding frantic revels of strange ordinances,

But one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate offspring.

25 <sup>f</sup> And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder, theft and deceit,

27 For the worship of <sup>3</sup> those <sup>4</sup> nameless idols

28 For their worshippers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies,

Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.

29 For putting their trust in lifeless idols,

<sup>k</sup> When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.

30 But for both <sup>l</sup> sins shall the just doom pursue them, Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols, And <sup>l</sup> swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom men swear, But it is <sup>4</sup> that <sup>m</sup> Justice which hath regard to them that sin, That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

15 <sup>i</sup> <sup>n</sup> But thou, our God, art gracious and true, Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things.

2 For even if we sin, <sup>o</sup> we are thine, knowing thy dominion; But we shall not sin, knowing that we have been accounted thine:

3 For <sup>p</sup> to be acquainted with thee is <sup>q</sup> perfect righteousness, And to know thy dominion is <sup>q</sup> the root of immortality.

4 <sup>r</sup> For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art, Nor yet by <sup>s</sup> painters' fruitless labour, A form stained with varied colours;

Their desire is for the <sup>u</sup> breathless form of a <sup>v</sup> dead image.

6 Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these, Are <sup>w</sup> both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.

7 <sup>x</sup> For a potter, kneading soft earth, Laboriously mouldeth each several vessel for our service:

Nay, <sup>20</sup> out of the same clay doth he fashion

Both <sup>y</sup> the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort.

All in like manner; But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort,

The <sup>z</sup> craftsman himself is the judge.

8 And also, labouring to an evil end, he mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay,

He who, having but a little before been made of earth,

After a short space <sup>2</sup> goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken,

When he is <sup>a</sup> required to render back the <sup>8</sup> soul <sup>b</sup> which was lent him.

9 Howbeit he hath anxious care, Not because his powers must fail,

Nor because his span of life is short; But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and <sup>c</sup> silversmiths, And he imitateth moulders in <sup>10</sup> brass,

And esteemeth it glory that he mouldeth counterfeits.

10 His heart is ashes, And his hope of less value than earth,

And his life of less honour than clay:

11 Because he was ignorant of him that moulded him,

And of him that inspired into him <sup>11</sup> an active <sup>8</sup> soul,

And <sup>d</sup> breathed into him a vital spirit.

12 But <sup>12</sup> he accounted our very life to be a <sup>13</sup> plaything,

And our <sup>14</sup> lifetime <sup>e</sup> a gainful <sup>15</sup> fair;

For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.

13 For this man beyond all others knoweth that he sinneth,

14 But most foolish <sup>16</sup> were they all, and <sup>17</sup> of feebler soul than a babe,

The enemies of thy people, who oppressed them;

15 Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be gods;

<sup>g</sup> Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,

Nor nostrils <sup>h</sup> for drawing breath, Nor ears to hear,

Nor fingers for handling, And <sup>i</sup> their feet are helpless for walking.

16 For a man made them, And one <sup>j</sup> whose own spirit is borrowed moulded them;

For no one hath power, being a man, to mould a god like unto himself,

17 But, being mortal, he maketh <sup>k</sup>a dead thing by the work of lawless hands;
For he is better than the objects of his worship,

18 Yea, and <sup>m</sup>the creatures that are most hateful do they worship, <sup>2</sup>For, being compared as to want of sense, these are worse than all others;

19 Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them,
But <sup>n</sup>they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

16 <sup>x</sup> For this cause were these men <sup>o</sup>worthily punished through creatures like those which they worship,

And tormented through a multitude of vermin.

Food of <sup>3</sup>rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;

<sup>3</sup> To the end that <sup>4</sup>thine enemies, desiring food, Might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them

<sup>q</sup>Loathe even the necessary appetite;
But these, thy people, <sup>r</sup>having for a short space suffered want,
Might even partake of food of <sup>3</sup>rare taste.

<sup>4</sup> For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable want in their tyrannous dealing,
But that <sup>s</sup>to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

Thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;

<sup>6</sup> But <sup>v</sup>for admonition were they troubled for a short space,
Having <sup>w</sup>a token of salvation,
To put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law:

<sup>7</sup> For he that turned toward it was not saved <sup>2</sup>because of that which was beheld,
But because of thee, <sup>v</sup>the Saviour of all.

<sup>8</sup> Yea, and in this didst thou <sup>2</sup>persuade our enemies,
That thou art he that delivereth out of every evil.

And there was not found a healing for their life,
Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

<sup>10</sup> But thy sons not <sup>u</sup>the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame,
For thy mercy passed by where they were, and <sup>w</sup>healed them.

They should become <sup>v</sup>unable to be <sup>8</sup>roused by thy beneficence:

But thy word, O Lord, <sup>f</sup>which healeth all things;

And thou ledest down to the gates of Hades, and ledest up again.

<sup>h</sup>Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turneth not again, Neither giveth release to the soul that Hades hath received.

<sup>16</sup> For ungodly men, <sup>10</sup>i refusing to know thee, were scourged, <sup>j</sup>in the strength of thine arm,

<sup>17</sup> For, what was most marvellous of all,

In the water which quencheth all things <sup>l</sup>the fire wrought yet more mightily;

And bread ready for their use didst thou provide for them from heaven without their toil,

Bread having the virtue of <sup>s</sup>every pleasant savour,

And agreeing to every taste;

4, 5.

4 For neither did <sup>l</sup>the dark recesses

5 And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,

23. 65—67.

<sup>m</sup>Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:

6 <sup>n</sup>But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear;

And in terror they deemed the things which they saw

To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

7 <sup>10</sup>And they lay helpless, <sup>o</sup>made the vaunts of understanding:

& 9. 11.

8 For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,

These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness:

9 For even if no troublous thing affrighted them,

Yet, <sup>r</sup>fearcd with the creepings of ver-perished <sup>11</sup>for very trembling, Refusing even to look on the air,

which could on no side be escaped.

All sleeping the same sleep,

15 Now were haunted by <sup>w</sup>monstrous

And now were paralysed by their

For fear sudden and unlooked for

<sup>16</sup> So then every man, whosoever it might be, sinking down <sup>19</sup> in his place, Was kept in ward shut up in that prison which was barred not with iron:

<sup>17</sup> For whether he were a husbandman, or a shepherd, Or a labourer whose toils were in the wilderness, He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity,

Or an echo rebounding from <sup>2</sup> the hollows of the mountains,

That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by <sup>u</sup> the oaths which they had trusted:

THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH,

ECCLESIASTICUS.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered unto us by <sup>a</sup>the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for the which things we must give Israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are intreated therefore to read with favour and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken <sup>b</sup>in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but <sup>c</sup>the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirtieth year of Euergetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found <sup>d</sup>a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners beforehand, so as to live according to the law.

I <sup>c</sup>ALL wisdom cometh from the Lord,

And <sup>d</sup>is with him for ever.

2 The <sup>e</sup>sand of the seas, and the <sup>f</sup>drops of rain,
And the days of eternity, who shall number?

3 <sup>g</sup>The height of the heaven, and the breadth of the earth,
And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?

4 <sup>h</sup>Wisdom hath been created before all things,
And the understanding of prudence from everlasting.<sup>1</sup>

6 <sup>i</sup>To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed?
And who hath known her shrewd counsels?<sup>1</sup>

8 There is <sup>j</sup>one wise, greatly to be feared,
The Lord sitting upon his throne:

9 He created her,
<sup>k</sup>And saw, and numbered her,
And poured her out <sup>l</sup>upon all his works.

10 <sup>m</sup>She is with all flesh according to his gift;
And he gave her freely <sup>n</sup>to them that love him.

11 <sup>o</sup>The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,
And gladness, and <sup>p</sup>a crown of rejoicing.

12 The fear of the Lord shall delight the heart,
And shall give gladness, and joy, and <sup>q</sup>length of days.

13 Whoso feareth the Lord, <sup>r</sup>it shall go well with him at the last,
And in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

14 <sup>s</sup>To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom;
And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.

And with their seed shall she be had in trust.

16 <sup>v</sup>To fear the Lord is the fulness of wisdom;
And she satiateth men with <sup>w</sup>her fruits.

17 She shall fill all her house with desirable things,
And her garners with her produce.

18 The fear of the Lord is the crown of wisdom,

Making peace and <sup>3</sup>perfect health to flourish.<sup>4</sup>

19 <sup>5</sup>He both saw and numbered her;
He rained down skill and knowledge of understanding,
And <sup>w</sup>exalted the honour of them that hold her fast.

20 <sup>s</sup>To fear the Lord is <sup>a</sup>the root of wisdom;

For the sway of his wrath is his downfall.

23 <sup>a</sup>A man that is long suffering will <sup>b</sup>bear <sup>7</sup>for a season,
And afterward gladness shall spring up unto him;

24 <sup>b</sup>He will hide his words <sup>7</sup>for a season,
And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.

25 <sup>a</sup>A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;
But godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

26 <sup>d</sup>If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments,
And the Lord shall give her unto thee freely:

27 <sup>e</sup>For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction;
And <sup>in</sup> faith <sup>f</sup>and meekness is his good pleasure.

28 Disobey not the fear of the Lord<sup>6</sup>;
And come not unto him <sup>g</sup>with a double heart.

29 Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of men;

30 <sup>i</sup>Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall,
And bring dishonour upon thy soul;
And so the Lord shall reveal thy secrets,

And shall cast thee down <sup>j</sup>in the midst of the congregation;
Because thou camest not unto the fear of the Lord,

And thy heart was full of deceit.

2 <sup>x</sup> My son, <sup>k</sup>if thou comest to serve the Lord, Prepare thy soul for temptation.

2 Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure,
And <sup>l</sup>make not haste in time of calamity.

3 Cleave unto him, and depart not,
That thou mayest be increased at thy latter end.

4 Accept whatsoever is brought upon thee,
And be long suffering <sup>9</sup>when thou passest into humiliation.

6 <sup>o</sup> Put thy trust in him, and he will help thee:
Order thy ways aright, and set thy hope on him.

7 Ye that fear the Lord, <sup>p</sup> wait for his mercy;
And turn not aside, lest ye fall.

8 Ye that fear the Lord, put your trust in him;

<sup>q</sup> And your reward shall not fail.

9 Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good things,
And for eternal gladness and mercy.

10 Look at the generations of old, and see:

<sup>r</sup> Who did ever put his trust in the Lord, and was ashamed?
Or who did abide in his fear, and was forsaken?

<sup>s</sup> Or who did call upon him, and he despised him?

11 <sup>t</sup> For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy;
And he forgiveth sins, <sup>u</sup> and saveth in time of affliction.

12 Woe unto <sup>v</sup> fearful hearts, and to faint hands,
And to the sinner that <sup>w</sup> goeth two ways!

13 Woe unto the faint heart! for it believeth not;
Therefore shall it not be defended.

14 Woe unto you that have <sup>x</sup> lost your patience!
And what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?

15 They that fear the Lord will not disobey his words;
And <sup>y</sup> they that love him will keep his ways.

16 They that fear the Lord will seek his good pleasure;
And they that love him shall be <sup>z</sup> filled with the law.

17 They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts,
And will humble their souls in his sight, <sup>18</sup> saying,

<sup>a</sup> We will fall into the hands of the Lord,
And not into the hands of men:

<sup>b</sup> For as his majesty is,
So also is his mercy.

3 <sup>1</sup> Hear me your father, O my children,
And do thereafter, that ye may be saved.

2 For the Lord hath given the father
<sup>c</sup> glory as touching the children, And hath confirmed the judgement of the mother as touching the sons.

3 <sup>d</sup> He that honoureth his father shall make atonement for sins:

4 And he that giveth glory to his mother is as one <sup>e</sup> that layeth up treasure.

5 Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his children;
And in the day of his prayer he shall be heard.

6 He that giveth glory to his father
<sup>f</sup> shall have length of days;
And he that hearkeneth unto the Lord shall bring rest unto his mother,

7 <sup>1</sup> And <sup>g</sup> will do service under his parents, as unto masters.

8 <sup>h</sup> In deed and word honour thy father,
That a blessing may come upon thee from him.

9 <sup>i</sup> For the blessing of the father esta-blisheth the houses of children;
But the curse of the mother rooteth out the foundations.

10 Glorify not thyself in the dishonour of thy father;
For thy father's dishonour is no glory unto thee.

11 <sup>j</sup> For the glory of a man is from the honour of his father;
And a mother in dishonour is a reproach to her children.

12 My son, <sup>k</sup> help thy father in his old age;
And grieve him not as long as he liveth.

13 And if he fail in understanding, have patience with him;
And dishonour him not while thou art
in thy full strength.

14 For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten:

<sup>l</sup> And instead of sins it shall be added
<sup>1</sup> to build thee up.

15 In the day of thine affliction it shall remember thee;
As fair weather upon ice,
So shall thy sins also melt away.

16 He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemer;
And <sup>m</sup> he that provoketh his mother is cursed of the Lord.

17 My son, go on with thy business in meekness;
So shalt thou be beloved of an <sup>n</sup> acceptable man.

18 <sup>o</sup> The greater thou art, humble thyself the more,
And thou shalt find favour before the Lord.<sup>2</sup>

20 For great is the potency of the Lord,
And he is glorified of them that are lowly.

for thee,
And search not out things that are above thy strength.

25 Speak not against the truth;
And be abashed for thine ignorance.
26 <sup>a</sup>Be not ashamed to make confession of thy sins;
And force not the current of the river.
27 Lay not thyself down for a fool to tread upon;
And <sup>a</sup>accept not the person of one that is mighty.
28 Strive for the truth unto death, and the Lord God shall fight for thee.

29 <sup>a</sup>Be not <sup>1</sup>hasty in thy tongue,
And in thy deeds slack and remiss.
30 Be not <sup>a</sup>as a lion in thy house,
<sup>b</sup>Nor fanciful among thy servants.
31 <sup>c</sup>Let not thine hand be stretched out to receive, and <sup>c</sup>closed when thou shouldest repay.

5 <sup>1</sup> <sup>d</sup>Set not thy heart upon thy goods;
And say not, <sup>e</sup>They are sufficient for me.

2 <sup>f</sup>Follow not thine own mind and thy strength,
To walk in the desires of thy heart;
3 And say not, <sup>g</sup>Who shall have dominion over me?
For the Lord will surely take vengeance on thee.

4 <sup>h</sup>Say not, I sinned, and what happened unto me?

<sup>i</sup>For the Lord is long suffering.<sup>5</sup> 5 Concerning atonement, be not without fear,

<sup>j</sup>To add sin upon sins:
6 And say not, His compassion is great;
He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins:

<sup>k</sup>For mercy and wrath are with him,
And his indignation will rest upon sinners.

7 <sup>l</sup>Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord;
And put not off from day to day:

<sup>m</sup>For suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth;<sup>4</sup>
And thou shalt perish in the time of vengeance.

8 <sup>n</sup>Set not thine heart upon unrighteous gains:

<sup>o</sup>For thou shalt profit nothing in the day of calamity.

9 Winnow not with every wind,
And walk not in every path:
Thus doeth the sinner <sup>p</sup>that hath a double tongue.

10 Be steadfast in thy understanding;
And let thy word be one.

11 <sup>q</sup>Be swift to hear;<sup>5</sup>
And <sup>r</sup>with patience make thine answer.

12 <sup>s</sup>If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour;
And if not, <sup>t</sup>let thy hand be upon thy mouth.

13 <sup>u</sup>Glorious and dishonour is in talk:
And the tongue of a man is his fall.

14 Be not called <sup>v</sup>a whisperer;
And lie not in wait with thy tongue:
For upon the thief there is shame,
And an evil condemnation upon him
<sup>w</sup>that hath a double tongue.

15 In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant;

6 <sup>x</sup> And instead of a friend become not an enemy;
For an evil name shall inherit shame and reproach:
Even so shall the sinner <sup>y</sup>that hath a double tongue.

2 <sup>z</sup>Exalt not thyself in the counsel of thy soul;
That thy soul be not torn in pieces
as a bull:

3 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and destroy thy fruits,
And leave thyself <sup>aa</sup>as a dry tree.

4 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath gotten it,
And shall make him <sup>ab</sup>a laughingstock to his enemies.

5 <sup>ac</sup>Sweet words will multiply <sup>ad</sup>a man's friends;
And a fair-speaking tongue will multiply courtesies.

6 Let those that are at peace with thee be many;
But thy counsellors <sup>ae</sup>one of a thousand.

7 <sup>af</sup>If thou wouldest get thee a friend, get him <sup>ag</sup>by proving,
And be not in haste to trust him.

8 For there is a friend <sup>ah</sup>that is so for his own occasion;
And <sup>ai</sup>he will not continue in the day of thy affliction.

9 And there is a friend that turneth to enmity;
And he will discover strife to thy reproach.

10 And <sup>aj</sup>there is a friend that is a companion at the table;
And <sup>ak</sup>he will not continue in the day
of thy affliction.

11 And in thy prosperity he will be as thyself,
And will be bold over thy servants:

12 If thou shalt be brought low, he will be against thee,
And will hide himself from thy face.

13 Separate thyself from thine enemies;
And beware of thy friends.

14 <sup>al</sup>A faithful friend is a strong <sup>am</sup>defence;

And he that hath found him hath found a treasure.

And even unto hoar hairs thou shalt find wisdom.

<sup>19</sup> Come unto her as one that ploweth and soweth,

And he that is without understanding will not abide in her.

And <sup>k</sup>he will not delay to cast her from him.

<sup>22</sup> For wisdom is according to her name; and she is not manifest unto many.

And refuse not my counsel,

And be not grieved with her bonds.

And <sup>r</sup>her chains for a robe of glory.

<sup>32</sup> My son, if thou wilt, thou shalt be instructed;

And if thou wilt yield thy soul, thou shalt be <sup>8</sup>prudent.

<sup>33</sup> If thou love to hear, thou shalt receive; And if thou incline thine ear, thou shalt be wise.

And <sup>y</sup>meditate continually in his commandments:

And thou shalt not reap them <sup>c</sup>seven-fold.

And display not thy wisdom before the king.

And lay a stumblingblock in the way of thy uprightness.

And cast not thyself down in the crowd.

And when I offer to the Most High God, he will accept <sup>i</sup>it.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>k</sup>Laugh not a man to scorn when he is in the bitterness of his soul;

For <sup>l</sup>there is one who humbly and exalteth.

- 8 A man's friend will not <sup>1</sup>be <sup>1</sup>fully tried in prosperity;
And his enemy will not be hidden in adversity.
- 9 In a man's prosperity his enemies are grieved;
And <sup>m</sup>in his adversity even his friend will be separated from him.
- 10 Never trust thine enemy:
For like as the brass rusteth, so is his wickedness.
- 11 Though <sup>n</sup>he humble himself, <sup>o</sup>and go crouching,
Yet take good heed, and beware of
him,
And thou shalt be unto him as one that hath wiped a mirror,
And thou shalt know that <sup>2</sup>he hath not utterly rusted it.
- 12 Set him not by thee, Lest he overthrow thee and stand in thy place;
Let him not sit on thy right hand,
Lest he seek to take thy seat,
And at the last thou acknowledge my words,
And be <sup>p</sup>pricked with my sayings.
- 13 Who will pity <sup>q</sup>a charmer that is bitten with a serpent,
Or any that come nigh wild beasts?
- 14 <sup>r</sup>Even so who will pity him that goeth to a sinner,
And is mingled with him in his sins?
- 15 For <sup>s</sup>a while he will abide with thee,
And if thou give way, he will not hold out.
- 16 And <sup>t</sup>the enemy will speak sweetly with his lips,
And in his heart take counsel how to overthrow thee into a pit:
<sup>t</sup>The enemy will weep with his eyes,
And if he find opportunity, he will not be satiated with blood.
- 17 If adversity meet thee, thou shalt find him there before thee;
And as though he would help thee,
<sup>u</sup>he will trip up thy heel.
- 18 <sup>v</sup>He will shake his head, and clap his hands,
And whisper much, and <sup>w</sup>change his countenance.

13 <sup>x</sup> He that toucheth pitch shall

And have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself.
What fellowship shall the earthen pot have with the kettle?

- This shall smite, and that shall be dashed in pieces.
- 3 <sup>y</sup>The rich man doeth a wrong, and he threateneth withal:

And if thou be in want, he will forsake thee.
- 5 If thou have substance, he will live with thee;
And he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry.
- 6 Hath he had need of thee? then he will deceive thee,
And smile upon thee, and give thee hope:
He will speak thee fair, and say,
What needest thou?
- 7 And <sup>a</sup>he will shame thee by his meats,
Until he have made thee bare twice or thrice,
And at the last he will laugh thee to scorn:
Afterward will he see thee, and will

And <sup>b</sup>shake his head at thee.
- 8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought low in thy mirth.
- 9 If a mighty man invite thee, be re-

And so much the more will he invite thee.
- 10 <sup>c</sup>Press not upon him, lest thou be thrust back;
And stand not far off, lest thou be

- 11 Affect not to speak with him <sup>d</sup>as an equal,
And believe not his many words:
For with much talk will he try thee,
And in a smiling manner will search thee out.
- 12 He that keepeth not to himself words spoken is unmerciful;
And he will not spare to hurt and to bind.
- 13 Keep them to thyself, and take earnest heed,
For thou walkest <sup>e</sup>in peril of thy falling.<sup>4</sup>
- 15 <sup>e</sup>Every living creature loveth his like, <sup>f</sup>And every man loveth his neighbour.
- 16 All flesh consorteth according to kind,

- 17 What fellowship shall the wolf have with the lamb?
- <sup>g</sup> So is the sinner unto the godly.
- 18 What peace is there between the hyena and the dog?
And what peace between the rich

<sup>7</sup> <sup>q</sup>Foolish men shall not obtain her;
And sinners shall not see her.

<sup>8</sup> She is far from pride;
And liars shall not remember her.

<sup>9</sup> <sup>r</sup>Praise is not comely in the mouth of a sinner;
For it was not sent him from the Lord.

<sup>10</sup> For praise shall be spoken in wisdom;
And the Lord will prosper it.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>s</sup>Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away;
For thou shalt not do the things that he hateth.

<sup>12</sup> Say not thou, It is he that caused me to err;

And they that fear him love it not.

And whichsoever he liketh, it shall be given him.

He is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things;

<sup>19</sup> And <sup>y</sup>his eyes are upon them that fear him;
And <sup>z</sup>he will take knowledge of every work of man.

And he hath not given any man licence to sin.

<sup>2</sup> If they multiply, delight not in them,
Except the fear of the Lord be with them.

<sup>3</sup> Trust not thou in their life,
Neither rely on their condition:
For one is better than a thousand;
And <sup>b</sup>to die childless than to have ungodly children.

<sup>5</sup> Many such things have I seen with mine eyes;
And mine ear hath heard mightier things than these.

<sup>6</sup> <sup>d</sup>In the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled;
And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

<sup>7</sup> He was not pacified toward <sup>e</sup>the giants of old time,
Who revolted in their strength.

<sup>9</sup> He pitied not the people of perdition,
Who were taken away in their sins.

<sup>10</sup> <sup>h</sup>And in like manner <sup>i</sup>the six hundred thousand footmen,
Who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.

<sup>11</sup> Even if there be one stiffnecked person,
It is marvel if he shall be unpunished:

<sup>j</sup>For mercy and wrath are with him;
He is mighty to forgive, and he poureth out wrath.

And the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.

<sup>14</sup> He will make room for every work of mercy;

And who shall remember me from on high?

I shall not be known among so many people;

For what is my soul in a boundless creation?

30 And I came out as a <sup>n</sup>stream from a river,
And as a conduit into a garden.

31 I said, I will water my garden,

3 <sup>w</sup>In <sup>thy</sup> youth thou hast not gathered, And how shouldest thou find in thine old age?

4 <sup>x</sup>How beautiful a thing is judgement for gray hairs,

6 <sup>y</sup>Much experience is the crown of old men;

7 There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart counted happy;

And the tenth I will utter with my tongue:

<sup>a</sup>A man that hath joy of his children;
<sup>b</sup>A man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies:

8 Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife of understanding;
And <sup>c</sup>he that hath not slipped with his tongue;

And he that hath not served a man that is unworthy of him:

9 <sup>d</sup>Happy is he that hath found prudence;
And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.

10 <sup>e</sup>How great is he that hath found wisdom!

11 <sup>g</sup>The fear of the Lord passeth all things:
He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?<sup>3</sup>

13 <sup>h</sup>Give me any plague but the plague of the heart;

<sup>21</sup>The strife of the proud is a shedding of blood;
And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.

<sup>22</sup>He that revealeth secrets destroyeth credit,

And shall not find a friend to his mind.

<sup>25</sup>For as a man hath destroyed his enemy,

So hast thou destroyed the friendship of thy neighbour.

<sup>26</sup>And as a bird which thou hast loosed out of thy hand,

So hast thou let thy neighbour go, and thou wilt not catch him again;

<sup>27</sup>Pursue him not, for he is gone far away,

<sup>28</sup>For a wound may be bound up, <sup>2</sup>and after reviling there may be a reconciliation;

But he that revealeth secrets hath lost hope.

<sup>29</sup>One that winketh with the eye contriveth evil things;

And no man will remove him from it.

<sup>30</sup>When thou art present, <sup>3</sup>he will speak sweetly,

And vengeance, <sup>3</sup>as a lion, shall lie in wait for him.

<sup>36</sup>They that rejoice at the fall of the godly shall be taken in a snare;

ver. 4.

And he will count it as a windfall :
If not, he hath deprived him of his money,
And he hath gotten him for an enemy without cause:
He will pay him with cursings and railings;
And for honour he will pay him disgrace.

7 <sup>1</sup> Many on account of men's ill-dealing have turned away;
They have feared to be defrauded for nought.

8 <sup>2</sup> Howbeit with a man in poor estate be longsuffering;
And let him not wait for thine alms.

9 Help a poor man <sup>3</sup> for the commandment's sake;
And according to his need send him not empty away.

And <sup>5</sup> let it not rust under the stone to be lost.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>6</sup> Bestow thy treasure <sup>7</sup> according to the commandments of the Most High;
And <sup>8</sup> it shall profit thee more than gold.

And <sup>9</sup> it shall deliver thee out of all affliction:

Better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.

<sup>9</sup> ch. 40. 24. Tobit 4. 9.

And he that hath lost shame will fail him.

<sup>15</sup> Forget not the good offices of thy surety;
For he hath given his life for thee.

<sup>17</sup> And he that is of an unthankful mind will fail him that delivered him.

<sup>18</sup> <sup>10</sup> Suretiship hath undone many that were prospering,
And shaken them as a wave of the sea:

<sup>10</sup> Prov. 6. 1, 2 & 11. 15. Cp. ch. 8. 13.

Mighty men hath it driven from their homes;
And they wandered among strange nations.

<sup>19</sup> A sinner that falleth into suretiship,
And undertaketh contracts for work, shall fall into lawsuits.

<sup>20</sup> Help thy neighbour according to thy power,
And take heed to thyself that thou fall not to the same.

And a garment, and a house to cover shame.

<sup>12</sup> Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs, Than <sup>12</sup> sumptuous fare in another man's house.

And where thou art a sojourner, thou shalt not dare to open thy mouth.

<sup>25</sup> Thou shalt entertain, and give to drink, and have no thanks:

And besides this thou shalt hear bitter words.

<sup>26</sup> Come hither, thou sojourner, furnish a table,
And if thou hast aught in thy hand, feed me with it.

My brother is come to be my guest;
I have need of my house.

The upbraiding of house-room, and <sup>17</sup> the reproaching of the money-lender.

<sup>20</sup> Cp. 1 Kin. 1. 45.

And when he died, he sorrowed not:

<sup>6</sup> <sup>21</sup> He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,
And <sup>22</sup> one to requite kindness to his friends.

<sup>7</sup> He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds;
And his heart will be troubled at every cry.

Play with him, and he will grieve thee.

<sup>10</sup> Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him;
And thou shalt gnash thy teeth in the end.

Lest thou repent and make supplication for them <sup>again</sup>.

20 Whilst thou yet livest, and breath is in thee,
Give not thyself over to anybody.

21 For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee,
Than that thou shouldest look to the hand of thy sons.

22 In all thy works keep the upper hand;
Bring not a stain on thine honour.

23 <sup>v</sup>In the day that thou endest the days of thy life,
And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.

24 <sup>w</sup>Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass;
Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.

25 Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest:
Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.

26 Yoke and thong will bow the neck:
And <sup>a</sup>for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.

27 Send him to labour, that he be not idle;
<sup>v</sup>For idleness teacheth much mischief.

28 Set him to work, as is fit for him;
And <sup>z</sup>if he obey not, make his fetters heavy.

29 And <sup>a</sup>be not excessive toward any;
And without judgement do nothing.

30 <sup>b</sup>If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself,
Because thou hast bought him with blood.

3<sup>x</sup> <sup>b</sup>If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself;
<sup>1</sup>For as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him:
 If thou treat him ill, and he depart and run away,
 Which way wilt thou go to seek him?

34 <sup>x</sup> Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;
 And dreams give wings to fools.

 So is he that setteth his mind on dreams.

3 The vision of dreams is <sup>as</sup> this thing against that,

 And of that which is false what shall be true?

<sup>f</sup> <sup>g</sup>Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain:
 And the heart fancieth, as a woman's in travail.

<sup>g</sup> <sup>h</sup>If they be not sent from the Most High in <sup>thy</sup> visitation, Give not thy heart unto them.

7 For dreams have led many astray:
 And they have failed by putting their hope in them.

8 Without lying shall the law be accomplished;
 And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

9 A well-instructed man knoweth many things;
 And <sup>h</sup>he that hath much experience will declare understanding.

10 He that hath no experience knoweth few things:
 But <sup>i</sup>he that hath wandered shall increase <sup>his</sup> skill.

11 <sup>j</sup>In my wandering I have seen many things;
 And more than my words is my understanding.

12 <sup>k</sup> Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death;
 And I was preserved because of these things.

13 <sup>l</sup>The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live;
 For their hope is upon him that saveth them.

14 <sup>m</sup>Whoso feareth the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;
 For <sup>n</sup>he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord:
 To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?

16 <sup>o</sup>The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,

17 He raiseth up the soul, and <sup>s</sup>enlighteneth the eyes:
 He giveth healing, life, and blessing.

18 <sup>t</sup>He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;
 And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.

19 <sup>u</sup>The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly;
<sup>v</sup>Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.

20 <sup>w</sup>As one that killeth the son before his father's eyes
 Is <sup>x</sup>he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.

21 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor:
 He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.

22 <sup>y</sup>As one that slayeth his neighbour is <sup>z</sup>he that taketh away his living;
 And <sup>a</sup>as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.

23 One building, and another pulling down,
 What profit have they had but toil?

24 One praying, and another cursing, Whose voice will the Lord listen to?

25 <sup>b</sup>He that washeth himself after <sup>c</sup>touching a dead body, and toucheth it again,
 What profit hath he in his washing?

26 Even so a man <sup>d</sup>fasting for his sins,
<sup>e</sup>And going again, and doing the same;
 Who will listen to his prayer?
 And what profit hath he in his humiliation?

35 <sup>x</sup> <sup>c</sup>He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings;
 He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth <sup>a</sup>a peace offering.

<sup>a</sup> He that requiteth a good turn offereth <sup>b</sup>fine flour;
 And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank offering.

3 <sup>f</sup>To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord;
 And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.

4 <sup>g</sup>See that thou appear not in the presence of the Lord empty.

5 For all these things <sup>are</sup> to be done because of the commandment.

<sup>1</sup> Or, he<sup>2</sup> Gr. against the heart.<sup>2</sup> Gr. he that is lessened in his business.

That driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours,
And whose discourse is of the stock of bulls?

26 He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;
And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.

27 So is every artificer and workmaster,
That passeth his time by night as by day;
They that cut gravings of signets,
And his diligence is to make great variety;

28 <sup>a</sup>He will set his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,
And will be wakeful to finish his work.

28 <sup>a</sup>So is the smith sitting by the anvil,
And considering the unwrought iron:
The vapour of the fire will waste his flesh;

And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work:

The noise of the hammer will <sup>1</sup>be ever in his ear,

And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;

He will set his heart upon perfecting his works,
And he will be wakeful to adorn them perfectly.

29 <sup>b</sup>So is the potter sitting at his work,
And turning the wheel about with his feet,

Who is always anxiously set at his work,

And all his handywork is by number;

30 He will fashion the clay with his arm,

And will bend its strength in front of his feet;

He will apply his heart to finish the glazing;

And he will be wakeful to make clean the furnace.

31 All these put their trust in their hands;

And each becometh wise in his own work.

32 Without these shall not a city be inhabited,

And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.

33 <sup>2</sup>They shall not be sought for in the council of the people,

And in the assembly they shall not mount on high;

They shall not sit on the seat of the judge,

And they shall not understand the covenant of judgement:

Neither shall they declare instruction and judgement;

And <sup>c</sup>where parables are they shall not be found.

34 But they will maintain the fabric of the <sup>3</sup>world;
And in the handywork of their craft is their prayer.

39 <sup>x</sup> <sup>4</sup>Not so he that hath applied his soul,
And <sup>d</sup>meditateth in the law of the Most High;

<sup>e</sup>He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,

And will be occupied <sup>f</sup>in prophecies.

2 He will keep the discourse of the men of renown,

<sup>g</sup>And will enter in amidst the subtilties of parables.

3 <sup>h</sup>He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs,

And be conversant in <sup>i</sup>the dark sayings of parables.

4 <sup>j</sup>He will serve among great men,
And appear before him that ruleth:

<sup>k</sup>He will travel through the land of strange nations;

For <sup>l</sup>he hath tried good things and evil among men.

5 <sup>m</sup>He will apply his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him,

And will make supplication before the Most High,

And will open his mouth in prayer,
And will make supplication for his sins.

6 <sup>n</sup>If the great Lord will,
He shall be filled with the spirit of understanding:

He shall <sup>o</sup>pour forth the words of his wisdom,

And in prayer give thanks unto the Lord.

7 He shall direct his counsel and knowledge,

And <sup>p</sup>in his secrets shall he meditate.

8 He shall shew forth the instruction which he hath been taught,

And <sup>q</sup>shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.

9 <sup>r</sup>Many shall commend his understanding;

And so long as the world endureth,
<sup>s</sup>it shall not be blotted out:

And his name shall live from generation to generation.

10 <sup>v</sup>Nations shall declare his wisdom,
And the congregation shall tell out his praise.

11 If he continue, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand:

And if he <sup>u</sup>die, he addeth thereto.

12 Yet more will I utter, <sup>v</sup>which I have thought upon;

And I am filled as the moon at the full.

8 Woe unto you, ungodly men,
Which have forsaken the law of the Most High God!<sup>1</sup>

9 <sup>e</sup> If ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse;
If ye die, a curse shall be your portion.

10 <sup>f</sup> All things that are of the earth shall go back to the earth:
So the ungodly shall go from a curse unto perdition.

11 The mourning of men is about their bodies:
But <sup>g</sup> the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.

12 <sup>h</sup> Have regard to thy name;

And not all things are approved by all in good faith.

17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother:
And of a lie before a prince and a mighty man;

18 Of an offence before a judge and ruler;
Of iniquity before the congregation and the people;
Of unjust dealing before a partner and friend;

19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest,
And in regard of the truth of God <sup>m</sup> and his covenant;

And of leaning with thine elbow at meat;
And of scurrility in the matter of giving and taking;

20 And of silence before them that salute thee;
And of looking upon a woman that is a harlot;

21 And <sup>n</sup> of turning away <sup>2</sup> thy face from a kinsman;

And anointed him with holy oil:
It was unto him for an everlasting covenant,
And to his seed, <sup>10</sup>all the days of heaven,
To minister unto him, and to execute also the priest's office,
And <sup>11</sup>bless his people in his name.
<sup>16</sup> <sup>12</sup>He chose him out of all living
To offer sacrifice to the Lord,
Incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial,
To make reconciliation for thy people.

<sup>17</sup> <sup>13</sup>He gave unto him in his commandments,
<sup>14</sup>Yea, authority in the covenants of judgements, <sup>15</sup><sup>a</sup>To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.
<sup>18</sup> <sup>16</sup>Strangers gathered themselves together against him,
And envied him in the wilderness,
<sup>17</sup>Even Dathan and Abiram with their company,
And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.

<sup>19</sup> <sup>18</sup>The Lord saw it, and it displeased him;
And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed:
He did wonders upon them,
To consume them with flaming fire.

<sup>20</sup> And <sup>19</sup>he added glory to Aaron,
And gave him a heritage:
<sup>21</sup><sup>c</sup>He divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase;
And first did he prepare bread in abundance:

<sup>22</sup> <sup>20</sup>For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,
Which he gave unto him and to his seed.

<sup>23</sup> <sup>21</sup>Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,
And he hath no portion among the people:
For he himself is thy portion and inheritance.

<sup>24</sup> And <sup>22</sup>Phineas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,
In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,
And stood fast in the good forwardness of his soul when the people turned away,
And he made reconciliation for Israel.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him, <sup>26</sup>That he should be leader of the <sup>27</sup><sup>1</sup>saints and of his people;
That he and his seed
Should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.

<sup>28</sup> <sup>25</sup>Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah;

The inheritance of the king is his alone from son to son;
So the inheritance of Aaron is also unto his seed.

<sup>29</sup> <sup>26</sup>God give you wisdom in your heart
To judge his people in righteousness,
That their good things be not abolished,
And that their glory endure for all their generations.

46 <sup>27</sup> <sup>28</sup>Joshua the son of <sup>29</sup>Nun was valiant in war,
And was the successor of Moses <sup>30</sup><sup>1</sup>in prophecies:

Who according to his name was made great

<sup>31</sup>For the saving of <sup>32</sup>God's elect,
To take vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them,

And in stretching out his sword against the cities!

<sup>35</sup> Who before him so stood fast?
For the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

<sup>36</sup> <sup>34</sup>Did not the sun go back by his hand?

And did not one day become as two?

<sup>37</sup> He called upon the Most High and Mighty One,
When his foes pressed him round about;

And the great Lord heard him.

<sup>38</sup> <sup>36</sup>With hailstones of mighty power
He caused war to break violently upon the nation,

And <sup>39</sup>in the going down he destroyed them that resisted;
That the nations might know his <sup>40</sup><sup>4</sup>armour,

How that he fought in the sight of the Lord;

For he followed after the Mighty One.

<sup>41</sup> Also in the time of Moses he did a work of mercy,

<sup>42</sup>He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh,
In that they withstood the adversary,
Hindered the people from sin,
And stilled the murmuring of wickedness.

<sup>43</sup> And of <sup>44</sup>six hundred thousand people on foot, <sup>45</sup>they two alone were preserved

To bring them into the heritage,
Even into a land <sup>46</sup>flowing with milk and honey.

And it remained with him unto his old age;

So that he entered upon the height of the land,
And his seed obtained it for a heritage:

18 By the name of the Lord God,
Which is called the God of Israel,
<sup>c</sup>Thou didst gather gold as tin,
And didst multiply silver as lead.

19 <sup>d</sup>Thou didst bow thy loins unto women,
And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.

20 Thou didst blemish thine honour,
And profane thy seed,
To bring wrath upon thy children;
And I was grieved for thy folly:

21 <sup>e</sup>So that the sovereignty was divided, <sup>f</sup>And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.

22 <sup>g</sup>But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;
And he will not destroy any of his works,
Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
And the seed of him that loved him
he will not take away;
And he gave a remnant unto Jacob,
And unto David a root out of him.

23 And <sup>h</sup>so rested Solomon with his fathers;
And <sup>i</sup>of his seed he left behind him
Rehoboam,

Even the foolishness of the people, and one that lacked understanding,

<sup>j</sup>Who made the people to revolt by his counsel.

Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat,
<sup>k</sup>Who made Israel to sin,
And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.

24 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,

<sup>l</sup>To remove them from their land.

25 For they sought out all manner of wickedness,
Till vengeance should come upon them.

48 <sup>m</sup>Also there arose <sup>n</sup>Elijah the prophet as fire,
And his word burned like a torch:

2 Who brought a famine upon them,
And by his zeal made them few in number.

3 <sup>o</sup>By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven:

<sup>p</sup>Thrice did he thus bring down fire.

4 How wast thou glorified, O Elijah, in thy wondrous deeds!

And who shall glory like unto thee?

5 <sup>q</sup>Who did raise up a dead man from death,
And from <sup>r</sup>the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:

6 <sup>s</sup>Who brought down kings to destruction,

<sup>t</sup>And honourable men from their bed:

7 <sup>u</sup>Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
And judgements of vengeance in Horeb:

8 <sup>v</sup>Who anointed kings for retribution,
And prophets to succeed after him:

9 <sup>w</sup>Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,

In a chariot of fiery horses:

10 Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,

To pacify anger, before it brake forth into wrath;

<sup>x</sup>To turn the heart of the father unto the son,

<sup>y</sup>And to restore the tribes of Jacob.

11 Blessed are they that saw thee,
And they that have been beautified with love;

For we also shall surely live.

12 Elijah <sup>z</sup>it was, <sup>a</sup>who was wrapped in a tempest:

And <sup>b</sup>Elisha was filled with his spirit;

And in <sup>c</sup>all his days <sup>d</sup>he was not moved by <sup>e</sup>the fear of any ruler,
And no one brought him into subjection.

13 <sup>f</sup>Nothing was too high for him;

<sup>g</sup>And when he was laid on sleep his body prophesied.

14 As in his life he did wonders,
So in death were his works marvellous.

15 For all this the people repented not,
And they departed not from their sins,

<sup>h</sup>Till they were carried away as a spoil from their land,

<sup>i</sup>And were scattered through all the earth;

<sup>j</sup>And the people was left very few in number,

And a ruler <sup>k</sup>was left in the house of David.

16 Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
And some multiplied sins.

17 Hezekiah <sup>l</sup>fortified his city,
And <sup>m</sup>brought in <sup>n</sup>water into the midst of them:

He digged the sheer rock with iron,
And builded up wells for waters.

18 <sup>o</sup>In his days Sennacherib came up,
And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;

And he lifted up his hand against Sion, <sup>p</sup>And boasted great things in his arrogancy.

19 Then were their hearts and their hands shaken,

And they were in pain, as women in travail;

20 <sup>q</sup>And they called upon the Lord
which is merciful,

Spreading forth their hands unto him:

And the Holy One heard them speedily out of heaven,
And delivered them by the hand of Isaiah.

- <sup>21</sup> <sup>a</sup> He smote the camp of the Assyrians, And his angel utterly destroyed them.
<sup>22</sup> <sup>i</sup> For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord, And was strong in the ways of David his father, Which Isaiah the prophet commanded, Who was great and faithful in his vision.
<sup>23</sup> <sup>j</sup> In his days the sun went backward; And he added life to the king.
<sup>24</sup> He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last; And <sup>h</sup> he comforted them that mourned in Sion.
<sup>25</sup> <sup>l</sup> He shewed the things that should be to the end of time, And the hidden things or ever they came.

- <sup>o</sup> It shall be sweet as honey in every mouth, And <sup>p</sup> as music at a banquet of wine.

- <sup>4</sup> Except <sup>s</sup> David and <sup>t</sup> Hezekiah and <sup>u</sup> Josiah, All committed trespass: For they forsook the law of the Most High; The kings of Judah failed.
<sup>7</sup> <sup>2</sup> For they entreated him evil; And yet <sup>a</sup> he was sanctified in the womb to be a prophet, <sup>b</sup> To root out, and to afflict, and to destroy; And in like manner to build and to plant.

And he comforted Jacob, And delivered them by confidence of hope.

- <sup>11</sup> How shall we magnify <sup>g</sup> Zerubbabel? And he was <sup>h</sup> as a signet on the right hand:
<sup>12</sup> So was <sup>i</sup> Jesus the son of Josedek: <sup>j</sup> Who in their days builded the house, And exalted a <sup>k</sup> people holy to the Lord, Prepared for everlasting glory.
<sup>13</sup> Also of <sup>l</sup> Nehemiah the memorial is great; <sup>m</sup> Who raised up for us the walls that were fallen, And set up the gates and bars, And raised up our homes again.
<sup>14</sup> No man was created upon the earth such as was <sup>n</sup> Enoch; For he was taken up from the earth.

- 50 <sup>i</sup> It was Simon, the son of Onias, the <sup>5</sup> great priest, Who in his life repaired the house, And in his days strengthened the temple:
<sup>2</sup> And by him was built from the foundation the height of the double wall, The lofty underworks of the inclosure of the temple:
<sup>4</sup> It was he that took thought for his people that they should not fall, And fortified the city <sup>7</sup> against besieging:
<sup>7</sup> <sup>x</sup> As the sun shining forth upon the temple of the Most High, And as <sup>y</sup> the rainbow giving light in clouds of glory:

As a vessel all of beaten gold Adorned with all manner of precious stones:

10 <sup>c</sup> As an olive tree budding forth fruits,
And <sup>d</sup> as a cypress growing high among the clouds.

11 When he took up <sup>e</sup> the robe of glory,
And put on the perfection of exulta-
tion,
In the ascent of the holy altar,
He made glorious the precinct of the sanctuary.

12 And when he received the portions out of the priests' hands, Himself also standing by the hearth of the altar,
His brethren as a garland round about him,

He was as a young <sup>f</sup> cedar in Libanus;
And as stems of <sup>g</sup> palm trees com-passed they him round about,

13 And all the sons of Aaron in their glory,
And the Lord's offering in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And finishing the service at the altars,
That he might adorn the offering of the Most High, the Almighty,

15 He stretched out his hand to the <sup>h</sup> cup,
And poured of <sup>i</sup> the blood of the grape;
He poured out at the foot of the altar

<sup>k</sup> A sweet-smelling savour unto the Most High, the King of all.

16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron, <sup>j</sup> They sounded the trumpets <sup>j</sup> of beaten work,
They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted,
And fell down upon the earth on their faces
To worship their Lord, the Almighty, God Most High.

18 <sup>k</sup> The singers also praised him with their voices;
In the whole house was there made sweet melody.

19 And the people besought the Lord
Most High,
In prayer before him that is merciful.
Till the <sup>l</sup> worship of the Lord should be ended;
And so they accomplished his service.

20 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands
Over the whole congregation of the children of Israel,
To give blessing unto the Lord with his lips,
And to glory in his name.

21 And he bowed himself down in worship the second time,
To declare the blessing from the Most High.

22 And now bless ye the God of all, <sup>m</sup> Which everywhere doeth great things,

<sup>n</sup> Which exalteth our days from the womb,
And dealeth with us according to his mercy.

23 May he grant us joyfulness of heart,
And that peace may be in our days in Israel for the days of eternity:

24 To intrust his mercy with us;
And let him deliver us in his time!

25 With two nations is my soul vexed,
And the third is no nation:

26 <sup>o</sup> They that sit upon the mountain of 27 I have <sup>s</sup> written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge,

I Jesus, the son of Sirach Eleazar, of Jerusalem,
<sup>t</sup> Who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.

28 <sup>u</sup> Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things;
And he that layeth them up in his heart shall become wise.

29 For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things:
For <sup>v</sup> the light of the Lord is his 4 <sup>a</sup> From the choking of a fire on every side,

And out of the midst of fire which I kindled not;

5 Out of the depth <sup>a</sup> of the belly of <sup>1</sup> the grave,

And <sup>w</sup> from an unclean tongue,
And from lying words,

6 The slander of an unrighteous tongue unto the king.

My soul drew near even unto death,
And <sup>b</sup> my life was near to <sup>1</sup> the grave beneath.

7 <sup>c</sup> They compassed me on every side, <sup>d</sup> And there was none to help me.

I was looking for the succour of men,
And it was not.

8 And I remembered thy mercy, O Lord,
And thy working which hath been from everlasting,

How thou deliverest <sup>e</sup> them that wait
for thee,
And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.

9 And I lifted up my supplication from the earth,
And prayed for deliverance from death.

10 I called upon the Lord, <sup>f</sup> the Father of my Lord,
That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,
In the time when there was no help against the proud.

11 I will praise thy name continually,
And will sing praise with thanksgiving;

And my supplication was heard:

12 For thou savedst me from destruction,
And <sup>g</sup> deliveredst me from the evil time:

Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto thee,
And bless the name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet young,

<sup>h</sup> Or ever I went abroad,

<sup>i</sup> I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.

14 <sup>j</sup> Before the temple I asked for her,
And I will seek her out even to the end.

15 From her flower as from the ripening grape my heart delighted in her:
My foot trod in uprightness,
From my youth I tracked her out.

16 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,
And found for myself much instruction.

17 I profited in her:

Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.

18 For I purposed to practise her,
And I was zealous for that which is good;

And I shall never be put to shame.

19 My soul hath wrestled in her,
And in my doing I was exact:
I spread forth my hands to the heaven above,

And bewailed my ignorances of her.

20 I set my soul aright unto her,
And in pureness I found her.
I gat me a heart joined with her from the beginning:

<sup>k</sup> Therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My inward part also was troubled to seek her:
Therefore have I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord <sup>l</sup> gave me a tongue for my reward;
And I will praise him therewith.

23 <sup>m</sup> Draw near unto me, ye unlearned,
And lodge in the house of instruction.

24 Say, wherefore are ye lacking in these things,
And your souls are very thirsty?

25 I opened my mouth, and spake, Get her for yourselves <sup>n</sup> without money.

26 Put your neck <sup>o</sup> under the yoke,
And let your soul receive instruction:

<sup>p</sup> She is hard at hand to find.

27 Behold with your eyes,
How that <sup>q</sup> I laboured but a little,
And found for myself much rest.

28 <sup>r</sup> Get you instruction with a great sum of silver,
And <sup>s</sup> gain much gold by her.

29 May your soul rejoice in his mercy,
And may ye not be put to shame in praising him.

30 <sup>t</sup> Work your work before the time cometh,

your reward.

BARUCH.

I AND these are the words of the book, which <sup>a</sup>Baruch the son of <sup>b</sup>Nerias, the son of Maaseas, the son of Sedekias, the son of Asadias, the son of Helkias, wrote in Babylon, <sup>2</sup>in the fifth year, and in the <sup>c</sup>seventh day of the month, <sup>d</sup>what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, <sup>e</sup>and burnt it with fire. <sup>3</sup>And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of <sup>f</sup>Jechonias the son of Joakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book, <sup>4</sup>and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, <sup>h</sup>from the least unto the greatest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud. <sup>5</sup>And they wept, and fasted, <sup>1</sup>and prayed before the Lord; <sup>6</sup>they made also a collection of money <sup>j</sup>according to every man's power: <sup>7</sup>and they sent it to Jerusalem unto Joakim the high priest, the son of <sup>k</sup>Helkias, the son of <sup>l</sup>Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem, <sup>8</sup>at the same time when he took the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month <sup>m</sup>Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which <sup>n</sup>Sedekias the son of Josias king of Judah had made, <sup>9</sup>after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away <sup>o</sup>Jechonias, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon. <sup>10</sup>And they said, <sup>p</sup>O Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money <sup>q</sup>burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare <sup>r</sup>an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; <sup>11</sup>and <sup>s</sup>pray for the life of <sup>t</sup>Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of <sup>u</sup>Baltasar his son, that their days may be <sup>v</sup>as the days of heaven above the earth: <sup>12</sup>and the Lord will give us strength, and <sup>w</sup>lighten our eyes, and we shall live <sup>x</sup>under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of <sup>y</sup>Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight. <sup>13</sup>Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. <sup>14</sup>And ye shall read <sup>a</sup>this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon <sup>v</sup>the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

<sup>15</sup>And ye shall say, <sup>2</sup>To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us <sup>a</sup>confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, <sup>16</sup>and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers: <sup>17</sup>for that we have sinned before the Lord, <sup>18</sup>and disobeyed him, and <sup>c</sup>have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us: <sup>19</sup><sup>d</sup>since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not hearkening unto his voice. <sup>20</sup><sup>e</sup>Wherefore the plagues clave unto us, <sup>f</sup>and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land <sup>g</sup>that floweth with milk and honey, as at this day. <sup>21</sup>Nevertheless we hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, <sup>h</sup>whom he sent unto us: <sup>22</sup>but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God. <sup>1</sup><sup>i</sup>Therefore the

2 Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Judah, <sup>2</sup>to bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, <sup>3</sup>as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written in the law of Moses; <sup>3</sup>that we should eat every man the flesh of his own son, and every man the flesh of his own daughter. <sup>4</sup>Moreover he hath given them to be in subjection to <sup>k</sup>all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be <sup>l</sup>a reproach and <sup>m</sup>a desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them. <sup>5</sup><sup>n</sup>Thus were they cast down, and not exalted, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not hearkening unto his voice. <sup>6</sup><sup>o</sup>To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness:

but unto us and to our fathers <sup>p</sup> confusion of face, as at this day. <sup>q</sup> For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us. <sup>r</sup> Yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord, in turning every one from the thoughts of his wicked heart. <sup>s</sup> Therefore hath the Lord kept watch over the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them upon us; <sup>t</sup> for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us. <sup>u</sup> Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us.

<sup>v</sup> And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and <sup>w</sup> hast gotten thyself a name, as at this day: <sup>x</sup> O Lord our God, <sup>y</sup> we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances. <sup>z</sup> Let thy wrath turn from us: <sup>a</sup> for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us. <sup>b</sup> Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away captive: <sup>c</sup> that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name. <sup>d</sup> O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us: <sup>e</sup> incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: <sup>f</sup> open thine eyes, and behold: <sup>g</sup> for the dead that are in <sup>h</sup> the grave, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither glory nor righteousness: <sup>i</sup> but the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness, O Lord. <sup>j</sup> For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings. <sup>k</sup> For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying, <sup>l</sup> Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers. <sup>m</sup> But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, <sup>n</sup> I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: <sup>o</sup> and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. <sup>p</sup> But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, <sup>q</sup> that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places. <sup>r</sup> And lo, <sup>s</sup> they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries <sup>t</sup> by famine, by sword, and by pestilence. <sup>u</sup> And the house <sup>v</sup> which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah. <sup>w</sup> Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, <sup>x</sup> as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, <sup>y</sup> If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. <sup>z</sup> For I know that they will not hear me, <sup>a</sup> because it is a stiffnecked people: <sup>b</sup> but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, <sup>c</sup> and shall know that I am the Lord their God: <sup>d</sup> and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear: <sup>e</sup> and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name, <sup>f</sup> and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord. <sup>g</sup> And I will bring them again into the land which I swore unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished. <sup>h</sup> And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: <sup>i</sup> and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

<sup>j</sup> O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, <sup>k</sup> the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee. <sup>l</sup> Hear, O Lord, and have mercy; for thou art a merciful God: yea, have mercy upon us, because we have sinned before thee. <sup>m</sup> For <sup>n</sup> thou sittest as king for ever, and we perish evermore. <sup>o</sup> O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayer of <sup>p</sup> the <sup>q</sup> dead Israelites, and of the children of them which were sinners before thee, that hearkened not unto the voice of thee their God: <sup>r</sup> for the which cause these plagues came unto us. <sup>s</sup> Remember not the iniquities of our fathers: but remember thy power and thy name <sup>t</sup> now at this time. <sup>u</sup> For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise. <sup>v</sup> For for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, <sup>w</sup> to the intent that we should call upon thy name: and we will praise thee in our captivity, <sup>x</sup> for we have <sup>y</sup> called to mind all the iniquity of our fathers, that sinned before thee. <sup>8</sup> Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, <sup>9</sup> for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to penalty, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path. <sup>32</sup> But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with fourfooted beasts: <sup>33</sup> he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth; he called it, and it obeyed him with fear: <sup>34</sup> and the stars shined <sup>q</sup> in their watches, and were glad: when <sup>r</sup> he called them, they said, Here we be; they shined with gladness unto him that made them. <sup>35</sup> This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him. <sup>36</sup> He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and <sup>t</sup> hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel that is beloved of him. <sup>37</sup> Afterward did she appear upon earth, and <sup>u</sup> was conversant with men.

man, nor pitied child. <sup>16</sup> And they have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate of her daughters. <sup>17</sup> But I, what can I help you? <sup>18</sup> For he that brought <sup>k</sup> these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hand of your enemies. <sup>19</sup> Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate. <sup>20</sup> I have put off the garment of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my petition: <sup>n</sup> I will cry unto the Everlasting as long as I live. <sup>21</sup> Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies. <sup>22</sup> For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come upon you <sup>1</sup> from the Everlasting your Saviour. <sup>23</sup> For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: <sup>2</sup> but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever. <sup>24</sup> For like as now they that dwell about Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from <sup>2</sup> our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting. <sup>25</sup> My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread <sup>3</sup> upon their necks. <sup>26</sup> My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock carried off by the enemies. <sup>27</sup> Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath brought these things upon you. <sup>28</sup> For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, return and seek him ten times more. <sup>29</sup> For he that brought <sup>k</sup> these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation. <sup>30</sup> Be of good cheer, O Jerusalem: for he that <sup>u</sup> called thee by name will comfort thee. <sup>31</sup> Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall. <sup>32</sup> Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons. <sup>33</sup> For as she rejoiced at thy fall, and was glad of thy ruin: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation. <sup>34</sup> And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into mourning. <sup>35</sup> For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of <sup>3</sup> devils for a great time. <sup>36</sup> O Jerusalem, <sup>w</sup> look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God. <sup>37</sup> Lo, <sup>x</sup> thy sons come, whom thou sentest away, they come <sup>y</sup> gathered together from the east to the west at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God. <sup>1</sup> Put off, O Jerusalem, <sup>2</sup> the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and <sup>a</sup> put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever. <sup>2</sup> Cast about thee <sup>b</sup> the robe of the righteousness which cometh from God; <sup>c</sup> set a diadem on thine head of the glory of the Everlasting. <sup>3</sup> For God will shew thy brightness unto every region under heaven. <sup>4</sup> For thy name shall be called of God for ever <sup>e</sup> The peace of righteousness, and The glory of godliness. <sup>5</sup> Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand upon the height, and <sup>f</sup> look about thee toward the east, and behold thy children <sup>g</sup> gathered from the going down of the sun unto the rising thereof at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing that God hath remembered them. <sup>6</sup> For they went from thee on foot, being led away of their enemies: <sup>h</sup> but God bringeth them in unto thee borne on high with glory, <sup>i</sup> as on a royal throne. <sup>7</sup> For God hath appointed that every high mountain, and the everlasting hills, should be made low, and the valleys filled up, to make plain the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God. <sup>8</sup> Moreover the woods and every sweet-smelling tree have overshadowed Israel by the commandment of God. <sup>9</sup> For God shall lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

6 <sup>1</sup> A copy of an epistle, which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God. <sup>2</sup> Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians. <sup>3</sup> So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations: and after that I will bring you out peaceably from thence. <sup>4</sup> But now shall ye see in Babylon <sup>4</sup> gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, <sup>m</sup> borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. <sup>5</sup> Beware therefore that ye in no wise become like unto the strangers, neither let fear take hold upon you because of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them. <sup>6</sup> But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee. <sup>7</sup> For mine angel is with you, <sup>8</sup> and I myself do care for your <sup>6</sup> souls. <sup>8</sup> For their tongue is polished by the workman, and they themselves are <sup>p</sup> overlaid with gold and with silver; yet are they but false, and <sup>q</sup> cannot speak. <sup>9</sup> And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods: <sup>10</sup>and sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves; <sup>11</sup>and will even give thereof to <sup>12</sup>the common harlots: <sup>13</sup>and they deck them as men with garments, <sup>14</sup>even <sup>15</sup>the gods of silver, and gods of gold, and of wood. <sup>16</sup>Yet cannot these gods save themselves from <sup>17</sup>rust and moths, though they be covered <sup>18</sup>with purple raiment. <sup>19</sup>They wipe their faces because of <sup>20</sup>the dust of the temple, which is thick upon them. <sup>21</sup>And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth against him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country. <sup>22</sup>He hath also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from war and <sup>23</sup>robbers. <sup>24</sup>Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not. <sup>25</sup>For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temples their eyes be full of <sup>26</sup>dust through the feet of them that come in. <sup>27</sup>And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; <sup>28</sup>even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, <sup>29</sup>lest they be carried off by robbers. <sup>30</sup>They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof <sup>31</sup>they cannot see one. <sup>32</sup>They are <sup>33</sup>as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their raiment: they feel it not <sup>34</sup>when their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple: <sup>35</sup>upon their bodies and heads alight bats, swallows, and birds; and in like manner the cats also. <sup>36</sup>Whereby ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not. <sup>37</sup>Notwithstanding the gold <sup>38</sup>wherewith they are beset to make them beautiful, except one wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for not even when they were molten did they feel it. <sup>39</sup>Things <sup>40</sup>wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. <sup>41</sup>Having no feet, <sup>42</sup>they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. <sup>43</sup>They also that serve them are ashamed; for <sup>44</sup>if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be set awry, can they make themselves straight: <sup>45</sup>but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. <sup>46</sup>And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay up part thereof in salt; <sup>47</sup>but unto the poor and to the impotent will they give nothing thereof. <sup>48</sup>The menstruous woman and <sup>49</sup>the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: <sup>50</sup>knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods, fear them not. <sup>51</sup>For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before <sup>52</sup>the gods of silver, gold, and wood. <sup>53</sup>And in their temples the priests <sup>54</sup>sit on seats, <sup>55</sup>having their clothes rent, and <sup>56</sup>their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads. <sup>57</sup>They roar and cry before their gods, as men do <sup>58</sup>at the feast when one is dead. <sup>59</sup>The priests also take off <sup>60</sup>garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal. <sup>61</sup>Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither <sup>62</sup>set up a king, nor put him down. <sup>63</sup>In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: <sup>64</sup>though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will never exact it. <sup>65</sup>They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty. <sup>66</sup>They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor deliver any that is in distress. <sup>67</sup>They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. <sup>68</sup>They are like the stones that be <sup>69</sup>hewn out of the mountain, <sup>70</sup>these gods of wood, and that are <sup>71</sup>overlaid with gold and with silver: <sup>72</sup>they that minister unto them shall be confounded. <sup>73</sup>How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them? <sup>74</sup>Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and intreat him to call upon <sup>75</sup>Bel, as though he were able to understand. <sup>76</sup>Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understanding. <sup>77</sup>The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, <sup>78</sup>burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken. <sup>79</sup>Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they are gods? <sup>80</sup>They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be. <sup>81</sup>And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long; how then should the things that are fashioned by them? <sup>82</sup>For they have left <sup>83</sup>lies and <sup>84</sup>reproaches to them that come after. <sup>85</sup>For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them. <sup>86</sup>How then cannot men understand that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, nor from plague? <sup>87</sup>For seeing they be

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place,—fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.—Verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked—unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar—verse 24.

that thou hast brought upon us, and upon <sup>e</sup> the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgements: for according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us because of our sins. <sup>6</sup> For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing from thee. <sup>7</sup> In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, <sup>8</sup> that it might go well with us. <sup>8</sup> Wherefore

all that thou hast brought upon us, and everything that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgement. <sup>9</sup> And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful forsakers of God, and to <sup>h</sup>an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world.

<sup>10</sup> And now <sup>i</sup>we cannot open our mouth; <sup>j</sup>shame and reproach have befallen thy servants, and them that worship thee.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>k</sup>Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant: <sup>l</sup>and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham <sup>i</sup>that is beloved of thee, and for the sake of Isaac thy servant, and Israel thy holy one; <sup>13</sup> to whom thou didst promise, <sup>m</sup>that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that is upon the sea shore. <sup>14</sup> For we, O Lord, <sup>n</sup>are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. <sup>15</sup> Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy. <sup>16</sup> Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted; <sup>17</sup> <sup>q</sup>like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and <sup>grant</sup> that we may wholly go after thee, <sup>r</sup>for they shall not be ashamed that put their trust in thee.

<sup>18</sup> And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face. <sup>19</sup> Put us not to shame: but <sup>s</sup>deal with us after thy kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercy. <sup>20</sup> Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and <sup>t</sup>give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be confounded; <sup>21</sup> and let them be ashamed of all their <sup>1</sup>power and might, and let their strength be broken; <sup>22</sup> <sup>u</sup>and let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.

<sup>23</sup> And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and small wood; <sup>24</sup> so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. <sup>25</sup> And it spread, and <sup>v</sup>burned those Chaldeans whom it found about the furnace. <sup>26</sup> But <sup>w</sup>the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with <sup>x</sup>Azarias and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace; <sup>27</sup> and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist <sup>y</sup>whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither <sup>w</sup>hurt nor troubled them.

<sup>28</sup> Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, <sup>29</sup> <sup>z</sup>Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. <sup>30</sup> And blessed is thy glorious and holy name; and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. <sup>31</sup> Blessed art thou <sup>a</sup>in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever. <sup>32</sup> Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and <sup>b</sup>sittest upon the cherubim: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. <sup>33</sup> Blessed art thou on the throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and <sup>2</sup>extolled above all for ever. <sup>34</sup> Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven: and to be praised and glorified for ever.

THE ## HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

Set apart from the beginning of DANIEL, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of Bel and the Dragon.

† THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, and his name was Joakim: and he took a wife, whose name was <sup>a</sup> Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, <sup>b</sup> a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. <sup>3</sup> Her parents also were <sup>c</sup> righteous, and taught their daughter <sup>d</sup> according to the law of Moses. <sup>4</sup> Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a <sup>e</sup> fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others. <sup>5</sup> And the same year there were appointed <sup>f</sup> two of the ancients of the people to be judges, <sup>g</sup> such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were accounted to govern the people. <sup>6</sup> These kept much at Joakim's house: and <sup>h</sup> all that had any suits in law came unto them. <sup>7</sup> Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. <sup>8</sup> And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with love for her. <sup>9</sup> And <sup>i</sup> they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements. <sup>10</sup> And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief. <sup>11</sup> For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. <sup>12</sup> Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. <sup>13</sup> And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time. <sup>14</sup> So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone. <sup>15</sup> And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in as aforetime with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in <sup>j</sup> the garden: for it was hot. <sup>16</sup> And there was nobody there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her. <sup>17</sup> Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me. <sup>18</sup> And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: and they saw not the elders, because they were hid. <sup>19</sup> Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying, <sup>20</sup> Behold, the garden doors are shut, <sup>k</sup> that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us. <sup>21</sup> If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee. <sup>22</sup> Then Susanna sighed, and said, <sup>l</sup> I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, <sup>m</sup> it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. <sup>23</sup> It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than <sup>a</sup>to sin in the sight of the Lord. <sup>24</sup> With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her. <sup>25</sup> Then ran the one, and opened the garden doors. <sup>26</sup> So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had befallen her. <sup>27</sup> But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna. <sup>28</sup> And it came to pass on the morrow, <sup>c</sup>when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death; <sup>29</sup> and said before the people, Send for Susanna, <sup>d</sup>the daughter of Helkias, Joakim's wife. So they sent; <sup>30</sup> and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. <sup>31</sup> Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and <sup>e</sup>beauteous to behold. <sup>32</sup> And these wicked men commanded her <sup>f</sup>to be unveiled, (for she was veiled) that they might be filled with her beauty. <sup>33</sup> Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept. <sup>34</sup> Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and <sup>g</sup>laid their hands upon her head. <sup>35</sup> And she weeping looked up toward heaven: <sup>h</sup>for her heart trusted in the Lord. <sup>36</sup> And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. <sup>37</sup> Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. <sup>38</sup> And we, being in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness, and ran unto them. <sup>39</sup> And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and leaped out. <sup>40</sup> But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify. <sup>41</sup> Then the assembly believed them, as <sup>i</sup>those that were elders of the people and judges: so <sup>j</sup>they condemned her to death. <sup>42</sup> Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, <sup>k</sup>that knowest the secrets, that knowest all things before they be: <sup>43</sup> thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me. <sup>44</sup> And the Lord heard her voice. <sup>45</sup> Therefore when she was led away <sup>l</sup>to be put to death, God <sup>m</sup>raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel: <sup>46</sup> and he cried with a loud voice, <sup>n</sup>I am clear from the blood of this woman. <sup>47</sup> Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken? <sup>48</sup> So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned <sup>o</sup>a daughter of Israel? <sup>49</sup> Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false witness against her. <sup>50</sup> Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. <sup>51</sup> Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one far from another, and I will examine them. <sup>52</sup> So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, <sup>p</sup>now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforetime, <sup>53</sup> <sup>q</sup>in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, <sup>r</sup>The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. <sup>54</sup> Now then, if thou sawest her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. <sup>55</sup> And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God and <sup>s</sup>shall cut thee in two. <sup>56</sup> So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou <sup>t</sup>seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust <sup>u</sup>hath perverted thine heart. <sup>57</sup> Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you: but <sup>v</sup>the daughter of Judah would not abide your wickedness. <sup>58</sup> Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under a holm tree. <sup>59</sup> Then said Daniel unto him, Right well hast thou also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword <sup>w</sup>to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. <sup>60</sup> With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saveth them <sup>x</sup>that hope in him. <sup>61</sup> And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness out of their own mouth: <sup>62</sup> and <sup>y</sup>according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. <sup>63</sup> Therefore <sup>z</sup>Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. <sup>64</sup> And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

BEL AND THE DRAGON.

in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all. <sup>16</sup>In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him. <sup>17</sup>And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole. <sup>18</sup>And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all. <sup>19</sup>Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these. <sup>20</sup>And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry, <sup>21</sup>and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him <sup>k</sup>the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table. <sup>22</sup><sup>l</sup>Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who overthrew him and his temple.

<sup>23</sup>And in that same place there was a great <sup>m</sup>dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped. <sup>24</sup>And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say <sup>n</sup>that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him. <sup>25</sup>Then said Daniel, <sup>o</sup>I will worship the Lord my God: for he is <sup>p</sup>a living God. <sup>26</sup>But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave. <sup>27</sup>Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and Daniel said, Lo, these are the gods ye worship. <sup>28</sup>When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he <sup>q</sup>hath pulled down Bel, and slain the dragon, and <sup>r</sup>put the priests to the sword. <sup>29</sup>So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house. <sup>30</sup>Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, the king delivered Daniel unto them: <sup>31</sup><sup>s</sup>who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days. <sup>32</sup>And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every saying, O Daniel, Daniel, <sup>s</sup> take the dinner which God hath sent thee. <sup>38</sup> And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: <sup>t</sup> neither hast thou forsaken them that love thee. <sup>39</sup> So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately. <sup>40</sup> Upon the seventh day <sup>u</sup> the king came to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting. <sup>41</sup> Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord, thou <sup>v</sup> God of Daniel, and there is none other beside thee. <sup>42</sup> And he drew him out, and <sup>w</sup> cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

<sup>33</sup> Now there was in Jewry <sup>q</sup> the prophet <sup>1</sup> Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. <sup>34</sup> But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, in the lions' den. <sup>35</sup> And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is. <sup>36</sup> Then the angel of the Lord <sup>r</sup> took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set him in Babylon over the den. <sup>37</sup> And Habakkuk cried,

PRAYER OF MANASSES

KING OF JUDAH,

WHEN HE WAS HOLDEN CAPTIVE IN BABYLON.

O LORD Almighty, <sup>a</sup> that art in heaven, <sup>b</sup> thou God of our fathers, of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and of <sup>c</sup> their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the <sup>2</sup> ornament thereof; <sup>d</sup> who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all things fear, yea, tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and the anger of thy threatening toward sinners is importable; thy merciful promise is unmeasurable; thy merciful promise is unsearchable; for thou art the Lord Most High, <sup>f</sup> of great compassion, longsuffering and abundant in mercy, and repentest <sup>g</sup> of bringing evils upon men. <sup>4</sup> Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, <sup>h</sup> that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but <sup>i</sup> thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned <sup>k</sup> above the number of the sands of the sea. <sup>j</sup> My transgressions are multiplied, <sup>o</sup> O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and <sup>k</sup> I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down <sup>l</sup> with many iron bands, that <sup>k</sup> I cannot lift up mine head <sup>o</sup> by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done that which is evil before thee: <sup>7</sup> I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: <sup>m</sup> I have set up abominations, and have multiplied <sup>n</sup> detestable things. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and <sup>n</sup> I acknowledge mine iniquities: but, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into <sup>o</sup> the lower parts of the earth. For thou, O Lord, art the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. And I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: <sup>p</sup> for all the host of heaven doth sing thy praise, and <sup>q</sup> thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

I <sup>1</sup>AND it came to pass, after that <sup>a</sup>Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of <sup>b</sup>Chittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, over <sup>1</sup>Greece. <sup>2</sup>And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, and slew the kings of the earth, <sup>3</sup>and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And <sup>c</sup>the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up, <sup>4</sup>and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary unto him. <sup>5</sup>And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die. <sup>6</sup>And he called his servants, which were honourable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his kingdom, while he was yet alive. <sup>7</sup>And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died. <sup>8</sup>And his servants bare rule, each one in his place. <sup>9</sup>And they did all put <sup>d</sup>diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

<sup>11</sup>In those days <sup>g</sup>came there forth out of Israel <sup>h</sup>transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, <sup>i</sup>Let us go and make a covenant with the <sup>3</sup>Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils have befallen us. <sup>12</sup>And the saying was good in their eyes. <sup>13</sup>And certain of the people were forward here-in and <sup>j</sup>went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the <sup>3</sup>Gentiles. <sup>14</sup>And <sup>k</sup>they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to the laws of the <sup>3</sup>Gentiles; <sup>15</sup>and <sup>l</sup>they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and

smote it very sore, and destroyed much people out of Israel. <sup>31</sup> And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof on every side. <sup>32</sup> And they led captive the women and the children, and the cattle they took in possession. <sup>33</sup> And they builded the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them <sup>a</sup> a citadel. <sup>34</sup> And they put there <sup>a</sup> a sinful nation, <sup>f</sup> transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein. <sup>35</sup> And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore snare: <sup>36</sup> and it became a place to lie in wait in against the sanctuary, and <sup>g</sup> an evil adversary to Israel continually. <sup>37</sup> And <sup>h</sup> they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. <sup>38</sup> And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her, and her children forsook her. <sup>39</sup> <sup>i</sup> Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, <sup>j</sup> her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt. <sup>40</sup> According to her glory, so was her dishonour multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.

<sup>41</sup> And king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, <sup>42</sup> <sup>k</sup> and that each should forsake his own laws. <sup>43</sup> And all the nations agreed according to the word of the king; <sup>44</sup> and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the sabbath. <sup>45</sup> And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, <sup>46</sup> that they should follow laws strange to the land, <sup>47</sup> and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should <sup>48</sup> <sup>l</sup> profane the sabbaths and feasts, <sup>49</sup> and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; <sup>50</sup> that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and <sup>51</sup> <sup>m</sup> should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts: <sup>52</sup> and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; <sup>53</sup> so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. <sup>54</sup> And whosoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. <sup>55</sup> According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and <sup>56</sup> <sup>n</sup> he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. <sup>57</sup> And from the people were gathered together unto them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; <sup>58</sup> and they made Israel <sup>o</sup> to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

<sup>6</sup> And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, and he said,

Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of <sup>1</sup> the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? <sup>2</sup> Her temple is become as a man <sup>3</sup> that was glorious: <sup>4</sup> her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, <sup>5</sup> her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. <sup>6</sup> What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? <sup>7</sup> Her adorning is all taken away; instead of a <sup>8</sup> free woman she is become a bond woman: <sup>9</sup> and, behold, our holy things

<sup>15</sup> And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city <sup>a</sup>Modin to sacrifice. <sup>16</sup> And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. <sup>17</sup> And the king's officers answered and spake to Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren: <sup>18</sup> now therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, <sup>p</sup>as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou and thy house shall be in the number of the king's <sup>q</sup>Friends, and thou and thy sons shall be honoured with silver and gold and many gifts. <sup>19</sup> And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken unto him, <sup>r</sup>to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, <sup>20</sup> yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers. <sup>21</sup> Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. <sup>22</sup> We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, <sup>t</sup>on the right hand, or on the left.

<sup>29</sup> Then many that sought after justice and judgement went down into the wilderness, to dwell there, <sup>30</sup> they, <sup>y</sup>and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied upon them. <sup>31</sup> And it was told the king's officers, and <sup>z</sup>the forces that were in

Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into <sup>a</sup>the secret places in the wilderness; <sup>32</sup> and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the sabbath day. <sup>33</sup> And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the king, and ye shall live. <sup>34</sup> And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, <sup>b</sup>to profane the sabbath day. <sup>35</sup> And they hasted to give them battle. <sup>36</sup> And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up <sup>a</sup>the secret places, <sup>37</sup> saying, Let us die all in our innocence: heaven and earth witness over us, that ye put us to death without trial. <sup>38</sup> And they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they died, they <sup>d</sup>and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand <sup>2</sup>souls.

<sup>39</sup> And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. <sup>40</sup> And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth. <sup>41</sup> And they took counsel on that day, saying, Whosoever shall come against us to battle on the sabbath day, <sup>e</sup>let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in <sup>a</sup>the secret places. <sup>42</sup> Then were gathered together unto them a company of <sup>3</sup>Hasidæans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law. <sup>43</sup> And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay unto them. <sup>44</sup> And they mustered a host, and smote <sup>g</sup>sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the Gentiles for safety. <sup>45</sup> And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars; <sup>46</sup> and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the coasts of Israel. <sup>47</sup> And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand. <sup>48</sup> And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither <sup>4</sup>h suffered they the sinner to triumph.

<sup>49</sup> And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation. <sup>50</sup> And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. <sup>51</sup> And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory <sup>4</sup>and an everlasting name. <sup>52</sup>Was not Abraham <sup>5</sup>found faithful in temptation, and <sup>6</sup>it was reckoned unto him for righteousness? <sup>53</sup>Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, <sup>7</sup>and became lord of Egypt. <sup>54</sup>Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, <sup>8</sup>obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. <sup>55</sup>Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel. <sup>56</sup>Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation <sup>9</sup>obtained a heritage in the land. <sup>57</sup>David <sup>10</sup>for being merciful <sup>11</sup>inherited the throne of a kingdom for ever and ever. <sup>58</sup>Elijah, for that he was <sup>12</sup>exceeding zealous for the law, <sup>13</sup>was taken up into heaven. <sup>59</sup>Hananiah, Azariah, Mishael, <sup>14</sup>believed, and were saved out of the flame. <sup>60</sup>Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions. <sup>61</sup>And thus consider ye from generation to generation, that none <sup>15</sup>that put their trust in him shall want for strength. <sup>62</sup>And <sup>16</sup>be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms. <sup>63</sup>To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned unto his dust, and his thought is perished. <sup>64</sup>And ye, my children, <sup>17</sup>be strong, and shew yourselves men in behalf of the law; for therein shall ye obtain glory. <sup>65</sup>And, behold, <sup>18</sup>Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel; give ear unto him alway: he shall be a father unto you. <sup>66</sup>And <sup>19</sup>Judas Maccabæus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and <sup>20</sup>shall fight the battle of the people. <sup>67</sup>And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong of your people. <sup>68</sup>Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law.

<sup>71</sup>And his son Judas, who was called Maccabæus, rose up in his stead. <sup>23</sup>And all his brethren helped him, and so did <sup>24</sup>all they that clave unto his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of Israel. <sup>25</sup>And he gat his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. <sup>26</sup>And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as <sup>27</sup>a lion's whelp roaring for prey. <sup>28</sup>And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he <sup>29</sup>burnt up those that troubled his people. <sup>30</sup>And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, <sup>31</sup>and salvation prospered in his hand. <sup>32</sup>And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and <sup>33</sup>his memorial is blessed for ever. <sup>34</sup>And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly <sup>35</sup>out of the land, and <sup>36</sup>turned away wrath from Israel: <sup>37</sup>and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish.

<sup>38</sup>And <sup>39</sup>Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from <sup>40</sup>Samaria, to fight against Israel. <sup>41</sup>And Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death, and the rest fled. <sup>42</sup>And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of <sup>43</sup>Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days.

<sup>44</sup>And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him, and of such as went out to war; <sup>45</sup>and he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought the word of the king. <sup>46</sup>And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

<sup>47</sup>And he came near unto <sup>48</sup>the going up of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to meet him with a small company. <sup>49</sup>But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. <sup>50</sup>And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many <sup>51</sup>to be shut up in the hands of a few; <sup>52</sup>and with <sup>53</sup>heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few: <sup>54</sup>for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength is from heaven. <sup>55</sup>They come unto us in fulness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, for to spoil us: <sup>56</sup>but we fight for our lives and <sup>57</sup>our laws. <sup>58</sup>And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

<sup>59</sup>Now when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and Seron and his army were discomfited before him. <sup>60</sup>And they pursued them in <sup>61</sup>the going down of Bethhoron unto the plain, and there fell of them about eight hundred men; but the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

<sup>25</sup> And <sup>v</sup> the fear of Judas and his brethren, and the dread of them, began to fall upon the nations round about them: <sup>26</sup> and his name came near even unto the king, and every nation told of the battles of Judas.

<sup>27</sup> But when king <sup>v</sup> Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong army. <sup>28</sup> And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. <sup>29</sup> And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from the first days; <sup>30</sup> and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforetime with a liberal hand, and <sup>31</sup> he abounded above the kings that were before him. <sup>32</sup> And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into <sup>v</sup> Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money. <sup>33</sup> And he left <sup>2</sup> Lysias, an honourable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt, <sup>33</sup> and to bring up his son <sup>a</sup> Antiochus, until he came again. <sup>34</sup> And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and <sup>b</sup> the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwelt in Judæa and in Jerusalem, <sup>35</sup> that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and <sup>c</sup> to take away their memorial from the place; <sup>36</sup> and that he should make strangers to dwell in all their coasts, and should divide their land to them by lot. <sup>37</sup> And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from <sup>a</sup> Antioch, from his royal city, <sup>1</sup> the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through <sup>e</sup> the upper countries.

silver and gold exceeding much, with <sup>2</sup> fetters, and came into the camp to take the children of Israel for servants: and there were added unto them the forces of Syria and of <sup>1</sup> the land of the <sup>3</sup> Philistines.

<sup>42</sup> And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them; <sup>43</sup> and they said each man to his neighbour, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our people and the holy place. <sup>44</sup> And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for mercy and compassion. <sup>45</sup> <sup>m</sup> And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and <sup>n</sup> the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. <sup>46</sup> And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for <sup>o</sup> in Mizpeh was there a place of prayer aforetime for Israel. <sup>47</sup> And they fasted that day, and <sup>p</sup> put on sackcloth, and <sup>q</sup> put ashes upon their heads, and <sup>r</sup> rent their clothes, <sup>48</sup> and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likenesses of their idols. <sup>49</sup> And they brought <sup>s</sup> the priests' garments, <sup>t</sup> and the firstfruits, and <sup>u</sup> the tithes: and they stirred up <sup>v</sup> the Nazirites, who had accomplished their days. <sup>50</sup> And they cried aloud <sup>w</sup> toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry them away? <sup>51</sup> And <sup>x</sup> thy holy place is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness and brought low. <sup>52</sup> And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what things they imagine against us. <sup>53</sup> How shall we be able to stand before them, except thou be our help? <sup>54</sup> <sup>y</sup> And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

<sup>55</sup> And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, <sup>z</sup> captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. <sup>56</sup> And he said to them <sup>a</sup> that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and <sup>b</sup> were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, <sup>c</sup> according to the law. <sup>57</sup> And the army removed, and encamped upon the south side of <sup>e</sup> Emmaus. <sup>58</sup> And Judas said, Gird yourselves, and <sup>d</sup> be valiant men, and be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: <sup>59</sup> for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. <sup>60</sup> Nevertheless, as may be the will in heaven, so shall he do.

<sup>4</sup> And <sup>f</sup> Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, and the army removed by night, <sup>2</sup> that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and <sup>g</sup> the men of the citadel were his guides. <sup>3</sup> And Judas heard thereof, and removed, he and the valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was at <sup>h</sup> Emmaus, <sup>4</sup> while as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp. <sup>5</sup> And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. <sup>6</sup> And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armour nor swords to their minds. <sup>7</sup> And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war. <sup>8</sup> And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their onset. <sup>9</sup> Remember how our fathers <sup>j</sup> were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. <sup>10</sup> And now let us cry <sup>k</sup> unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face to-day: <sup>11</sup> and <sup>l</sup> all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Israel. <sup>12</sup> And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them: <sup>13</sup> and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas <sup>m</sup> sounded their trumpets, <sup>14</sup> and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. <sup>15</sup> But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto <sup>1n</sup> Gazara, and unto the plains of Idumæa and <sup>o</sup> Azotus and <sup>p</sup> Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. <sup>16</sup> And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, <sup>17</sup> and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; <sup>18</sup> and Gorgias and his host are nigh unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness. <sup>19</sup> While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: <sup>20</sup> and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. <sup>21</sup> But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, <sup>22</sup> they fled all of them into <sup>q</sup> the land of the <sup>2</sup> Philistines. <sup>23</sup> And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea purple, and great riches. <sup>24</sup> And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise <sup>r</sup> unto heaven; <sup>7</sup> because <sup>his</sup> mercy is good, because his mercy endureth for ever. <sup>25</sup> And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

<sup>26</sup> But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told <sup>s</sup> Lysias all the things that had happened: <sup>27</sup> but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.

<sup>28</sup> And in the next year he gathered together threescore thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that he might subdue them. <sup>29</sup> And they came into Idumæa, and encamped at <sup>t</sup> Bethsura; and Judas met them with ten thousand men. <sup>30</sup> And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said,

<sup>34</sup> And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of <sup>x</sup> Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over against them. <sup>35</sup> But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to <sup>y</sup> Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judea with even a greater company.

burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' chambers pulled down; <sup>39</sup> and they rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and put ashes upon their heads, <sup>40</sup> and fell on their faces to the ground, and blew with <sup>a</sup> the solemn trumpets, and cried <sup>b</sup> toward heaven. <sup>41</sup> Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against <sup>c</sup> those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.

<sup>42</sup> And he chose blameless priests, such as had pleasure in the law: <sup>43</sup> and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an unclean place. <sup>44</sup> And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, <sup>d</sup> which had been profaned, what they should do with it: <sup>45</sup> and there came in to their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down the altar, <sup>46</sup> and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, <sup>e</sup> until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them. <sup>47</sup> And they took <sup>f</sup> whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; <sup>48</sup> and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; <sup>g</sup> and they hallowed the courts. <sup>49</sup> And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought <sup>h</sup> the candlestick, and <sup>i</sup> the altar of burnt offerings and <sup>j</sup> of incense, and <sup>k</sup> the table, into the temple. <sup>50</sup> And <sup>l</sup> they burned incense upon the altar, <sup>m</sup> and they lighted <sup>n</sup> the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. <sup>51</sup> <sup>p</sup> And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out <sup>q</sup> the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

<sup>52</sup> And they rose up early in the morning, <sup>r</sup> on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month <sup>s</sup> Chisleu, in <sup>t</sup> the hundred and forty and eighth year, <sup>53</sup> and offered sacrifice <sup>u</sup> according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings <sup>v</sup> which they had made. <sup>54</sup> <sup>w</sup> At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated afresh, <sup>x</sup> with songs <sup>y</sup> and harps and lutes, and with cymbals. <sup>55</sup> And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and <sup>z</sup> gave praise <sup>aa</sup> unto heaven, which had given them good success. <sup>56</sup> And they kept the dedication of the altar <sup>ab</sup> eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and <sup>ac</sup> sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. <sup>57</sup> And they decked the forefront of the temple with <sup>ad</sup> crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh <sup>ae</sup> the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. <sup>58</sup> And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. <sup>59</sup> And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of <sup>d</sup> the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of <sup>e</sup> eight days, from <sup>f</sup> the five and twentieth day of the month <sup>g</sup> Chisleu, with gladness and joy. <sup>60</sup> And at that season they builded up the mount Sion <sup>h</sup> with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, <sup>i</sup> as they had done aforetime. <sup>61</sup> And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified <sup>j</sup> Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against <sup>k</sup> Idumæa.

<sup>5</sup> And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that <sup>i</sup> the altar was built, and <sup>j</sup> the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding wroth. <sup>2</sup> And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to slay and destroy among the people. <sup>3</sup> And Judas fought against <sup>l</sup> the children of Esau in Idumæa at <sup>m</sup> Akrabatine, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. <sup>4</sup> And he remembered <sup>n</sup> the wickedness of the children of Bæan, who were unto the people a snare and a stumblingblock, lying in wait for them in the ways. <sup>5</sup> And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, <sup>o</sup> and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. <sup>6</sup> And he passed over to <sup>p</sup> the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with <sup>q</sup> Timotheus for their leader. <sup>7</sup> And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, <sup>8</sup> and gat possession of <sup>r</sup> Jazer, and <sup>s</sup> the villages thereof, and returned again into Judæa.

<sup>9</sup> And the Gentiles that were in <sup>t</sup> Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to <sup>u</sup> the stronghold of Dathema, <sup>10</sup> and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: <sup>11</sup> and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their host. <sup>12</sup> Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. <sup>13</sup> And all our brethren that were in the land of <sup>v</sup> Tubias have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about a thousand men. <sup>14</sup> While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee <sup>10</sup> with their clothes rent, bringing a report after this wise, <sup>15</sup> saying, That there were gathered together against them those of <sup>a</sup> Ptolemais, and of <sup>b</sup> Tyre, and of Sidon, and all <sup>c</sup> Galilee of the <sup>1</sup> Gentiles, to consume them.

<sup>16</sup> Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assaulted of them. <sup>17</sup> And Judas said unto <sup>a</sup> Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in <sup>a</sup> Galilee, but I and <sup>b</sup> Jonathan my brother will go into the land of <sup>c</sup> Gilead. <sup>18</sup> And he left <sup>d</sup> Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judea, for to keep it. <sup>19</sup> And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and <sup>e</sup> fight no battle with the Gentiles until that we come again. <sup>20</sup> And unto <sup>a</sup> Simon were divided three thousand men to go into <sup>a</sup> Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of <sup>c</sup> Gilead.

city with fire. <sup>29</sup> And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came to <sup>i</sup> the stronghold. <sup>30</sup> And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them. <sup>31</sup> And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, <sup>32</sup> and he said unto the men of his host, <sup>m</sup> Fight this day for your brethren. <sup>33</sup> And he went forth behind them <sup>n</sup> in three companies, <sup>o</sup> and they sounded with their trumpets, and cried out in prayer. <sup>34</sup> And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabæus, and they fled from before him: and he smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men. <sup>35</sup> And he turned aside to <sup>p</sup> Mizpeh and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with fire. <sup>36</sup> From thence he removed, and took <sup>q</sup> Casphor, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.

<sup>37</sup> Now after these things <sup>r</sup> Timotheus gathered another army, and encamped over against Raphon beyond the brook. <sup>38</sup> And Judas sent men to espy the army; and they brought him word, saying, All the Gentiles that be round about us are gathered together unto them, an exceeding great host. <sup>39</sup> And they have hired <sup>s</sup> Arabians to help them, and are encamping beyond the brook, ready to come against thee to battle. And Judas went to meet them. <sup>40</sup> And Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, when Judas and his army drew nigh unto the brook of water, If he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will mightily prevail against us: <sup>41</sup> but if he be afraid, and encamp beyond the river, we will cross over unto him, and prevail against him. <sup>42</sup> Now when Judas came nigh unto the brook of water, he caused <sup>t</sup> the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and gave commandment unto them, saying, Suffer no man to encamp, but let all come to the battle. <sup>43</sup> And he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him: and <sup>u</sup> all the Gentiles were discomfited before his face, and cast away their arms, and fled unto the temple at <sup>v</sup> Carnaim. <sup>44</sup> And <sup>v</sup> they took the city, and burned the temple with fire, together with all that were therein. And <sup>v</sup> Carnaim was subdued, neither could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.

<sup>45</sup> And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into the land of Judah. <sup>46</sup> And <sup>w</sup> they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it. <sup>47</sup> And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones. <sup>48</sup> And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, <sup>w</sup> We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they would not open unto him. <sup>49</sup> And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. <sup>50</sup> And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and <sup>v</sup> the city was delivered into his hands; <sup>51</sup> and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain. <sup>52</sup> And they went <sup>o</sup> over Jordan into <sup>a</sup> the great plain over against <sup>b</sup> Bethshan. <sup>53</sup> And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. <sup>54</sup> And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

<sup>63</sup> And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, whosoever their name was heard of; <sup>64</sup> and men gathered together unto them, acclaiming them.

6 <sup>1</sup> And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in <sup>v</sup> Elymais in <sup>q</sup> Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold; <sup>2</sup> and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which <sup>r</sup> Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. <sup>3</sup> And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to them of the city, <sup>4</sup> and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return unto Babylon.

<sup>5</sup> And there <sup>t</sup> came one bringing him tidings into <sup>q</sup> Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judah, had been put to flight; <sup>6</sup> and that <sup>u</sup> Lysias went first with a strong host, and was put to shame before them; and that they had waxed strong by reason of arms and power, and with store of spoils, which they took from the armies that they had cut off; <sup>7</sup> and <sup>v</sup> that they had pulled down <sup>w</sup> the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and <sup>w</sup> Bethsura, his city. <sup>8</sup> And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly; <sup>9</sup> and he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for. <sup>9</sup> And he was there many days, <sup>2</sup> because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that he should die. <sup>10</sup> And he called for all his <sup>a</sup> Friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for care. <sup>11</sup> And I said in my heart, Unto what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious and beloved in my power. <sup>12</sup>But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that <sup>13</sup>I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and <sup>14</sup>sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. <sup>15</sup>I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. <sup>16</sup>And he called for <sup>17</sup>Philip, one of his <sup>18</sup>Friends, and set him over all his kingdom, <sup>19</sup>and gave him his <sup>20</sup>diadem, and his robe, and his <sup>21</sup>signet-ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king. <sup>22</sup>And king Antiochus died there in <sup>23</sup>the hundred and forty and ninth year. <sup>24</sup>And <sup>25</sup>Lysias knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, <sup>26</sup>whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name <sup>27</sup>Eupator.

<sup>28</sup>And they <sup>29</sup>that were in the citadel shut up Israel round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the Gentiles. <sup>30</sup>And Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them. <sup>31</sup>And they were gathered together, and besieged them <sup>32</sup>in <sup>33</sup>the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made <sup>34</sup>mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. <sup>35</sup>And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them <sup>36</sup>certain ungodly men of Israel. <sup>37</sup>And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgement, and avenge our brethren? <sup>38</sup>We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, and to follow <sup>39</sup>his commandments; <sup>40</sup>and for this cause the children of our people besieged <sup>41</sup>the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on <sup>42</sup>they slew, and spoiled our inheritances. <sup>43</sup>And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. <sup>44</sup>And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: <sup>45</sup>and the sanctuary and <sup>46</sup>Bethsura have they fortified. <sup>47</sup>And if ye are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them.

trained for war. <sup>31</sup> And they went through Idumæa, <sup>32</sup>and encamped against <sup>33</sup>Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. <sup>34</sup> And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethzacharias, over against the king's camp. <sup>35</sup> And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army <sup>36</sup>at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. <sup>37</sup> And they shewed the elephants <sup>38</sup>the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. <sup>39</sup> And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. <sup>40</sup> These were ready beforehand, wheresoever the beast was; and whithersoever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not from him. <sup>41</sup> And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girt fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian <sup>42</sup> (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the phalanxes. <sup>43</sup> Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of fire. <sup>44</sup> And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. <sup>45</sup> And that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and strong. <sup>46</sup> And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. <sup>47</sup> And Eleazar, <sup>48</sup>who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; <sup>49</sup> and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him <sup>50</sup>an everlasting name; <sup>51</sup> and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. <sup>52</sup> And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. <sup>53</sup> And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.

48 But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judæa, and toward mount Zion. 49<sup>b</sup> And he made peace with them of <sup>c</sup>Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was <sup>d</sup>a sabbath to the land. 50 And the king took <sup>e</sup>Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it. 51 And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there <sup>e</sup>mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings. 52 And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. 53 But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was <sup>f</sup>the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judæa from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; 54 and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

55 And <sup>g</sup>Lysias heard say, that <sup>h</sup>Philip, whom Antiochus the king, whiles he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, 56 was returned from <sup>i</sup>Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take unto him the government. 57 And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us: 58 now therefore let us <sup>j</sup>give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, 59 and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these things. 60<sup>k</sup> And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof. 61 And the king and the princes swore unto them: thereupon they came forth from the stronghold. 62 And the king entered into mount Zion; and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nought the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down <sup>l</sup>the wall round about. 63 And he removed in haste, and <sup>m</sup>returned unto <sup>n</sup>Antioch, and found <sup>h</sup>Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

7 In <sup>o</sup>the hundred and one and fiftieth year <sup>p</sup>Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from <sup>q</sup>Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, and reigned there. 2 And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army <sup>r</sup>laid hands on Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him. 3 And the thing was known to him, and he said, Shew me not their faces. 4 And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom. 5 And there came unto him all <sup>s</sup>the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and <sup>t</sup>Alcimus was their leader, desiring to be high priest; 6 and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have scattered us from our own land. 7 Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the havock which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and <sup>u</sup>how he hath punished them and all that helped them. 8 And the king chose <sup>v</sup>Bacchides, one of the king's <sup>w</sup>Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond <sup>x</sup>the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king. 9 And he sent him, and that ungodly <sup>y</sup>Alcimus, <sup>z</sup>and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.

10 And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace deceitfully. 11 And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great host. 12 And there were gathered together unto <sup>aa</sup>Alcimus and <sup>ab</sup>Bacchides a company of scribes, to seek for justice. 13 And the <sup>ac</sup>Hasidæans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them; 14 for they said, One <sup>ad</sup>that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no wrong. 15 And he spake with them words of peace, and swore unto them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither of you nor your friends. 16 And they gave him credence; and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which the <sup>ae</sup>psalmist wrote,

17 <sup>af</sup>The flesh of thy saints did they cast out,
And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;
And there was no man to bury them.

18 And <sup>ag</sup>the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they swore. 19 And <sup>ah</sup>Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth; and he sent and took many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, and <sup>ai</sup>cast them into the great pit. 20 And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with

<sup>21</sup> And Alcimus strove <sup>d</sup> for his high priesthood. <sup>22</sup> And there were gathered unto him all they that troubled their people, and they got the mastery of the land of Judah, and did great hurt in Israel. <sup>23</sup> And Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel, even above the Gentiles, <sup>24</sup> and he went out into all the coasts of Judaea round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into the country. <sup>25</sup> But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

<sup>26</sup> And the king sent Nicanor, one of his honourable princes, a man that hated Israel and was their enemy, and commanded him to destroy the people. <sup>27</sup> And Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great host; and <sup>e</sup> he sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with words of peace, saying, <sup>28</sup> Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see your faces in peace. <sup>29</sup> And he came to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. And the enemies were ready <sup>h</sup> to take away Judas by violence. <sup>30</sup> And the thing was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, and he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more. <sup>31</sup> And Nicanor knew that his counsel was discovered; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsalama; <sup>32</sup> and there fell of Nicanor's side about <sup>1</sup> five hundred men, and they fled into <sup>i</sup> the city of David.

<sup>33</sup> And after these things Nicanor went up to mount Sion: and <sup>j</sup> there came some of the priests out of the sanctuary, and some of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifice that was being offered <sup>k</sup> for the king. <sup>34</sup> And he mocked them, and laughed at them, and <sup>2</sup> entreated them shamefully, and spake haughtily, <sup>35</sup> and sware in a rage, saying, Unless Judas and his army be now delivered into my hands, it shall be that, if I come again in peace, I will burn up this house: and he went out in a great rage. <sup>36</sup> And the priests entered in, and <sup>l</sup> stood before the altar and the temple; and they wept, and said, <sup>37</sup> Thou didst <sup>m</sup> choose this house to be called by thy name, to be <sup>n</sup> a house of prayer and supplication for thy people: <sup>38</sup> take vengeance on this man and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to live any longer.

<sup>8</sup> And Judas heard of the fame of <sup>20</sup> the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all that join themselves unto them, and make amity with all such as come unto them, <sup>21</sup> and that they are valiant men. And they told him of their wars and exploits which they do among <sup>22</sup> the Gauls, and how that they conquered them, and brought them under tribute; <sup>23</sup> and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might become masters of the mines of silver and gold which were there; <sup>24</sup> and how that by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceeding far from them), and the kings that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had discomfited them, and smitten them very sore; and how the rest give them tribute year by year: <sup>25</sup> and Philip, and Perseus, king of <sup>26</sup> Chittim, and them that lifted up themselves against them, did they discomfit in battle, and conquered them: <sup>6</sup> Antiochus also, the great king of <sup>e</sup> Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he was discomfited by them, <sup>7</sup> and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of land, to wit, <sup>8</sup> the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king Eumenes: <sup>9</sup> and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy them; <sup>10</sup> and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and spoiled them, and brought them into bondage unto this day: <sup>11</sup> and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them to be their servants; <sup>12</sup> but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were nigh and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid of them: <sup>13</sup> moreover, whomsoever they will to succour and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whomsoever they will, do they depose; and they are exalted exceedingly: <sup>14</sup> and for all this none of them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be magnified thereby: <sup>15</sup> and how they had made for themselves <sup>g</sup> a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting alway for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: <sup>16</sup> and how they commit their government to <sup>h</sup> one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

<sup>17</sup> And Judas chose <sup>i</sup> Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them, <sup>18</sup> and that they should take <sup>j</sup> the yoke from them; for they saw that <sup>k</sup> the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage. <sup>19</sup> And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered and said, <sup>20</sup> Judas, <sup>l</sup> who is also called Maccabæus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

<sup>21</sup> And the thing was well-pleasing in their sight. <sup>22</sup> And this is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again <sup>m</sup> on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and confederacy:

<sup>23</sup> Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and the enemy be far from them. <sup>24</sup> But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, <sup>25</sup> the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their heart: <sup>26</sup> and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore. <sup>27</sup> In the same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion shall prescribe to them: <sup>28</sup> and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. <sup>29</sup> According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus with the people of the Jews. <sup>30</sup> But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established. <sup>31</sup> And as touching the evils which king <sup>n</sup> Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made <sup>o</sup> thy yoke heavy upon <sup>p</sup> our friends and confederates the Jews? <sup>32</sup> If therefore they plead any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

exceedingly: and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them more than eight hundred men. <sup>7</sup>And Judas saw that his army slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them together, and he waxed faint. <sup>8</sup>And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them. <sup>9</sup>And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight against them: but we are few. <sup>10</sup>And Judas said, Let it not be so that I should do this thing, to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our glory. <sup>11</sup>And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was parted into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the battle. <sup>12</sup>But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they blew with their trumpets. <sup>13</sup>And the men of Judas' side, even they *v*sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening. <sup>14</sup>And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all that were brave in heart, <sup>15</sup>and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them unto the mount Azotus. <sup>16</sup>And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed upon the footsteps of Judas and of those that were with him: <sup>17</sup>and the battle waxed sore, and many on both parts fell wounded to death. <sup>18</sup>And Judas fell, and the rest fled. <sup>19</sup>And w Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at *o*Modin. <sup>20</sup>And they bewailed him, and *v*all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, and said, <sup>21</sup>How is the mighty fallen, the saviour of Israel! <sup>22</sup>And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, they are not written; for they were exceeding many. <sup>23</sup>And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that *b*the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose up <sup>24</sup>(in those days was there an exceeding great famine), and the country went over with them. <sup>25</sup>And Bacchides chose out *b*the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country. <sup>26</sup>And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them despitefully. <sup>27</sup>And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not *c*since the time that no prophet appeared unto them. <sup>28</sup>And *d*all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, <sup>29</sup>Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among *e*them of our nation that hate us. <sup>30</sup>Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles. <sup>31</sup>And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and *f*rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

<sup>32</sup>And Bacchides knew it, and he sought to slay him. <sup>33</sup>And *g*Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into *h*the wilderness of *i*Tekoa, and encamped by the water of the pool Asphar. <sup>34</sup>And Bacchides knew it *j*on the sabbath day, and came, he and all his army, over Jordan. <sup>35</sup>And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and besought his friends *k*the Nabathæans, that they might leave with them their baggage, which was much. <sup>36</sup>And the children of Jambri came out of *l*Medaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

<sup>37</sup>But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one of the great nobles of *m*Canaan. <sup>38</sup>And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain: <sup>39</sup>and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and, behold, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and many weapons. <sup>40</sup>And they rose up against them *n*from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils. <sup>41</sup>And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their minstrels into lamentation. <sup>42</sup>And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to *o*the marsh of Jordan.

<sup>43</sup>And Bacchides heard it, and he came *p*on the sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great host. <sup>44</sup>And Jonathan said to his company, *q*Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us to-day, as yesterday and the day before. <sup>45</sup>For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside. <sup>46</sup>Now therefore cry unto heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies. <sup>47</sup>And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. <sup>48</sup>And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side; and they did not pass over Jordan against them. <sup>49</sup>And there fell of Bacchides' company that day about a thousand men; <sup>50</sup>and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judæa, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, and Timnath, and Pharathon, and Tephon, with high walls and gates and bars. <sup>51</sup>And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel. <sup>52</sup>And he fortified the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the citadel, and put forces in them, and store of victuals. <sup>53</sup>And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.

<sup>54</sup>And in the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded to pull down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also the works of the prophets; <sup>55</sup>and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give order concerning his house. <sup>56</sup>And Alcimus died at that time with great torment. <sup>57</sup>And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king; and the land of Judah had rest two years.

<sup>58</sup>And all the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security: now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on them all in one night. <sup>59</sup>And they went and consulted with him. <sup>60</sup>And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judæa, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him: and they could not, because their counsel was known unto them. <sup>61</sup>And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness, and he slew them. <sup>62</sup>And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, gat them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down thereof, and they made it strong. <sup>63</sup>And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judæa. <sup>64</sup>And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war. <sup>65</sup>And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he went with a few men. <sup>66</sup>And he smote Odamera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent. <sup>67</sup>And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines of war, <sup>68</sup>and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his inroad. <sup>69</sup>And they were very wroth with the lawless men that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took counsel to depart into his own land. <sup>70</sup>And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto them the captives. <sup>71</sup>And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and sware unto him that he would not seek his hurt all the days of his life. <sup>72</sup>And he restored unto him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any more into their borders. <sup>73</sup>And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

IO And in the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander Epiphanes, the son of Antiochus, went up and took possession of Ptolemais: and they received him, and he reigned there. <sup>2</sup>And king Demetrius heard thereof, and he gathered together exceeding great forces, and went forth to meet him in battle.

<sup>3</sup>And Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as to magnify him. <sup>4</sup>For he said, Let us be beforehand to make peace with them, ere he make peace with Alexander against us: <sup>5</sup>for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren and unto his nation. <sup>6</sup>And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him the hostages that were in the citadel.

<sup>7</sup>And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in <sup>u</sup>the citadel: <sup>8</sup>and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. <sup>9</sup>And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto their parents. <sup>10</sup>And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and renew the city. <sup>11</sup>And he commanded them that did the work <sup>v</sup>to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with <sup>1</sup>square stones for defence; and they did so. <sup>12</sup>And the strangers, that were in <sup>w</sup>the strong-holds which Bacchides had built, fled away; <sup>13</sup>and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. <sup>14</sup>Only at <sup>u</sup>Bethsura were there left certain of those <sup>y</sup>that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

<sup>15</sup>And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of the toils which they had endured; <sup>16</sup>and he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our <sup>z</sup>Friend and confederate. <sup>17</sup>And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying,

<sup>22</sup>And Demetrius heard these things, and he was grieved, and said, <sup>23</sup>What is this that we have done, that Alexander hath been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to strengthen himself? <sup>24</sup>I also will write unto them words of encouragement and of honour and of gifts, that they may be with me to aid me. <sup>25</sup>And he sent unto them according to these words:

King Demetrius unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: <sup>26</sup>Forasmuch as ye have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. <sup>27</sup>And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return for your dealings with us, <sup>28</sup>and <sup>g</sup>will grant you many immunities, and give you gifts. <sup>29</sup>And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, <sup>h</sup>and from the customs of salt, and <sup>i</sup>from the crowns. <sup>30</sup>And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from <sup>j</sup>the three governments which are added thereunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. <sup>31</sup>And <sup>k</sup>let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; <sup>l</sup>the tenths and the tolls also. <sup>32</sup>I yield up also my authority over <sup>m</sup>the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. <sup>33</sup><sup>n</sup>And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the tributes of their cattle also. <sup>34</sup>And all the feasts, and the sabbaths, <sup>o</sup>and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be <sup>p</sup>days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom. <sup>35</sup>And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter. <sup>36</sup><sup>q</sup>And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all the king's forces. <sup>37</sup>And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strong-holds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust; and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judah. <sup>38</sup>And <sup>r</sup>the three governments that have been added to Judæa from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judæa, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other authority than the high priest's. <sup>39</sup>As for <sup>s</sup>Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanctuary. <sup>40</sup>And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are convenient. <sup>41</sup>And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth toward the works of the house. <sup>42</sup>And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertaineth to the priests that minister. <sup>43</sup>And whosoever shall flee unto the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that they have in my kingdom. 44 And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's revenue. 45 And <sup>a</sup>for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, shall the expense be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judæa.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them, <sup>b</sup>because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore. 47 And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spake words of peace unto them, and they were confederate with him always. 48 And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. 49 And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. 50 And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadors to <sup>c</sup>Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, 52 Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; 53 yea, I joined battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: 54 now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with thee, and will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee. 55 And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and didst sit on the throne of their kingdom. 56 And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: but meet me at <sup>d</sup>Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with thee, even as thou hast said. 57 And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came unto Ptolemais in <sup>e</sup>the hundred and threescore and second year: 58 and king Alexander met him, <sup>f</sup>and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

59 And king Alexander wrote unto Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. 60 And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their <sup>g</sup>Friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favour in their sight. 61 And there were gathered together against him <sup>h</sup>certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, <sup>i</sup>men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. 62 And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and <sup>j</sup>clothed him in purple: and thus they did. 63 And the king made him sit with him, and said unto his princes, <sup>k</sup>Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. 64 And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as <sup>l</sup>the herald made proclamation, and <sup>m</sup>saw him <sup>n</sup>clothed in purple, they all fled away. 65 And the king gave him honour, and wrote him among his <sup>o</sup>Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. 66 And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 And in <sup>p</sup>the hundred and threescore and fifth year came <sup>q</sup>Demetrius, son of <sup>r</sup>Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: 68 and king Alexander heard thereof, and he was grieved exceedingly, and returned unto <sup>s</sup>Antioch. 69 And Demetrius appointed <sup>t</sup>Apollonius, who was over <sup>u</sup>Cœlesyria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped in <sup>v</sup>Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And <sup>w</sup>why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains? 71 Now therefore, if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. 72 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been <sup>x</sup>twice put to flight in their own land. 73 And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and <sup>y</sup>Simon his brother met him for to help him. 75 And he encamped against <sup>z</sup>Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa: 76 and they fought against it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. 77 And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to <sup>m</sup>Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein. <sup>78</sup> And he pursued after him to <sup>m</sup>Azotus, and the armies joined battle<sup>1</sup>. <sup>79</sup> And Apollonius had left a thousand horse behind them privily. <sup>80</sup> And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening: <sup>81</sup> but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. <sup>82</sup> And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with <sup>n</sup>the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. <sup>83</sup> And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to <sup>m</sup>Azotus, and entered into <sup>o</sup>Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. <sup>84</sup> And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of <sup>o</sup>Dagon, and them that fled into it, <sup>9</sup>he burned with fire. <sup>85</sup> And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. <sup>86</sup> And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against <sup>r</sup>Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. <sup>87</sup> And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned unto Jerusalem, having many spoils. <sup>88</sup> And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more; <sup>89</sup> and he sent unto him <sup>a</sup>a buckle of gold, as the use is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him <sup>t</sup>Ekron and all the coasts thereof for a possession.

<sup>11</sup> And <sup>u</sup>the king of Egypt gathered together great forces, <sup>v</sup>as the sand which is by the sea shore, and many ships, and sought to make himself master of Alexander's kingdom by deceit, and to add it to his own kingdom. <sup>2</sup> And he went forth into Syria with words of peace, and they of the cities opened unto him, and met him; for king Alexander's commandment was that they should meet him, because he was his father in law. <sup>3</sup> Now as he entered into the cities of <sup>w</sup>Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city. <sup>4</sup> But when he came near to <sup>x</sup>Azotus, they shewed him the temple of <sup>y</sup>Dagon <sup>z</sup>burned with fire, and <sup>z</sup>Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them in his way. <sup>5</sup> And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and the king held his peace. <sup>6</sup> And Jonathan met the king with pomp at

<sup>20</sup> In those days <sup>k</sup>Jonathan gathered together them of Judaea, to take <sup>l</sup>the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. <sup>21</sup> And certain that hated their own nation, <sup>m</sup>men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. <sup>22</sup> And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to <sup>n</sup>Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at <sup>n</sup>Ptolemais with all speed. <sup>23</sup> But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, <sup>24</sup> and <sup>o</sup>taking silver and gold and raiment and divers presents besides, went to <sup>n</sup>Ptolemais unto the king. And he found favour in his sight. <sup>25</sup> And <sup>m</sup>certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, <sup>26</sup> and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of all his <sup>p</sup>Friends, <sup>q</sup>and <sup>r</sup>confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his <sup>r</sup>Chief Friends. <sup>28</sup> And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judea <sup>s</sup>free from tribute, and <sup>t</sup>the three <sup>1</sup>provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. <sup>29</sup> And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

<sup>30</sup> King Demetrius unto <sup>u</sup>his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: <sup>31</sup> The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see it. <sup>32</sup> King Demetrius unto Lasthenes <sup>v</sup>his father, greeting: <sup>33</sup> We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because of their good will toward us. <sup>34</sup> We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judea, and also <sup>t</sup>the three governments of Aphærema and <sup>w</sup>Lydda and <sup>x</sup>Ramathaim (these were added unto Judæa from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforetime <sup>y</sup>from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. <sup>35</sup> And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of <sup>z</sup>the tenths and the tolls that pertain unto us, and <sup>a</sup>the saltips, and <sup>a</sup>the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will bestow upon them. <sup>36</sup> And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth and for ever. <sup>37</sup> Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

<sup>38</sup> And king Demetrius saw that <sup>b</sup>the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, and he sent away all his forces, each man to his own place, except <sup>c</sup>the foreign forces, <sup>d</sup>which he had raised from <sup>e</sup>the isles of the Gentiles: and all the forces of his fathers hated him. <sup>39</sup> Now <sup>f</sup>Tryphon was of those who aforetime had been of Alexander's part, and he saw that all the forces murmured against Demetrius, and he went to Imalce <sup>g</sup>the Arabian, who was nourishing up <sup>h</sup>Antiochus the young child of Alexander, <sup>40</sup> and pressed sore upon him that he should deliver him unto him, that he might reign in his father's stead: and he told him all that Demetrius had done, and the hatred wherewith his forces hated him; and <sup>i</sup>he abode there many days.

metrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem <sup>j</sup>them of the citadel, and them <sup>k</sup>that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. <sup>42</sup> And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. <sup>43</sup> Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; <sup>l</sup>for all my forces are revolted. <sup>44</sup> And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto <sup>m</sup>Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming. <sup>45</sup> And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the king. <sup>46</sup> And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and began to fight. <sup>47</sup> And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number of a hundred thousand. <sup>48</sup> And they set the city on fire, and gat many spoils that day, and saved the king. <sup>49</sup> And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, <sup>50</sup> Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city. <sup>51</sup> And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. <sup>52</sup> And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and <sup>o</sup>the land was quiet before him. <sup>53</sup> And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

 and v to be clothed in purple, and to have <sup>w</sup>a golden buckle. 59 And his brother <sup>x</sup>Simon he made captain from the Ladder of <sup>y</sup>Tyre unto the borders of Egypt. 60 And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to be his confederates. And he came to <sup>z</sup>Ascalon, and they of the city met him honourably. 61 And he departed thence to <sup>a</sup>Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them. 62 And they of <sup>a</sup>Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he <sup>b</sup>gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as <sup>c</sup>Damascus. 63 And <sup>d</sup>Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to <sup>e</sup>Kedesh, which is in Galilee, with a great host, purposing to remove him from his office; <sup>f</sup>and he went to meet them, but Simon his brother he left in the country. 65 And Simon encamped against <sup>g</sup>Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and shut it up: 66 and they made request to him that he would <sup>h</sup>give them his right hand, and he gave it to them; and he put them out from thence, and <sup>i</sup>took possession of the city, and set a garrison over it. 67 And Jonathan and his army encamped at the water of <sup>k</sup>Gennesareth, and early in the morning they gat them to the plain of <sup>l</sup>Hazor. 68 And, behold, an army of <sup>m</sup>strangers met him in the plain, and <sup>n</sup>they laid an ambush for him in the mountains, but themselves met him face to face. 69 But they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle; and all they that were of Jonathan's side fled: 70 not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of <sup>o</sup>Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of the forces. 71 And Jonathan <sup>p</sup>rent his clothes, and <sup>q</sup>put earth upon his head, and prayed. 72 And he turned again unto them in battle, and put them to the rout, and they fled. 73 And they of his side that fled saw it, and returned unto him, and pursued with him unto <sup>r</sup>Kedesh unto their camp, and they encamped there. 74 And there fell of <sup>s</sup>the strangers on that day about three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem. 12 And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and <sup>t</sup>he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew <sup>v</sup>the friendship that they had with them. <sup>u</sup>And to the <sup>x</sup>Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after the same manner. 3 And they went unto Rome, and entered into <sup>y</sup>the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the friendship and the confederacy, <sup>z</sup>as in former time. 4 And they gave them letters unto the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace. 5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans: 6 Jonathan the high priest, and <sup>a</sup>the senate of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, unto <sup>b</sup>their brethren the Spartans, greeting: 7 Even before this time were letters sent unto <sup>c</sup>Onias the high priest from <sup>d</sup>Arius, who was reigning among you, to signify that ye are <sup>e</sup>our brethren, as the copy <sup>f</sup>here underwritten sheweth. 8 And <sup>g</sup>Onias entreated honourably the man that was sent, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of confederacy and friendship. 9 Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, having <sup>h</sup>for our encouragement the holy books which are in our hands, <sup>i</sup>have assayed to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether: for long time is passed since ye sent unto us. 11 We therefore at all times <sup>k</sup>without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and meet to be mindful of brethren: 12 and moreover are glad for your glory. 13 But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings that are round about us have fought against us. 14 We were not minded therefore to be troublesome unto you, and to the rest of our confederates and friends, in these wars; 15 for <sup>l</sup>we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our enemies have been brought low. 16 <sup>m</sup>We chose therefore <sup>n</sup>Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them unto the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former confederacy. 17 We commanded them therefore to go also unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our brotherhood. 18 And now ye shall do well if ye give us an answer thereto. 19 And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to <sup>o</sup>Onias: 20 Arius king of the <sup>p</sup>Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greeting: 21 It hath been found in writing, concerning the <sup>q</sup>Spartans and the Jews, that they are <sup>r</sup>brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham: 22 and now, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your prosperity. <sup>23</sup> And we moreover do write on our part to you, <sup>c</sup> that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise.

<sup>24</sup> And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him <sup>d</sup> with a greater host than afore, <sup>25</sup> and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of <sup>e</sup> Hamath; for he gave them no respite to set foot in his country. <sup>26</sup> And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season. <sup>27</sup> But so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready for battle: and he put forth sentinels round about the camp. <sup>28</sup> And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp<sup>2</sup>. <sup>29</sup> But Jonathan and his men knew it not till the morning; for they saw the lights burning. <sup>30</sup> And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over the river Eleutherus. <sup>31</sup> And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils. <sup>32</sup> And he set out from thence, and came to <sup>g</sup> Damascus, and took his journey through all the country. <sup>33</sup> And <sup>h</sup> Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as <sup>i</sup> Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it. And he turned aside to <sup>j</sup> Joppa, and took possession of it; <sup>34</sup> for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the <sup>k</sup> men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.

<sup>35</sup> And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build <sup>l</sup> strongholds in Judæa, <sup>36</sup> and to <sup>m</sup> make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, <sup>n</sup> that men might neither buy nor sell. <sup>37</sup> And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha. <sup>38</sup> And Simon also built Adida <sup>o</sup> in the <sup>p</sup> plain country, and made it strong, <sup>q</sup> and set up gates and bars.

him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to <sup>u</sup> Bethshan. <sup>41</sup> And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to <sup>v</sup> Bethshan. <sup>42</sup> And <sup>w</sup> Tryphon saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid to stretch forth his hand against him: <sup>43</sup> and he received him honourably, and commended him unto all his <sup>x</sup> Friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient unto him, as unto himself. <sup>44</sup> And he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us? <sup>45</sup> And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to <sup>y</sup> Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my coming. <sup>46</sup> And he put trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed unto the land of Judah. <sup>47</sup> But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him. <sup>48</sup> <sup>w</sup> Now as soon as Jonathan entered into <sup>y</sup> Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they slew with the sword. <sup>49</sup> And <sup>z</sup> Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into <sup>aa</sup> the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. <sup>50</sup> And they perceived that <sup>ab</sup> he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. <sup>51</sup> And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and turned back again. <sup>52</sup> And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and <sup>ac</sup> they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with a great mourning. <sup>53</sup> <sup>ad</sup> And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and <sup>ae</sup> take away their memorial from among men.

I<sup>3</sup> <sup>af</sup> And <sup>c</sup> Simon heard that <sup>d</sup> Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and <sup>e</sup> destroy it utterly. <sup>2</sup> And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together; <sup>3</sup> and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and

And he dealt falsely, and did not set Jonathan at liberty. 20 And after this Tryphon came to invade the land, and destroy it, and he went round about by the way that leadeth unto q Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every place, wheresoever he went. 21 Now r they of the citadel sent unto Tryphon ambassadors, hastening him to come unto them through the wilderness, and to send them victuals. 22 And Tryphon made ready all his horse to come: and on that night there fell a very great snow, and he came not by reason of the snow. 43 In those days he encamped against <sup>1</sup>Gazara, and compassed it round about with armies; and he made an engine of siege, and brought it up to the city, and smote a tower, and took it. 44 And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there was a great uproar in the city: 45 and they of the city rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to <sup>m</sup>give them <sup>2</sup>his right hand. 46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy mercy. 47 And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein <sup>n</sup>the idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. 48 And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein <sup>a</sup>a dwelling place for himself.

49 But <sup>2</sup>they of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and <sup>a</sup>from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of them perished through famine. 50 And they cried out to Simon, that he should <sup>m</sup>give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he <sup>r</sup>cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. 51 And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in <sup>8</sup>the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and <sup>s</sup>palm branches, and <sup>6</sup>with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: <sup>b</sup>because a great enemy was destroyed out of Israel. 52 And he ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. <sup>c</sup>And the hill of the temple that was by the citadel he made stronger than before, and there he dwelt, himself and his men. 53 And Simon saw that <sup>w</sup>John his son was a valiant man, and he made him leader of all his forces: and <sup>w</sup>he dwelt in <sup>a</sup>Gazara.

4 And the land <sup>o</sup>had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days. 5 And amid all his glory he took <sup>d</sup>Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance for the isles of the sea; <sup>6</sup>and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and gat possession of the country; 7 and he gathered together a great number of captives, and gat the dominion of <sup>e</sup>Gazara, and <sup>f</sup>Bethsura, and the citadel, and <sup>7</sup>he took away from it its uncleanness; and there was none that resisted him. 8 And they tilled their land in peace, and <sup>h</sup>the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit. 9 The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel. 10 <sup>2</sup>He provided victuals for the cities, and furnished them with <sup>5</sup>all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named <sup>j</sup>unto the end of the earth. 11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: 12 and <sup>k</sup>they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid: 13 and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discomfited in those days. 14 And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. 15 He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

16 And it was heard at <sup>l</sup>Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto <sup>m</sup>Sparta, and they were exceeding sorry. 17 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made <sup>n</sup>high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein, 18 they wrote unto him <sup>o</sup>on tables of brass, to renew with him the friendship and the confederacy which they had confirmed with <sup>p</sup>Judas and <sup>q</sup>Jonathan his brethren; 19 and they were read before the congregation at Jerusalem. 20 And this is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon <sup>n</sup>the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, <sup>r</sup>our brethren, greeting: 21 The ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honour: and we were glad for their coming, 22 and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the <sup>s</sup>public records after this manner: <sup>t</sup>Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us, 23 And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their words in the <sup>1</sup>public records, to the end that the people of <sup>2</sup>the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon <sup>3</sup>the high priest.

<sup>25</sup> But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and <sup>6</sup>his sons? <sup>26</sup> For he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and confirmed liberty to <sup>7</sup>Israel. <sup>27</sup> And they wrote <sup>8</sup>on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Zion: and this is the copy of the writing:
